Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

Effective December 12, 2007, the OnScreen Technologies, Inc. corporate name was changed to Waytronx, Inc. Effective January 7, 2008, the new OTC:BB trading symbol for Waytronx, Inc. is WYNX.

The new company name was adopted to more accurately reflect the company's current strategy to focus on thermal management technologies in advanced electronics.

Management adopted a new statement of position to emphasize this new strategy. Waytronx, Inc. is now primarily focused on commercialization of its proprietary innovative thermal cooling technology, WayCool™, our proprietary scientific approach to addressing intense heat generated in electronic systems, including computers, home entertainment systems, test fixtures and medical monitoring devices. WayCool technology provides cooling technology that transfers heat at extraordinarily high rates to promote superior thermal management in the semiconductor and electronic packaging industries. As micro electronics components run at higher speeds, with more computing capacity, the primary gating factor is thermal management. WayCool™ technology offers a highly scalable and cost effective alternative.
