The Company, in January of 2000, entered into a software license agreement with Advanced Interactive Inc. ("AII") by which it acquired the North American rights to market and distribute AII's broadcast / caching software ( the SchoolWeb software system it currently markets and distributes).

On March 6, 2002, AII and Hewlett Packard (Canada) entered into an agreement (the "Hewlett Packard Agreement") where AII agreed that the broadcast caching software it had licensed to the Company would, be sold in conjunction with Hewlett Packard hardware and with financing provided by a division of Hewlett Packard (Canada), Hewlett Packard's leasing and finance division.

Effective March 6, 2002 but executed on April 10, 2002, the Company granted to AII its consent to the Hewlett Packard Agreement. As a result, the Company must only sell broadcast caching server software (including the SchoolWeb software system) in conjunction with Hewlett Packard hardware and with financing provided by Hewlett Packard's leasing and finance division.

Management of the Company consented to the Hewlett Packard Agreement because in it Hewlett Packard (Canada) agrees to use its best efforts to provide distribution and marketing of the broadcast caching software products the Company has licensed from AII. The Company hopes that Hewlett Packard (Canada) and its distribution capability will generate sales of the SchoolWeb software system and the HealthWeb software system. In exchange for its consent, the Company also secured rights under the License Agreement to a broader range of products than it previously had rights to. The License Agreement with AII originally entitled the Company only to the SchoolWeb and OfficeServer software products. The License Agreement has now been amended to expand the Company's rights to a North American license of all broadcast caching software products AII has developed.

In December 2001, Hewlett Packard began testing the SchoolWeb system in their facilities. In March and April of 2002, Hewlett Packard (Canada) began market-testing the SchoolWeb software system in fifteen school districts across Canada.

The Company hopes that these tests will generate revenue from sales of the SchoolWeb software system.

There can be no assurance or guarantee given that these tests will generate significant revenue, if they generate any revenue at all.

The Hewlett Packard Agreement and the consent executed by the Company are attached as exhibits to this report on Form 8-K.

Dear Sirs:

Re: License Agreement (the "License Agreement") dated January 1, 2001 as amended
July 17, 2001

This letter is written to confirm our agreement as follows:

1. The License Agreement between SchoolWeb Systems Inc. and SchoolWeb Holdings Inc. (collectively, "SchoolWeb") and Advanced Interactive Inc./ Advanced Interactive (Canada) Inc. (collectively, "AII") is amended such that SchoolWeb consents (as described in Schedule "A" hereto) to the granting to Hewlett Packard of the rights detailed in the Solutions Partner Agreement attached as Schedule "B" hereto.
2. AII and SchoolWeb agree that any funds received under the terms of the Solutions Partner Agreement shall be paid into a bank account maintained in the name of Alternet Systems Inc. (to which SchoolWeb is changing its name). This bank account (the "Bank Account") will have two signatories, Karim Lakhani (in his capacity as President of AII) and one signatory from SchoolWeb.
3. SchoolWeb agrees to distribute the funds in the Bank Account in accordance with the provisions of the License Agreement pertaining to the royalty due to AII for sales of caching server products which AII has licensed to SchoolWeb. Specifically, SchoolWeb will deduct its Cost of Goods Sold (including its costs of training, installation, configuration and providing help desk services) from the funds received under the terms of the Solutions Partner Agreement and distribute the remaining funds to SchoolWeb (as income) and to AII (as its royalty under the License Agreement).

Edgar Filing: SCHOOLWEB SYSTEMS INC - Form 8-K

4. SchoolWeb agrees that, in administering the bank account in paragraph 3 above, it will provide to AII an annual audit of all funds received and funds paid from the account.
5. SchoolWeb will provide AII with the name of the financial institution, the branch number, the account number and any other information which is required to be provided to Hewlett Packard to enable it to make the payments referred to paragraph 2 above and AII will instruct Hewlett

Packard (or any division thereof, including Hewlett Packard Finance Division) to pay any amounts due under the Solutions Partner Agreement to this account.

6. The License Agreement is hereby amended such that SchoolWeb is granted the exclusive right, in North America (subject to the provisions of the Solutions Partner Agreement and of SchoolWeb's consent dated March 6 thereto), to sell all broadcast caching server software and hardware systems developed by AII (including that software known as Office Server, SchoolWeb and HealthWeb).
7. The License Agreement is also amended such that SchoolWeb will have any and all right to trademark and use (as a trademark for SchoolWeb and Office Server software and hardware systems sold to indigenous communities) the trademark "Interlink" (it is expressly acknowledged by SchoolWeb that AII does not own or have any rights to this trademark at present, that SchoolWeb will have to pursue the registration of this trademark without aid from AII and that AII makes no representation or warranty to SchoolWeb that this mark is registrable or does not conflict with existing marks). AII shall be permitted to use the Interlink mark to identify itself (in documents such as its annual reports or brochures) as a company connected to Interlink.
8. Nothing in this amendment to the License Agreement shall be deemed to amend the obligation of SchoolWeb to continue to make its monthly payments under the terms of the License Agreement.
9. The parties to the License Agreement agree that they shall, prior to April 30, 2002, draft a new License Agreement to reflect the terms of the License Agreement and all of the amendments thereto. This new License Agreement will contain no new terms or conditions but will supersede and replace the various agreements constituting the present License Agreement.

In all other ways, the License Agreement remains in full force and effect (as amended by this and other amendments).

Should the above terms and conditions accurately reflect your understanding of the terms of our agreement, please so indicate by signing this document below and returning it to our offices at (604) 608-8775.

Yours truly,
