Item 1.01. Entry Into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 17, 2008, Ligand Pharmaceuticals Incorporated (the Company or Ligand ) entered into an exclusive, worldwide license agreement (the License Agreement ) with SmithKline Beecham Corporation, doing business as GlaxoSmithKline ( GSK ). Pursuant to the terms of the License Agreement, the Company granted GSK the exclusive right to develop, manufacture and commercialize the Company s LGD-4665 product candidate ( LGD-4665 ), as well as all other thrombopoietin (TPO) related molecules discovered by the Company (together with LGD-4665, the Licensed Compounds ).

Under the terms of the License Agreement, GSK will pay Ligand $5 million as an upfront license fee, up to $158 million in development and commercial milestones and a 16% royalty on net sales. In the first year of sales, royalties will be one-half of the regular royalty rate. Royalties are also subject to reduction in the event of compulsory licenses or for combination products.

GSK will direct all product development and commercialization and will be responsible for all costs going forward for development, patent maintenance and prosecution, and commercialization.

During the longer of the life of the licensed patents or 10 years following the date of first commercial sale, on a country by country basis (the Royalty Term ), Ligand has agreed not to develop or commercialize any thrombopoietin mimetic products; this restriction does not apply to any third party which acquires control over Ligand after the date of the License Agreement or to which the License Agreement is assigned in accordance with the License Agreement. Ligand has also agreed, during the Royalty Term, not to file any patent application which covers the Licensed Compounds. If any such filing is inadvertently made, Ligand has agreed not to sue GSK or its affiliates for infringement of such patent application or the resulting patent.

Each of Ligand and GSK has agreed to release the other from actions, claims, counterclaims, defenses and damages arising from specified matters.

The Company has no right to terminate the License Agreement. GSK has the right to terminate the License Agreement at any time upon a specified number of days notice. No termination will require the Company to refund to GSK any or all of the above payments.

The foregoing description of the License Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the License Agreement, a copy of which the Company intends to file with its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ending December 31, 2008, requesting confidential treatment for certain portions.

SIGNATURES

Pursuant to the requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, the registrant has caused this report to be signed on its behalf by the undersigned.
