U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations

The Company is filing as Exhibit 99.1 (incorporated by reference herein) a discussion of certain U.S. federal income tax considerations relating to the Company's qualification and taxation as a real estate investment trust, or REIT, and the acquisition, holding, and disposition of the Company's common shares, preferred shares and depositary shares as well as the Company's warrants and rights and certain debt securities. The description contained in Exhibit 99.1 to this Form 8-K replaces and supersedes prior descriptions of the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Company and its securityholders to the extent that they are inconsistent with the description contained in this Form 8-K.

Certain statements in the description of U.S. federal income tax considerations contain certain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (set forth in Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended). Such statements are based on assumptions and expectations that may not be realized and are inherently subject to risks, uncertainties and other factors, many of which cannot be predicted with accuracy and some of which might not even be anticipated. Future events and actual results, performance, transactions or achievements, financial or otherwise, may differ materially from the results, performance, transactions or achievements, financial or otherwise, expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Risks, uncertainties and other factors that might cause such differences, some of which could be material, include, but are not limited to:

- the effect of credit and financial market conditions;
- the availability and cost of capital;
- fluctuations in interest rates;
- the economic health of our tenants;
- the timing and pricing of lease transactions;
- the economic health of the greater Washington Metro region, or other markets we may enter;
- changes in real estate and zoning laws and increases in property tax rates;
- the effects of changes in federal government spending;
- the supply of competing properties;
- consumer confidence;
- unemployment rates;
- consumer tastes and preferences;
- our future capital requirements;
- inflation;

• compliance with applicable laws, including those concerning the environment and access by persons with disabilities;

• governmental or regulatory actions and initiatives;

• changes in general economic and business conditions;

• terrorist attacks or actions;

• acts of war;

weather conditions and natural disasters;

failure to qualify as a real estate investment trust;

the availability of and our ability to attract and retain qualified personnel;

the effects of changes in capital available to the technology and biotechnology sectors of the economy; and other factors discussed under the caption "Risk Factors" in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2015 and, from time to time, in other reports that the Company files with the SEC or in other documents that the Company publicly disseminates.

The Company does not undertake any obligation to publicly update or revise these forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
