CALGARY, Alberta Agrium Inc. (TSX and NYSE: AGU) today announced an increase in its exchange offer to acquire all of the outstanding shares of CF Industries Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: CF). CF stockholders will now receive $35.00 in cash, an increase of $3.30, or 10.4 percent, in the cash consideration, as well as one common share of Agrium for each CF share.

Based on Agrium's closing stock price yesterday, the increased offer represents a premium of 35 percent to CF's closing price on February 24, 2009, the day before Agrium announced its initial proposal, and 48 percent to the 30-day volume weighted average price through that date.

Agrium also announced that it has filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission preliminary proxy materials in connection with CF's 2009 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, which urge CF stockholders to Withhold all votes in connection with the election of the three nominees to the CF Board of Directors.

Mike Wilson, Agrium's President and CEO, said, "Agrium's increased offer reflects our firm commitment to completing this transaction. For CF stockholders who would receive a substantial premium plus significant participation in the upside of the combination our offer is a far better alternative than paying a substantial premium for Terra Industries. Moreover, we would consider increasing our offer further to reflect any additional value that the CF Board and management can demonstrate arising from the combination of our two companies.

Mr. Wilson continued, "We do not understand why CF would summarily reject our offer without any attempt to negotiate a mutually beneficial transaction. We are disappointed that CF would attack our offer with selective information and flawed financial analysis and disenfranchise CF stockholders by restructuring the Terra offer to take the vote away from CF stockholders. We urge CF stockholders to send a message to the CF Board to engage with us by withholding their votes for the CF nominees at the April 21 Annual Meeting and tendering their shares into the Agrium offer. Given CF's end run around CF stockholders, withholding votes on directors and tendering shares is the way for them to have a voice in the future of their company."

Agrium's offer is not subject to a financing condition. Agrium has sufficient cash resources and committed financing underwritten by Royal Bank of Canada and The Bank of Nova Scotia to fund the cash portion of the offer. As previously announced, the offer and withdrawal rights will expire at 12:00 midnight New York City time on May 19, 2009, unless extended.

Agrium's Response to CF Rejection of Agrium Offer

Key elements of Agrium's response to CF include:

Agrium's offer represents a substantial premium. Despite CF's selection of supposedly comparable deals—many of which were in the high-premium healthcare sector—premiums for North American chemicals and fertilizer companies have averaged 27 percent since January 2004. The increased offer represents a premium of 35 percent to CF's closing price on February 24, 2009, the day before Agrium announced its initial proposal, and 48 percent to the 30-day volume weighted average price through that date, based on Agrium's closing price yesterday. The offer is also very attractive to CF stockholders from an exchange ratio standpoint as it is well above historical averages.

Agrium's proposal has been well received by the markets. CF stockholders have clearly expressed to Agrium their preference to receive a premium rather than pay a premium for Terra. The spread between the value of the Agrium offer and CF's share price has averaged 1.8 percent since the announcement, implying that investors are supportive of an Agrium/CF combination and believe a deal will be consummated.

Agrium's offer is not being funded by CF's cash. CF's contention that Agrium is using CF's cash to fund the cash component of Agrium's offer is wrong. Agrium is funding the cash portion of the offer through available liquidity and fully committed financing. More importantly, the cash on CF's balance sheet is fully valued in Agrium's offer, as is the case in virtually every merger or acquisition.

Agrium's retail business provides stability, value and high margins. While CF claims it does not want exposure to Agrium's lower margin retail business, the fact is that Agrium has had higher average and less-volatile margins than CF—and has traded at a higher EV/EBITDA multiple—since CF's IPO in 2005.

Agrium is a global leader in nitrogen manufacturing with broad diversification. Our operational and geographic diversification helps maintain our strong vendor relationships and mitigates unforeseen events such as unfavorable weather or political instability in the markets we serve. A combined Agrium/CF would further strengthen our market positioning.

Agrium has a strong record of growth, successful integration of acquisitions and attainment of synergies. In the past five years, Agrium has completed nine acquisitions and invested approximately $3.4-billion, achieving synergies greater than announced and earlier than expected. In contrast, CF has announced a single acquisition of approximately $25-million and has no track record of integrating acquisitions or extracting synergies since its IPO.

Hart-Scott-Rodino Filing

Agrium also announced that it has filed notification with the U.S. Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission as required under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the HSR Act), relating to its proposed acquisition of CF. The waiting period under the HSR Act will expire at 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on Thursday, April 23, 2009, unless this period is earlier terminated or extended by issuance of a request for additional information or a second request.
