GROWER LETTER
RTP

September 14, 2004

Dear [personalize with name]:

As you know from our ongoing conversations, Robert Mondavi Corporation is undergoing a significant evolution designed to better serve the changing needs of our market and the demands of our consumers. Today, we emerge from our Board of Directors meeting with a new strategy that will be announced to the public.

Unveiling the New Strategy

The Robert Mondavi Corporation has announced that we will focus our efforts entirely on our lifestyle brands. We understand that this is a significant change. However, it is important to recognize that our current lifestyle portfolio accounts for more than 80% of our revenues and profitability. The reality is that we have been a lifestyle company for a long time.

We first launched lifestyle wines in order to reach the broader population with the pleasures of wine, and that quest continues. In fact, it will continue with an unrelenting focus and an ability to bring a host of quality wines at accessible prices to consumers.

We believe that we have the ability to become the leading premium lifestyle wine company in the world. We have a keen understanding of consumer insights that has helped us to develop powerful brands like Woodbridge, which is the #1 wine brand in the world, in its segment. We have seen impressive growth with Robert Mondavi Private Selection, when other wines in its segment are in decline. And we have had proven success in launching new wines like Papio. Our commitment to quality is steadfast. We are dedicated to producing the highest quality wine for consumers to enjoy every day. We understand what it takes to effectively manage vineyards, and appreciate how your partnership has helped us in creating high quality wines that delight our consumers. In general, we anticipate that under this new business model, we will rely even more heavily on our outside grower partnerships.

Our lifestyle business is incredibly successful, yet can improve on maximizing its potential. The lifestyle category is where we believe a successful future lies for our company.

Moving forward, the new acutely focused Robert Mondavi Corporation will be anchored by Woodbridge and Robert Mondavi Private Selection. We will serve the broad popular market with our existing high quality value wines as well as exciting new products, like Papio.

As a result of this direction, we will pursue the divestiture our luxury assets. These assets include:

Robert Mondavi Winery and its vineyards--we are taking actions to ensure that Robert Mondavi Winery endures as one of the world's great wine estates.

R. Michael Mondavi's Role Changes

We also need to tell you that, Michael Mondavi has decided to limit his role with the company to serving as a member of the Company's Board of Directors. As a founder of the Robert Mondavi Winery, Michael Mondavi has helped shape our Company from its inception. The entire management team - past and present - are very grateful for all of his contributions and wish him the best.

Impact to Employees

Frankly, the most difficult decision we had to make as leaders concerns the impact to our employee population. However, as we sell certain parts of the business, we have identified that our new business model does not need the same number of employees. While some of these changes are a result of selling certain facilities, other come as we try and right-size the organization given our new lifestyle focus. Therefore, we will be notifying employees affected by job cuts.

We will be saying goodbye to many friends and colleagues who have contributed to our success in the past. We thank them for their contributions.

Culturally and professionally, it will be challenging to go through this change. However, we understand the importance of our relationship, and will strive to minimize the impact felt to your business.

Ensuring a Smooth Transition

Edgar Filing: MONDAVI ROBERT CORP - Form DEFA14A

We anticipate that there will be challenges in making these changes over the next few months. However, we understand the importance of our relationship, and will strive to minimize the impact felt to your business.

Working with Growers Moving Forward

These are evolving times. While some challenges will be energizing as we share our plans on how we'll build the business together for the future; others will be more difficult as we transition out of the luxury wine business. We will be reaching out to you shortly to discuss how this announcement may impact your business.

If you have questions before I have the opportunity to call, please don't hesitate to call me directly.

Sincerely,

Greg Evans

Forward-looking Statements

This announcement and other information provided from time to time by the company contain historical information as well as forward-looking statements about the company, the premium wine industry and general business and economic conditions. Such forward-looking statements include, for example, projections or predictions about the company's future growth, consumer demand for its wines, including new brands and brand extensions, margin trends, anticipated future investment in vineyards and other capital projects, the premium wine grape market and the premium wine industry in general. Actual results may differ materially from the company's present expectations. Among other things, a soft economy, a downturn in the travel and entertainment sector, risk associated with continued conflict in the Middle East, reduced consumer spending, or changes in consumer preferences could reduce demand for the company's wines. Similarly, increased competition or changes in tourism to the company's California properties could affect the company's volume and revenue growth outlook. The supply and price of grapes, the company's most important raw material, is beyond the company's control. A shortage of grapes might constrict the supply of wine available for sale and cause higher grape costs, putting more pressure on gross profit margins. A surplus of grapes might allow for greater sales and lower grape costs, but it might also result in more competition and pressure on selling prices or marketing spending. Interest rates and other business and economic conditions could increase significantly the cost and risks of projected capital spending. The separation of the company into two operating units may impair management's ability to focus on other needed areas of business execution. There are also significant risks associated with separating the company's sizeable sales force into two operating units. Some of the company's strategic alternatives would involve lay offs and significant restructuring changes which could materially impair future earnings. For additional cautionary statements identifying important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from such forward-looking information, please refer to Item 7, "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations," in the company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2004, on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. For these and other reasons, no forward-looking statement by the company can or should be taken as a guarantee of what will happen in the future.
