Edgar Filing: KILROY REALTY CORP - Form DEF 14A

Only the holders of record of the shares of Common Stock at the close of business on March 15, 2005 (the Record Date) are entitled to notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting. The Audit Committee oversees the Company's financial reporting process on behalf of the Board of Directors. The Committee reviewed and discussed the audited financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2004 with management and the Company's independent auditors. The Committee discussed with the Company's independent auditors their judgments as to the Company's accounting principles and such other matters as are required to be discussed with the Committee under generally accepted auditing standards Statement of Auditing Standard Number 61, Communications with Audit Committees, as currently in effect. In addition, the Committee received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent auditors required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees), as currently in effect, and it discussed with the Company's independent auditors their independence from the Company. In addition, under the Company's 1997 Stock Option and Incentive Plan (the "Stock Incentive Plan"), each non-employee director receives an annual grant of restricted shares of Common Stock valued at $20,000 on the date of grant that vest in equal annual installments over two years. In addition, each non-employee director receives, upon initial election to the Board, a grant of 1,000 restricted shares of Common Stock that vest in equal annual installments over four years.

Qualifications of Director Nominees

The Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee has established Standards for Overall Structure and Composition of the Board and Minimum Director Qualifications as a guideline in considering nominations to the Company's Board of Directors. The criteria include: loyalty, reputation, character, knowledge, experience, education, business judgment, diligence, stock ownership, independence and ability to contribute to board balance and diversity. The criteria are not exhaustive and the Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee and the Board of Directors may consider other qualifications and attributes which they believe are appropriate in evaluating the ability of an individual to serve as a member of the Board of Directors.

Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee's Process for Identifying and Evaluating Nominees for Director

Prior to each annual meeting of security holders at which directors are to be elected, and whenever there is otherwise a vacancy on the Board of Directors, the Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee will consider incumbent board members and other well-qualified individuals as potential director nominees. The Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee will review each potential candidate's qualifications in light of the Company's Standards for Overall Structure and Composition of the Board and Minimum Director Qualifications, described above. The Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee will select the candidate or candidates it believes are the most qualified to recommend to the Board for selection as a director nominee. Candidates recommended by a security holder are evaluated in the same manner as candidates identified by a Committee member.

Manner by which Security Holders May Recommend Director Candidates

The Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee will consider director candidates recommended by security holders of the Company. All recommendations must be directed to the Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee c/o Secretary at 12200 W. Olympic Boulevard, Suite 200, Los Angeles, California 90064. Recommendations for director nominees to be considered at the 2006 annual meeting of stockholders must be received in writing not later than November 30, 2005. Each security holder recommending a person as a director candidate must provide the Company with the following information for the Committee to determine whether the recommended director candidate is independent from the security holder, or each member of the security holder group, that has recommended the director candidate:

If the recommending security holder or any member of the recommending security holder group is a natural person, whether the recommended director candidate is the recommending security holder, a member of the recommending security holder group, or a member of the immediate family of the recommending security holder or any member of the recommending security holder group;

If the recommending security holder or any member of the recommending security holder group is an entity, whether the recommended director candidate or any immediate family member of the recommended director candidate is an employee of the recommending security holder or any member of the recommending security holder group or has been at any time during the current or preceding calendar year;

Whether the recommended director candidate or any immediate family member of the recommended director candidate has accepted directly or indirectly any consulting, advisory, or other compensatory fees from the recommending security holder or any member of the group of recommending security holders, or any of their respective affiliates during the current or preceding calendar year;

Whether the recommended director candidate is an executive officer, director (or person fulfilling similar functions) of the recommending security holder or any member of the recommending security holder group, or any of their respective affiliates; and

Whether the recommended director candidate controls the recommending security holder or any member of the recommending security holder group.

The recommending security holder must also provide supplemental information that the Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee may request to determine whether the recommended director candidate (i) is qualified to serve on the Audit Committee, (ii) meets the standards of independence established by the New York Stock Exchange, and (iii) satisfies the Standards for Overall Structure and Composition of the Board and Minimum Director Qualifications, described above. In addition, the recommending security holder must include the consent of the recommended director candidate and the recommended director candidate must make himself or herself reasonably available to be interviewed by the Committee. The Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee will consider all recommended director candidates submitted to it in accordance with these established procedures, though it will only recommend to the Board as potential nominees those candidates it believes are most qualified. However, the Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee will not consider any director candidate if the candidate's candidacy or, if elected, board membership, would violate controlling state law or federal law.

Security Holder Communications with the Board

Security holders may send correspondence to the Board of Directors c/o Secretary at 12200 W. Olympic Boulevard, Suite 200, Los Angeles, California 90064. The Secretary will review all correspondence addressed to the Board, or any individual Board member, for any inappropriate correspondence and correspondence more suitably directed to management. The Secretary will summarize all correspondence not forwarded to the Board and make the correspondence available to the Board for its review at the Board's request. 401(k) Plan

The Company has a Section 401(k) Savings/Retirement Plan (the "401(k) Plan") to cover eligible employees of the Company and any designated affiliate. The 401(k) Plan permits eligible employees of the Company to defer up to 60% of their annual compensation, subject to certain limitations imposed by the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"). The employees' elective deferrals are immediately vested and non-forfeitable upon contribution to the 401(k) Plan. The Company currently makes matching contributions to the 401(k) Plan in an amount equal to fifty cents for each dollar of participant contributions up to a maximum of five percent of the participant's annual salary up to certain limits. Participants vest immediately in the amounts contributed by the Company. Employees of the Company are eligible to participate in the 401(k) Plan after three months of credited service with the Company. For the year ended December 31, 2004, the Company's contribution to the 401(k) Plan was approximately $321,000. The 401(k) Plan qualifies under Section 401 of the Code so that contributions by employees to the 401(k) Plan, and income earned on plan contributions, are not taxable to employees until withdrawn from the 401(k) Plan.

Employment Agreements

Each of John B. Kilroy, Jr., Jeffrey C. Hawken, Richard E. Moran Jr., and Tyler H. Rose has entered into an employment agreement with the Company. Each of the employment agreements has a one-year term and, if not terminated by either party, is subject to automatic one-year renewals. Each of the employment agreements provides that the amount paid for annual base compensation and the amount of any bonus is determined at the discretion of the Executive Compensation Committee.

The employment agreements entitle the executives to participate in the Company's 1997 Stock Option and Incentive Plan and to receive certain other insurance benefits. The employment agreements also provide that in the event of death, the executive's estate will receive monthly payments of the executive's annual salary, plus one-twelfth of any bonus to be received, for a period equal to the lesser of the term remaining under the employment agreement or one year. In addition, in the event of a termination by the Company without cause, a termination of employment resulting from disability, a termination by the executive for good reason, or, in the case of Mr. Kilroy and Mr. Moran, a termination pursuant to a change of control of the Company, the terminated executive will be entitled to (i) severance (the Severance Amount) and (ii) continued receipt of certain benefits including medical insurance, life and disability insurance and the receipt of other customary benefits established by the Company for its executive employees for two years following the date of termination (collectively, the Severance Benefits). The Severance Amount is equal to the sum of two times the executive's average annual base compensation and two times the highest annual bonus received during the preceding 36-month period.

Under the employment agreements, Disability means a physical or mental disability or infirmity which, in the opinion of a physician selected by the Board, renders the executive unable to perform his duties for six consecutive months or for shorter periods aggregating 180 business days in any 12-month period (but only to the extent that such definition does not violate the Americans with Disabilities Act). Cause, as defined under the terms of the respective employment agreements, means (i) the executive's conviction for commission of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude, (ii) the executive's willful commission of any act of theft, embezzlement or misappropriation against the Company or (iii) the executive's willful and continued failure to substantially perform the executive's duties (other than such failure resulting from the executive's incapacity due to physical or mental illness), which is not remedied within a reasonable time. Good reason means (i) the Company's material breach of any of its obligations under the employment agreement (subject to certain notice and cure provisions) or (ii) any removal of the executive from one or more of the appointed offices or any material alteration or diminution in the executive's authority, duties or responsibilities, without cause and without the executive's prior written consent. Change of Control means (i) the event by which the individuals constituting the Board as of the date of the Company's initial public offering cease for any reason to constitute at least a majority of the Company's Board; provided, however, that if the election, or nomination for election by the Company's stockholders of any new director was approved by a vote of at least a majority of the members of the original Board, such new director shall be considered a member of the original Board; (ii) an acquisition of any voting securities of the Company by any person (as the term person is used for purposes of Section 13(d) or Section 14(d) of the Exchange Act, immediately after which such person has beneficial ownership (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act) of 20%, or more of the combined voting power of the Company's then outstanding voting securities unless such acquisition was approved by a vote of at least one more than a majority of the original Board; or (iii) approval by the stockholders of the Company of (a) a merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization involving the Company, unless the stockholders of the Company, immediately before such merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization, own, directly or indirectly immediately following such merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization, at least 80% of the combined voting power of the outstanding voting securities of the corporation that is the successor in such merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization in substantially the same proportion as their ownership of the voting securities immediately before such merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization; (b) a complete liquidation or dissolution of the Company; or (c) an agreement for the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

The Executive Compensation Committee is composed of John R. D. Eathe, Edward F. Brennan, and Dale F. Kinsella. There are no Executive Compensation Committee interlocks and no employees of the Company participate on the Executive Compensation Committee.

Executive Compensation Committee Report on Executive Compensation

The Executive Compensation Committee (the Committee) is composed of three Independent Directors.

Role of the Committee

The Committee is responsible for:

Reviewing the compensation philosophy of the Company;

Reviewing and approving corporate goals and objectives relating to the compensation of the chief executive officer, evaluating the performance of the chief executive officer in light of those goals and objectives and determining and approving the compensation of the chief executive officer based on such evaluation;

Reviewing and approving all compensation for the Company's other senior officers, including cash and equity incentive compensation awards, and all senior officers' employment agreements and severance arrangements;

Administering and reviewing all annual bonus, long-term incentive compensation, stock option, employee pension and welfare benefit plans;

Determining the Company's policy with respect to change of control or parachute payments; and Preparing this Executive Compensation Committee Report.

The Committee periodically retains compensation and other management consultants to assist with, among other things, structuring the Company's various compensation programs and determining appropriate levels of salary, bonus and other awards payable to the Company's key personnel, as well as to guide the Company in the development of near-term individual performance objectives necessary to achieve long-term profitability.

General Policies Regarding Compensation of Executive Officers

Edgar Filing: KILROY REALTY CORP - Form DEF 14A

In establishing compensation for executive officers, the Committee seeks to:

Attract and retain individuals of superior ability and managerial talent;

Ensure senior officer compensation is aligned with the Company's corporate strategies, business objectives and the long-term interests of the Company's stockholders;

Increase the incentive to achieve key strategic and financial performance measures by linking incentive award opportunities to the achievement of performance goals in these areas; and

Enhance the officers' incentive to increase the Company's stock price and maximize stockholder value, as well as promote retention of key people, by providing a portion of total compensation opportunities for senior management in the form of restricted stock and stock options.

Determination of Compensation of Executive Officers for the Year 2004

Consistent with prior years, an independent compensation consultant was retained by the Committee to assist it in the determination of the key elements of the compensation programs for fiscal year 2004. The compensation consultant engaged by the Committee is an independent consultant specializing in compensation matters in the REIT and real estate industry. Both the Committee and the compensation consultant evaluated the following in determining the amount of the executive compensation relative to the market, as well as the desired mix of base salary, annual incentives and long-term compensation opportunities:

Performance of the Company for 2004 as compared to other REITs, with an emphasis on office REITs;

Performance of the Company for 2004 as compared to other real estate companies engaged in activities similar to those engaged in by the Company, with an emphasis on developers; and

The current economic environment of the real estate industry and the markets specific to the Company's properties.

The compensation consultant provided advice to the Committee with respect to competitive practices and the amounts and nature of compensation paid to executives. The compensation consultant also advised on, among other things, structuring the Company's various compensation programs and determining the appropriate levels of salary, bonus and other awards payable to the Company's executives. Based upon the compensation consultant's recommendations, the Company's executive compensation package consists of a fixed base salary and variable cash and stock-based incentive awards with a significant portion weighted towards the variable components in order to ensure that total compensation reflects the overall success or failure by the Company and that the executive officers to meet appropriate performance measures.

Base Salary. Salary levels of executive officers were established after a review of REITs and other real estate companies deemed comparable to the Company. The Committee generally compares the Company's performance with that of other REITs and real estate companies engaged in activities similar to those conducted by the Company. Individual base salaries are reviewed at least annually and salary increases are granted based on each executive's performance and contribution to the overall success of the Company. Other subjective features are also considered such as the individual's experience.

Annual Incentive Bonus. Annual cash and restricted stock awards are granted based upon corporate, operational and individual factors.

For 2004, corporate goals were measured on the basis of achieving targeted earnings and operations objectives. These objectives included earnings as measured by Funds From Operations (FFO) per share, average occupancy, operating margins and leasing results and activity. Operational goals were measured on specific departmental strategic and operational objectives. Individual performance measures were assessed based upon each individual's annual goals. Bonuses were determined on the basis of the foregoing.

In February 2005, 94,460 shares of restricted stock were granted to the Company's Named Executive Officers under this program for services performed during 2004.

Long-Term Incentive Compensation. The Committee recognized that, while the annual incentive program provides awards for positive short-term and mid-term performance, the interests of stockholders are best served by giving key employees the opportunity to participate in the appreciation of the Company's Common Stock through the granting of stock-based incentives.

The members of the Committee believe that share performance, over the long-term, will reflect executive performance and that such arrangements further reinforce management goals and incentives to achieve stockholder objectives. To that end, a portion of the Company's executive incentive compensation package is comprised of annual stock-based incentives that motivate executives to increase the Company's stock price and, therefore, the return to the Company's stockholders.

In granting stock-based awards, the Committee takes into account such factors as it determines to be appropriate under the circumstances, including an assessment of the executive's achieved performance goals and objectives, and the amounts and value of long-term compensation and stock-based compensation received by similarly situated executives at competitor companies.

Annual long-term restricted stock awards are granted based upon corporate, operational and individual factors. For 2004, corporate targets were measured on the basis of achieving targeted earnings, operations, development and shareholder return objectives. These objectives, which are different than the Annual Incentive Bonus objectives discussed above, included earnings as measured by Funds From Operations (FFO) per share, revenues from stabilized development, new development starts, and total relative and absolute shareholder returns. Operational and development goals were measured on specific departmental strategic and operational objectives. Long-term restricted stock awards were determined on the basis of the foregoing.

In February 2005, 94,460 shares of restricted stock were granted to the Company's Named Executive Officers and 6,652 shares of restricted stock were granted to other senior officers of the Company under the long-term incentive compensation program for services performed during 2004. The Company did not grant options to purchase shares of Common Stock during 2004.

Special Multi-Year Outperformance Award. The members of the Committee believe that the outperformance of long-term shareholder returns will reflect executive performance and that arrangements that encourage management to maximize long-term shareholder returns further reinforce management goals and incentives to continuously increase shareholder value. To that end, the special multi-year outperformance portion of the Company's long-term executive compensation package is comprised of a cash award that motivates executives to increase the Company's stock price and, therefore, the total return to the Company's stockholders over the three-year period.

The special outperformance award was adopted in March 2003 and was structured based upon the recommendations of an independent compensation consultant specializing in the REIT and real estate industry. The award provides for cash to be paid to the Company's executive officers at the end of a three-year period, ending December 31, 2005, if the Company attains certain performance measures based on annualized total shareholder returns on an absolute and relative basis. The targets for the relative component require the Company to obtain an annualized total return to stockholders that is at or above the 70th percentile of annualized total return to stockholders achieved by members of a pre-defined peer group during the same three-year period, and includes additional incentives for annualized total return to stockholders that is at or above the 80th percentile. The absolute component is based upon the amounts by which the annualized total return to stockholders over the three-year period exceeds 10%.

No compensation was paid in 2004 under the special outperformance award since the award will not be granted until the end of the performance period at the end of 2005. The total amount accrued relating to this plan was $24.4 million as of December 31, 2004. The accrual at December 31, 2004 was based on the cumulative shareholder return using the above criteria and the Company's closing price per share of $42.75 as quoted on the New York Stock Exchange as of December 31, 2004, and is equal to that portion of the total compensation applicable to the portion of the performance period that has elapsed.

Chief Executive Officer Compensation. The compensation of John B. Kilroy, Jr. for the year ended December 31, 2004 was determined in accordance with the criteria discussed above.

Under Mr. Kilroy's direction, the Company achieved and in most cases outperformed the pre-established thresholds and measures discussed above. In addition, the Company achieved a 37.6% total shareholder return for calendar year 2004 (measured as the annual appreciation of the quoted common share price plus dividends paid during the year). Based on the recommendations of the compensation consultant and in recognition of Mr. Kilroy's contributions to the achievement of the Company's goals and continued successful execution of the Company's long-term business plan, the Committee granted to Mr. Kilroy 35,759 shares of restricted stock, 63% of which vest on February 23, 2006 and

37% of which vest on February 23, 2007. The Committee did not grant any options to purchase shares of Common Stock to Mr. Kilroy during 2004.

Limitation on Deductibility of Executive Compensation. Section 162(m) of the Code limits the deductibility of compensation paid to certain executive officers of the Company. To qualify for deductibility under Section 162(m), compensation in excess of $1,000,000 per year paid to the Chief Executive Officer and the four other most highly compensated executive officers at the end of such fiscal year generally must be performance-based compensation as determined under Section 162(m), which includes most stock option and other incentive arrangements, the material terms of which have been approved by shareholders.

Despite the fact that the Company's incentive bonuses are determined based on the evaluation of the Company's performance and take into consideration certain financial and strategic goals, the Committee does not apply these factors on a strict formulaic basis. As a result, the Company's incentive bonuses may not satisfy the requirements of Section 162(m). The Committee believes that because the Company qualifies as a REIT under the Code and is not subject to Federal income taxes, the payment of compensation that does not satisfy the requirements of Section 162(m) does not have a material adverse consequence to the Company, provided the Company continues to distribute 90% of its taxable income. The Committee reserves the right to design programs that recognize a full range of performance criteria important to the Company's success, even where the compensation paid under such programs may not be deductible.

PERFORMANCE GRAPH

The following line graph compares the change in the Company's cumulative shareholder return on its shares of Common Stock to the cumulative total return of the NAREIT Equity REIT Total Return Index (NAREIT Equity Index), the Standard & Poor's 500 Stock Index (S&P 500 Index), and the SNL Office REIT (Equity) Index for the five-year period ended December 31, 2004. The Company includes an additional index, the SNL Office REIT (Equity) Index, to the performance graph since management believes it provides additional information to investors about the Company's performance relative to a more specific peer group. The SNL Office REIT (Equity) Index is a published and widely recognized index that comprises 27 office equity REITs, including the Company. The graph assumes the investment of $100 in the Company and each of the indices on January 1, 1999 and, as required by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the reinvestment of all distributions. The return shown on the graph is not necessarily indicative of future performance.
