Table of ContentsPRAXAIR, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES*NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS*(UNAUDITED)*1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Presentation of Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements - In the opinion of Praxair, Inc. (Praxair) management, the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of the results for the interim periods presented and such adjustments are of a normal recurring nature. The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Notes to the consolidated financial statements of Praxair, Inc. and subsidiaries in Praxair's 2006 Annual Report. There have been no material changes to the company's significant accounting policies during 2007 except for the adoption of FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, an interpretation of FASB Statement 109 (FIN 48), effective January 1, 2007.

Accounting Standards Implemented in 2007

Effective January 1 2007, Praxair adopted FIN 48 which clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in accordance with FASB Statement No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes (SFAS 109). See Note 11 for information relating to the implementation of this interpretation and other required disclosures pertaining to uncertain tax positions.

2. Stock-Based Compensation

The company accounts for stock-based compensation under the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment (SFAS No. 123R). Stock-based compensation of $11 million ($8 million after tax) and $11 million ($7 million after tax) was recognized during the quarters ended March 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The expense was primarily recorded in selling, general and administrative expenses. There was no share-based compensation cost that was capitalized. For further details regarding Praxair's stock-based compensation arrangements, refer to Note 16 to the consolidated financial statements included on page 57 of Praxair's 2006 Annual Report.

Stock Options

The weighted-average fair value of options granted during the quarter ended March 31, 2007 was $10.97 ($10.84 in 2006) based on the Black-Scholes Options-Pricing model. The following weighted-average assumptions were used for grants in 2007 and 2006:

	Quarter ended
	March 31,
	2007	2006
Dividend yield	1.95%	1.85%
Volatility	15.32%	17.64%
Risk-free interest rate	4.52%	4.65%
Expected term in years	5	5

Table of Contents

The following table summarizes option activity under the plans as of March 31, 2007 and changes during the period then ended (averages are calculated on a weighted basis; life in years; intrinsic value expressed in millions):

Activity	Number of Options (000 s)	Average Exercise Price	Average Remaining Life	Aggregate Intrinsic Value
Outstanding at January 1, 2007	21,771	$ 35.28
Granted	3,811	61.48
Exercised	(1,526)	27.13
Cancelled or expired	(6)	28.18
Outstanding at March 31, 2007	24,050	39.95	6.8	$ 553
Exercisable at March 31, 2007	16,146	$ 32.16	5.7	$ 497

The aggregate intrinsic value represents the difference between the company's closing stock price of $62.96 as of March 30, 2007 and the exercise price multiplied by the number of options outstanding as of that date. The total intrinsic value of stock options exercised during the first quarter of 2007 was $55 million ($38 million in 2006).

Cash received from option exercises under all share-based payment arrangements was $41 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2007. The actual tax benefit realized from stock option exercises totaled $18 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2007.

As of March 31, 2007, $67 million of unrecognized compensation cost related to non-vested stock options is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of approximately 1.6 years.

Performance-Based and Restricted Stock Awards

In the quarter ended March 31, 2007, the company granted performance-based stock awards to senior level executives for 70,520 shares that vest based on the attainment of specified performance targets over a two-year performance period from January 1, 2007 to December 31, 2008. At the end of the performance period, the actual number of shares issued can range from zero to 200 percent of the shares granted. Compensation expense related to these awards is recognized over the two-year performance period based on the fair value of the closing market price of the Company's common stock on the date of grant ($61.47 per share) and the estimated performance that will be achieved. In addition, the company has granted restricted stock to certain key employees that vest after a designated service period ranging from two to ten years.

The following table summarizes performance-based and restricted stock award activity as of March 31, 2007 and changes during the period then ended (averages are calculated on a weighted basis):

Performance-Based and Restricted Stock Activity	Number of Shares (000 s)	Average Grant Date Fair Value
Nonvested at January 1, 2007	63	$ 21.35
Granted	71	$ 61.47
Vested	(17)	$ 19.72
Forfeited
Nonvested at March 31, 2007	117

Table of Contents

Total estimated annual amortization expense is $15 million for the remainder of 2007; $14 million, $12 million, $10 million and $8 million for the years ended December 31, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011, respectively; and $57 million thereafter.

Table of Contents8. Pension and OPEB

The components of net pension and postretirement benefits other than pensions (OPEB) costs for the quarters ended March 31, 2007 and 2006 are shown below:

(Millions of dollars)	Quarter Ended March 31,
	Pensions		OPEB

Net periodic benefit cost	$ 13	$ 13	$ 5	$ 6

Praxair estimates that 2007 contributions to its pension plans will be in the area of $25 to $50 million including required contributions. Contributions of $11 million have been made through March 31, 2007.

9. Legal Proceedings

Praxair is subject to various lawsuits and government investigations that arise from time to time in the ordinary course of business. These actions are based upon alleged environmental, tax, antitrust and personal injury claims, among others. Praxair has strong defenses in these cases and intends to defend itself vigorously. It is possible that the Company may incur losses in connection with some of these actions in excess of accrued liabilities. Management does not anticipate that in the aggregate such losses would have a material adverse effect on the company's consolidated financial position or liquidity; however, it is possible that the final outcomes could have a significant impact on the company's reported results of operations in any given period (see Note 18 on page 62 of the 2006 Annual Report).

Among such matters are claims brought by welders alleging that exposure to manganese contained in welding fumes caused neurological injury. Praxair has never manufactured welding consumables. Such products were manufactured prior to 1985 by a predecessor company of Praxair. As of March 31, 2007, Praxair was a co-defendant with many other companies in 695 lawsuits alleging personal injury caused by manganese contained in welding fumes. There were a total of 4,216 individual claimants in these cases. The cases were pending in several state and federal courts. The federal cases have been transferred to the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Ohio for coordinated pretrial proceedings. The plaintiffs seek unspecified compensatory and, in most instances, punitive damages. In the past, Praxair has either been dismissed from the cases with no payment or has settled a few cases for nominal amounts. There also are eight proposed class actions seeking medical monitoring on behalf of welders. None of the class actions have been certified. No reserves have been recorded for these cases as management does not believe that a loss from them is probable or reasonably estimable.

11. Income Taxes Adoption of FIN 48

Effective January 1 2007, Praxair adopted FIN 48 which provides a comprehensive model for the recognition, measurement and disclosure in financial statements of uncertain income tax positions that a company has taken or expects to take on a tax return. Under FIN 48, a company can recognize the benefit of an income tax position only if it is more likely than not (greater than 50%) that the tax position will be sustained upon tax examination, based solely on the technical merits of the tax position. Otherwise, no benefit can be recognized. The tax benefits recognized are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than fifty percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. Additionally, companies are required to accrue interest and related penalties, if applicable, on all tax exposures for which reserves have been established consistent with jurisdictional tax laws. The adoption of FIN 48 resulted in a non-cash transition charge of $158 million, recorded as a reduction to beginning retained earnings. The transition adjustment relates primarily to tax positions related to foreign operations where the original tax benefit related to periods prior to 2002. Interest and penalties on tax reserves are classified as income tax expense in the financial statements.

As of January 1, 2007, the Company has reserves for unrecognized income tax benefits totaling $309 million and related accrued interest and penalties of $31 million (after related tax benefits). If recognized, essentially all of the unrecognized tax benefits and related interest and penalties would be recorded as a benefit to income tax expense on the consolidated statement of income. The Company does not currently anticipate significant changes in the amount of unrecognized income tax benefits over the next year.

The aggregate purchase price for the two acquisitions was $295 million and resulted in the recognition of $154 million of goodwill.

The results of operations of these businesses have been included in Praxair's consolidated statements of income since their respective dates of acquisition. The allocations of the purchase price are based on preliminary estimates and assumptions at the date of acquisition and are subject to revision based on final information received, including appraisals and other analyses that support underlying estimates.

The following table provides summary data for the quarters ended March 31, 2007 and 2006:

(Dollar amounts in millions)	Quarter Ended March 31,
	2007	2006	Variance
Sales	$ 2,175	$ 2,026	+7%
Gross margin ^(a)	$ 893	$ 819	+9%
As a percent of sales	41.1%	40.4%
Selling, general and administrative	$ 286	$ 273	+5%
As a percent of sales	13.1%	13.5%
Depreciation and amortization	$ 182	$ 171	+6%
Other income (expenses) net	$ 2	$ (2)

Interest expense net	$ 38	$ 38
Effective tax rate	26.0%	26.4%
Net income	$ 265	$ 225	+18%

(a) Gross margin excludes depreciation and amortization expense.

Sales increased $149 million, or 7%, in the first quarter versus 2006. Underlying sales growth was 8% excluding the impact of lower natural gas costs passed through in hydrogen prices which decreased sales by $18 million, or 1%, with a minimal impact on operating profit. Price increases of 3% were predominantly realized in North America, South America and Europe due to pricing actions, the pass-through of higher power costs and surcharges. Volume growth of 4% reflects continued strong volumes to the energy manufacturing, metals and electronics end-markets. The favorable impact of currency, primarily in Europe and South America, increased sales by 2%. The divestiture of the aviation services business in July 2006 reduced sales growth by 1%.

Gross margin in 2007 improved $74 million, or 9%, for the first quarter versus 2006. The 70 basis point increase in first quarter gross margin percentage, to 41.1%, was due primarily to lower natural gas prices, realized price increases and cost efficiency and reduction programs which substantially outpaced underlying inflationary cost pressures.

Selling, general and administrative expenses for the first quarter were $286 million, or 13.1% of sales, versus $273 million, or 13.5% of sales, for the respective 2006 period. The decrease in selling, general and administrative as a percentage of sales was due to realized benefits from productivity initiatives.

Depreciation and amortization expense increased $11 million, or 6%, for the quarter ended March 31, 2007 versus 2006. The increase was principally due to new plant start-ups and currency effects.

Other income (expenses) net for the 2007 first quarter was a $2-million benefit compared to a $2-million expense in the first quarter of 2006.

Operating profit increased $51 million, or 14%, for the first quarter versus 2006. This increase was driven by higher pricing, increased sales volumes, and the continued impact of focused productivity initiatives.

Interest expense net was flat for the first quarter of 2007 versus 2006.

The effective tax rate was 26% for the first quarter versus 26.4% in 2006.

Net income increased $40 million, or 18%, for the first quarter versus 2006. Operating profit growth was the primary driver of the net income improvement.

Table of Contents

The number of employees at March 31, 2007 was 27,681, reflecting an increase of 639 employees from December 31, 2006, primarily due to the acquisition of Linde AG's gases business in Mexico and an independent packaged gas distributor in the mid western United States in the first quarter of 2007.

Segment Discussion

The following summary of sales and operating profit by segment provides a basis for the discussion that follows:

(Dollar amounts in millions)	Quarter Ended March 31,

SALES
North America	$ 1,205	$ 1,169	+3%

South America	66	57	+16%
Asia	27	23	+17%
Surface Technologies	21	13	+62%
	$ 403	$ 352	+14%

North America

Sales increased $36 million, or 3%, for the first quarter versus 2006. Underlying sales growth was 5% excluding the impact of lower natural gas costs passed through in hydrogen prices which decreased sales by $18 million, or 2%, with a minimal impact on operating profit. Pricing increased sales by 3% due to the contractual pass-through of higher power costs to on-site customers, surcharges for higher power and transportation fuel costs for merchant and packaged gases, and the impact of pricing actions. Volume growth increased 3% from higher on-site, merchant liquid and packaged gases volumes to the energy and manufacturing end-markets. Unfavorable currency decreased sales by 1%.

Operating profit increased $17 million, or 9%, for the first quarter versus 2006. Higher volumes, realized price increases and the continued focus on productivity initiatives were the primary drivers to the strong operating profit growth.

On March 1, 2007, Praxair acquired Linde AG's industrial and medical gas business in Mexico and, on March 30, 2007, acquired an independent packaged gas distributor with operations across the mid western United States (see Note 12 to the condensed consolidated financial statements).

Table of Contents

Europe

Sales increased $62 million, or 23%, for the first quarter versus 2006. Favorable currency contributed 9% to sales growth. Volume growth of 9% was principally due to strong demand in the manufacturing and metals markets as well as in Spain's homecare business. Realized price increases of 5% included the pass through of higher energy and power costs.

Operating profit increased $13 million, or 22%, for the first quarter versus 2006. Operating profit growth was driven by increased sales volumes and higher pricing, partially offset by higher operating costs.

South America

Sales increased $31 million, or 10%, for the first quarter versus 2006. Excluding the impact of currency, sales increased 7% primarily due to realized price increases and higher volumes to the metals, energy and manufacturing end-markets. Volume growth was mitigated by on-site customer outages during the 2007 quarter.

Operating profit increased $9 million, or 16%, for the first quarter versus 2006. Higher pricing, increased volumes and the continued impact of cost-reduction programs continued to outpace inflationary pressures, favorably contributing to operating profit growth.

Asia

Sales increased $20 million, or 14%, for the first quarter versus 2006. Volume growth of 10% was due to new plant start-ups, overall higher on-site volumes in China and India and strong volumes of gases and materials to electronics customers as demand from the semiconductor and LCD markets was strong. Favorable currency contributed 4% to sales growth.

Operating profit increased $4 million, or 17%, for the first quarter versus 2006. Increased sales volumes and productivity initiatives were the primary drivers of operating profit growth.

Surface Technologies

Sales were comparable for the first quarter versus 2006. Excluding the impact of the divestiture of its aviation services business in July 2006, sales increased 13% for the quarter. Higher volumes of industrial coatings for power turbines and OEM aircraft engine parts contributed to volume growth of 5%. Realized price increases were 4% and favorable currency, primarily in Europe, contributed 4% to sales growth.

Operating profit increased $8 million, or 62%, for the first quarter versus 2006. The increase was principally driven by volume growth as well as the favorable benefits of ongoing cost reduction actions and pricing actions to offset increasing raw material costs.

Table of ContentsCurrency

The results of Praxair's non-U.S. operations are translated to the company's reporting currency, the U.S. dollar, from the functional currencies used in the countries in which the company operates. For most foreign operations, Praxair uses the local currency as its functional currency. There is inherent variability and unpredictability in the relationship of these functional currencies to the U.S. dollar and such currency movements may materially impact Praxair's results of operations in any given period.

To help understand the reported results, the following is a summary of the significant currencies underlying Praxair's consolidated results and the exchange rates used to translate the financial statements (rates of exchange expressed in units of local currency per U.S. dollar):

Cash Flow from Operations

Cash provided by operations of $298 million for the first quarter increased $55 million versus 2006. The increase was principally a result of higher net income and lower pension contributions compared with 2006. For the remainder of 2007, Praxair expects to contribute an additional $14 million to $39 million to its worldwide pension plans. In addition, the Company expects to make payments of approximately $100 million to satisfy prior year excise tax liabilities, which are recorded as current liabilities in the condensed consolidated balance sheet.

Investing

Net cash used for investing of $577 million for the first quarter increased $323 million versus 2006 primarily due to the acquisition of Linde AG's industrial and medical gas business in Mexico and an independent packaged gas distributor in the United States on March 1, 2007 and March 30, 2007, respectively (see Note 12 to the condensed consolidated financial statements). In addition, capital expenditures increased $29 million versus 2006 reflecting investment in new projects in North America, South America and Asia.

Financing

Edgar Filing: PRAXAIR INC - Form 10-Q

Cash provided by financing activities of $269 million increased $400 million versus 2006 primarily due to higher debt levels to fund the acquisitions and common stock repurchases during the 2007 quarter. At March 31, 2007, Praxair's total debt outstanding was $3,736 million, an increase of $569 million from December 31, 2006. On March 15, 2007, Praxair issued $325 million of 5.20% notes due 2017. Cash dividends of $96 million increased $15 million from the year ago period. For the quarter ended March 31, 2007, cash dividends were $0.30 per share compared to $0.25 per share for 2006, an increase of 20%.
