Establishment of a Subsidiary in Africa

To prepare for market growth in Africa, Makita Corporation (Head office: Anjo, Aichi Prefecture, Japan, represented by Masahiko Goto, President and CEO, with capital stock of JPY24, 206 million) has established a sales subsidiary at a designated bonded area in Tanger, the Kingdom of Morocco, its first business site in Africa, and will start its operations in February, 2009.

Makita's products have been supplied to the Middle East and Africa by Makita Gulf FZE, a sales subsidiary located at a designated bonded area in Dubai, the United Arab Emirates (established April 1997, with capital stock of US$6 million).

Now, to speed up the product supply to North and West Africa, reduce transport costs, and further strengthen sales activities in these areas, Makita has established a sales subsidiary in the Kingdom of Morocco in the northwestern corner of Africa.

Makita has implemented measures to strengthen its sales network worldwide, including the opening of new sales subsidiary. The Kingdom of Morocco has become the fourth country, following Bulgaria, India and Colombia, in which Makita has established a sales subsidiary during the year ending March 2009. Accordingly, Makita currently has 46 overseas subsidiaries.

The outline of the new sales subsidiary is as follows:
