- Investor Relations Release -

Novartis proposes approval of tenth consecutive higher dividend payment and election of new Board member at Annual General Meeting

- 17% increase in dividend payment to CHF 1.35 per share for 2006 marks tenth consecutive higher payout since creation of Novartis in December 1996
- Marjorie Yang, considered one of the leading women in international business, recommended for election to the Board of Directors
- Dr. Daniel Vasella and Hans-Joerg Rudloff both recommended for re-election to the Board of Directors

Basel, February 9, 2007 - The Novartis Board of Directors is recommending the approval of a 17% increase in the dividend payment for 2006 and the election of Marjorie Yang, one of the leading women in international business, as a new member to the Board of Directors. Shareholders will vote on these and other proposals at the next Annual General Meeting, which is scheduled for March 6.

Marjorie Yang, who is Chairman and CEO of the Hong Kong-based Esquel Group, is being proposed for election to the Board for a term beginning on January 1, 2008, and ending on the day of the Annual General Meeting in 2010.

Yang has been named in recent years to Fortune magazine's annual international list of the 50 most powerful women in business thanks to her success in transforming Esquel into one of the world's leading textile manufacturing companies. She earned a bachelor's degree in mathematics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and an MBA from Harvard University.

Birgit Breuel, who has served on the Board since the creation of Novartis and previously for the predecessor company Ciba-Geigy AG, will retire at her own wish at the forthcoming Annual General Meeting.

The Board of Directors proposes a dividend payment of CHF 1.35 per share for 2006, up from CHF 1.15 in 2005. This increase marks the tenth consecutive higher payout per share since the creation of Novartis in December 1996. The payment date for the 2006 dividend has been set for March 9, 2007.

Also proposed for approval at the meeting is the re-election of Dr. Daniel Vasella, who serves as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Novartis, and Hans-Joerg Rudloff to the Board of Directors, each for a three-year term.

Disclaimer

The foregoing release contains forward-looking statements that can be identified by terminology such as proposes, recommended, is recommending, will, proposed, or similar expressions, or by express or implied discussions regarding potential future dividend payments by Novartis. Such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause actual results to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such statements. There can be no guarantee that Novartis will pay its shareholders any dividends, or any particular level of dividends this year, or in the future. In particular, management's expectations could be affected by, among other things, unexpected regulatory actions or delays or government regulation generally; unexpected clinical trial results, including additional analysis of existing clinical data, and new clinical data; industry, government, and general public pricing pressures; the company's ability to obtain or maintain patent or other proprietary intellectual property protection; competition in general; and other risks and factors referred to in Novartis AG's current Form 20-F on file with the US Securities and Exchange Commission. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those anticipated, believed, estimated or expected. Novartis is providing the information in this press release as of this date and does not undertake any obligation to update any forward-looking statements contained in this press release as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise.
