Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

On September 27, 2017, IAC/InterActiveCorp (the Company) issued a press release announcing the pricing on September 26, 2017 of the private offering by its wholly owned subsidiary IAC FinanceCo, Inc. (IAC FinanceCo) of $450 million aggregate principal amount (which reflects an increase of $50 million aggregate principal amount from the previously announced offering size of $400 million) of its exchangeable senior notes due 2022 and the related grant to the initial purchasers of the notes of an option to purchase, within a 13-day period beginning on, and including, the date IAC FinanceCo first issues the notes, up to an additional $67.5 million aggregate principal amount (which reflects an increase of $7.5 million aggregate principal amount from the previously announced over-allotment option size of $60 million) of the notes, solely to cover over-allotments.

The notes will bear interest at a fixed rate of 0.875% per year, payable semiannually in arrears on April 1 and October 1 of each year, beginning on April 1, 2018. The notes will mature on October 1, 2022, unless earlier exchanged, redeemed or repurchased. Subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions and during certain periods, holders may opt to exchange the notes for, at IAC FinanceCo's election, (i) cash, (ii) Common Stock, par value $0.001, of the Company (the Company Common Stock) or (iii) a combination thereof. The exchange rate will initially be 6.5713 shares of Company Common Stock per $1,000 principal amount of notes (equivalent to an initial exchange price of approximately $152.18 per share of Company Common Stock). The exchange rate is subject to adjustment if certain events occur. The common stock underlying the notes is subject to adjustment if certain events occur. The initial exchange price of the notes represents a premium of approximately 32.50% to the $114.85 closing price of the Company Common Stock on September 26, 2017.

In connection with the pricing of the offering, IAC FinanceCo entered into exchangeable note hedge transactions with certain of the initial purchasers and/or their respective affiliates (the Option Counterparties). The exchangeable note hedge transactions cover, subject to customary anti-dilution and other adjustments substantially similar to those applicable to the notes, the number of shares of the Company Common Stock underlying the notes and will have a strike price corresponding to the exchange price of the notes. The exchangeable note hedge transactions are expected to reduce potential dilutive effect on the Company Common Stock upon any exchange of notes and/or offset any cash payments the Company is required to make in excess of the principal amount of exchanged notes, as the case may be, in the event that the market price per share of the Company Common Stock is greater than the strike price of the exchangeable note hedge transactions. Concurrently with IAC FinanceCo's entry into the exchangeable note hedge transactions, the Company also entered into warrant transactions with the option counterparties whereby the Company sold to the option counterparties warrants to purchase, subject to customary anti-dilution and other adjustments, up to the same number of shares of the Company Common Stock. These warrant transactions could separately have a dilutive effect on the Company Common Stock to the extent that the market price per share of the Company Common Stock (as measured over the measurement period at the maturity of the warrants) exceeds the applicable strike price of the warrants, which is initially $229.70 and represents a premium of 100.00% to the $114.85 closing price of the Company Common Stock on September 26, 2017.

The information furnished with this report, including Exhibit 99.1, shall not be deemed filed for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act), or otherwise subject to the liabilities of that section, nor shall it be deemed incorporated by reference into any other filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Exchange Act, except as expressly set forth by specific reference in such a filing.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Information

This communication may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The use of words such as anticipates, estimates, expects, plans and believes, among others, generally identify forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements include, among others, statements relating to the offering and the expected impact of the note hedge and warrant transactions. These forward-looking statements are based on Company management's current expectations and assumptions about future events,
