History

American Millennium Corporation, Inc. is a New Mexico corporation organized in 1979 under the name Energy Optics, Inc. (Energy) to develop various technologies for industrial and consumer applications. Energy was unable to realize revenue sufficient to maintain an active status, and was unsuccessful in securing funding sufficient to aggressively market these devices and systems. After becoming inactive and ceasing all initiatives to pursue funding for production and marketing, Energy was de-listed from the NASDAQ Small Cap listing. However, as an inactive over-the-counter stock, Energy's principals maintained the corporate books, kept Energy in good standing and retained its status as fully reporting to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In order to proceed with its acquisition strategy, Energy recognized that it had to reduce its overwhelming debt. A settlement agreement was reached to eliminate the Small Business Administration debt (including accrued interest) by a combination of cash payments, issuance of stock and forgiveness of debt. The remainder of the debt was extinguished by forgiveness of some debt and interest in exchange for common stock. (Most of this debt was to directors of Energy.) With a clean slate, Management believed that it could pursue its research and development of products and services.

In June 1997, Energy acquired business assets including real estate in Tavares, Florida, buildings, equipment and a controlling stock interest of Lean Protein Foods, Inc., a specialty food company, in a transaction totaling approximately $3.6 million. In September and October 1997, Energy acquired a total of 80% of American Millennium Corporation and 20% of Microgravity Aviation Corporation, both of which were development stage enterprises. Early in 1998, Energy discontinued operations of Lean Protein Foods, Inc. and on July 31, 1998, sold its interest. Management also negotiated the rescissions of both the purchase contracts for a 20% stock ownership held in Microgravity Aviation Corporation and the contract for purchase of the real estate in Tavares, Florida.

Under an Agreement and Plan of Merger dated May 27, 1998, Energy merged with American Millennium Corporation, a subsidiary of which Energy owned approximately an 80% interest, with the parent as the surviving corporation. Upon completion of the merger, we changed our name to American Millennium Corporation, Inc.

In July of 2000, we completed our acquisition of CompuGraphics Corporation, a Florida corporation. As a result of the acquisition, CompuGraphics Corporation was merged into American Millennium Corporation, Inc.

Our corporate headquarters are located at 1010 Tenth Street, Suite 100, Golden, Colorado 80401, and our telephone number is (303) 279-2002.

Products

Our current focus is on providing hardware and software solutions to facilitate timely, accurate, and cost effective one-way and two-way delivery of information via satellite communication and the Internet. We offer a service where customers can access information about various fixed and mobile assets through a custom Internet based software application. With our SatAlarm application, customers can use their existing PC and Internet connection to select a particular asset, and request various information including location, speed, temperature and sensor readings.

Through utilization of newly available two-way satellite communication, we can monitor currently isolated facilities and equipment. We have activated over three hundred systems for satellite monitoring of oil and gas production and pipeline equipment as well as systems for monitoring and tracking rail and highway vehicles. Assets that could not be practically served by land-based communication systems can now utilize satellite monitoring and tracking to yield significantly better equipment management. This results in increased production, less product loss and increased capital efficiency for our customers.

Our principal suppliers of both satellite terminals and satellite airtime include Vistar Datacom, Inc. and ORBCOMM USA L.P. Under the terms of our agreement with Vistar Datacom, Inc., we can provide solutions based on Vistar's GlobalWave network to customers in the oil and gas market throughout the 48 contiguous states and Canada. Under the terms of our past agreement with ORBCOMM, we are able to offer tracking and remote monitoring for customers in the oil and gas, rail car, and cargo container industries, although an exception has been provided for the sale of monitoring units as well as satellite airtime by us to General Motors Corporation. On September 15, 2000, ORBCOMM USA, LP filed for relief under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Although some of our applications are completely dependent upon ORBCOMM, most of our current and future applications can be supported using Vistar airtime with minimal time and costs involved in switching airtime applications. ORBCOMM has emerged from bankruptcy and is now under new management. It is expected that the Company will enter into a new airtime agreement with ORBCOMM shortly or will obtain airtime from one of ORBCOMM's resellers.

HOW DOES SATALARM WORK?

1. Status, location, malfunction or failure information is sent from our hardware located on a customer's asset to a satellite network.
2. The information passes through the satellite network to our service center for analysis. The customer can then either access a web site to check the status of their asset, or SatAlarm can automatically alert the customer with various alarms.

Since travel times to remote units can be measured in hours, accurate information of this nature is of great value. We become a key and ongoing link in the customer's value chain. We share in that value by charging for our engineering, installation, and operating services as well as receiving a recurring fee for the communication traffic. By way of example, several units have been contracted for by a customer and were provisioned by us to monitor gas well compressors and the mainline station compressor. Our customer will receive daily reports that the units are running or not running, as well as alarm reports whenever the units shut down unexpectedly. We provide a secure website on the Internet for this customer to view the operating conditions and alarms.

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN MILLENNIUM CORP INC - Form 10KSB

OIL AND GAS CUSTOMERS. We have various initiatives underway with oil and gas producers as well as manufacturers of gas compressors and control panels for those compressors. We currently have several hundred of our Sentry units that are activated and monitoring production assets for our customers. We also have many potential customers with Sentry units in active field trials. These units are currently monitoring a variety of assets in the United States. Much of oil and natural gas production occurs in largely remote areas far beyond the economic range of wired or terrestrially based wireless communication. Key to the operation of these production sites are enormous compressors used to extract, collect, and transfer the oil and gas to transmission pipelines. The malfunction or failure of one of these compressors is a red-alert event for the production operator. The economic loss can be measured in thousands of dollars per hour of down time, resulting in a high value to reducing the duration of an outage. The Sentry product produced by has been designed for easy installation and operation. Customers simply place the Sentry on the top of the compressor facing south and turn it on. There is no connection to the compressor required as the Sentry is battery powered. Currently, approximately 80% of our revenues are derived from the oil and gas industry.

In July of 2000, we completed our acquisition of CompuGraphics Corporation. CompuGraphics has developed Sat-Trac, which is similar to our SatAlarm application. Sat-Trac is also a user interface that allows customers to view a variety of conditions for a particular customer owned asset. Our current plans include marketing Sat-Trac as a stand-alone software product to be used by customers to monitor assets.

Our current revenues are dependent on a few major customers. As of July 31, 2001 approximately 64% of our accounts receivable are due from three customers, and approximately 58% of our revenues are generated from three customers.

Predominately all of our expenses during the last two years have been related to the research and development and customization of our hardware and software applications. Less than 5% of these total costs have been borne directly by our customers. We released the first version of SatAlarm in late November 2000, which was our first commercially available product.

PROPRIETARY TECHNOLOGY APPLICATIONS. We believe that we have now developed certain proprietary technologies for the monitoring of various types of assets utilizing the ORBCOMM and Vistar systems. In addition to monitoring of data communications, we have the ability to remotely control functions at the asset location. Due to the sensitive and proprietary nature of this technology as well as our intent to protect us to the extent that is possible with patent applications, we are unable to disclose specific aspects of the systems. Nevertheless, we believe that the applications are both valuable and viable. We are presently in discussion with several companies regarding licensing and/or joint venture proposals within the scope of the technologies and their respective applications. We have retained the service of Dorr, Carson, Sloan & Birney, PC, a Denver, Colorado based patent, trademark and copyright law firm, to effect these applications. Effective August 31, 2001, our vibration sensing satellite call out unit has a Patent Pending with the US Patent and Trademark Office.

MARKETING. We believe that a significant base of recurring revenues derived from monthly satellite monitoring charges will build our value. Our principal marketing efforts are directed toward the oil and gas market in the United States, which has a need for monitoring of high value assets. Our personnel work with management and engineers in order to determine their technological needs, cost objectives and to develop solutions for their individualized asset monitoring requirements. Marketing efforts are performed by both our personnel and outside sales service providers.

COMPETITION. There are numerous competitors to ORBCOMM's and Vistar's satellite based data and messaging service. However, we are confident that there does not exist, at present, any competition of a formidable nature for several reasons. First, geostationary systems and terrestrial-based wireless networks are regional, not global, in coverage. Secondly, the big Low Earth Orbit systems such as Iridium and Globalstar must focus on voice telephony to build rapid revenues to service the multi-billion dollar capitalization costs associated with their deployment. Also, their electronic architecture makes it expensive to send data and the end-user equipment is expensive. Additionally, the majority of the satellite systems in development exist only on paper and have either not obtained financing or licensing or both. We do not believe that any system either deployed or in development can compete with the ORBCOMM/Vistar/AMCI collective ability to provide the low cost service for data transfer, the small, inexpensive communicators, or the ability to provide global near-real-time two-way communications, although there is potential competition from other ORBCOMM and Vistar resellers who are licensed to market services within the same industries as we have focused. Also, ORBCOMM and Vistar are marketing their own services to virtually all industries via in-house resellers and employed sales personnel. We believe that the market is vast and we are protected with mutual agreements of non-disclosure and non-circumvention with ORBCOMM and Vistar on any initiatives brought forward by us.

Remote asset monitoring via satellite is a relatively new market, in which no one supplier has a majority of market share. The market is new and emerging, and we believe that with our SatAlarm application, we will be participants in the development of a substantial future market. Potential substitutes for our product include cellular services. Cellular service is still not available in all remote areas, which gives our application an advantage, as the possibilities for satellite access are available virtually everywhere.

MANUFACTURING AND SUPPLIERS. We purchase the satellite terminal component for our hardware units from Vistar Datacom and ORBCOMM authorized manufacturers. In the case of Vistar, they are the sole source for that component. Airtime for satellite monitoring is also purchased from Vistar and ORBCOMM.

GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS. As value-added resellers for Vistar and ORBCOMM, our services and products are subject to the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission. We anticipate no problems in obtaining the necessary certifications in a timely manner as required.

PERSONNEL

As of October 29, 2001, we had ten full-time employees, four of whom are directors or officers. None of our employees are represented by a labor union, and we consider our employee relations to be good.

Item 6. Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation

The following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operation should be read in conjunction with the "Selected Financial Data" and our financial statements and the related notes thereto. This discussion contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from historical or anticipated results.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

We had a net loss of $2,862,490 (or $.12 per share) on revenues of $282,055 for the year ended July 31, 2001 compared to a net loss of $2,725,775 (or $.15 per share) on revenues of $341,418 for the year ended July 31, 2000. The increase in net loss was primarily attributable to the increase in interest expense, write-off of equipment and the loss on an impairment of non-compete agreement for the year ending July 31, 2001.

Gross profit for the year ended July 31, 2001, was $93,540 (33% of sales) compared to $128,812 (37%) for the year ended July 31, 2000. The cost of sales for fiscal year 2001 consisted primarily of hardware units and airtime sold while costs of sales for 2000 were attributable to the costs of joint product development that were not a true indication of the cost of the product sold.

Selling, general and administrative expenses were $2,373,978 for the year ended July 31, 2001, compared to $2,611,054 for the year ended July 31, 2000. The decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses is primarily due to stock options issued to key officers and directors, resulting in a compensation charge of $1,048,671 for the year ended July 31, 2000, and only $187,000 for the year ended July 31, 2001.

We earned $282,055 from sales revenue in 2001 compared to $341,418 in 2000. The revenue was derived primarily from the sale of hardware and airtime to new and existing customers.

As of July 31, 2001, we had available income tax net operating loss carryforwards of $12,119,889, tax credits of $21,379 and capital loss carryforwards of $2,328,670 that can be used to offset future taxable income, subject to certain restrictions based on significant ownership changes.

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN MILLENNIUM CORP INC - Form 10KSB

EFFECTS OF INFLATION

We believe that our revenues and results of operations have not been significantly affected by inflation during the three years ended July 31, 2001.

FINANCIAL CONDITION, LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

We understand that cash equivalents on hand at July 31, 2001, are not adequate to meet even our short-term capital needs. We continue to have negative working capital and a deficiency in assets of approximately $1,562,220 for fiscal year 2001 and $566,925 for fiscal year 2000. Due to our focus on product development, we have not been profitable since our re-organization in 1998. We expect this to continue as we are still firmly committed to new product and service development. Although our forward-looking business plan calls for a continual increase in sales of developed products, we are also planning for increased development costs that will not be offset by increased revenue in the near future.

To fund our operations we will need to pursue additional sources of cash in the short term. As of July 31, 2001, we had substantially no working capital. Our cash funds are not sufficient to cover current operating expenses. Our revenues are not estimated to cover expenses until June 2002, and in the interim the Company will need an additional $2 million in capital funding. The availability of other sources of cash may, or may not, materialize and thus, present a significant risk that we will exhaust our financial resources in the short term, with no ability to pay for ongoing operational expenses, before our revenues can be developed to adequately cover its expenses. Because of these factors, our auditors have expressed substantial doubt as to our ability to continue as a going concern, as noted in the financial statements.

We purchase major components for our products from limited sources. The continued financial viability of each of these companies will significantly determine our future. Because our technology is dependent on our two major suppliers, the discontinuance of operations of either one could have a significant negative impact on the deliverability of our products. Because of the "new" nature of this product line, each of our suppliers must also be considered "start-up" in nature, and also subject to the volatility and risk that comes with a start-up business.

We have no material commitments for capital expenditures and expect no significant changes in the number of employees. We will continue to out-source production and manufacturing and major marketing efforts will be performed by the officers and directors.

Net cash used in operating activities was $1,703,560 for the year ended July 31, 2001, compared to $1,228,042 for the year ended July 31, 2000. The increase in net cash used in operating activities resulted primarily from the fact that for the year ended July 31, 2000, $1,048,670 of compensation was issued in the form of stock options, compared to only $231,700 for the year ended July 31, 2001.

Net cash used in investing activities was $165,741 for the year ended July 31, 2001 compared to $282,971 for the year ended July 31, 2000. The decrease in net cash used in investing activities resulted primarily from decreasing capital expenditures for computer equipment, purchased software and office equipment. Also, in 2000, $150,000 in cash was used in the acquisition of a non-compete agreement related to the CompuGraphics merger.

Net cash provided by financing activities was $1,768,337 for the year ended July 31, 2001, compared to $1,602,925 for the year ended July 31, 2000. The increase in net cash provided by financing activities resulted primarily from the sale of common stock and convertible securities to various accredited private investors.

If we are unable to raise additional funds before December 2001, we may have to limit our operations to an extent not presently determinable by management, but which may include the sale of any assets owned or our ceasing to conduct business. Although we have no commitments for capital, we may raise additional funds through:

- public offerings of equity, securities convertible into equity or debt,
- private offerings of securities or debt, or other sources.

Current shareholders should assume that any additional funding will cause substantial dilution to their ownership. In addition, we may not be able to raise additional funds on favorable terms, if at all.

We believe our existing cash, together with projected cash flows from operations and the availability of future equity offerings, will be sufficient to meet our cash requirements for at least the following twelve months. In July of 2001, we began commercial production of our Sentry product, a satellite based modem equipped with a vibration switch intended to remotely monitor oil and gas compressors. We currently have orders from customers for approximately 600 Sentry units and are expecting several thousand more orders over the next several months. We believe that the production and sale of this product line, along with several others we intend to introduce over the next 12 months, will place us in a cash flow positive position.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Stockholders and Board of Directors
American Millennium Corporation, Inc.
Golden, Colorado

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of American Millennium Corporation, Inc. as of July 31, 2001 and 2000, and the related statements of operations, deficiency in assets and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of American Millennium Corporation, Inc. at July 31, 2001 and 2000, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 10 to the financial statements, the Company has suffered recurring losses from operations, has a working capital deficiency and has a deficiency in assets that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 10. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

corporation, was organized in 1979 and has provided engineering services relating to research and development activities for outside parties as well as internal product development. The Company has developed various proprietary and patented technologies for industrial and consumer applications.

BUSINESS COMBINATION A controlling interest (79.3%) of American Millennium Corporation, a Delaware corporation, was acquired in October 1997. The remaining interest in American Millennium Corporation was acquired under an Agreement and Plan of Merger dated May 27, 1998, when the companies merged, with the parent as the surviving corporation. Upon completion of the merger, the Company changed its name from Energy Optics, Inc. to American Millennium Corporation, Inc.

NATURE OF OPERATIONS Since the merger, operations have been focused primarily on hardware and software combinations to facilitate timely, accurate and cost effective one-way and two-way monitoring of information. This is achieved through a variety of platforms including satellite, cellular, various radio frequency protocols and wireline.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS The Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments with an original maturity of three months or less at the date of purchase to be cash equivalents.

INVENTORIES Inventories consist of Subscriber Communicators and related parts. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market, determined on the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method, or market.

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT Property and equipment is stated at cost. Depreciation of equipment is provided over estimated useful lives ranging from five years to seven years, using the straight-line method. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Major improvements are capitalized. Gains and losses on disposition of property and equipment are included in income as realized.

AVAILABLE-FOR-SALE EQUITY SECURITIES The Company accounts for marketable securities in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 115, "Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity securities." This statement requires securities that are available for sale to be carried at fair value, with unrealized gains and losses, net of tax, reported as a separate component of stockholders' equity.

INCOME TAXES Income taxes are computed under the provisions of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement 109 No. (SFAS 109), Accounting for Income Taxes. SFAS 109 is an asset and liability approach that requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of the difference in events that have been recognized in the Company's financial statements compared to the tax returns.

INCOME TAX CREDITS Income tax credits will be recognized as a reduction of the provision for income taxes in the year in which utilized.

NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

REVENUE RECOGNITION The Company develops and sells satellite communication systems. Revenue from sales of satellite communication systems is recorded at the time the goods are shipped or access is granted to the service. The Company provides airtime to its customers on a month-to-month basis, which is recognized as revenue at the time the service is provided.

AMORTIZATION OF NON-COMPETE AGREEMENT The non-compete agreement is recorded at cost and amortized on a straight-line basis. Non-compete agreement is amortized over the term of the agreement, which is five years. Accumulated amortization was $36,458 as of July 31, 2001. Amortization expense was $35,000 and $1,458 for the years ending July 31, 2001, and 2000, respectively.

AMORTIZATION OF LOAN COSTS Loan costs incurred in the acquisition of indebtedness is amortized using the straight-line method over term of the respective debt instrument.

CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT RISK AND ECONOMIC DEPENDENCE Concentrations of credit risk with respect to receivables results from the fact that approximately 56% of accounts receivable at July 31, 2001, was due from two customers. Further, approximately 62% of revenues from the sale of products and services are to three customers.

Risks associated with industry concentrations are limited due to the wide variety of customers and markets into which the Company's products and services are provided, as well as their dispersion across many different geographic areas.

The Company is economically dependent on ORBCOMM USA, L.P. (ORBCOMM), which has filed for protection under Chapter 11 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act, and Vistar Datacom, for whom it is a value-added reseller. ORBCOMM and Vistar Datacom both provide satellite service for the Company's monitoring devices and are also the suppliers for the main component of the Company's Subscriber Communicators.

USE OF ESTIMATES The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT COSTS Research and development costs are expensed as incurred.

ADVERTISING Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

COMPUTER SOFTWARE DEVELOPED FOR INTERNAL USE Statement of Position 98-1, "Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use," ("SOP 98-1") issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants is effective for financial statements beginning after December 15, 1998, SOP 98-1 requires that costs incurred in the preliminary stage of a development project be expensed as incurred, and that subsequent costs be capitalized or expensed, depending on criteria defined within SOP 98-1. Capitalized costs should be amortized on a straight-line basis unless another systematic basis is more representative of the software's use.

NOTE 1. BUSINESS AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

BASIC AND DILUTED NET LOSS PER COMMON SHARE Basic net loss per common share is computed by dividing the net loss applicable to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during each period. Diluted net loss per common share is determined by using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period, adjusted for the dilutive effect of common stock equivalents, consisting of shares that might be issued upon exercise of common stock options. In periods where losses are reported, the weighted average number of common shares outstanding excludes common stock equivalents, because their inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN MILLENNIUM CORP INC - Form 10KSB

121), "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of". SFAS 121 requires that impairment losses are to be recorded when long-lived assets to be held and used are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the related carrying amount may not be recoverable. When required, impairment losses on assets to be held and used are recognized based on the fair value of the asset. Long-lived assets to be disposed of, if any, are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or the fair value less cost to sell.

COMPREHENSIVE INCOME The Company has previously adopted FASB Statement No. 130 (SFAS 130) "Reporting Comprehensive Income". This statement establishes standards for reporting of comprehensive income and its components (revenues, expenses, gains, losses) in financial statements and requires that all items required to be recognized under accounting standards as components of comprehensive income be reported in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. Comprehensive income consists of the unrealized gain on marketable securities and is presented in the Statements of Deficiency in Assets. The adoption of SFAS 130 had no impact on the Company's net income or total shareholders' equity.

DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS AND HEDGING ACTIVITIES The Company has adopted FASB issued SFAS 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities". This Statement requires companies to record derivatives on the balance sheet as assets and liabilities, measured at fair value. Gains or losses resulting from changes in the value of those derivatives would be accounted for depending on the use of the derivatives and whether it qualifies for hedge accounting. This statement is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS Cash, receivables, accounts payable, debt, accrued expenses and other liabilities are carried at amounts which reasonably approximate their fair value due to the short-term nature of these amounts or due to variable rates of interest which are consistent with current market rates.

RECLASSIFICATIONS Certain amounts in the prior year financial statements have been reclassified for comparative purposes to conform with the presentation of the current year financial statements. Additionally, retroactive effect has been given to the merger for purposes of comparative financial statement presentation.

NOTE 9. INCOME TAXES

Deferred income taxes and benefits for 2001 and 2000 are provided for certain income and expenses which are recognized in different periods for tax and financial reporting purposes. The tax effects (computed at 35%) of these temporary differences and carryforwards that give rise to significant portions of deferred tax assets and liabilities consist of the following:

For the year ended July 31, 2001, the Company generated, for U.S. income tax purposes, a net operating loss of approximately $2,805,500, resulting in a total loss carryforward of approximately $12,119,900. Capital loss carryforwards at July 31, 2001, were $2,328,670. These loss carryforwards expire at various dates through the year 2019.

A valuation allowance must be established to reduce deferred income tax benefits if it is more likely than not that a portion of the deferred income tax benefits will not be realized. It is management's opinion that it is more likely than not that the entire deferred tax benefit may not be recognized in future years because the utilization of the remaining carryforwards is dependent on the Company's ability to generate sufficient taxable income during the carryforward periods and no further significant changes in ownership. Therefore, a valuation allowance equal to the deferred tax benefit has been established, resulting in no deferred tax assets as of the balance sheet dates.

During the year ended July 31, 1998, there were significant ownership changes in the Company as defined in Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code. As a result of these changes, the Company's ability to utilize net operating losses available before the ownership change is restricted to a total of approximately $1,775,483 per year (approximately 5.33% of the market value of the Company at the time of the ownership change). Therefore, substantial net operating loss carryforwards will, in all likelihood, be eliminated in future years due to the change in ownership.

For the year ended July 31, 2001, no tax credits expired. Remaining tax credits total $21,379 which expire at various dates through 2005. As a result of significant changes in ownership as defined in Section 383 of the Internal Revenue Code, the Company's ability to utilize tax credits available before the ownership change will be limited.

NOTE 10. OPERATING AND ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, which contemplates continuation of the Company as a going concern. However, conditions have limited the ability of the Company to market its products and services at amounts sufficient to recover its operating and administrative costs. As a result, the Company has incurred operating losses of $2,862,490 and $2,725,775 for the years ending July 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

In addition, the Company has used substantial working capital in its operations. As of July 31, 2001 and 2000, current liabilities exceed current assets by $788,236 and $854,772, respectively. Cash used by operations for the years ended July 31, 2001 and 2000, amounted to $1,703,560 and $1,228,042, respectively.

Sales are expected to fund day-to-day operations and marketing activities related to digital, wireless and wireline communications endeavors. Management plans to raise additional capital by further issuance of the Company's common stock through the private offering of stock under Regulation D, Rule 506, and additional offerings to the public under Form SB-2 and other capital

The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded assets, or the amounts or classifications of liabilities that might be necessary in the event the Company cannot continue in existence.

Any increase in officer compensation would be predicated on prevailing industry standards and our existing financial situation. The Board of Directors may authorize an increase in the compensation of our executive officers without a vote of Shareholders.

We did not make any bonus cash payments to our executive officers; however, we may, in the future, develop programs which may include bonus payments.

We do not compensate our Directors for their participation. We do not provide for agreements with any of our executive officers. However, we may, in the future, need to compete for the services of our executive officers, at which time, the Board of Directors may adopt and require our executive officers to execute employment agreements.

OPTIONS/SAR GRANTS TABLE

The following options table reflects our long-term compensation in the form of individual grants of stock options made during the last completed fiscal year to each of the named executive officers. During the fiscal year ended July 31, 2001, we granted options to purchase 4,841,225 shares of common stock to employees, officers and directors. The exercise price may be paid in cash, check, shares of our common stock valued at fair market value on the exercise date or a cashless exercise procedure involving a same-day sale of the purchased shares. All option grants are immediately exercisable in full. No stock appreciation rights were granted to the named executive officers during the fiscal year ended July 31, 2001. As of July 31, 2001, none of these options have been exercised.
