During the period, global fixed-income markets trended toward higher bond prices and lower yields but fluctuated between periods of risk aversion, shifting yields, and corresponding recoveries in investor confidence.

Dear Valued Shareholder:

We are pleased to offer you this semi-annual report for the Wells Fargo Advantage Multi-Sector Income Fund for the six-month period that ended April 30, 2013. During the period, global fixed-income markets trended toward higher bond prices and lower yields but fluctuated between periods of risk aversion, shifting yields, and corresponding recoveries in investor confidence. On the whole, global bond markets generated positive returns during the period, benefiting from deepening rallies in high yield and emerging markets debt and steady returns from corporate bonds and securitized products. The lower-rated credit tiers and longer-maturity segments of the fixed-income markets outperformed the higher-quality and shortest-maturity segments during the period, overcoming spates of risk aversion that flared up intermittently.

Global credit markets rallied after European Central Bank (ECB) actions.

The six-month period started after the watershed announcements of the ECB in late summer 2012, which largely declared that the euro was irreversible and that every measure would be taken to fortify the European credit markets. These actions bolstered the global credit markets and inspired an ongoing rally in high-yield corporate debt and emerging markets debt over the final two months of 2012 and into 2013. Global bond markets had been enthralled by central bank policies in Europe—decisive policymaking would bolster markets, while reescalating crises in Greece and Spain would undercut confidence and damage security pricing. But the ECB's actions proved effective—despite continued economic woes across Europe, the announced central bank policies revitalized global credit markets. While no measure could serve as a panacea, coordinated policymaking certainly offered much-needed tonic to Europe and provided a foundation of confidence for the riskier areas of the global credit markets to rally.

Improving economic trends strengthened in the U.S. while Europe's recession persisted.

Despite problems in Europe during the period this time in the form of Italian politics and a bank debt crisis in Cyprus higher-yielding global debt securities continued to perform well. Investors continued to shun most higher-quality sovereign markets in preference for higher-yielding corporate debt. In November and December 2012, high yield and emerging markets debt outperformed higher-rated sovereign debt. These trends largely carried over in the first four months of 2013, as investors rallied to the higher-yielding, lower-rated areas of the global bond markets on increasing confidence in the intentions of the ECB to support credit and a distaste for low yields from the higher-rated sovereign debt sectors.

Despite global credit markets performing well, economic conditions across the globe continued to be mixed and, at times, volatile. In the U.S., growth remained relatively healthy compared with developed Europe and Japan, but employment levels remained disappointing. U.S. Treasury yields remained near historic lows, with negative real yields not a good outlook for the U.S. dollar or long-term investment in U.S. Treasuries. U.S. investment-grade structured products generated modest positive returns during the quarter. U.S. mortgage-backed securities generally experienced spread widening, which eroded some value. Nonetheless, yield compensation was adequate enough to generate positive returns but not nearly as compelling as the returns from lower-rated segments of the securitized sectors, most notably in commercial mortgage-backed securities (CMBS).

The eurozone was certainly more problematic, remaining firmly in recession. Fortunately, there appeared to be the political will to do whatever is necessary to preserve the single euro currency. The pain suffered in the periphery regions outside of core Europe during the period led to cheaper labor costs and lower Social Security and welfare costs. This internal devaluation within the European monetary union marketplace allowed the periphery markets to better compete in the European Union, which strengthened economic optimism during the period. It appeared to many investors that growth in the periphery may well hit bottom in 2013 and start to pick up from what is admittedly a low base, thus providing an investing foundation that strengthened security valuations during the period.

Japan's newly elected government took little time to deploy a new political mandate, announcing significant quantitative easing policies to deliberately weaken the currency. The Bank of Japan's new mandate to target 2% inflation and to intervene in foreign exchange markets while buying foreign bonds may have the political weight to deal with Japan's problems once and for all. Although this policy direction may help finally break the vicious cycle that is the Japanese economy, the circumstances indicated an unattractive market for bond investments and further currency depreciation to come. Consequently, the Japanese yen deteriorated precipitously throughout the period.

China also had new leaders in place, and investors looked for signs that political stability may resume with the new cabinet entering. Optimism that a shift from an export-led economy to a consumer-led economy appeared to develop in the early months of 2013. With the continued expansion of the offshore renminbi-based markets, bond yields of 3.5%, and a firming currency, China increasingly demonstrated signs of being a high-quality candidate for investment, thus generally improving security valuations during the period.

Nonetheless, the longer-term picture around the globe remained largely consistent throughout the period—currencies of smaller, more dynamic economies with trade surpluses, healthier growth, and higher interest rates demonstrated the best characteristics for investment, particularly in Asian and South American economies, while the largest economies with languid growth and high deficits underperformed. Optimism across the global markets continued to produce rallies in lower-rated securities while also pricing in some caution for intermittent periods of volatility that may persist in 2013, as markets attempt to balance uncertain growth prospects with deficit control and credit-risk contagion. Despite ongoing concerns across Europe, the six-month period largely produced positive performance across the global fixed-income markets, with strong returns most notably in high-yield corporate bonds and emerging markets debt.

Don't let short-term uncertainty derail long-term investment goals.

Periods of uncertainty can present challenges, but experience has taught us that maintaining a long-term investment strategy based on individual goals and risk tolerance can be an effective way to plan for the future. Although diversification¹ cannot guarantee an investment profit or prevent losses, we believe it can be an effective way to manage investment risk and potentially smooth out overall portfolio performance.

Figures quoted represent past performance, which is no guarantee of future results and do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder may pay on fund distributions or the sale of fund shares. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted, which assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains. Performance figures of the fund do not reflect brokerage commissions. If brokerage commissions had been reflected, performance would have been lower. To obtain performance information current to the most recent month-end, please call 1-800-222-8222.

The Fund's annualized expense ratio for the six months ended April 30, 2013, is 1.21%, which includes 0.08% of interest expense.

Comparison of NAV vs. market value since inception²

The Fund is leveraged through a secured debt borrowing facility and also may incur leverage by issuing preferred shares in the future. The use of leverage results in certain risks including, among others, the likelihood of greater volatility of net asset value and the market price of common shares. Foreign investments are especially volatile and can rise or fall dramatically due to differences in the political and economic conditions of the host country. These risks are generally intensified in emerging markets. Derivatives involve additional risks including interest rate risk, credit risk, the risk of improper valuation, and the risk of non-correlation to the relevant instruments they are designed to hedge or to closely track. Bond values fluctuate in response to the financial condition of individual issuers, general market and economic conditions, and changes in interest rates. In general, when interest rates rise, bond values fall and investors may lose principal value. High-yield securities have a greater risk of default and tend to be more volatile than higher-rated debt securities. This Fund is exposed to mortgage- and asset-backed securities risk.

1. Total returns based on market value are calculated assuming a purchase of common stock on the first day and sale on the last day of the period reported. Total returns based on NAV are calculated based on the NAV at the beginning of the period and end of the period. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for the purposes of these calculations to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's Automatic Dividend Reinvestment Plan. Total returns do not reflect brokerage commissions or sales charges. If these charges were included, the returns would be lower.

MANAGER'S DISCUSSION

Wells Fargo Advantage Multi-Sector Income Fund 5

The Fund returned 17.34% during the 12 months ended April 30, 2013, based on market value. During the same period, the Fund's return based on NAV was 14.65%.

Overview

The eurozone remains firmly in recession, but there does appear to be the political will to do whatever is necessary to preserve the single euro currency. Growth in the European-periphery countries may well hit bottom in 2013 and start to pick up from what is admittedly a low base. The euro has benefited from the new stability, and this strength has not as yet hindered German exports. The sovereign bond yields of the core European economies remain at historic lows in both nominal and real terms and do not encourage investment, while there remains compelling income and some potential for further narrowing of spreads in the periphery, particularly in Spain and Italy. In general, riskier securities across the globe performed strongly, benefiting from continued policy interventions by the European Central Bank and the U.S. Federal Reserve Board. During the six-month period, the international/emerging markets fixed-income portion of the Fund focused on income-oriented securities, specifically finding value in local developed and emerging markets with higher relative yields, yet healthy fundamental sources of cash flow.

Performance across the high-yield market was strong and relatively consistent throughout much of the year, with the major high-yield indexes producing positive returns in every month except May 2012. This was driven by gradual improvement in the U.S. economy, with slowly falling unemployment and a rebounding housing market. Relative containment of sovereign debt-driven market fears in Europe also helped strengthen confidence in U.S. credit markets despite a continued decline in southern Europe's economy. Without the fears of a disruptive European debt crisis, cascading bank failures, and sovereign debt defaults, the U.S. high-yield market was able to focus on the improving U.S. economy benefiting from the steadfast backdrop of Federal Reserve-induced low interest rates. In light of this, the most risky, highest-yielding issuers, on average, performed the best.

In the U.S. investment-grade markets, corporate bonds and structured products generally continued to outperform U.S. Treasuries during the period, as spreads narrowed during late 2012 before stalling in early 2013. U.S. Treasury yields and investment-grade spreads rose in January and February 2013, in response to strengthening economic indicators. Lower-rated areas of the bond markets continued to outperform during the yield increases. Commercial mortgage-backed securities (CMBS) and corporate bonds, particularly in the A-rated and BBB-rated tiers, offered some of the best returns in the investment-grade space. The mortgage/corporate sleeve of the Fund continued to invest in mortgage-backed securities (MBS), CMBS, asset-backed securities, adjustable-rate mortgages, and corporate bonds. In general, the lower-rated segments of these sectors were the best contributors to performance during the period.

Contributors to performance

The international/emerging markets bond allocation benefited from positioning in the higher-yielding bond markets of Australia, Brazil, Colombia, Hungary, Indonesia, Mexico, New Zealand, Poland, Russia, Turkey, and South Africa. The Fund's exposure to the high-yield and emerging markets sectors were significant contributors to performance. In currency positioning, allocation to the Brazilian real, euro, Mexican peso, Malaysian ringgit, and Thai baht also added value.

The U.S. high-yield bond portion of the Fund benefited from positive forces pushing high-yield bond prices higher and yields lower. Individual credit selection in certain securities helped performance of the Fund during the period.

The mortgage/corporate credit sleeve's focus on A-rated and BBB-rated credits added value, as lower-rated credits outperformed higher-rated credits during the period. The Fund's holdings in corporate bonds, CMBS, and residential MBS broadly added value during the period, as credit spreads tightened during the first two months and offered compelling incremental yield during the remainder of the period. Financial credits contributed to performance.

Detractors from performance

The international/emerging markets exposure to the Australian dollar, Korean won, and Polish zloty detracted from performance during the period.

The U.S. high-yield bond portion of the Fund maintained a relatively conservative positioning compared with the broader U.S. high-yield market, in recognition of challenging economic conditions. This positioning restrained performance, as riskier bonds with either lower quality or longer maturities generally outperformed their higher-quality counterparts and certain individual securities detracted.

The mortgage/corporate credit sleeve's holdings in some residential MBS modestly detracted from performance during the quarter, as returns in the sector were mixed.

Management outlook

Global market conditions continue to be characterized by high levels of both consumer and government debt in the old, developed economies, which continues to restrict growth. Thus, the international/emerging markets team's strategy continues (as it has for the past four years) to underweight the old, industrialized, lower-yielding economies with structural problems and overweight those economies that not only have higher yields but also have healthier, more sustainable growth, lower deficits (in some cases, surpluses), and central banks that have the ability to maneuver freely. In particular, the Fund remains underweight in Japan, the United Kingdom, the U.S., Germany, France, the Netherlands, and Denmark, and the Fund is overweight in Australia, Brazil, Hungary, Italy, Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, Norway, Poland, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Thailand, and South Africa.

The high-yield team believes that the current economic backdrop is highly supportive of high yield. While credit fundamentals have now begun to look less compelling as firms continue to take on more debt and earnings growth seems to have plateaued, we believe that most corporate balance sheets are still relatively healthy, particularly given the cheap access to capital financing. Additional debt has been cheap for issuers, so interest coverage levels are higher than average. The economy is strong enough for companies to maintain their cash flow and pay back their debt, but it is weak enough (especially as it concerns employment) to encourage ultra-loose monetary policy. Despite absolute yields persisting at record lows therefore, giving us cause for concern reasonable spreads relative to near-term default risk make high yield a reasonable, fixed-income alternative given that many other fixed-income assets are also at or near all-time low yields.

Within U.S. mortgages and investment-grade corporate bonds, the team believes that stable interest-rate policy should continue to preserve a comfortable environment for income payments to offer relatively generous compensation from corporate bonds and securitized debt. We continue to focus on the medium-quality credit tiers of A-rated and BBB-rated securities as compelling sources of yield. Approximately 50% of the mortgage/corporate sleeve's exposure is in corporate credit, and around 42% is in fixed-rate and floating-rate mortgage securities. Our credit exposure remains centered on industrials and financials, particularly in banks. We believe that continued highly accommodative monetary policy should continue to benefit the credit and securitized sectors in the upcoming six-month period.

4. The ratings indicated are from Standard & Poor's, Moody's Investors Service, and/or Fitch Ratings Ltd. Credit Quality Ratings: Credit quality ratings apply to underlying holdings of the Fund and not the Fund itself. Standard & Poor's rates the creditworthiness of bonds, ranging from AAA (highest) to D (lowest). Ratings from A to CCC may be modified by the addition of a plus (+) or minus (-) sign to show relative standing within the rating categories. Standard & Poor's rates the creditworthiness of short-term notes from SP-1 (highest) to SP-3 (lowest). Moody's rates the creditworthiness of bonds, ranging from Aaa (highest) to C (lowest). Ratings Aa to B may be modified by the addition of a number 1 (highest) to 3 (lowest) to show relative standing within the ratings categories. Moody's rates the creditworthiness of short-term U.S. tax-exempt municipal securities from MIG 1/VMIG 1 (highest) to SG (lowest). Moody's rates the creditworthiness of short-term securities from P-1 (highest) to P-3 (lowest). Fitch rates the creditworthiness of bonds, ranging from AAA (highest) to D (lowest). If a security was rated by all three rating agencies, the middle rating was utilized. If rated by two of three rating agencies, the lower rating was utilized and if rated by one of the agencies that rating was utilized. Credit quality is subject to change and is calculated based on the total investments of the Fund. We generally define higher-quality (investment grade) bonds as bonds having a rating above BBB/Baa and lower-quality bonds as bonds having a rating below BBB/Baa.

5. Percentages are subject to change and are calculated based on the total long-term investments of the Fund.

1. Calculated based upon average shares outstanding
2. Total return is calculated assuming a purchase of common stock on the first day and sale on the last day of the period reported. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for purposes of these calculations to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's Automatic Dividend Reinvestment Plan. Total return does not reflect brokerage commissions. Returns for periods of less than one year are not annualized.
3. Interest expense ratio relates to interest associated with borrowings and/or leverage transactions.
4. The net investment income ratio reflects any distributions paid to preferred shareholders.

Wells Fargo Advantage Multi-Sector Income Fund 21

1. ORGANIZATION

Wells Fargo Advantage Multi-Sector Income Fund (the Fund) was organized as a statutory trust under the laws of the state of Delaware on April 10, 2003 and is registered as a diversified closed-end management investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following significant accounting policies, which are consistently followed in the preparation of the financial statements of the Fund, are in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles which require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Securities valuation

All investments are valued each business day as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange (normally 4 p.m. Eastern Time).

Fixed income securities acquired with maturities exceeding 60 days are valued based on evaluated bid prices received from an independent pricing service which may utilize both transaction data and market information such as yield, prices of securities of comparable quality, coupon rate, maturity, type of issue, trading characteristics and other market data. If valuations are not available from the independent pricing service or values received are deemed not representative of market value, values will be obtained from a broker-dealer or otherwise determined based on the Fund's Valuation Procedures.

Short-term securities with maturities of 60 days or less generally are valued at amortized cost which approximates fair value. The amortized cost method involves valuing a security at its cost, plus accretion of discount or minus amortization of premium over the period until maturity.

Equity securities that are listed on a foreign or domestic exchange, except for The Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc. (Nasdaq), are valued at the official closing price or, if none, the last sales price. Securities listed on Nasdaq are valued at the Nasdaq Official Closing Price (NOCP). If no NOCP is available, securities are valued at the last sales price. If no sales price is shown on the Nasdaq, the bid price will be used. If no sale occurs on the primary exchange or market for the security that day or if no sale occurs and no bid price is shown on Nasdaq, the prior day's price will be deemed stale and fair values will be determined in accordance with the Fund's Valuation Procedures.

Securities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars using the rates of exchange in effect on the day of valuation at a time specified by the Management Valuation Team of Wells Fargo Funds Management, LLC (Funds Management).

Investments in registered open-end investment companies are valued at net asset value.

Investments which are not valued using any of the methods discussed above are valued at their fair value, as determined by procedures established in good faith and approved by the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees has established a Valuation Committee comprised of the Trustees and has delegated to it the authority to take any actions regarding the valuation of portfolio securities that the Valuation Committee deems necessary or appropriate, including determining the fair value of portfolio securities, unless the determination has been delegated to the Management Valuation Team. The Board of Trustees retains the authority to make or ratify any valuation decisions or approve any changes to the Valuation Procedures as it deems appropriate. On a quarterly basis, the Board of Trustees receives reports on any valuation actions taken by the Valuation Committee or the Management Valuation Team which may include items for ratification.

Valuations of fair valued securities are compared to the next actual sales price when available, or other appropriate market information to assess the continued appropriateness of the fair valuation methodology used. These securities are fair valued on a day-to-day basis, taking into consideration changes to appropriate market information and any significant changes to the input factors considered in the valuation process until there is a readily available price provided on the exchange or by an independent pricing service. Valuations received from an independent pricing service or broker quotes are periodically validated by comparisons to most recent trades and valuations provided by other independent pricing services in addition to the review of prices by the adviser and/or subadviser. Unobservable inputs used in determining fair valuations are identified based on the type of security, taking into consideration factors utilized by market participants in valuing the investment, knowledge about the issuer and the current market environment.

Foreign currency translation

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

The accounting records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Assets, including investment securities, and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are translated into U.S. dollars at the rates of exchange at a time specified by the Management Valuation Team on the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of securities, and income and expenses are converted at the rate of exchange on the respective dates of such transactions. Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest and foreign withholding taxes recorded and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually paid or received. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the fair value of assets and liabilities other than investments in securities resulting in changes in exchange rates.

The changes in net assets arising from changes in exchange rates and the changes in net assets resulting from changes in market prices of securities are not separately presented. Such changes are recorded with net realized and unrealized gains or losses from investments. Gains and losses from certain foreign currency transactions are treated as ordinary income for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Reverse repurchase agreements

To obtain short-term financing, the Fund may enter into reverse repurchase agreements with banks and other financial institutions, which are deemed by the investment adviser to be creditworthy. At the time the Fund enters into a reverse repurchase agreement, it will establish a segregated account with the custodian containing qualified assets having a value not less than the repurchase price, including accrued interest. If the counterparty to the transaction is rendered insolvent, the Fund may be delayed or limited in the repurchase of the collateral securities.

Forward foreign currency contracts

The Fund may be subject to foreign currency exchange rate risk in the normal course of pursuing its investment objectives. A forward foreign currency contract is an agreement between two parties to purchase or sell a specific currency for an agreed-upon price at a future date. The Fund enters into forward foreign currency contracts to facilitate transactions in foreign-denominated securities and to attempt to minimize the risk to the Fund from adverse changes in the relationship between currencies. Forward foreign currency contracts are recorded at the forward rate and marked-to-market daily. When the contracts are closed, realized gains and losses arising from such transactions are recorded as realized gains or losses on forward foreign currency contract transactions. The Fund could be exposed to risks if the counterparties to the contracts are unable to meet the terms of their contracts or if the value of the foreign currency changes unfavorably. The Fund's maximum risk of loss from counterparty credit risk is the unrealized gains or losses on the contracts. This risk is mitigated by having a master netting arrangement between the Fund and the counterparty.

When-issued transactions

The Fund may purchase securities on a forward commitment or when-issued basis. The Fund records a when-issued transaction on the trade date and will segregate assets in an amount at least equal in value to the Fund's commitment to purchase when-issued securities. Securities purchased on a when-issued basis are marked-to-market daily and the Fund begins earning interest on the settlement date. Losses may arise due to changes in the market value of the underlying securities or if the counterparty does not perform under the contract.

Term loans

The Fund may invest in term loans. The Fund begins earning interest when the loans are funded. The loans pay interest at rates which are periodically reset by reference to a base lending rate plus a spread. The Fund assumes the credit risk of the borrower and there could be potential loss to the Fund in the event of default by the borrower.

Security transactions and income recognition

Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gains or losses are recorded on the basis of identified cost.

Interest income is accrued daily and bond discounts are accreted and premiums are amortized daily based on the effective interest method. To the extent debt obligations are placed on non-accrual status, any related interest income may be reduced by writing off interest receivables when the collection of all or a portion of interest has become doubtful based on consistently applied procedures. If the issuer subsequently resumes interest payments or when the collectability of interest is reasonably assured, the debt obligation is removed from non-accrual status.

Table of Contents

Notes to financial statements (unaudited) Wells Fargo Advantage Multi-Sector Income Fund 23
Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date, except for certain dividends from foreign securities, which are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the ex-dividend date.

Income from foreign securities is recorded net of foreign taxes withheld where recovery of such taxes is not assured.

Distributions to shareholders

Distributions to shareholders from net investment income and net realized gains, if any, are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Such distributions are determined in conformity with federal income tax regulations, which may differ in amount or character from net investment income and realized gains recognized for purposes of U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Federal and other taxes

The Fund intends to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company by distributing substantially all of its investment company taxable income and any net realized capital gains (after reduction for capital loss carryforwards) sufficient to relieve it from all, or substantially all, federal income taxes. Accordingly, no provision for federal income taxes was required.

The Fund's income and federal excise tax returns and all financial records supporting those returns for the prior three fiscal years are subject to examination by the federal and Delaware revenue authorities. Management has analyzed the Fund's tax positions taken on federal, state, and foreign tax returns for all open tax years and does not believe that there are any uncertain tax positions that require recognition of a tax liability.

As of October 31, 2012, the Fund had pre-enactment capital loss carryforwards incurred in taxable years beginning before December 22, 2010, which are available to offset future net realized capital gains, in the amount of $94,018,990 with $4,567,517 expiring in 2016 and $89,451,473 expiring in 2017.

3. FAIR VALUATION MEASUREMENTS

Fair value measurements of investments are determined within a framework that has established a fair value hierarchy based upon the various data inputs utilized in determining the value of the Fund's investments. The three-level hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to significant unobservable inputs (Level 3). The Fund's investments are classified within the fair value hierarchy based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The inputs are summarized into three broad levels as follows:

- n Level 1 quoted prices in active markets for identical securities

- n Level 2 other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, use of amortized cost, etc.)

n Level 3 significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

The inputs or methodologies used for valuing investments in securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

4. TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES AND OTHER EXPENSES

Advisory fee

Funds Management, an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Wells Fargo & Company (Wells Fargo) is the adviser to the Fund and is entitled to receive a fee at an annual rate of 0.55% of the Fund's average daily total assets. Total assets consist of net assets of the Fund plus borrowings or other leverage for investment purposes to the extent excluded in calculating net assets.

Funds Management has retained the services of certain subadvisers to provide daily portfolio management to the Fund. The fees for subadvisory services are borne by Funds Management. Wells Capital Management Incorporated, an affiliate of Funds Management, is a subadviser to the Fund and is entitled to receive a fee from Funds Management at an annual rate of 0.30% of the Fund's average daily total assets. First International Advisors, LLC, an affiliate of Funds Management and an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Wells Fargo, is also a subadviser to the Fund and is entitled to receive a fee from Funds Management at an annual rate of 0.10% of the Fund's average daily total assets.

Administration fee

Funds Management also serves as the administrator to the Fund providing the Fund with facilities, equipment and personnel. Funds Management is entitled to receive an annual administration fee of 0.05% of the Fund's average daily total assets.

5. CAPITAL SHARE TRANSACTIONS

The Fund has authorized capital of 100,000,000 shares with no par value. For the six months ended April 30, 2013 and the year ended October 31, 2012, the Fund did not issue any shares.

6. BORROWING AND LEVERAGE TRANSACTIONS

The Fund has borrowed $230 million through a secured debt financing agreement administered by a major financial institution (the Facility). The Facility has a commitment amount of $230 million which expires on February 24, 2014, at which point it may be renegotiated and potentially renewed for another one-year term. At April 30, 2013, the Fund had secured borrowings outstanding in the amount of $230,368,907 (including accrued interest and usage and commitment fees payable).

The Fund's borrowing under the Facility are generally charged interest at a rate based on the rates of the commercial paper notes issued to fund the Fund's borrowings or at the London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR) plus 1.0%. During the six months ended April 30, 2013, an effective interest rate of 0.24% was incurred on the borrowings. Interest expense of $273,670, representing 0.08% of the Fund's average daily net assets, was incurred during the six months ended April 30, 2013.

The Fund has pledged all of its assets to secure the borrowings and currently pays, on a monthly basis, a usage fee at an annual rate of 0.40% of the daily average outstanding principal amount of borrowings and a commitment fee at an annual rate of 0.40% of the product of (i) the daily average outstanding principal amount of borrowings and (ii) 1.02. The secured borrowing fees on the Statement of Operations of $996,664 represents the usage fee, commitment fee, and structuring fees. For the six months ended April 30, 2013, the Fund paid structuring fees in the amount of $62,414.

7. INVESTMENT PORTFOLIO TRANSACTIONS

Purchases and sales of investments, excluding short-term securities, for the six months ended April 30, 2013 were as follows:

| Purchases at cost | | Sales proceeds | |
|--------------------------|----------------------------|------------------------|----------------------------|
| U.S. government | Non-U.S. government | U.S. government | Non-U.S. government |
| $142,200 | $226,538,892 | $3,364,171 | $187,526,347 |

As of April 30, 2013, the Fund had unfunded term loan commitments of $8,514,589.

8. DERIVATIVE TRANSACTIONS

During the six months ended April 30, 2013, the Fund entered into forward foreign currency exchange contracts for economic hedging purposes.

The fair value, realized gains or losses, and change in unrealized gains or losses, if any, on derivative instruments are reflected in the appropriate financial statements.

9. INDEMNIFICATION

Under the Fund's organizational documents, the officers and directors are indemnified against certain liabilities that may arise out of performance of their duties to the Trust. Additionally, in the normal course of business, the Fund may enter into contracts with service providers that contain a variety of indemnification clauses. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is dependent on future claims that may be made against the Fund and, therefore, cannot be estimated.

10. NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENT

In December 2011, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standard Update (ASU) No. 2011-11, Disclosures about Offsetting Assets and Liabilities. ASU 2011-11, which amends FASB ASC Topic 210, Balance Sheet, creates new disclosure requirements which require entities to disclose both gross and net information for derivatives and other financial instruments that are either offset in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities or subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement. The disclosure requirements are effective for interim and annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2013. Management is currently assessing the potential impact, in addition to expanded financial statement disclosure, that may result from adopting this ASU.

11. SUBSEQUENT DISTRIBUTIONS

The Fund declared the following distributions to common shareholders:

| Declaration date | Record date | Payable date | Per share amount |
|------------------|---------------|--------------|------------------|
| April 26, 2013 | May 15, 2013 | June 3, 2013 | $0.1000 |
| May 22, 2013 | June 17, 2013 | July 1, 2013 | $0.1000 |

These distributions are not reflected in the accompanying financial statements.

| BOARD CONSIDERATION OF INVESTMENT ADVISORY AND SUB-ADVISORY AGREEMENTS: | |

Under Section 15 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "1940 Act"), the Board of Trustees (the "Board") of Wells Fargo Advantage Multi-Sector Income Fund (the "Fund"), all the members of which have no direct or indirect interest in the investment advisory and sub-advisory agreements and are not interested persons of the Fund, as defined in the 1940 Act (the "Independent Trustees"), must determine whether to approve the continuation of the Fund's investment advisory and sub-advisory agreements. In this regard, at an in-person meeting held on March 28-29, 2013 (the "Meeting"), the Board reviewed: (i) an investment advisory agreement with Wells Fargo Funds Management, LLC ("Funds Management") for the Fund, (ii) an investment sub-advisory agreement with Wells Capital Management Incorporated ("WellsCap"), an affiliate of Funds Management, for the Fund, and (iii) an investment sub-advisory agreement with First International Advisors, LLC ("First International"), an affiliate of Funds Management, for the Fund. The investment advisory agreement with Funds Management and the investment sub-advisory agreements with WellsCap and First International (the "Sub-Advisers") are collectively referred to as the "Advisory Agreements."

At the Meeting, the Board considered the factors and reached the conclusions described below relating to the selection of Funds Management and the Sub-Advisers and the continuation of the Advisory Agreements. Prior to the Meeting, the Trustees conferred extensively among themselves and with representatives of Funds Management about these matters. The Board has adopted a team-based approach, with each team consisting of a sub-set of Trustees, to assist the Board in the discharge of its duties in reviewing performance and other matters throughout the year. The Independent Trustees were assisted in their evaluation of the Advisory Agreements by independent legal counsel, from whom they received separate legal advice and with whom they met separately.

In providing information to the Board, Funds Management and the Sub-Advisers were guided by a detailed set of requests for information submitted to them by independent legal counsel on behalf of the Independent Trustees at the start of the Board's annual contract renewal process earlier in 2013. In considering and approving the Advisory Agreements, the Trustees considered the information they believed relevant, including but not limited to the information discussed below. The Board considered not only the specific information presented in connection with the Meeting, but also the knowledge gained over time through interaction with Funds Management and the Sub-Advisers about various topics. In this regard, the Board reviewed reports of Funds Management at each of its quarterly meetings, which included, among other things, portfolio reviews and performance reports. In addition, the Board and the teams mentioned above confer with portfolio managers at various times throughout the year. The Board did not identify any particular information or consideration that was all-important or controlling, and each individual Trustee may have attributed different weights to various factors.

After its deliberations, the Board unanimously determined that the continuation of the Advisory Agreements is in the best interests of the Fund and its shareholders, and that the compensation payable to Funds Management and the Sub-Advisers is reasonable. The Board considered the continuation of the Advisory Agreements for the Fund as part of its consideration of the continuation of advisory agreements for funds across the complex, but each decision was made on a fund-by-fund basis. The following summarizes a number of important, but not necessarily all, factors considered by the Board in reaching its determination.

Nature, extent and quality of services

The Board received and considered various information regarding the nature, extent and quality of services provided to the Fund by Funds Management and the Sub-Advisers under the Advisory Agreements. This information included, among other things, a summary of the background and experience of senior management of Funds Management, and the qualifications, background, tenure and responsibilities of each of the portfolio managers primarily responsible for the day-to-day portfolio management of the Fund.

The Board evaluated the ability of Funds Management and the Sub-Advisers, based on attributes such as their financial condition, resources and reputation, to attract and retain qualified investment professionals, including research, advisory and supervisory personnel. The Board further considered the compliance programs and compliance records of Funds Management and the Sub-Advisers. In addition, the Board took into account the administrative and other services provided to the Fund by Funds Management and its affiliates and Funds Management's oversight of the Fund's various service providers.

Fund performance and expenses

The Board considered the performance results for the Fund over various time periods ended December 31, 2012. The Board also considered these results in comparison to the performance of another fund that was determined by Lipper Inc., an independent provider of investment company data (Lipper), to be similar to the Fund (the Comparison Fund).

Table of Contents

Other information (unaudited) Wells Fargo Advantage Multi-Sector Income Fund 31

The Board received a description of the methodology used by Lipper to select the Comparison Fund and noted that Lipper had identified only one comparable leveraged closed-end flexible income fund. The Board also considered these results in comparison to the performance of funds in a custom peer group that was determined by Funds Management to be similar to the Fund (the Custom Peer Group), and in comparison to the Fund's benchmark index and to other comparative data.

The Board noted that the performance of the Fund was higher than or in range of the median performance of the Comparison Fund and the Fund's benchmark, the ERC Blended Index, which is a proprietary index used by the Board to help it assess the Fund's relative performance, for all periods under review. The Board also noted that while the performance of the Fund was lower than the median performance of the Custom Peer Group for the one- and three-year periods under review, the performance of the Fund was in range of the median performance of the Custom Peer Group for the five-year period under review.

The Board received information concerning, and discussed factors contributing to, the underperformance of the Fund relative to the Custom Peer Group for the one- and three-year periods under review. Funds Management advised the Board about the market conditions and investment decisions that it believed contributed to the underperformance during those periods. The Board noted distinctions between the Fund's investment strategy and that of funds in the Custom Peer Group, as well as the positive performance of the Fund relative to the Comparison Fund and the benchmark, and was satisfied with the explanation it received.

The Board received and considered information regarding the Fund's net operating expense ratio and its various components, including actual management fees (which reflect fee waivers, if any, and include advisory and administration fees), custodian and other non-management fees, and fee waiver and expense reimbursement arrangements. The Board also considered this ratio in comparison to the median ratio of funds in an expense group that was determined by Lipper to be similar to the Fund (the Group). The Board received a description of the methodology used by Lipper to select the funds in the expense Group. Based on the Lipper reports, the Board noted that the net operating expense ratio of the Fund was lower than the median net operating expense ratio of the expense Group.

Based on its consideration of the factors and information it deemed relevant, including those described here, the Board concluded that the overall performance and expense structure of the Fund supported the re-approval of the Advisory Agreements.

Investment advisory and sub-advisory fee rates

The Board reviewed and considered the contractual investment advisory fee rate that is payable by the Fund to Funds Management for investment advisory services (the Advisory Agreement Rate), both on a stand-alone basis and on a combined basis with the Fund's contractual administration fee rate (the Management Rate). The Board also reviewed and considered the contractual investment sub-advisory fee rates that are payable by Funds Management to each of the Sub-Advisers for investment sub-advisory services (the Sub-Advisory Agreement Rate).

Among other information reviewed by the Board was a comparison of the Management Rate of the Fund with that of other funds in the expense Group at a common asset level. The Board noted that the Management Rate of the Fund was in range of the median rate for the Fund's expense Group. The Board and Funds Management agreed to extend the Fund's advisory fee waiver to February 2014.

The Board also received and considered information about the portion of the total advisory fee that was retained by Funds Management after payment of the fee to the Sub-Advisers for sub-advisory services. In assessing the reasonableness of this amount, the Board received and evaluated information concerning the nature and extent of responsibilities retained and risks assumed by Funds Management and not delegated to or assumed by the Sub-Advisers, and about Funds Management's on-going oversight services. In recognition of the fact that the Wells Fargo enterprise provides a suite of combined advisory and sub-advisory services to the Fund through affiliated entities, the Board ascribed limited relevance to the allocation of the total advisory fee between Funds Management and the Sub-Advisers.

Based on its consideration of the factors and information it deemed relevant, including those described here, the Board determined that the Advisory Agreement Rate and each Sub-Advisory Agreement Rate were reasonable in light of the services covered by the Advisory Agreements.

Profitability

The Board received and considered information concerning the profitability of Funds Management, as well as the profitability of Wells Fargo as a whole, from providing services to the Fund. The Board did not receive or consider to be necessary separate profitability information with respect to the Sub-Advisers, because, as affiliates of Funds Management, their profitability information was subsumed in the collective Wells Fargo profitability analysis provided by Funds Management.

Table of Contents

32 Wells Fargo Advantage Multi-Sector Income Fund Other information (unaudited)
Funds Management explained the methodologies and estimates that it used in calculating the profitability from the Fund and the fund family as a whole. Among other things, the Board noted that the levels of profitability reported on a fund-by-fund basis varied widely, depending on factors such as the size and type of fund. Based on its review, the Board did not deem the profits reported by Funds Management to be at a level that would prevent it from approving the continuation of the Advisory Agreements.

Economies of scale

The Board considered the extent to which there may be sharing with the Fund of potential economies of scale in the provision of advisory services to the Fund. The Board noted that, as is the case with many other closed-end funds, there are no breakpoints in the Management Rate. The Board further noted that, although the Fund would not share in any potential economies of scale through contractual breakpoints, fee waiver and expense reimbursement arrangements can also be a means of sharing potential economies of scale with the Fund. The Board noted that it would have opportunities to revisit the Management Rate as part of future contract reviews.

Other benefits to funds management and the Sub-Advisers

The Board received and considered information regarding potential fall-out or ancillary benefits received by Funds Management and its affiliates, including the Sub-Advisers, as a result of their relationship with the Fund. Ancillary benefits could include, among others, benefits directly attributable to other relationships with the Fund and benefits potentially derived from an increase in Funds Management's and the Sub-Advisers' business as a result of their relationship with the Fund (such as the ability to market to shareholders other financial products and services offered by Funds Management and its affiliates, including the Sub-Advisers, or to operate other products and services that follow investment strategies similar to those of the Fund).

Based on its consideration of the factors and information it deemed relevant, including those described here, the Board did not find that any ancillary benefits received by Funds Management and its affiliates, including the Sub-Advisers, were unreasonable.

Conclusion

After considering the above-described factors and based on its deliberations and its evaluation of the information described above, the Board unanimously approved the continuation of the Advisory Agreements for an additional one-year period.

Automatic dividend reinvestment plan

Wells Fargo Advantage Multi-Sector Income Fund 33

AUTOMATIC DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT PLAN

All common shareholders are eligible to participate in the Automatic Dividend Reinvestment Plan (the Plan). Pursuant to the Plan, unless a common shareholder is ineligible or elects otherwise, all cash dividends and capital gains distributions are automatically reinvested by Computershare Trust Company, N.A., as agent for shareholders in administering the Plan (Plan Agent), in additional common shares of the Fund. Whenever the Fund declares an ordinary income dividend or a capital gain dividend (collectively referred to as dividends) payable either in shares or in cash, nonparticipants in the Plan will receive cash, and participants in the Plan will receive the equivalent in shares of common shares. The shares are acquired by the Plan Agent for the participant s account, depending upon the circumstances described below, either (i) through receipt of additional unissued but authorized common shares from the Fund (newly issued common shares) or (ii) by purchase of outstanding common shares on the open-market (open-market purchases) on the NYSE Amex or elsewhere. If, on the payment date for any dividend or distribution, the net asset value per share of the common shares is equal to or less than the market price per common share plus estimated brokerage commissions (market premium), the Plan Agent will invest the amount of such dividend or distribution in newly issued shares on behalf of the participant. The number of newly issued common shares to be credited to the participant s account will be determined by dividing the dollar amount of the dividend by the net asset value per share on the date the shares are issued, provided that the maximum discount from the then current market price per share on the date of issuance may not exceed 5%. If on the dividend payment date the net asset value per share is greater than the market value or market premium (market discount), the Plan Agent will invest the dividend amount in shares acquired on behalf of the participant in open-market purchases. There will be no brokerage charges with respect to shares issued directly by the Fund as a result of dividends or capital gains distributions payable either in shares or in cash. However, each participant will pay a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred with respect to the Plan Agent s open-market purchases in connection with the reinvestment of dividends. The automatic reinvestment of dividends and distributions will not relieve participants of any federal, state or local income tax that may be payable (or required to be withheld) on such dividends. All correspondence concerning the Plan should be directed to the Plan Agent at P.O. Box 43010, Providence, Rhode Island 02940-3010 or by calling 1-800-730-6001.
