NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED CONDENSED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (unaudited)

August 31, 2010

Note 1 - Basis of Presentation

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated condensed financial statements contain all adjustments (consisting of only normal recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly our consolidated financial position as of August 31, 2010 and February 28, 2010, and the results of our consolidated operations for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 and 2009. The same accounting policies are followed in preparing quarterly financial data as are followed in preparing annual data. These statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and the notes included in our latest annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 28, 2010, and our other reports on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). In some cases, we have provided additional information for prior periods in the accompanying notes to consolidated condensed financial statements to conform to the current period s presentation. In this report and the accompanying consolidated condensed financial statements and notes, unless the context suggests otherwise or otherwise indicated, references to the Company, our Company, Helen of Troy, we, us or our refer to Helen of Troy Limited and its subsidiaries. We refer to the Company common shares, par value $0.10 per share, as common stock.

Product and service names mentioned in this Form 10-Q are used for identification purposes only and may be protected by trademarks, trade names, services marks and/or other intellectual property rights of the Company and/or other parties in the United States and/or other jurisdictions. The absence of a specific attribution in connection with any such mark does not constitute a waiver of any such right. All trademarks, trade names, service marks and logos referenced herein belong to their respective companies.

Note 2 New Accounting Pronouncements

From time to time, new accounting pronouncements are issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (the FASB) or other standards setting bodies that are adopted by the Company as of the specified effective date. Unless otherwise discussed, the Company s management believes that the impact of recently issued standards that are not yet effective will not have a material impact on its consolidated financial position, results of operations and cash flows upon adoption.

Note 3 Litigation

We are involved in various legal claims and proceedings in the normal course of operations. We believe the outcome of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on our consolidated financial position, results of operations, or liquidity.

Note 4 Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed based upon the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share is computed based upon the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period plus the effect of dilutive securities. Our dilutive securities consist entirely of outstanding options for common stock that were in-the-money, meaning that the exercise price of the options was less than the average market price of our common stock during the period reported.

Out-of-the-money options are outstanding options to purchase common stock that were excluded from the computation of earnings per share because the exercise price of the options was greater than the average market price of our common stock during the period reported. Thus, their effect would be antidilutive.

Table of Contents

The effect of dilutive securities was approximately 588,000 and 654,500 shares of common stock for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, respectively, and 821,700 and 760,700 shares of common stock for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2009, respectively. Options for common stock that were antidilutive totaled approximately 852,300 and 666,900 for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, respectively, and 1,609,400 and 1,680,400 for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2009, respectively.

Table of ContentsNote 6 Segment Information

In the tables that follow, we present two segments: Personal Care and Housewares. Our Personal Care segment's products include hair dryers, straighteners, curling irons, hairsetters, shavers, mirrors, hot air brushes, home hair clippers and trimmers, paraffin baths, massage cushions, footbaths, body massagers, brushes, combs, hair accessories, liquid and aerosol hair styling products, men's fragrances, men's and women's antiperspirants and deodorants, liquid and bar soaps, shampoos, hair treatments, foot powder, body powder and skin care products. Our Housewares segment reports the operations of the OXO family of brands whose products include kitchen tools, cutlery, bar and wine accessories, household cleaning tools, food storage containers, tea kettles, trash cans, storage and organization products, hand tools, gardening tools, kitchen mitts and trivets, barbeque tools, rechargeable lighting products and baby-toddler products. We use third-party manufacturers to produce our goods. Both our Personal Care and Housewares segments sell their products primarily through mass merchandisers, drugstore chains, warehouse clubs, catalogs, grocery stores and specialty stores. In addition, the Personal Care segment sells through beauty supply retailers and wholesalers.

The following tables contain segment information for the periods covered by our consolidated condensed statements of income:

Table of Contents

We compute operating income for each segment based on net sales revenue, less cost of goods sold, selling, general and administrative expense (SG&A), and any impairment charges associated with the segment. The SG&A used to compute each segment's operating income includes SG&A directly associated with the segment, plus overhead expenses that are allocable to the segment. We do not allocate nonoperating income (expense), interest expense, or income taxes to operating segments. The following tables contain identifiable assets allocable to each segment for the periods covered by our consolidated condensed balance sheets:

Edgar Filing: HELEN OF TROY LTD - Form 10-Q

We lease certain facilities, equipment and vehicles under operating leases, which expire at various dates through fiscal 2019. Certain leases contain escalation clauses and renewal or purchase options. Rent expense related to our operating leases was $0.45 and $1.02 million for the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2010, respectively, and $0.58 and $1.15 million for the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2009, respectively.

Table of ContentsNote 8 Intangible Assets

Annual Impairment Testing in the First Quarter of Fiscal 2011 - The Company performed its annual evaluation of goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment during the first quarter of fiscal 2011. As a result of its testing, the Company recorded a non-cash impairment charge of $0.50 million ($0.49 million after tax). The charge was related to an indefinite-lived trademark in our Personal Care segment that was written down to its fair value, determined on the basis of future discounted cash flows using the relief from royalty method.

Annual Impairment Testing in the First Quarter of Fiscal 2010 - The Company performed its annual evaluation of goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment during the first quarter of fiscal 2010. As a result of its testing, the Company concluded no further impairments had occurred since the fourth quarter of fiscal 2009, when interim testing was performed and a total non-cash impairment charge of $99.51 million ($99.06 million after tax) was recorded.

A summary of the carrying amounts and associated accumulated amortization for all intangible assets by operating segment is as follows:

Intangible asset activity for the six month period ended August 31, 2010 was as follows:

- Personal Care segment: During the three month period ended May 31, 2010, we recorded $63.13 million of intangible assets, net of certain acquisition adjustments, in connection with our acquisition of the Pert Plus and Sure products business (as discussed further in Note 9), and a non-cash impairment charge of $0.50 million against the carrying value of an indefinite-lived trademark. During the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, we recorded $0.02 and 0.24 million, respectively in acquisition adjustment reductions related to the Pert Plus and Sure products business. In addition, during the three month period ended August 31, 2010, we recorded adjustments to remove certain fully amortized license agreements and other intangibles with a gross carrying value of $5.39 million.

- Housewares segment: During the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2010, we recorded adjustments to remove certain fully amortized patents having a gross carrying value of $0.10 and $0.86 million, respectively. During the three month period ended August 31, 2010, we recorded adjustments to remove certain fully amortized other intangibles with a gross carrying value of $0.59 million. We also recorded new patent development costs of $0.12 and $0.30 million for the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2010, respectively.

The following table summarizes the amortization expense attributable to intangible assets for the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively, as well as our estimated amortization expense for the fiscal years ending the last day of each February 2011 through 2016.

NOTE 9 - Acquisitions

Pert Plus and Sure Acquisition - On March 31, 2010, we completed the acquisition of certain assets and liabilities of the Pert Plus hair care and Sure anti-perspirant and deodorant businesses from Innovative Brands, LLC for a net cash purchase price of $69.00 million, which we paid with cash on hand. Net assets acquired consist principally of accounts receivable, finished goods inventories, prepaid expenses, goodwill, patents, trademarks, tradenames, product design specifications, production know-how, certain fixed assets, distribution rights and customer lists, less certain product related operating accruals and other current liabilities. We will market Pert Plus and Sure products primarily into retail trade channels.

Edgar Filing: HELEN OF TROY LTD - Form 10-Q

We have accounted for the acquisition as the purchase of a business and have recorded the excess purchase price as goodwill. All of the goodwill is held in jurisdictions that do not allow deductions for tax purposes. We have completed our analysis of the economic lives of all the assets acquired and determined the appropriate allocation of the initial purchase price. We assigned the acquired trademarks indefinite economic lives and will amortize the customer list and patent rights over expected average lives of approximately 8.2 and 7.5 years, respectively. For the customer list, we used our historical attrition rates to assign an expected life. For patent rights, we used the underlying non-renewable term of a royalty free license we acquired for the use of patented formulas in certain Pert Plus and Sure products. The trademarks acquired are considered to have indefinite lives that are not subject to amortization. The goodwill arising from the Pert Plus and Sure acquisition consists largely of the distribution network, marketing synergies and economies of scale expected to occur from the addition of the new product line.

The fair values of the intangible assets acquired were estimated by applying income and market approaches. These fair value measurements were based on significant inputs that are not observable in the market and, therefore, represent Level 3 measurements as defined under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). Key assumptions included various discount rates based upon a 15.8 percent weighted average cost of capital, royalty rates of 5 percent used in the determination of trademark values and customer attrition rates of 11.5 percent per year used in the determination of customer list values.

Infusium 23 Acquisition - On March 31, 2009, we completed the acquisition of certain assets, trademarks, customer lists, distribution rights, patents, goodwill and formulas for Infusium 23 (Infusium) hair care products from The Procter & Gamble Company for a cash purchase price of $60 million, which we paid with cash on hand. We accounted for the acquisition as the purchase of a business and recorded the excess purchase price as goodwill. Note 10 Short Term Debt

We have a Revolving Line of Credit Agreement (the RCA) with Bank of America, N.A. that provides for a total revolving commitment of up to $50 million, subject to certain limitations as discussed below. The commitment under the RCA terminates on December 15, 2013. Borrowings under the RCA accrue interest at a Base Rate plus a margin of 0.25 to 0.75 percent based on the Leverage Ratio at the time of borrowing. The base rate is equal to the highest of the Federal Funds Rate plus 0.50 percent, Bank of America's prime rate, or the one month LIBOR rate plus 1 percent. Alternatively, upon our timely election, borrowings accrue interest based on the respective 1, 2, 3, or 6-month LIBOR rate plus a margin of 1.25 percent to 1.75 percent based upon the Leverage Ratio (as defined in the RCA) at the time of the borrowing. We incur loan commitment fees at a current rate of 0.20 percent per annum on the unused balance of the RCA and letter of credit fees at a current rate of 1.25 percent per annum on the face value of any letter of credit. Outstanding letters of credit reduce the borrowing availability dollar for dollar. As of August 31, 2010, there were no revolving loans and $0.20 million of open letters of credit outstanding against this facility.

The RCA contains certain covenants and formulas that limit our outstanding indebtedness from all sources (less unrestricted cash on hand in excess of $15 million) to no more than 3.0 times the latest twelve months trailing EBITDA. As of August 31, 2010, our loan covenants effectively limited our ability to incur more than $296.41 million of additional debt from all sources, including draws on our RCA. The RCA is guaranteed, on a joint and several basis, by the parent company, Helen of Troy Limited and certain subsidiaries. Additionally, our debt agreements restrict us from incurring liens on any of our properties, except under certain conditions, and limit our ability to repurchase shares of our common stock. As of August 31, 2010, we were in compliance with the terms of the RCA and our other debt agreements.

Note 12 Income Taxes

United States Income Taxes - In April 2010, the IRS concluded its audit of the Company's 2007 and 2008 tax returns. No adjustments were made to either year's tax returns.

Income Tax Provisions - We must make certain estimates and judgments in determining income tax expense for financial statement purposes. These estimates and judgments must be used in the calculation of certain tax assets and liabilities because of differences in the timing of recognition of revenue and expense for tax and financial statement purposes. We must assess the likelihood that we will be able to recover our deferred tax assets. If recovery is not likely, we must increase our provision for taxes by recording a valuation allowance against the deferred tax assets that we estimate will not ultimately be recoverable. As changes occur in our assessments regarding our ability to recover our deferred tax assets, our tax provision is increased in any period in which we determine that the recovery is not probable.

In 1994, we engaged in a corporate restructuring that, among other things, resulted in a greater portion of our income not being subject to taxation in the U.S. If such income were subject to U.S. federal income taxes, our effective income tax rate would increase materially. Future actions by taxing authorities may result in tax liabilities that are significantly higher than the reserves established, which could have a material adverse effect on our consolidated results of operations or cash flows. Additionally, the U.S. government is currently considering several alternative proposed changes in the tax law that, if enacted, could increase our overall effective tax rate.

All of our long-term debt is unconditionally guaranteed by the parent company, Helen of Troy Limited and/or certain subsidiaries on a joint and several basis. Our debt agreements require the maintenance of certain debt/EBITDA and interest coverage ratios, specify minimum consolidated net worth levels and contain other customary covenants. As of August 31, 2010, our debt agreements effectively limited our ability to incur more than $296.41 million of additional debt from all sources, including draws on our RCA. Additionally, our debt agreements restrict us from incurring liens on any of our properties, except under certain conditions, and limit our ability to repurchase our common stock. As of August 31, 2010, we were in compliance with the terms of these agreements.

Edgar Filing: HELEN OF TROY LTD - Form 10-Q

Money market accounts and commercial paper are included in cash and cash equivalents in the accompanying consolidated condensed balance sheets and are classified as Level 1 assets.

We classify our auction rate securities (ARS) as Level 3 assets because we determine their estimated fair values with discounted cash flow models using the methodology and assumptions described in Note 10 to the consolidated financial statements contained in our latest annual report on Form 10-K.

We classify our fixed and floating rate debt as Level 2 liabilities because the estimation of the fair market value of debt requires the use of a discount rate based upon current market rates of interest for debt with comparable remaining terms. Such comparable rates are considered significant other observable market inputs. The fair market value of the fixed rate debt at August 31, 2010 was computed using a discounted cash flow analysis and discount rate of 2.03 percent. All other long-term debt has floating interest rates, and its book value approximates its fair value as of the reporting date.

We use derivatives for hedging purposes and our derivatives are primarily foreign currency contracts and interest rate swaps. We determine the fair value of our derivative instruments based on Level 2 inputs in the fair value hierarchy.

The Company's other non-financial assets include goodwill and other intangible assets, which we classify as Level 3 assets. These assets are measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis as part of the Company's impairment assessments and as circumstances require.

The table below presents a reconciliation of our ARS measured and recorded at fair value on a recurring basis using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3) for the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2010:

In connection with our annual impairment testing during the fiscal quarter ended May 31, 2010, we recorded a non-cash impairment charge of $0.50 million against the carrying value of indefinite-lived trademark in our Personal Care segment, which we classify as a nonrecurring Level 3 asset. The indefinite lived trademark was written down to its fair value of $5.60 million, determined on the basis of future discounted cash flows using the relief from royalty method.

Note 15 Financial Instruments and Risk Management

Foreign Currency Risk - Our functional currency is the U.S. Dollar. By operating internationally, we are subject to foreign currency risk from transactions denominated in currencies other than the U.S. Dollar (foreign currencies). Such transactions include sales, certain inventory purchases and operating expenses. As a result of such transactions, portions of our cash, trade accounts receivable and trade accounts payable are denominated in foreign currencies. During the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2010, approximately 11 and 12 percent, respectively, of our net sales revenue were in foreign currencies. During the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2009, approximately 15 percent of our net sales revenue were in foreign currencies. These sales were primarily denominated in British Pounds, Euros, Mexican Pesos, Canadian Dollars, Chilean Pesos, Peruvian Soles and Venezuelan Bolivares Fuertes. We make most of our inventory purchases from the Far East and use the U.S. Dollar for such purchases. In our consolidated condensed statements of income, exchange gains and losses resulting from the remeasurement of foreign taxes receivable, taxes payable, deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities, are recognized in their respective income tax lines, and all other foreign exchange gains and losses are recognized in SG&A. For the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2010, we recorded net foreign exchange gains (losses), including the impact of currency hedges, of $0.63 and $0.09 million, respectively, in SG&A and ($0.01) and $0.14 million, respectively, in income tax expense. For the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2009, we recorded net foreign exchange gains (losses), including the impact of currency hedges, of $0.66 and $3.29 million, respectively, in SG&A and ($0.01) and $0.11 million, respectively, in income tax expense.

We have historically hedged against certain foreign currency exchange rate-risk by using a series of forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges to protect against the foreign currency exchange risk inherent in our forecasted transactions denominated in currencies other than the U.S. Dollar. We do not enter into any forward exchange contracts or similar instruments for trading or other speculative purposes.

Venezuela has recently experienced currency instability driven by a highly inflationary economy, government restrictions on cash transfers out of the country and a recent devaluation. Our method of foreign currency translation has always required us to remeasure foreign monetary assets at the current exchange rates with all exchange gains or losses recognized in our income statement. The exchange rate we use to remeasure Venezuelan activity is currently the official exchange rate of 4.30 Bolivares Fuertes to $1. At August 31, 2010, the Company included in its consolidated condensed balance sheet $2.96 million in total assets and $2.72 million in net assets from its Venezuelan operations. Net assets are primarily working capital. It is unclear to us whether the current restrictions on transfers of cash out of Venezuela is other than temporary; however, we believe it appropriate to classify these assets and liabilities as current items in our consolidated condensed balance sheets since they support current operations within the country.

Interest Rate Risk Interest on our long-term debt outstanding as of August 31, 2010 is both floating and fixed. Fixed rates are in place on $6 million of Senior Notes at 7.24 percent and floating rates are in place on $125 million of Senior Notes, which reset as described in Note 13, and have been effectively converted to fixed rate debt using interest rate swaps, as described below.

We manage our floating rate debt using interest rate swaps (the swaps). As of August 31, 2010, we had two swaps that converted an aggregate notional principal of $125 million from floating interest rate payments under our 7 and 10 year Senior Notes to fixed interest rate payments at 5.89 and 6.01 percent, respectively. In the swap transactions, we maintain two contracts to pay fixed rates of interest on an aggregate notional principal amount of $125 million at rates of 5.04 and 5.11 percent on our 7 and 10 year Senior Notes, respectively, while simultaneously receiving floating rate interest payments set at 0.53 percent as of August 31, 2010 on the same notional amounts. The fixed rate side of the swap will not change over the life of the swap. The floating rate payments are reset quarterly based on three month LIBOR. The resets are concurrent with the interest payments made on the underlying debt. Changes in the spread between the fixed rate payment side of the swap and the floating rate receipt side of the swap fully offset the change in any period of the underlying debt's floating rate payments. These swaps are used to reduce the Company's risk of increased interest costs; however, when interest rates drop significantly below the swap rates, we lose the benefit that our floating rate debt would provide, if not managed with swaps. The swaps are considered highly effective.

Counterparty Credit Risk - Financial instruments, including foreign currency contracts and interest rate swaps, expose us to counterparty credit risk for nonperformance. We manage our exposure to counterparty credit risk through only dealing with counterparties who are substantial international financial institutions with significant experience using such derivative instruments. Although our theoretical credit risk is the replacement cost at the then estimated fair value of these instruments, we believe that the risk of incurring credit risk losses is remote.

Risks Inherent in Cash, Cash Equivalents and Investment Holdings Our cash, cash equivalents and investments are subject to interest rate risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. Cash consists of both interest bearing and non-interest bearing disbursement or short-term investment accounts. Cash equivalents consist of commercial paper and money market investment accounts. Long-term investments consist of AAA rated ARS. The following table summarizes our cash, cash equivalents and long-term investments we held at August 31, 2010 and February 28, 2010:

Our cash balances at August 31, 2010 and February 28, 2010 include restricted cash of $0.73 and $1.05 million, respectively, denominated in Venezuelan Bolivares Fuertes, shown above under the heading Cash, interest and non-interest-bearing accounts restricted. The balances arise from our operations within the Venezuelan market. The Venezuelan government enforces restrictions on transfers of cash out of the country and controls exchange rates. We have made formal applications to repatriate this cash at an official exchange rate currently pertinent to us, which is 4.30 Bolivares Fuertes to $1; however, the Company has not yet received approval of these applications. Until we are able to officially repatriate cash from Venezuela, we intend to use these cash balances in-country to continue to fund operations. We do not otherwise rely on these restricted funds as a source of liquidity.

Most of our cash equivalents and investments are in commercial paper, money market accounts and ARS with frequent rate resets; therefore, we believe there is no material interest rate risk. In addition, our commercial paper and ARS are from issuers with high credit ratings; therefore, we believe the commercial paper and ARS do not present a significant credit risk.

We hold investments in ARS collateralized by student loans (with underlying maturities from 18 to 35 years). Substantially all of the collateral is guaranteed by the U.S. government under the Federal Family Education Loan Program. Liquidity for these securities was normally dependent on an auction process that reset the applicable interest rate at pre-determined intervals, ranging from 7 to 35 days. Beginning in February 2008, the auctions for the ARS held by us and others were unsuccessful, requiring us to hold them beyond their typical auction reset dates. Auctions fail when there is insufficient demand. However, this does not represent a default by the issuer of the security. Upon an auction's failure, the interest rates reset based on a formula contained in the security. The securities will continue to accrue interest and be auctioned until one of the following occurs: the auction succeeds; the issuer calls the securities; or the securities mature. ARS are currently classified as non-current assets held for sale under the heading "Other assets" in our consolidated balance sheets.

At August 31, 2010 and February 28, 2009, we had cumulative pre-tax unrealized losses on our ARS of $1.87 million, which are reflected in accumulated other comprehensive loss in our accompanying consolidated condensed balance sheets, net of related tax effects of $0.64 million. The recording of these unrealized losses is not a result of the quality of the underlying collateral, but rather a markdown reflecting a lack of liquidity and other market conditions. For the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, we liquidated $0.10 and $0.20 million, respectively, of ARS at par. For the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2009, we liquidated $0.10 million of ARS at par.

Note 16 Repurchase of Helen of Troy Common Stock

Under the latest program approved by our Board of Directors, as of August 31, 2010, we are authorized to purchase up to 1,200,650 shares of common stock in the open market or through private transactions. During the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010, we repurchased and retired 80,000 shares of common stock at a total purchase price of $1.80 million, for a $22.49 per share average price. During the fiscal quarter ended May 31, 2010, we did not repurchase any common stock. During the fiscal quarter ended May 31, 2009, our chief executive officer tendered 762,519 shares of common stock having a market value of $14.60 million as payment for the exercise price and related federal tax obligations arising from the exercise of options. We accounted for this activity as a purchase and retirement of the shares at a price of $19.15 per share.

Note 17 Share-Based Compensation Plans

We have options outstanding under two expired and two active share-based compensation plans. The Company recorded share-based compensation expense in SG&A for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively, as follows:

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

This discussion contains a number of forward-looking statements, all of which are based on current expectations. Actual results may differ materially due to a number of factors, including those discussed in Part I, Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk, Information Regarding Forward Looking Statements, and Risk Factors in the Company's most recent annual report on Form 10-K and its other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC). This discussion should be read in conjunction with our consolidated condensed financial statements included under Part I, Item 1 of this quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010.

OVERVIEW OF THREE- AND SIX- MONTHS ENDED AUGUST 31, 2010 RESULTS:

Our second fiscal quarter's net sales traditionally average approximately 25 percent of the year's total on a historical basis. Our second fiscal quarter is normally characterized by stable sales between June and the first half of July with increasing sales in the second half of July through August as we build towards a peak shipping season in the third quarter. Overall retail sales during the quarter generally showed modest year-over-year growth domestically and globally; however, certain business categories, particularly retail personal care appliances, are down on a year-over-year basis. We believe retailers are tentative in their expectations for a significant rebound in their business for the third and fourth calendar quarters of 2010, and indicators of consumer sentiment are giving mixed signals. While there was an increase in domestic consumer spending during the month of August, most of this spending was driven by highly promotional items and tax-free shopping holidays in a number of states. We believe that overall, consumers are focusing on purchasing essentials and holding off on purchases of more discretionary types of merchandise. Accordingly, we continue to remain cautious regarding our outlook for many of our product categories.

On March 31, 2010, we completed the acquisition of certain assets and liabilities of the Pert Plus hair care and Sure anti-perspirant and deodorant businesses from Innovative Brands, LLC for a net cash purchase price of $69.00 million, which we paid with cash on hand. In the second fiscal quarter, we substantially completed the integration of this acquisition into our operations. The acquisition is a significant addition to the Company's grooming, skin care and hair care solutions product portfolio, but has required minimal additional staffing and infrastructure. We will market Pert Plus and Sure products primarily into mass retail and drug channels. Net sales revenue for the three- and six-months ended August 31, 2010 includes three and five months, respectively of Pert Plus and Sure activity totaling $19.96 and $30.83 million in net sales, respectively.

Consolidated net sales revenue for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 increased 7.8 and 9.4 percent to $174.83 and $334.98 million, respectively, compared to $162.19 and $306.07 million, respectively, for the same periods last year. Net sales revenue in our Personal Care segment was up 6.7 and 8.7 percent, respectively for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same periods last year. Growth in the segment was primarily due to our acquisition of the Pert Plus and Sure business, which provided three and five months of additional net sales revenue, respectively, for the three- and six month periods ended August 31, 2010. In addition, the six month period ended August 31, 2010 includes an extra month of net sales revenue from the Infusium acquisition when compared with the same period last year (which only included five months of revenue due to Infusium being acquired on March 31, 2009). Sales of appliances and accessories declined when compared to the same periods last year, which is in line with overall industry performance for the category. We continue to expect that sales revenue performance in our Personal Care segment's product lines will be heavily dependent on improvements in employment, housing markets and consumers' personal finances. Net sales revenue in our Housewares segment was up 10.2 and 11.1 percent, respectively, for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same periods last year. The month ending August 31, 2010 was OXO's highest net sales revenue month in its history. While our

Housewares segment has expanded distribution somewhat, new product introductions across the segment's existing retail base continue to be the primary driver of growth.

In addition to our net sales revenue performance discussed above, highlights of the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 include the following:

- Consolidated gross profit margin as a percentage of net sales revenue for the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010 increased 3.4 percentage points to 45.9 percent compared to 42.5 percent for the same period last year. Consolidated gross profit margin as a percentage of net sales for the six month period ended August 31, 2010 increased 4.0 percentage points to 45.6 percent compared to 41.6 percent for the same period last year.
- Selling, general and administrative expenses (SG&A) as a percentage of net sales increased 0.4 percentage points to 30.1 percent for the three months ended August 31, 2010 compared to 29.7 percent for the same period last year. SG&A expense as a percentage of net sales for the six months ended August 31, 2010 increased 1.8 percentage points to 30.4 percent compared to 28.6 percent for the same period last year.
- For the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2010, operating income before impairment as a percentage of net sales revenue increased 3.1 and 2.2 percentage points to $27.66 and $50.89 million compared to $20.64 and $39.83 million, respectively, for the same periods last year. For the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, the dollar increases represent a year-over-year improvement of 34.0 and 27.8 percent, respectively.
- For the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, our net income was $23.47 and $41.86 million, respectively, compared to $15.91 and $30.42 million, respectively, for the same periods last year. For the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, our diluted earnings per share was $0.75 and $1.34 compared to $0.51 and $0.99, respectively, for the same periods last year.

Table of ContentsConsolidated net sales revenue:

Consolidated net sales revenue for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 increased 7.8 and 9.4 percent to $174.83 and $334.98 million, respectively, compared to $162.19 and $306.07 million, respectively, for the same periods last year. Net sales revenue in our Personal Care segment was up 6.7 and 8.7 percent, respectively for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same periods last year. The month ending August 31, 2010 was OXO's highest net sales revenue month in its history.

Impact of acquisitions on net sales revenue:

Net sales revenue from acquisitions contributed 12.3 and 10.8 percentage points, respectively, to our net sales revenue growth for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010. Net sales revenue from acquisitions for the three- and six-month period ended August 31, 2010 included one month of net sales revenue totaling $2.37 million from our Infusium line of shampoos, conditioners and leave-in hair treatments acquired on March 31, 2009, and two and five months revenue totaling $19.96 and $30.83 million, respectively, for our Pert Plus hair care and Sure anti-perspirant and deodorant product lines acquired on March 31, 2010. Our core business (business owned and operated over the same fiscal periods last year) had total dollar net sales revenue declines of $7.33 and $4.28 million, respectively, for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same periods last year. This equates to a 4.5 and 1.4 percentage point decline in net sales revenue, for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same periods last year. Net sales revenue growth in our Housewares segment's core business was more than offset by declines in our Personal Care segment's core business. The following table sets forth the impact acquisitions had on our net sales revenue:

Table of ContentsImpact of foreign currencies on net sales revenue:

During the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, we transacted approximately 11 and 12 percent, respectively, of our net sales revenues in foreign currencies. During the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2009, we transacted approximately 15 percent of our net sales revenues in foreign currencies. These transactions were primarily denominated in British Pounds, Euros, Mexican Pesos, Canadian Dollars, Chilean Pesos, Peruvian Soles, and Venezuelan Bolivares Fuertes. For the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, the impact of net foreign currency exchange rates decreased our international net sales revenue by approximately $1.37 and $0.97 million. The impact of these fluctuations primarily affected the Personal Care segment's appliance category.

Segment net sales revenue:

We operate our business under two segments: Personal Care and Housewares. Our Personal Care segment's products include hair dryers, straighteners, curling irons, hairsetters, shavers, mirrors, hot air brushes, home hair clippers and trimmers, paraffin baths, massage cushions, footbaths, body massagers, brushes, combs, hair accessories, liquid and aerosol hair styling products, men's fragrances, men's and women's antiperspirants and deodorants, liquid and bar soaps, shampoos, hair treatments, foot powder, body powder and skin care products. Our Housewares segment reports the operations of the OXO family of brands whose products include kitchen tools, cutlery, bar and wine accessories, household cleaning tools, food storage containers, tea kettles, trash cans, storage and organization products, hand tools, gardening tools, kitchen mitts and trivets, barbeque tools, rechargeable lighting products and baby-toddler products. The following table sets forth, for the periods indicated our net sales revenue and the impact of volume and price mix changes for each segment:

Personal Care Segment Segment net sales revenue for the three months ended August 31, 2010 increased $7.49 million, or 6.7 percent, to $119.12 million compared with $111.63 million for the same period last year. Segment net sales revenue for the six months ended August 31,

Edgar Filing: HELEN OF TROY LTD - Form 10-Q

2010 increased $18.54 million, or 8.7 percent, to $231.35 million compared with $212.81 million for the same period last year. Net sales revenue increases were attributed primarily to the grooming, skin care and hair care solutions category, which sell at lower per unit prices than appliances overall. Year-over-year growth in the second quarter was due primarily to an additional three months of net sales revenue from our recent acquisition of the Pert Plus and Sure business, acquired on March 31, 2010. Sales of appliances and accessories declined when compared to the same period last year, which is in line with overall industry performance for the category. Hair care appliance net sales revenue continues to be negatively impacted by cautious consumer spending, which includes an overall shift by consumers to spending on lower price point personal care items. We continue to expect that net sales revenue performance in our Personal Care segment will be heavily dependent on improvements in employment, housing markets and consumers' personal finances.

Housewares Segment Segment net sales revenue for the three months ended August 31, 2010 increased $5.14 million, or 10.2 percent, to $55.70 million compared with $50.57 million for the same period last year. Segment net sales revenue for the six months ended August 31, 2010 increased $10.38 million, or 11.1 percent, to $103.63 million compared with $93.25 million for the same period last year. The month ending August 31, 2010 was OXO's highest net sales revenue month in its history. While our Housewares segment has modestly expanded its distribution, new product introductions across the segment's existing retail base continues to be the primary driver of growth. Additional new product introductions, namely our OXO tot infant and toddler feeding, cleaning and bathing products and our OXO Good Grips line of interlocking deep drawer plastic storage bins, will begin to ship to a limited number of customers during the second half of fiscal 2011.

The Housewares segment's performance continues to demonstrate resistance to recessionary trends; however, future net sales revenue growth in this segment of our business will be dependent on new product innovation, continued product line expansion, new sources of distribution, and geographic expansion. Domestically, our Housewares segment's market opportunities are maturing and its current customer base amongst all tiers of retailers is extensive. Accordingly, we remain cautious about our ability to maintain this same pace of net sales revenue growth in the foreseeable future.

Consolidated gross profit margin:

Consolidated gross profit margin as a percentage of net sales revenue for the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010 increased 3.4 percentage points to 45.9 percent compared to 42.5 percent for the same period last year. Consolidated gross profit margin as a percentage of net sales revenue for the six month period ended August 31, 2010 increased 4.0 percentage points to 45.6 percent compared to 41.6 percent for the same period last year.

Gross profit margin improvements for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 were primarily due to:

- the impact of commodity price decreases in fiscal 2010 that continue to cycle through cost of goods sold; and
- a change in sales mix as grooming, skin care and hair care solutions products with comparatively higher margins became a more significant portion of the Company's overall net sales revenue, particularly as a result of our more recent brand acquisitions.

Our product sourcing mix is heavily dependent on imports from China. China has stated that it will move its currency off a peg to the U.S. dollar, which will likely increase our product costs over time. In addition, there has been upward pressure on raw material, labor and inbound transportation costs. Accordingly, we remain cautious about the expectation of sustained gross profit margin improvement throughout the remainder of fiscal 2011.

For the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010, SG&A reported in our consolidated condensed statement of income as a percentage of net sales revenue increased 0.4 percentage points to 30.1 percent compared to 29.7 percent for the same period last year. For the six month period ended

August 31, 2010, SG&A reported in our consolidated condensed statement of income as a percentage of net sales revenue increased 1.8 percentage points to 30.4 percent compared to 28.6 percent for the same period last year.

SG&A for the three- and six-months ended August 31, 2010 includes net foreign exchange gains of $0.63 and $0.09 million, respectively, and an insurance claim gain of $0.36 million. Together, these items resulted in a net favorable impact on SG&A for the three- and six-months ended August 31, 2010 of $0.99 and $0.45 million, respectively. SG&A for the three- and six-months ended August 31, 2009 included net foreign exchange gains of $0.67 and 3.29 million, respectively. SG&A for the six month period ended August 31, 2009 also included an insurance claim gain of $0.54 million. Together, these items resulted in a net favorable impact to SG&A for the three- and six-months ended August 31, 2009 of $0.67 and $3.84 million, respectively. The preceding table shows the impact of excluding these specified items from both periods. Excluding the impact of the specified items shown in the previous table from the fiscal quarters presented, SG&A as a percentage of net sales increased 0.5 percentage points to 30.7 percent for the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010 compared to 30.2 percent for the same period last year. Excluding the impact of the specified items shown in the previous table from the six months presented, SG&A as a percentage of net sales increased 0.6 percentage points to 30.5 percent for the six months ended August 31, 2010 compared to 29.9 percent for the same period last year. These increases relate primarily to a year-over-year increases in advertising expense, higher intangible asset amortization as a result of recent acquisitions and certain transition service charges incurred in connection with the Pert Plus and Sure business acquisition. The transition service charge expenses ended in June 2010, as the Pert Plus and Sure business operations were integrated into the Company by that time. We expect the recent trend of higher SG&A expense levels to continue through the remainder of the year due to the cost of new Personal Care media advertising campaigns for Pert Plus, Sure and Infusium products which we expect to begin during the third and fourth quarters of fiscal 2011. In the third fiscal quarter of 2011, we expect advertising expense to exceed last year's third fiscal quarter advertising expense by approximately $4.50 million. We plan to continue providing advertising support to these brands with expenditures occurring over all four quarters in the next fiscal year on a more normalized basis.

Operating income before impairment by segment:

The following table sets forth, for the periods indicated, our operating income before impairment charges by segment, as a year-over-year percentage change, and as a percentage of net sales revenue for each segment and the Company overall:

OPERATING INCOME BY SEGMENT BEFORE IMPAIRMENT

Total operating income before impairment	$ 50,888	$ 39,831	$ 11,057	27.8%	15.2%	13.0%

The Personal Care segment's operating income before impairment charges increased $5.42 million, or 58.2 percent, for the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same period last year. The segment's operating income before impairment charges increased $8.41 million, or 42.3 percent, for the six months ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same period last year. These improvements were due to an overall improvement in gross margin combined with the favorable impact of the Pert Plus, Sure and Infusium acquisitions on the sales and profitability of our domestic grooming, skin care and hair care solutions products business.

The Housewares segment's operating income before impairment charges increased $1.59 million, or 14.0 percent, for the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same period last year. The segment's operating income before impairment charges increased $2.64 million, or 13.3 percent, for the six months ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same period last year. These increases in operating income are principally due to increases in net sales revenue of $5.14 and $10.38 million, respectively, and associated gross margin improvements over the same three- and six-month periods last year.

Table of Contents

Operating income before impairment charges for each operating segment is computed based on net sales revenue, less cost of goods sold and any SG&A associated with the segment, not including impairment charges. The SG&A used to compute each segment's operating income includes SG&A directly associated with the segment, plus overhead expenses that are allocable to the segment.

Impairment Charges:

The Company conducts its annual test of impairment of goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets in the first quarter of each fiscal year. The Company also tests for impairment if events or circumstances indicate that it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit or an indefinite-lived intangible asset is below its carrying amount.

As a result of its testing during the fiscal quarter ended May 31, 2010, the Company recorded a non-cash impairment charge of $0.50 million ($0.49 million after tax). The charge was related to an indefinite-lived trademark in our Personal Care segment which was written down to its fair value, determined on the basis of future discounted cash flows using the relief from royalty method.

During the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2009, a significant customer decided to discontinue carrying our Skin Milk® brand of skin care products. Sales to this customer accounted for a substantial portion of the total sales of this brand and, accordingly, non-cash impairment charges were recorded to write off the remaining $0.90 million ($0.89 million after tax) in carrying value of the associated trademark.

Interest expense and nonoperating income (expense), net:

Interest expense for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 was $2.14 and $4.30 million, respectively, compared to $2.59 and $6.05 million, respectively, for the same periods last year. Interest expense was lower when compared to the previous period primarily due to lower outstanding debt.

Nonoperating income (expense), net, for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 was $0.16 and $0.33 million, respectively, compared to $0.36 and $0.80 million, respectively, for the same periods last year. The following table sets forth, for the periods indicated, the key components of nonoperating income (expense), net as a year-over-year percentage change and as a percentage of net sales revenue:

Interest income was lower for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010, when compared to the same periods last year due primarily to lower interest rates earned.

Table of ContentsIncome tax expense:

Income tax expense for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 was 8.6 and 9.8 percent, respectively, of income before income taxes compared to 9.2 and 9.7 percent, respectively, for the same periods last year. The fluctuations in our effective tax rates for the periods presented are generally attributable to shifts in the mix of taxable income earned between the various high and low tax rate jurisdictions in which we conduct our business.

In April 2010, the IRS concluded its audit of the Company's 2007 and 2008 tax returns. No adjustments were made to either year's tax returns.

Net income:

Our net income was $23.47 and $41.86 million, respectively, for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 compared to $15.91 and $30.42 million for the same periods last year, representing period-over-period net income increases of 47.5 and 37.6 percent, respectively. Our diluted earnings per share was $0.75 and $1.34, respectively, for the three- and six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 compared to $0.51 and $0.99, respectively, for the same periods last year, representing period-over-period diluted earnings per share increases of 47.1 and 35.4 percent, respectively.

FINANCIAL CONDITION, LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Selected measures of our liquidity and capital resources for the six-month periods ended August 31, 2010 and 2009 are shown below:

SELECTED MEASURES OF OUR LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

	Six Months Ended August 31,
	2010	2009
Accounts Receivable Turnover (Days) (1)	65.7	67.6
Inventory Turnover (Times) (1)	2.6	2.3
Working Capital (in thousands)	$187,630	$207,235
Current Ratio	2.1 : 1	3.1 : 1
Debt to Equity Ratio (2)	20.9%	24.8%
Return on Average Equity (1)	14.3%	-7.7%

(1) Accounts receivable turnover, inventory turnover and return on average equity computations use 12-month trailing sales, cost of sales, or net income components as required by the particular measure. The current and four prior quarters' ending balances of accounts receivable, inventory and equity are used for the purposes of computing the average balance component as required by the particular measure.

(2) Debt is defined as all debt outstanding at the balance sheet date. This includes the sum of the following lines on our consolidated balance sheets: Long-term debt, current maturities and Long-term debt, excluding current maturities.

(3) Return on average equity for the six months ended August 31, 2009 reflects the impact of non-cash impairment charges of $99.51 million (99.06 million after tax) recorded in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2009.

Operating activities:

Operating activities provided $11.78 million of cash during the first six months of fiscal 2011, compared to $50.71 million of cash provided during the same period in fiscal 2010. The decrease in operating cash flow was primarily due to the timing of fluctuations in working capital components, particularly an increase in inventory when compared year-over-year.

Table of Contents

Accounts receivable increased $12.59 million to $122.31 million as of August 31, 2010, compared to $109.72 million at the end of fiscal 2010. The increase was due to trade receivables acquired with the Pert Plus and Sure business and overall net sales revenue growth. Accounts receivable turnover improved to 65.7 days at August 31, 2010 from 67.6 days at August 31, 2009. This calculation is based on a rolling five quarter accounts receivable balance.

Inventories increased $43.48 million to $167.50 million as of August 31, 2010, compared to $124.02 million at the end of fiscal 2010. Inventory turnover improved to 2.6 times at August 31, 2010 compared to 2.3 times at August 31, 2009. The increase in inventories reflects a normal seasonal build up in anticipation of our heavy shipping season which begins in early August and continues through November. The inventory increase also reflects the addition of Pert Plus and Sure inventory as a result of the March 31, 2010 acquisition.

Working capital decreased to $187.63 million at August 31, 2010, compared to $207.98 million at August 31, 2009. Our current ratio decreased to 2.1:1 at August 31, 2010, compared to 3.2:1 at August 31, 2009. The decrease in our working capital and current ratio was primarily caused by $50.00 million of long-term debt scheduled to mature in June 2011, which became classified as a current liability during the quarter ended August 31, 2010.

Investing activities:

Investing activities used $70.74 million of cash during the six months ended August 31, 2010. Highlights of those activities follow:

- In addition to certain capital assets acquired in connection with the Pert Plus hair care and Sure anti-perspirant and deodorant acquisition discussed immediately below, we spent $0.68 million on molds and tooling, $0.79 million on information technology infrastructure, $0.22 million on various other fixed asset additions and $0.30 million on the development of new patents.
- We used $69.00 million of cash to acquire accounts receivable, finished goods inventories, prepaid expenses, goodwill, patents, trademarks, tradenames, product design specifications, production know-how, certain fixed assets, distribution rights and customer lists, less certain product related operating accruals and other current liabilities of the Pert Plus hair care and Sure anti-perspirant and deodorant businesses from Innovative Brands, LLC.
- We liquidated $0.20 million of ARS at par.

Financing activities:

Financing activities used $2.18 million of cash during the six months ended August 31, 2010. Highlights of those activities follow:

Edgar Filing: HELEN OF TROY LTD - Form 10-Q

- We paid a $3 million installment on long-term debt.
- We repurchased and retired 80,000 shares of common stock at a total purchase price of $1.80 million, for a $22.49 per share average price.
- Employees and directors exercised options to purchase 108,475 shares of common stock, providing $2.28 million of cash.
- Purchases of common stock through our employee stock purchase plan provided $0.22 million of cash.

Table of ContentsRevolving Line of Credit Agreement and Other Debt Agreements:

We have a Revolving Line of Credit Agreement (RCA) with Bank of America, N.A. that provides for a total revolving commitment of up to $50.00 million, subject to certain limitations as discussed below. For additional information regarding the terms and conditions of the RCA, see Note 10 to the accompanying consolidated condensed financial statements of this quarterly report on Form 10-Q.

As of August 31, 2010, we had an aggregate principal balance of $131.00 million of Senior Notes with varying maturities due through June 2014.

All of our long-term debt, including our Senior Notes, is unconditionally guaranteed by the parent company, Helen of Troy Limited and/or certain subsidiaries on a joint and several basis. Our RCA and other debt agreements require the maintenance of certain debt/EBITDA and interest coverage ratios, specify minimum consolidated net worth levels and contain other customary covenants. As of August 31, 2010, our debt agreements effectively limited our ability to incur more than $296.41 million of additional debt from all sources, including draws on our RCA. Additionally, our debt agreements restrict us from incurring liens on any of our properties, except under certain conditions, and limits our ability to repurchase our common stock. As of August 31, 2010, we were in compliance with the terms of the RCA and our other debt agreements.

Contractual obligations and commercial commitments:

Our contractual obligations and commercial commitments, at August 31, 2010, were:

Edgar Filing: HELEN OF TROY LTD - Form 10-Q

(1) The Company uses interest rate hedge agreements (the swaps) in conjunction with its unsecured floating interest rate $50 million, 7 year and $75 million, 10 year Senior Notes. The swaps are a hedge of the variable LIBOR rates used to reset the floating rates on these Senior Notes. The swaps effectively fix the interest rates on the 7 and 10 year Senior Notes at 5.89 and 6.01 percent, respectively. Accordingly, the future interest obligations related to this debt have been estimated using these rates.

(2) In addition to the contractual obligations and commercial commitments in the table above, as of August 31, 2010, we have recorded a provision for our uncertain tax positions of $1.83 million. We are unable to reliably estimate the timing of future payments, if any, related to uncertain tax positions; therefore, we have excluded these tax liabilities from the table above.

Off-balance sheet arrangements:

We have no existing activities involving special purpose entities or off-balance sheet financing.

Table of Contents

Current and future capital needs:

As of August 31, 2010, we have no outstanding borrowings and $0.20 million of open letters of credit under our RCA.

Based on our current financial condition and current operations, we believe that cash flows from operations and available financing sources will continue to provide sufficient capital resources to fund our foreseeable short- and long-term liquidity requirements. We expect our capital needs to stem primarily from the need to purchase sufficient levels of inventory and to carry normal levels of accounts receivable on our balance sheet. In addition, we continue to evaluate acquisition opportunities on a regular basis and may augment our internal growth with acquisitions of complementary businesses or product lines. We may finance acquisition activity with available cash, the issuance of common stock, additional debt or other sources of financing, depending upon the size and nature of any such transaction and the status of the capital markets at the time of such acquisition.

The Company may elect to repurchase additional common stock from time to time based upon its assessment of its liquidity position and market conditions at the time, and subject to limitations contained in its debt agreements. For additional information, see Part II, Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds in this Form 10-Q.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The SEC defines critical accounting policies as those that are both most important to the portrayal of a company's financial condition and results, and require management's most difficult, subjective or complex judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain. For a discussion of our critical accounting policies, see Part II, Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, under the heading Critical Accounting Policies in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended February 28, 2010. There have been no material changes to the Company's critical accounting policies from the information provided in our Form 10-K.

NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

See Note 2 New Accounting Pronouncements, to the accompanying consolidated condensed financial statements of this quarterly report on Form 10-Q, for a discussion of the status and potential impact of new accounting pronouncements.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Changes in currency exchange rates, interest rates and the liquidity of our investments are our primary financial market risks.

Foreign currency risk:

Our functional currency is the U.S. Dollar. By operating internationally, we are subject to foreign currency risk from transactions denominated in currencies other than the U.S. Dollar (foreign currencies). Such transactions include sales, certain inventory purchases and operating expenses. As a result of such transactions, portions of our cash, trade accounts receivable and trade accounts payable are denominated in foreign currencies. During the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2010, approximately 11 and 12 percent, respectively, of our net sales revenue were in foreign currencies. During the three- and six- month periods ended August 31, 2009, approximately 15 percent of our net sales revenue were in foreign currencies. These sales were primarily denominated in British Pounds, Euros, Mexican Pesos, Canadian Dollars, Chilean Pesos, Peruvian Soles and Venezuelan Bolivares Fuertes. We make most of our inventory purchases from the Far East and use the U.S. Dollar for such purchases. In our consolidated condensed statements of income, exchange gains and losses resulting from the remeasurement of foreign taxes receivable, taxes payable, deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities, are recognized in their respective income tax lines, and all other foreign exchange gains and losses are recognized in SG&A.

We identify foreign currency risk by regularly monitoring our foreign currency-denominated transactions and balances. Where operating conditions permit, we reduce foreign currency risk by purchasing most of our inventory with U.S. Dollars and by converting cash balances denominated in foreign currencies to U.S. Dollars.

We have historically hedged against certain foreign currency exchange rate-risk by using a series of forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges to protect against the foreign currency exchange risk inherent in our forecasted transactions denominated in currencies other than the U.S. Dollar. In these transactions, we execute a forward currency contract that will settle at the end of a forecasted period. Because the size and terms of the forward contract are designed so that it s fair market value will move in the opposite direction and approximate magnitude of the underlying foreign currency s forecasted exchange gain or loss during the forecasted period, a hedging relationship is created. To the extent that we forecast the expected foreign currency cash flows from the period we enter into the forward contract until the date it will settle with reasonable accuracy, we significantly lower or materially eliminate a particular currency s exchange risk exposure over the life of the related forward contract. We enter into these types of agreements where we believe we have meaningful exposure to foreign currency exchange risk and the hedge pricing appears reasonable. It is not practical for us to hedge all our exposures, nor are we able to project in any meaningful way the possible effect and interplay of all foreign currency fluctuations on translated amounts or future earnings. This is due to our constantly changing exposure to various currencies, the fact that each foreign currency reacts differently to the U.S. Dollar, and the significant number of currencies involved. Accordingly, we will always be subject to foreign exchange rate-risk on exposures we have not hedged, and these risks may be material. We do not enter into any forward exchange contracts or similar instruments for trading or other speculative purposes.

Interest rate risk:

Interest on our long-term debt outstanding as of August 31, 2010 is both floating and fixed. Fixed rates are in place on $6 million of Senior Notes at 7.24 percent and floating rates are in place on $125 million of Senior Notes, which reset as described in Note 13, and have been effectively converted to fixed rate debt using interest rate swaps, as described below.

Our levels of debt, certain additional draws against our RCA (whose interest rates can vary with the term of each draw), and the uncertainty regarding the level of future interest rates increase our risk profile. We manage our floating rate debt using interest rate swaps (the swaps). As of August 31, 2010, we had two swaps that converted an aggregate notional principal of $125 million from floating interest rate payments under our 7 and 10 year Senior Notes to fixed interest rate payments at 5.89 and 6.01 percent, respectively. In the swap transactions, we maintain two contracts to pay fixed rates of interest on an aggregate notional principal amount of $125 million at rates of 5.04 and 5.11 percent on our 7 and 10 year Senior Notes, respectively, while simultaneously receiving floating rate interest payments set at 0.53 percent as of August 31, 2010 on the same notional amounts. The fixed rate side of the swap will not change over the life of the swap. The floating rate payments are reset quarterly based on three month LIBOR. The resets are concurrent with the interest payments made on the underlying debt. Changes in the spread between the fixed rate payment side of the swap and the floating rate receipt side of the swap fully offset the change in any period of the underlying debt's floating rate payments. These swaps are used to reduce the Company's risk of increased interest costs; however, when interest rates drop significantly below the swap rates, we lose the benefit that our floating rate debt would provide, if not managed with swaps. The swaps are considered highly effective.

We expect that as currency market conditions warrant, and our foreign denominated transaction exposure grows, we will continue to execute additional contracts in order to hedge against certain potential foreign exchange losses.

Counterparty Credit Risk - Financial instruments, including foreign currency contracts and interest rate swaps, expose us to counterparty credit risk for nonperformance. We manage our exposure to counterparty credit risk through only dealing with counterparties who are substantial international financial institutions with significant experience using such derivative instruments. Although our theoretical credit risk is the replacement cost at the then estimated fair value of these instruments, we believe that the risk of incurring credit risk losses is remote.

Table of ContentsRisks inherent in cash, cash equivalents and investment holdings:

Our cash, cash equivalents and investments are subject to interest rate risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. Cash consists of both interest bearing and non-interest bearing disbursement or short-term investment accounts. Cash equivalents consist of commercial paper and money market investment accounts. Long-term investments consist of AAA rated ARS. The following table summarizes our cash, cash equivalents and long-term investments we held at August 31, 2010 and February 28, 2010:

Our cash balances at August 31, 2010 and February 28, 2010 include restricted cash of $0.73 and $1.05 million, respectively, denominated in Venezuelan Bolivares Fuertes, shown above under the heading Cash, interest and non-interest-bearing accounts restricted. The balances arise from our operations within the Venezuelan market. The Venezuelan government enforces restrictions on transfers of cash out of the country and controls exchange rates. We have made formal applications to repatriate this cash at an official exchange rate currently pertinent to us, which is 4.30 Bolivares Fuertes to $1; however, the Company has not yet received approval of these applications. Until we are able to officially repatriate cash from Venezuela, we intend to use these cash balances in-country to continue to fund operations. We do not otherwise rely on these restricted funds as a source of liquidity.

Most of our cash equivalents and investments are in commercial paper, money market accounts and ARS with frequent rate resets; therefore, we believe there is no material interest rate risk. In addition, our commercial paper and ARS are from issuers with high credit ratings; therefore, we believe the commercial paper and ARS do not present a significant credit risk.

We hold investments in ARS collateralized by student loans (with underlying maturities from 18 to 35 years). Substantially all of the collateral is guaranteed by the U.S. government under the Federal Family Education Loan Program. Liquidity for these securities was normally dependent on an auction process that reset the applicable interest rate at pre-determined intervals, ranging from 7 to 35 days. Beginning in February 2008, the auctions for the ARS held by us and others were unsuccessful, requiring us to hold them beyond their typical auction reset dates. Auctions fail when there is insufficient demand. However, this does not represent a default by the issuer of the security. Upon an auction's failure, the interest rates reset based on a formula contained in the security. The securities will continue to accrue interest and be auctioned until one of the following occurs: the auction succeeds; the issuer calls the securities; or the securities mature. ARS are currently classified as non-current assets

INFORMATION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain written and oral statements made by our Company and subsidiaries of our Company may constitute forward-looking statements as defined under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. This includes statements made in this report, in other filings with the SEC, in press releases, and in certain other oral and written presentations. Generally, the words anticipates, believes, expects, plans, may, will, seeks, estimates, project, predict, potential, continue, intends, and other similar words identify forward-looking statements. All statements address operating results, events or developments that we expect or anticipate will occur in the future, including statements related to sales, earnings per share results and statements expressing general expectations about future operating results, are forward-looking statements and are based upon the Company's current expectations and various assumptions. The Company believes there is a reasonable basis for its expectations and assumptions, but there can be no assurance that the Company will realize its expectations or that the Company's assumptions will prove correct. Forward-looking statements are subject to risks that could cause them to differ materially from actual results. Accordingly, the Company cautions readers not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements. We believe that these risks include, but are not limited to, the risks described in Part I, Item 1A. Risk Factors of our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended February 28, 2010 and risks otherwise described from time to time in our SEC reports as filed. Such risks, uncertainties and other important factors include, among others:

- the departure and recruitment of key personnel;
- our ability to deliver products to our customers in a timely manner and according to their fulfillment standards;
- our projections of product demand, sales and net income are highly subjective in nature and future sales and net income could vary in a material amount from such projections;
- our relationship with key customers and licensors;
- the costs of complying with the business demands and requirements of large sophisticated customers;
- our dependence on foreign sources of supply and foreign manufacturing, and associated operational risks including but not limited to long lead times, consistent local labor availability and capacity, and timely availability of sufficient shipping carrier capacity;
- the impact of changing costs of raw materials and energy on cost of goods sold and certain operating expenses;
- the inability to liquidate auction rate securities;

Edgar Filing: HELEN OF TROY LTD - Form 10-Q

- circumstances which may contribute to future impairment of goodwill, intangible or other long-lived assets;
- the risks associated with the use of trademarks licensed from third parties;
- our dependence on the strength of retail economies and vulnerabilities to a prolonged economic downturn;
- our ability to develop and introduce a continuing stream of innovative new products to meet changing consumer preferences;

Table of Contents

- the potential impact of further disruptions in U.S. and international credit markets;
- exchange rate risks;
- expectations regarding future acquisitions and our ability to effectively integrate acquired businesses;
- our use of debt and the constraints it may impose on our ability to operate our business;
- the risks associated with tax audits and related disputes with taxing authorities;
- the risks of potential changes in laws, including tax laws and the complexities of compliance with such laws; and
- our ability to continue to avoid classification as a controlled foreign corporation.

We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

DISCLOSURE CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Our management, under the supervision and with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and Chief Financial Officer (CFO), maintains disclosure controls and procedures as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) under the Exchange Act that are designed to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed in the reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to management, including the CEO and CFO, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures. Because of inherent limitations, disclosure controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, and not absolute, assurance that the objectives of disclosure controls and procedures are met.

Our management, including our CEO and CFO, has evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010. Based upon that evaluation, the CEO and CFO concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at a reasonable level of assurance as of August 31, 2010, the end of the period covered by this quarterly report on Form 10-Q.

CHANGES IN INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

In connection with the evaluation described above, we identified no change in our internal control over financial reporting as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) that occurred during our fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010, that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Table of ContentsPART II. OTHER INFORMATION*ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

We are involved in various legal claims and proceedings in the normal course of operations. We believe the outcome of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on our consolidated financial position, results of operations, or liquidity.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS

The ownership of our common stock involves a number of risks and uncertainties. When evaluating the Company and our business before making an investment decision regarding our securities, potential investors should carefully consider the risk factors and uncertainties described in Part 1, Item 1A. Risk Factors of our annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 28, 2010. Since the filing of our annual report on Form 10-K, there have been no material changes in our risk factors from those disclosed therein.

ITEM 2. UNREGISTERED SALES OF EQUITY SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

Under the latest program approved by our Board of Directors, as of August 31, 2010, we are authorized to purchase up to 1,200,650 shares of common stock in the open market or through private transactions. During the fiscal quarter ended August 31, 2010, we repurchased and retired 80,000 shares of common stock at a total purchase price of $1.80 million, for a $22.49 per share average price. The following schedule sets forth the purchase activity for the three months ended August 31, 2010.
