Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

Serena Software, Inc. (Serena) is currently in the process of seeking an amendment to its Credit Agreement, dated as of March 10, 2006 (as heretofore amended, the Credit Agreement), by and among Spyglass Merger Corp., Serena Software, Inc., the joint lead arrangers and joint lead bookrunners, the administrative agent and collateral agent, the syndication agent, and the documentation agent, that, among other things, would amend the Credit Agreement to re-set covenant levels and extend the maturity dates of the revolving credit and term loans by an additional three years. Currently, Serena is required to maintain a maximum total leverage ratio of 5.00x. Under the terms of the proposed amendment, the maximum total leverage ratio would step up to 5.50x through the period ending on July 31, 2012 and would step down to 5.00x thereafter. The terms of the proposed amendment are preliminary and subject to review and approval by the requisite lenders and Serena and are therefore subject to further revision in connection with the amendment process.

Serena is providing the following unaudited guidance for its fiscal year ended January 31, 2011:

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, or EBITDA, is a non-GAAP financial measure used to determine Serena's compliance with certain covenants contained in the Credit Agreement. Adjusted EBITDA represents EBITDA further adjusted to exclude certain defined unusual items and other adjustments permitted in calculating covenant compliance under the Credit Agreement. Serena believes that the presentation of Adjusted EBITDA is appropriate to provide additional information to investors regarding its compliance with the financial covenants under the Credit Agreement.

Edgar Filing: SERENA SOFTWARE INC - Form 8-K

Adjusted EBITDA does not represent net income (loss) or cash flow from operations as those terms are defined by GAAP and does not necessarily indicate whether cash flows will be sufficient to fund cash needs. While Adjusted EBITDA and similar measures are frequently used as measures of operations and the ability to meet debt service requirements, these terms are not necessarily comparable to other similarly titled captions of other companies due to the potential inconsistencies in the method of calculation. Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect the impact of earnings or charges resulting from matters that Serena may consider not to be indicative of its ongoing operations. In particular, the definition of Adjusted EBITDA in the Credit Agreement allows it to add back certain defined non-cash, extraordinary, unusual or non-recurring charges that are deducted in calculating GAAP net income (loss). The Credit Agreement requires that Adjusted EBITDA be calculated for the most recent four fiscal quarters. As a result, Adjusted EBITDA can be disproportionately affected by a particularly strong or weak quarter and may not be comparable to Adjusted EBITDA for any subsequent four-quarter period or any complete fiscal year.

The following is a reconciliation of net income (loss), a GAAP measure of our operating results, to Adjusted EBITDA as defined in the Credit Agreement.

	Fiscal Quarter Ended January 31, 2010 (Audited)	Fiscal Quarter Ended January 31, 2011 (Estimated, Unaudited)	Fiscal Year Ended January 31, 2010 (Audited)	Fiscal Year Ended January 31, 2011 (Estimated, Unaudited)

Interest expense (income), net (1)	6.9	6.0	25.9	24.9
Income tax benefit	(7.6)	(1.9)	(18.7)	(13.8)

Adjusted EBITDA	$ 27.1	$24.6 to $25.1	$ 88.5	$86.0 to $87.0

- (1) Interest expense (income), net includes interest income, interest expense, the change in the fair value of derivative instruments, amortization and write-off of debt issuance costs and gains and losses on early extinguishment of debt.
- (2) Depreciation and amortization expense includes depreciation of fixed assets, amortization of leasehold improvements, amortization of acquired technologies, amortization and impairment of other intangible assets, and amortization of stock-based compensation. In the fiscal year ended January 31, 2010, stock-based compensation includes unusual and non-recurring charges associated with the repurchase of stock options in connection with the tender offer that we completed during the quarter ended October 31, 2009.
- (3) Restructuring, acquisition and other charges include employee payroll, severance and other employee related costs associated with transitional activities that are not expected to be part of our ongoing operations, and travel and other direct costs associated with our merger in March 2006.
