Management's Discussion of Funds Performance (audited)Economic Environment

Over the year ended August 31, 2013, the global economy expanded, but growth remained uneven. Developed market growth accelerated, but remained at low levels. Emerging markets continued to grow at a faster rate than developed markets, but their pace moderated and disappointed relative to expectations. As a result of earlier stimulus efforts enacted by the European Central Bank (ECB), Bank of England (BoE), and Federal Reserve (Fed), economic projections continued to be revised upward. Unemployment data in the United States generally continued to improve, albeit below Fed targets. In December, Shinzo Abe's Liberal Democratic Party won a landslide victory in Japan on an economic reform agenda. Their efforts to stimulate the economy through quantitative easing had significant impacts not only on their domestic economy, but exchange rates around the world (particularly in Asia). The confluence of a moderation in the pace of Chinese economic growth, positive economic momentum within the U.S., and the potential for reduction in quantitative easing by the Federal Reserve dominated investor perceptions regarding the global economy. In early March, Chinese officials announced that they would be revising the official state growth target from 8% to 7.5%. Concerns about this moderation in growth from China cast a cloud over investor sentiment for the broader emerging markets. At the same time, investors were encouraged by better than expected economic and earnings data from the United States. In late March, a 10 billion bailout was announced for Cyprus to help recapitalize their banking system. Markets were concerned that allowing even a small country like Cyprus to exit the monetary union would set a potentially destabilizing precedent for a dissolution of the Eurozone. Economic data released in April showed that Chinese economic growth had slowed to 7.7%. In May, the ECB cut interest rates to help stimulate the European economy. Also in May, Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke announced that it may be necessary for the Federal Open Market Committee to reduce the pace of asset purchases in the coming months. With the possibility that the United States could be the first major economy to reduce economic stimulus, investors grappled with what impact this could have on emerging markets. Countries that were perceived to have higher levels of external vulnerability came under scrutiny. From May onward, U.S. interest rates grinded higher and the U.S. dollar strengthened against a majority of its trading partners. In response, central banks in Brazil, India, and Indonesia raised interest rates in an effort to combat weakening currencies and reduce inflationary pressures. Better than expected gross domestic product (GDP) growth in August from Germany and France lifted the Eurozone out of recession for the first time in one and a half years. Even so, broad-based economic growth in Europe is still proving difficult. The fiscal year closed with markets focusing on upcoming central bank announcements in the U.S., Britain, and Europe in September.

Foreign Exchange and Fixed Income Markets

Investors with broad based exposures to emerging market currencies and fixed income and similar investments tied to commodity-producing countries faced a difficult market environment during the fiscal year ended August 31, 2013. Performance through the end of 2012 was fairly strong as markets focused on stimulus from developed market central banks and an improving outlook for global growth. Markets that were notable underperformers during the previous year rebounded sharply to start 2013 on improving sentiment. Market participants cheered the election of Shinzo Abe on his bold economic reform agenda. As a result of quantitative easing measures initiated by the Bank of Japan, the yen weakened significantly relative to the U.S. dollar peaking at over 103 on May 17, 2013. With investors seeking income around the world, yields in both developed and emerging markets bottomed in early May. As economic data from developed markets continued to beat expectations, a marked gap continued to develop between emerging market and developed market returns. Near the end of May, the unintended impact of Chairman Bernanke's tapering comments sparked a pronounced rise in interest rates in the United States as well as in emerging markets. The United States 10-year bond went from a yield of 1.62% to a high of 2.89% in approximately three months. Emerging markets were not immune to this move. Through a combination of yield curve steepening and central bank interest rate hikes, yields on emerging market fixed income rose in excess of the backup in domestic yields to levels not seen since early 2011. In addition to rising interest rates, foreign currency denominated fixed income was negatively impacted by a broad-based appreciation of the U.S. dollar relative to foreign currencies. Credit spreads in emerging market fixed income widened during this period as the perception of risk increased along with the rise in nominal yields. Over the course of the fiscal year, the Chinese yuan, Polish zloty, and South Korean won were the only emerging currencies to appreciate against the U.S. dollar. Markets focused on selling currencies with greater perceived external vulnerabilities. Notable underperformers included the South African rand, Indian rupee, Indonesian rupiah, and Brazilian real. The euro gained over 5% during this period whereas the Japanese yen depreciated by roughly 20% against the U.S. dollar. While many emerging market central banks cut interest rates early in the fiscal year, many central banks in emerging markets raised interest rates to quell concerns about inflation and also to stem losses from their currencies. Central banks that increased rates over the period were Brazil, Indonesia, and India. As central bankers increased short-term interest rates, the value of longer dated bonds declined leading to losses for investors. Interest rates around the world approached multi-year highs to close the fiscal year ended August 31, 2013.

Fixed Income and Currency Funds Performance

For the fiscal year ended August 31, 2013, 2 out of 11 Currency and Fixed Income Funds outperformed their respective performance benchmarks based on net asset value (NAV) or, in the case of the Global Corporate Bond Fund, since its inception on January 31, 2013.

Fixed Income Funds

Income was significantly offset by currency weakness and principal losses for the Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund's return of -6.41% based on NAV for the fiscal year. Over the year, rising bond yields across most emerging market countries caused a drag on overall Fund performance. The losses accelerated in May through the end of the fiscal year due to comments made by Federal Reserve Chairman Ben Bernanke regarding the future tapering of asset purchases. Among the country exposures, currency losses in South Africa, Brazil, Indonesia, and Turkey significantly detracted from performance. Bonds denominated in Chinese yuan, Polish zloty, and South Korean won were the only positive contributor to Fund performance. The Fund underperformed its industry reference benchmark, the JP Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Index, which returned -5.38% versus the Fund's return of -6.41% based on NAV for the fiscal year. The Fund's underperformance can be attributed to an overweight to Asia that decreased income potential relative to the index.

Interest rate cuts in Australia were unable to counterbalance losses from currency declines that contributed to the Asia Local Debt Fund's return of -5.14% based on NAV for the fiscal year. The Indian rupee accounted for the greatest currency decline whereas the Chinese yuan appreciated over 3% as the Fund's strongest performer. Concerns about slowing growth in China weighed on market sentiment and asset returns in the region. Aggressive interest rate cuts in Australia boosted bond returns, but also weakened the Australian dollar. The Indian rupee depreciated to all-time lows over the period causing a drag on Fund returns. The Fund underperformed its industry reference benchmark, the HSBC Asian Local Bond Index, which declined -3.82% versus the Fund's return of -5.14% based on NAV for the fiscal year. The Fund's underperformance can be attributed to the Fund's exposure to Australia. The shorter duration of the Fund relative to the index also produced a lower yield. As central banks cut interest rates in Asia, longer duration securities outperformed shorter duration securities given their greater sensitivity to interest rates (as interest rates decline, bond prices increase).

The Euro Debt Fund seeks to achieve a high level of total return consisting of both income and capital appreciation through investments in debt securities denominated in euros. The Fund is actively managed and it utilizes the BofA Merrill Lynch Euro Government Index as its benchmark. The BofA Merrill Lynch Euro Government Index is a market capitalization weighted index that tracks the performance of euro-denominated sovereign debt publicly issued by Euro member countries. The Fund underperformed its reference benchmark, which returned 9.55% versus the Fund's return of 4.37% based on NAV for the fiscal year. The Fund's underperformance can be attributed to a lack of exposure to Portugal, Italy, Ireland, and Spain, which performed well over the period.

The Australia & New Zealand Debt Fund seeks to achieve a high level of total return consisting of both income and capital appreciation through investments in debt securities denominated in Australian or New Zealand dollars. The Fund employs a structured approach in balancing its investments between debt of sovereign and semi-government issuers (local, state, and territory governments of Australia) within the two countries and the debt of supranational and other agencies (for example, developmental organizations such as the World Bank or International Monetary Fund) in these countries. Country and sector exposures are rebalanced back to target weighting quarterly. The Fund is actively managed and it utilizes the Citigroup Australian Broad Investment-Grade Bond Index as its benchmark. The Citigroup Australian Broad Investment-Grade Index is a market capitalization weighted index designed to represent the Australian fixed-coupon bond market, including government, semi-government, and investment grade credit markets (including supranational issuers). The Fund outperformed its reference benchmark, which returned -11.87% versus the Fund's return of -11.42% based on NAV for the fiscal year. This was the result of the Fund's larger investments in New Zealand dollar denominated bonds than the industry benchmark.

The Emerging Markets Corporate Bond Fund seeks to achieve a high level of total return consisting of both income and capital appreciation through investments in the debt of emerging markets corporate issuers. While the Fund is actively managed, it utilizes the JP Morgan Corporate Emerging Markets Bond Index (CEMBI) Broad as a guideline for investment performance. The JP Morgan Corporate Emerging Markets Bond Index (CEMBI) Broad is a market capitalization weighted index consisting of U.S. dollar-denominated emerging market corporate bonds. The index serves as a global corporate benchmark representing Asia, Latin America, Europe and Middle East/Africa. U.S. dollar-denominated corporate issues from index eligible countries are narrowed further by only including issues with more than $300 million current face outstanding and at least five years to maturity (at the time of inclusion into the index). It is a commonly used benchmark by many mutual funds and separate accounts investing in the asset class. The Fund underperformed its reference benchmark, which returned -0.51% versus the Fund's return of -2.00% based on NAV for the fiscal year. This was the result of the Fund's investments in Metals & Mining and Oil & Gas sectors that underperformed.

On January 31, 2013, the Global Corporate Bond Fund was launched. The Fund seeks to achieve a high level of total return consisting of both income and capital appreciation through investments in the debt of corporate entities that are organized in or maintain their principal place of business in countries throughout the world, including the U.S. While the Fund is actively managed, it utilizes the Barclays Global Credit Index (Hedged) as its benchmark. The Barclays Global Credit Index (Hedged) contains investment-grade and high-yield credit securities from the Barclays Multiverse Index, which is a broad-based measure of the global fixed-income bond market. The Barclays Multiverse Index is the union of the Barclays Global Aggregate Index and the Barclays Global High Yield Index and captures investment grade and high yield securities in all eligible currencies. The Barclays Multiverse Index family includes a wide range of standard and customized subindices by sector, quality, maturity, and country. For the period January 31, 2013 through August 31, 2013, the Fund underperformed its reference benchmark, which returned -0.93% versus the Fund's return of -0.98% based on NAV. This was the result of the Fund's overweight in investments in global high yield bonds.

Management's Discussion of Funds Performance (audited) (concluded)Currency Funds

Income return was a strong driver of fund performance over the last year. Many countries' currencies depreciated versus the U.S. dollar as risk aversion dominated much of the fiscal year. During periods of risk aversion, many investors seek the safety of developed market currencies such as the U.S. dollar. Among the single currency funds for the fiscal year, all three funds produced total returns based on NAV which exceeded the change in value of the underlying currency by more than 1.5% (see pages 5 to 9 herein for a discussion of standardized performance for each Fund). Of the weakest performing single currency funds, the Brazilian Real Fund and the Indian Rupee Fund, generated total returns for the fiscal year that were significantly greater than the underlying change in the spot return of the currency. Spot currency returns represent the change in foreign exchange rates versus the U.S. dollar available for immediate delivery. The Brazilian Real Fund fell -10.53% for the fiscal year based on NAV, outperforming the -14.65% depreciation in the Brazilian real versus the U.S. dollar. The Indian Rupee Fund declined -11.77% in value for the fiscal year based on NAV, while the Indian rupee declined by -16.64%. The Chinese Yuan Fund, which returned 4.78% for the fiscal year based on NAV, boosted relative performance versus the Chinese yuan through investments made in Chinese time deposits and forwards, outperforming the spot return of 2.87%. The Emerging Currency Fund posted a -3.30% return over the fiscal year, underperforming its industry benchmark, the JP Morgan Emerging Local Markets Index Plus which returned -2.55%. The currencies of South Africa, India, Brazil, Indonesia, and Turkey depreciated by more than 10% against the U.S. dollar over the period. Index allocations to Hong Kong, Taiwan, and Singapore (which did not depreciate as much against the U.S. dollar), helped dampen index losses. The Commodity Currency Fund declined by -5.97% over the fiscal year, outperforming its industry benchmark, the Barclays Commodity Producers Currency Index (CPCI-6) which returned -7.61%. This outperformance was largely the result of the Fund's allocation to the Chilean peso and New Zealand dollar. All commodity currencies depreciated against the U.S. dollar as concerns about commodity demand weighed on prices. The currencies of Brazil, Australia, and South Africa depreciated by more than 10% against the U.S. dollar over the period.

Alternative Funds

The Managed Futures Strategy Fund posted a 1.09% return based on NAV over the fiscal year, underperforming its industry benchmark, the Diversified Trends Indicator, by 1.19%. This was primarily due to deductions for Fund expenses and transaction costs. As the Fund uses a trend-following strategy, volatility and lack of sustained market trends dampened Fund performance through the beginning of December. However, two notable periods of sustained trends from December through mid-February and mid-June to early July contributed to overall positive Fund performance. Currency markets, particularly in Japan, accounted for a substantial portion of Fund returns for the fiscal year. Shinzo Abe's Liberal Democratic Party won elections in Japan on the back of an economic reform agenda that began a sustained, albeit volatile, depreciation of the Japanese yen against the U.S. dollar. Many commodity futures declined by a significant amount during the fiscal year. After a year marked by reduced supplies on account of a broad-based drought across much of the United States, more normal conditions resulted in a decline of approximately 25% in futures prices for corn and wheat for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2013. Precious metals such as silver and gold also corrected sharply as the perception of risk declined in a majority of markets around the world. Energy futures such as crude oil and gasoline ended the fiscal year higher by approximately 10% on account of continued unrest in the Middle East. Lack of a clear trend in natural gas futures resulted in the largest drag on overall fund performance for the fiscal year. The announcement by Federal Reserve (Fed) Chairman Ben Bernanke that the Fed may begin to reduce the pace of its asset purchase program also caused a sharp decline in Treasury futures that also weighed on Fund performance. The Global Real Return Fund posted a -5.25% return over the fiscal year, underperforming its industry benchmark, the BofA Merrill Lynch Global Diversified Inflation-Linked Index, which returned -4.12%. This underperformance is largely due to losses from the Fund's positions in commodity strategies which underperformed in volatile markets.

The WisdomTree Commodity Currency Fund (the "Fund") seeks to achieve total returns reflective of money market rates in selected commodity-producing countries and changes in value of such countries' currencies relative to the U.S. dollar. The term "commodity currency" generally is used to describe the currency of a country whose economic success is commonly identified with the production and export of commodities (such as precious metals, oil, agricultural products or other raw materials) and whose value is closely linked to the value of such commodities. The Fund intends to invest in commodity-producing countries, such as Australia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Indonesia, Malaysia, New Zealand, Norway, Peru, Russia and South Africa. This list may change based on market developments. Although this Fund invests in very short-term, investment grade instruments, the Fund is not a "money market" fund and it is not the objective of the Fund to maintain a constant share price.

The Fund returned -5.97% on net asset value ("NAV") for the year ended August 31, 2013 (for more complete performance information please see below). The Fund outperformed its benchmark, the Barclays Commodity Producers Currency Index, by 1.64% based on NAV for the fiscal year. This outperformance was largely the result of the Fund's allocation to the Chilean peso and New Zealand dollar.

The following performance chart is provided for comparative purposes and represents the period noted. The Fund's per share NAV is the value of one share of the Fund and is calculated by dividing the value of total assets less total liabilities by the number of shares outstanding. The NAV return is based on the NAV of the Fund and the market price return is based on the market price per share of the Fund. The price used to calculate market price returns is the mid-point of the highest bid and lowest offer for Fund shares as of the close of trading on the exchange where Fund shares are listed. NAV and market price returns assume that dividends and capital gain distributions have been reinvested in the Fund at NAV and market price, respectively. As with other ETFs, NAV returns and market price returns may differ because of factors such as the supply and demand for fund shares and investors' assessments of the underlying value of a fund's portfolio securities.

An index is a statistical measure of a specified financial market or sector. An index does not actually hold a portfolio of securities, incur expenses or pay any transaction costs. Fund returns also do not reflect brokerage commissions or taxes a shareholder would pay on the sale of Fund shares or on Fund distributions. As of the Fund's current prospectus dated January 1, 2013, the Fund's annual expense ratio was 0.55%.

The WisdomTree Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund (the Fund) seeks a high level of total return consisting of both income and capital appreciation. The Fund attempts to achieve its objective through investments in fixed income instruments denominated in the local currencies of emerging market countries.

The Fund returned -6.41% on net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2013 (for more complete performance information please see below). The Fund underperformed its industry benchmark, the JP Morgan Government Bond Index Emerging Markets (GBI-EM) Global Diversified Index, by 1.03% based on NAV for the fiscal year. This was the result of the Fund's overweight to investments in Asia relative to the index.

The following performance chart is provided for comparative purposes and represents the period noted. The Fund's per share NAV is the value of one share of the Fund and is calculated by dividing the value of total assets less total liabilities by the number of shares outstanding. The NAV return is based on the NAV of the Fund and the market price return is based on the market price per share of the Fund. The price used to calculate market price returns is the mid-point of the highest bid and lowest offer for Fund shares as of the close of trading on the exchange where Fund shares are listed. NAV and market price returns assume that dividends and capital gain distributions have been reinvested in the Fund at NAV and market price, respectively. As with other ETFs, NAV returns and market price returns may differ because of factors such as the supply and demand for fund shares and investors' assessments of the underlying value of a fund's portfolio securities.

An index is a statistical measure of a specified financial market or sector. An index does not actually hold a portfolio of securities, incur expenses or pay any transaction costs. Therefore index returns do not reflect deductions for fees or expenses and are not available for direct investment. In comparison, the Fund's performance is negatively impacted by these deductions. Fund returns also do not reflect brokerage commissions or taxes a shareholder would pay on the sale of Fund shares or on Fund distributions. As of the Fund's current prospectus dated January 1, 2013, the Fund's annual expense ratio was 0.55%.

Each month the DTI Index sector exposure is rebalanced back to the fixed weights, 50% physical commodities and 50% financials (when energy is long) and approximately 40% commodities and 60% financials (when energy is flat). Each sector (other than the energy sector) is positioned either long or short depending on the current market environment (the energy sector is positioned as either long or flat (i.e., no exposure)). The DTI Index individual market components, sectors and related weightings, as well as other aspects of the calculation of the DTI Index, are subject to change at any time.

Equal-Weighted Commodity Currency Composite:

A composite incorporating equal-weighted exposures to the currencies within the Commodity Currency Fund was constructed as a benchmark for Fund performance. Returns for the individual emerging market currencies are represented by the return of the country subindices of the JP Morgan Emerging Local Markets Index Plus (ELMI+). Returns for the individual developed market countries are represented by the returns of the BofA Merrill Lynch One-Month Constant Maturity LIBID Index for each country. The JP Morgan indices use a weighted basket of one-month, two-month and three-month currency forwards collateralized with U.S. money market rates to proxy the returns for emerging currency positions. The BofA Merrill Lynch indices track a consistent investment in one-month bank deposits denominated in the specified currency. Within the composite, currency exposures are rebalanced back to equal-weight at the end of the month in which the Fund rebalances its portfolio. Changes to currencies within the Fund are reflected in the composite at the end of the month they are added to, or deleted from, the Fund.

Equal-Weighted Emerging Currency Composite:

A composite incorporating equal-weighted exposure to the currencies within the Emerging Currency Fund was constructed as an additional gauge of Emerging Currency Fund performance. Currently, the composite tracks the returns for the currencies of the following countries: Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Poland, Indonesia, South Africa, Turkey, India, China, Russia and South Korea, using the total returns of the country subindices of the JP Morgan Emerging Local Markets Index Plus (ELMI+). Each subindex uses a weighted basket of one-month, two-month and three-month currency forwards (deliverable or nondeliverable) collateralized with U.S. money market rates to proxy the total returns of an investment in local-currency money market instruments. Currency exposures are rebalanced back to equal-weighting at the end of the month in which the Emerging Currency Fund intends to rebalance, and currency changes are reflected in the composite at the end of the month they are reflected in the Fund.

The area encompassing the European Union Member States whose currency is the euro and in which there is a single monetary policy. It currently comprises Belgium, Germany, Greece, Spain, Estonia, Ireland, France, Italy, Cyprus, Luxembourg, Malta, the Netherlands, Austria, Portugal, Slovenia, Slovakia and Finland.

Shareholder Expense Examples (unaudited)

As a shareholder of a WisdomTree Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including brokerage commissions on purchases and sales of your Fund shares and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees and other Fund expenses. The following example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars and cents) of investing in a Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other funds.

The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period from March 1, 2013 to August 31, 2013.

Actual expenses

The first line under each Fund in the table on the next page provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line for your Fund under the heading entitled Expenses Paid During the Period 3/1/13 to 8/31/13 to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical example for comparison purposes

The second line under each Fund in the table on the next page provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on each Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in your Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as brokerage commissions paid on purchases and sales of Fund shares. Therefore, the second line under each Fund in the table is useful in comparing ongoing Fund costs only and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

Consolidation of Subsidiaries

The financial statements of the Managed Futures Strategy Fund and Global Real Return Fund (each an Alternative Fund) includes the accounts of a wholly-owned and controlled Cayman Islands subsidiary (a Subsidiary). For each Alternative Fund, the accompanying financial statements reflect the financial position and results of operations on a consolidated basis with its respective Subsidiary. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Each Alternative Fund seeks to gain exposure to commodity markets, in whole or in part, through investments in its Subsidiary. Each Alternative Fund's investment in its Subsidiary may not exceed 25% of the Alternative Fund's total assets at the end of each fiscal quarter.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (the Codification) is the exclusive reference of authoritative U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities. Rules and interpretive releases of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) under authority of federal laws are also sources of authoritative GAAP for SEC registrants.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Funds.

Guarantees In the normal course of business the Funds may enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations or that provide indemnification for certain liabilities. The Funds' maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Funds that have not yet occurred. However, the Funds have not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts and expect the risk of loss to be remote. Therefore, no liabilities have been recorded in connection with these indemnifications.

Use of Estimates The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in the net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Investment Valuation The net asset value (NAV) of each Fund's shares is calculated each day the national securities exchanges are open for trading as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange, generally 4:00 p.m. New York time. NAV per share is calculated by dividing a Fund's net assets by the number of Fund shares outstanding. Transactions in Fund shares will be priced at NAV only if you purchase or redeem shares directly from a Fund in creation units, which are typically in blocks of 100,000 shares or more. Fund shares purchased or sold on a national securities exchange are based on market prices, which may be higher or lower than NAV. In calculating each Fund's NAV, investments are valued under policies approved by the Board of Trustees. Fixed income securities generally are valued at current market quotations or mean prices obtained from broker-dealers or independent pricing service providers. Broker-dealers or independent pricing service providers, in determining the value of securities may consider such factors as recent transactions, indications from broker-dealers yields and quoted prices on similar securities, and market sentiment for the type of security. U.S. fixed income assets may be valued as of the announced closing time for such securities on any day that the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association announces an early closing time. Forward foreign currency contracts generally are valued daily using WM/Reuters closing spot and forward rates as of 4:00 p.m. London time for Europe and the Americas and Tullett Prebon closing spot and forward rates as of 2:00 p.m. Singapore time for Asia. Futures contracts generally are valued at the settlement price on the primary exchange on which they trade. Swap contracts are generally marked to market daily based upon values from pricing service providers or quotations from broker-dealers to the extent available. Short-term debt securities with remaining maturities of 60 days or less generally are valued on the basis of amortized cost which approximates fair value. Each Fund may invest in money market funds which are valued at such money market fund's NAV per share.

60 WisdomTree Currency, Fixed Income and Alternative Funds

In certain instances, such as when reliable market valuations are not readily available or are not deemed to reflect current market values, a Fund's investments and derivatives will be valued in accordance with the Fund's pricing policy and procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. In addition, securities may be valued using fair value pricing and may include, but are not limited to, securities for which there are no current market quotations, securities whose issuer is in default or bankruptcy, securities subject to corporate actions (such as mergers or reorganizations), securities subject to non-U.S. investment limits or currency controls, and securities affected by significant events. An example of a significant event is an event occurring after the close of the market in which a security trades but before a Fund's next NAV calculation time that may materially affect the value of a Fund's investment (e.g., government action, natural disaster, or significant market fluctuation). When fair value pricing is employed, the prices of securities used by a Fund to calculate its NAV may differ from quoted or published prices for the same securities.

Fair Value Measurement In accordance with Codification Topic 820 (ASC 820), Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, fair value is defined as the price that each Fund would receive upon selling an investment in an orderly transaction to an independent buyer in the principal or most advantageous market of the investment. ASC 820 established a three-tier hierarchy of inputs to be used when determining fair value measurements for disclosure purposes. Inputs refer broadly to the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability, including assumptions about risk—for example, the risk inherent in a particular valuation technique used to measure fair value (such as a pricing model) and/or the risk inherent in the inputs to the valuation technique. Inputs may be observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Observable inputs are based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity. Unobservable inputs reflect the reporting entity's own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Unobservable inputs are based on the best information available in the circumstances. The three-tier hierarchy of inputs is summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1 quoted prices in active markets for identical securities

Level 2 other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)

Level 3 significant unobservable inputs (including each Fund's assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

The inputs or methodology used for valuation are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those investments.

Investments that use Level 2 or Level 3 inputs may include, but are not limited to: (i) an unlisted security related to corporate actions; (ii) a restricted security (e.g., one that may not be publicly sold without registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended); (iii) a security whose trading has been suspended or which has been de-listed from its primary trading exchange; (iv) a security that is thinly traded; (v) a security in default or bankruptcy proceedings for which there is no current market quotation or market activity; (vi) a security affected by currency controls or restrictions; and (vii) a security affected by a significant event (e.g., an event that occurs after the close of the markets on which the security is traded but before the time as of which a Fund's NAV is computed and that may materially affect the value of the Fund's investments).

The valuation techniques and significant inputs used in determining the fair market value measurements for Level 2 and Level 3 positions are as follows:

Financial instruments are generally valued by independent pricing service providers that use broker-dealer quotations, reported trades or valuation estimates from their internal pricing models. Depending on the type of financial instrument, the independent pricing service providers internal models may use inputs that are observable such as issuer details, interest rates, yield curves, prepayment speeds, credit risks/spreads, default rates and quoted prices for similar assets. Financial instruments that use similar valuation techniques and inputs as described above are categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy. Short-term investments having a maturity of 60 days or less are generally valued at amortized cost which approximates fair market value. These investments are categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy. Over-the-counter financial derivative contracts, such as forward foreign currency contracts or swaps agreements, derive their value from underlying asset prices, indices, reference rates, and other inputs or a combination of these factors. These contracts are normally valued on the basis of broker-dealer quotations or independent pricing service providers. Depending on the product and the terms of the transaction, the value of the financial derivative contracts can be estimated by an independent pricing service provider using a series of techniques, including simulation pricing models. The pricing models use inputs that are observed from actively quoted markets such as issuer details, indices, spreads, interest rates, curves, dividends and exchange rates. Derivative contracts that use similar valuation techniques and inputs as described above are categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

WisdomTree Asset Management, Inc. (WTAM), the investment adviser to each Fund and the Trust, has established a fair valuation committee (the Valuation Committee) which is comprised of senior representatives of WTAM and which reports to the Board of Trustees on a quarterly basis. In the event that a financial instrument cannot be valued based upon a price from a national securities exchange, independent pricing service provider or broker-dealer quotation, or such prices are deemed to not reflect current market value, the Valuation Committee may value the financial instrument in good faith under the policies and procedures approved by the Board of Trustees based on current facts and circumstances. Determination of this value may include significant unobservable inputs and therefore would be reflected as a Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. The Valuation Committee may employ a market-based valuation approach which may use related or comparable securities, recent transactions, market multiples, book values, and other relevant information to determine fair value. The Valuation Committee may also use an income-based valuation approach in which anticipated future cash flows of the financial instrument are discounted to calculate fair value. The Valuation Committee meets at least on a monthly basis to review and discuss the appropriateness of such fair values using more current information such as, recent security news, recent market transactions, updated corporate action information and/or other macro or security specific events. Also, when observable inputs become available, the Valuation Committee conducts back testing of the methodologies used to value Level 3 financial instruments to substantiate the unobservable inputs used to value those investments. Such back testing includes comparing Level 3 investment values to observable inputs such as exchange-traded prices, transaction prices, and/or vendor prices.

There were no Level 3 securities at or during the period ended August 31, 2013.

No transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 fair value measurements occurred during the period ended August 31, 2013.

Derivatives and Hedging Disclosure Codification Topic 815 (ASC 815), Derivatives and Hedging, requires qualitative disclosures about objectives and strategies for using derivatives, quantitative disclosures about fair value amounts of gains and losses on derivative instruments, and disclosures about credit-risk-related contingent features in derivative agreements. The Funds have invested in derivatives, specifically forward foreign currency contracts, swaps contracts and futures contracts during the period ended August 31, 2013 which are detailed in the tables herein. All of the derivative instruments disclosed and described herein are subject to credit risk. Credit risk is where the financial condition of an issuer of a security or instrument may cause it to default or become unable to pay interest or principal due on the security or where the counterparty to a derivative contract might default on its obligations. The Funds' derivative agreements contain credit-risk related contingent features which include, but are not limited to, a percentage decline in the Funds' NAV or net assets over a specified time period. If an event occurred that triggered a contingent feature, the counterparty to the agreement may require the Funds to post additional collateral or terminate the derivative positions and demand payment. Any collateral posted with respect to the derivative positions would be used to offset or reduce the payment. The maximum exposure to derivative agreements with credit-risk related contingent features would be the total value of derivatives in net liability positions for each Fund. At August 31, 2013 or for the period ended August 31, 2013, no event occurred that triggered a credit-risk-related contingent feature.

As of August 31, 2013, the following Funds posted U.S. government securities and/or cash as collateral for derivative agreements as follows:

Fund	Value of Collateral Posted
Brazilian Real Fund	$ 1,150,000
Chinese Yuan Fund	20,000
Commodity Currency Fund	280,000

Investment Transactions and Investment Income Investment transactions are recorded as of the date that the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Realized gains and losses on sales of portfolio securities are calculated using the identified-cost method. Interest income including amortization of premiums and discounts is accrued daily.

Foreign Currency Translation The accounting records of the Funds are maintained in U.S. dollars. Foreign currencies, as well as investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, are translated into U.S. dollars using exchange rates prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions that are deemed appropriate by WTAM. Realized and unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses on investments are included as a component of net realized gain (loss) from investment transactions and net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) from investment transactions, respectively, on the Statement of Operations. Net realized and unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses arising from sales of foreign currencies, including gains and losses of forward foreign currency contracts, currency gains or losses recognized between the trade and settlement dates on investment transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends/interest and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Funds' books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid are included in net realized gain (loss) from forward foreign currency contracts and foreign currency related transactions and/or net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) from forward foreign currency contracts and translation of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies in the Statement of Operations. Certain foreign exchange gains and losses included in realized and unrealized gains or losses are included in, or are a reduction of ordinary income in accordance with U.S. Federal income tax regulations.

Expenses Under the Investment Advisory Agreement for each Fund, WTAM has agreed to pay all expenses of the Funds, except for: (i) brokerage expenses and other expenses (such as stamp taxes) connected with the execution of portfolio transactions or in connection with creation and redemption transactions; (ii) legal fees or expenses in connection with any arbitration, litigation or pending or threatened arbitration or litigation, including any settlements in connection therewith; (iii) compensation and expenses of trustees who are not interested persons of the Funds (Independent Trustees); (iv) compensation and expenses of counsel to the Independent Trustees; (v) compensation and expenses of the Trust's Chief Compliance Officer (CCO); (vi) extraordinary expenses; (vii) distribution fees and expenses paid by the Trust under any distribution plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act; and (viii) the advisory fee payable to WTAM.

Pursuant to a separate contractual arrangement, WTAM arranges for the provision of CCO services with respect to each Fund, and is liable and responsible for, and administers, payments to the CCO, the Independent Trustees and counsel to the Independent Trustees. WTAM receives a fee, as shown on the Statements of Operations under Service fees, of up to 0.0044% of each Fund's average daily net assets for providing such services and paying such expenses. WTAM provides CCO services to the Trust.

Repurchase Agreements Each Fund's custodian or a third party custodian under tri-party repurchase agreements may take possession of the collateral pledged for investments in repurchase agreements. The underlying collateral is valued on a daily basis at fair value to ensure that the value, including accrued interest, is at least equal to the repurchase price. In the event of default of the obligation to repurchase, a Fund has the right to liquidate the collateral and apply the proceeds in satisfaction of the obligations. Under certain circumstances, in the event of default or bankruptcy by the other party to the agreement, realization and/or retention of the collateral may be subject to legal proceedings.

Forward Foreign Currency Contracts A forward foreign currency contract (Forward Contract) involves an obligation to purchase or sell a specific currency at a future date, which may be any fixed number of days from the date of the contract agreed upon by the parties, at a price set at the time of the contract. These contracts are principally traded in the inter-bank market conducted directly between currency traders (usually large, commercial banks) and their customers. A Forward Contract generally has no margin deposit requirement, and no commissions are charged at any stage for trades.

Risks may arise upon entering into Forward Contracts from the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts and from unanticipated movements in the value of foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar or each other.

Fluctuations in the value of open Forward Contracts are recorded for book purposes as unrealized gains or losses on Forward Contracts by the Funds. Realized gains and losses on forward contracts include net gains or losses recognized by the Funds on contracts which have matured. Each Fund may enter into Forward Contracts to manage its foreign currency exposure or to facilitate settlement of foreign currency denominated portfolio transactions. A Fund may invest in both Forward Contracts and U.S. dollar denominated money market securities in an attempt to create a synthetic investment in a foreign currency denominated instrument.

Currency, Interest Rate and Total Return Swaps Each Fund may enter into swap agreements, including interest rate swaps, currency swaps and total return swaps. A typical interest rate swap involves the exchange of a floating interest rate payment for a fixed interest rate payment. A typical foreign cross-currency swap involves the exchange of cash flows based on the notional difference among two or more currencies (e.g., the U.S. dollar and the Brazilian real). A typical total return swap involves the payment of the total return on a reference asset in return for payments equal to a rate of interest on another reference asset. The total return typically includes appreciation or depreciation on the reference asset, plus any interest or dividend payments. Swap agreements may be used to achieve exposure to, for example, currencies, interest rates, indexes and money market securities without actually purchasing such currencies or securities. The Managed Futures Strategy Fund and the Global Real Return Fund may enter into swaps transactions based on commodities or commodity indexes. Each Fund may use swap agreements to invest in a market without owning or taking physical custody of the underlying securities in circumstances in which direct investment is restricted for legal reasons or is otherwise impracticable. Swap agreements will tend to shift a Fund's investment exposure from one type of investment to another or from one payment stream to another. Depending on their structure, swap agreements may increase or decrease a Fund's exposure to long- or short-term interest rates (in the United States or abroad), foreign currencies, corporate borrowing rates, or other factors, and may increase or decrease the overall volatility of a Fund's investments and its share price.

Futures Contracts Each Fund may transact in currency futures contracts and U.S. Treasury futures contracts. The Managed Futures Strategy Fund and Global Real Return Fund may transact in commodity, currency and U.S. Treasury futures contracts. When a Fund purchases a listed futures contract, it agrees to purchase a specified reference asset (e.g., commodity, currency or Treasury security) at a specified future date. When a Fund sells a listed futures contract, it agrees to sell a specified reference asset (e.g., commodity, currency or Treasury security) at a specified future date. The price at which the purchase and sale will take place is fixed when the Fund enters into the contract. The exchange clearing corporation is the ultimate counterparty for all exchange-listed contracts, so credit risk is limited to the creditworthiness of the exchange's clearing corporation. Margin deposits are posted as performance bonds with the clearing broker and, in turn, with the exchange clearing corporation.

Each Fund may buy and sell index futures contracts. An index futures contract is a bilateral agreement pursuant to which two parties agree to take or make delivery of an amount of cash equal to a specified dollar amount times the difference between the index value at the close of trading of the contract and the price at which the futures contract is originally struck. No physical delivery of the securities comprising the index is made. Instead, settlement in cash must occur upon the termination of the contract, with the settlement being the difference between the contract price, and the actual level of the index at the expiration of the contract. Generally, contracts are closed out prior to the expiration date of the contract.

Upon entering into a futures contract, a Fund is required to deliver to a broker an amount of cash and/or government securities equal to a certain percentage of the contract amount. This amount is known as the initial margin. Subsequent payments, known as variation margin, generally are made or received by the Fund each day depending on the fluctuations in the value of the underlying futures contracts, except that in the case of certain futures contracts payments may be made or received at settlement. Such variation margin is recorded for financial statement purposes on a daily basis as an unrealized gain or loss on futures until the financial futures contract is closed, at which time the net gain or loss is reclassified to realized gain or loss on futures. When a Fund purchases or sells a futures contract, the Fund is required to cover its position in order to limit the risk associated with the use of leverage and other related risks. To cover its position, a Fund will segregate assets consisting of cash or liquid securities that, when added to any amounts deposited with a futures commission merchant as margin, are equal to the market value of the futures contract or otherwise cover its position in a manner consistent with the 1940 Act or the rules and SEC interpretations thereunder. If a Fund continues to engage in the described securities trading practices and properly segregates assets, the segregated assets will function as a practical limit on the amount of leverage which a Fund may undertake and on the potential increase in the speculative character of a Fund's outstanding portfolio securities. Additionally, such segregated assets will generally ensure the availability of adequate funds to meet the obligations of a Fund arising from such investment activities.

Securities Lending Each Fund may lend portfolio securities to certain creditworthy borrowers, including the Funds' securities lending agent. It is the Funds' policy that, at origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral in the form of cash and/or high-grade debt obligations, equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities, is maintained at all times. The cash collateral can be invested in certain money market mutual funds which also have exposure to the fluctuations of the market. The value of the investment of cash collateral for securities on loan along with the obligation to return such collateral are included on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. The value of securities received as collateral for securities on loan are not included on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities because the receiving Fund does not have the right to sell or repledge the securities received as collateral. Each Fund receives compensation for lending its securities from interest or dividends earned on the cash or U.S. government securities held as collateral, net of fee rebates paid to the borrower plus reasonable administrative and custody fees. The securities lending income earned by the Funds is disclosed on the Statements of Operations. The dividend and interest income earned on the securities loaned is accounted for in the same manner as other dividend and interest income. The borrower pays to the Funds an amount equal to any dividends or interest received on loaned securities. The Funds retain all or a portion of the interest received on investment of cash collateral or receive a fee from the borrower. Lending portfolio securities could result in a loss or delay in recovering each Fund's securities if the borrower defaults.

Short-Term Investments Each Fund may invest a portion of its assets in high-quality money market instruments on an ongoing basis to provide liquidity or for other reasons. The instruments include short-term obligations issued by the U.S. Government, its agencies, non-U.S. Government agencies, negotiable certificates of deposit (CDs), fixed time deposits and bankers' acceptances of U.S. and foreign banks and similar institutions, commercial papers, repurchase agreements and money market funds. CDs are short-term negotiable obligations of commercial banks. Time deposits are non-negotiable deposits maintained in banking institutions for specified periods of time at stated interest rates. Bankers' acceptances are time drafts drawn on commercial banks by borrowers, usually in connection with international transactions.

Tax Information and Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders It is each Fund's policy to comply with all requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). Each Fund intends to qualify for and to elect treatment as a separate Regulated Investment Company (RIC) under Subchapter M of the Code. It is the policy of each Fund to pay out dividends, if any, to investors at least annually. There can be no guarantee that a Fund will pay dividends. Taxable net realized gains from investment transactions, reduced by capital loss carryforwards, if any, are declared and distributed to shareholders at least annually. The capital loss carryforward amount, if any, is available to offset future net capital gains. The Funds may occasionally be required to make supplemental distributions at some other time during the year. The Trust reserves the right to declare special distributions if, in its reasonable discretion, such action is necessary or advisable to preserve the status of each Fund as a RIC or to avoid imposition of income or excise taxes on undistributed income. Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions from net investment income and net realized capital gains are determined in accordance with the requirements of the Code and the U.S. Treasury regulations which may differ from GAAP. These book/tax differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the components of net assets based on their Federal tax basis treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassification. Dividends and distributions that exceed earnings and profit for tax purposes are reported for tax purposes as a return of capital to the extent of a shareholder's tax basis, and thereafter as capital gain.

Notes to Financial Statements (continued)3. ADVISORY FEES AND TRANSACTIONS

WTAM has overall responsibility for the general management and administration of the Trust. WTAM provides an investment program for each Fund. WTAM has arranged for Mellon Capital Management Corporation (MCM) to provide sub-advisory services to the Currency, Fixed Income and Alternative Funds, except for Emerging Markets Corporate Bond Fund and Global Corporate Bond Fund which are sub-advised by Western Asset Management Company and certain affiliates (WAMCO). * Under the recently enacted Regulated Investment Company Modernization Act of 2010, a Fund is permitted to carry forward any new capital losses for an unlimited period. The character of these losses are noted above.

During the fiscal year or period ended August 31, 2013, the following Funds incurred and will elect to defer net post-October capital losses and late-year ordinary losses as follows:

At August 31, 2013, the effect of permanent book/tax reclassifications resulted in increases (decreases) to the components of net assets as follows:

Managed Futures Strategy Fund (consolidated)	1,556,225	(1,878,688)	322,463

These differences are primarily due to the calculation of currency gains/losses, realized book income from wholly owned foreign subsidiaries, treatment of swap income, the realization for tax purposes of gain/(loss) on certain derivative instruments, non-deductible expenses, redemptions-in-kind, redesignation of dividends and the utilization of earnings and profits distributed to shareholders on redemption of shares.

GAAP provides guidance on tax provisions that prescribe a minimum threshold for financial statement recognition of the benefit of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. Foreign taxes are provided for based on each Fund's understanding of the tax rules and rates that exist in the foreign markets in which it invests. Taxes are accrued and applied to net investment income, net realized capital gains and net unrealized appreciation, as applicable, as the income is earned or capital gains are recorded. As of and during the fiscal year ended August 31, 2013, the Funds did not have any liabilities for unrecognized tax benefits relating to uncertain income tax positions they have taken or expect to take in the future. If applicable, the Funds will recognize interest accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in interest expense and penalties in Other expenses on the Statements of Operations. The Funds file tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, the State of New York, and various other states. Generally, each of the tax years in the four-year period ended August 31, 2013, remains subject to examination by taxing authorities.

7. NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

Edgar Filing: WisdomTree Trust - Form N-CSR

In December 2011, FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2011-11 Disclosures about Offsetting Assets and Liabilities (ASU 2011-11). These disclosures are intended to help investors and other financial statement users to better assess the effect or potential effect of offsetting arrangements on a company s financial position. They also improve transparency in the reporting of how companies mitigate credit risk, including disclosure of related collateral pledged or received. In addition, ASU 2011-11 facilitates comparisons between those entities that prepare their financial statements on the basis of US GAAP and those entities that prepare their financial statements on the basis of international financial reporting standards. ASU 2011-11 requires entities to disclose (i) gross and net information about both instruments and transactions eligible for offset in the financial statements and (ii) instruments and transactions subject to an agreement similar to a master netting agreement. ASU 2011-11 is effective for fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2013, and interim periods within those annual periods.

On January 31, 2013, FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2013-01 Clarifying the Scope of Disclosures about Offsetting Assets and Liabilities (ASU 2013-01). ASU 2013-01 limits the scope of the new balance sheet offsetting disclosures to the following financial instruments, to the extent they are offset in the financial statements or subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement: (i) recognized derivative instruments accounted for under ASC 815 (Derivatives and Hedging); (ii) repurchase agreements and reverse repurchase agreements; and (iii) securities borrowing and securities lending transactions. The disclosures are required irrespective of whether the transactions are offset in the statement of assets and liabilities. The effective date and transition of the disclosure requirements in ASU 2011-11 remain unchanged.

At this time, management is evaluating the implications of ASU 2011-11 and ASU 2013-01 and their impact on the Trust's financial statement disclosures.

8. LEGAL MATTER

On December 1, 2011, Research Affiliates, LLC (Research Affiliates) filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, naming the Trust, WTAM, and its parent company, WisdomTree Investments, along with other parties, as defendants. The complaint alleged that the fundamentally weighted investment methodology developed by WisdomTree Investments and employed by the Trust infringes three of plaintiff's patents. The complaint sought both unspecified monetary damages to be determined and an injunction to prevent further infringement.

On November 7, 2012, Research Affiliates agreed to withdraw its suit and defendants agreed to withdraw their counterclaims and entered into a settlement agreement. Under the settlement, all parties exchanged releases for all existing claims. The other material terms of the settlement are as follows:

Research Affiliates agreed not to sue the Trust, WTAM and WisdomTree Investments (the WisdomTree Parties) for any future claims arising under any current patents held by Research Affiliates, as well as any future patents relating to fundamentally-weighted indexes and strategies that may issue under existing or future patent applications that may be filed by Research Affiliates within the next eight years, subject to reduction by up to three years if Research Affiliates is acquired. The covenant not to sue extends to service providers and customers of the WisdomTree Parties in connection with their products and services.

The WisdomTree Parties agreed not to sue Research Affiliates for any future claims arising under any current patents held by the WisdomTree Parties, as well as any future patents relating to fundamentally-weighted indexes and strategies that may issue under existing or future patent applications that may be filed by the WisdomTree Parties within the next eight years, subject to reduction by up to three years if any of the WisdomTree Parties are acquired. The covenant not to sue extends to service providers and customers of Research Affiliates in connection with Research Affiliates' products and services.

Research Affiliates and the WisdomTree Parties agreed that the covenants not to sue do not include a right under each party's patents to copy the other party's methodologies. They have further agreed that it is not copying if Research Affiliates introduces an index or strategy that uses at least three fundamental factors to weight its indexes and they are not predominantly dividend-or earnings-weighted, or any of the WisdomTree Parties introduces an index or strategy that is weighted by less than three fundamental factors.

The parties also agreed not to challenge the other party's patents or patent applications.

Edgar Filing: WisdomTree Trust - Form N-CSR

Research Affiliates agreed to a one-time payment of $0.7 million to WisdomTree Investments. The WisdomTree Parties and the other defendants were not required to make any current or future payments to Research Affiliates.

All other terms of the settlement are confidential and the settlement will not affect the current methodologies and fees for any of the Trust's Funds.

WTAM and WisdomTree Investments had previously contractually agreed to indemnify the Trust and pay any losses, claims and damages (including legal fees) incurred by the Trust or a Fund in connection with the complaint so the Trust incurred no out-of-pocket expense in connection with this lawsuit.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

At a meeting held on June 12, 2013 of the Board of Trustees of the Trust, WTAM recommended the appointment of WAMCO to serve as a new investment sub-adviser for the Global Real Return Fund (the Fund), replacing MCM, the Fund's then-current investment sub-adviser. WTAM's recommendation of WAMCO was based on, among other factors, WAMCO's prior experience with funds in the WisdomTree fund complex as well as WAMCO's expertise in active management and its performance track record. Subsequent to the reporting period, on September 26, 2013, WAMCO's appointment as the new investment sub-adviser for the Fund became effective.

In September 2013, WTAM entered into agreements to change fund administration and custody services from Bank of New York Mellon to State Street Bank and Trust Company, effective April 1, 2014.

We were not engaged to perform an audit of the Trust's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements and financial highlights, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of August 31, 2013, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers or by other appropriate auditing procedures where replies from brokers were not received. Approval of Investment Advisory and Sub-Advisory Agreement (unaudited)

At a meeting of Board of Trustees (the Board) of the WisdomTree Trust (the Trust) held on June 12, 2013 (the Meeting), WisdomTree Asset Management, Inc. (WTAM) recommended the appointment of Western Asset Management Company (Western) to serve as a new investment sub-adviser for WisdomTree Global Real Return Fund (the Fund), replacing Mellon Capital Management Corporation, the Fund's then-current investment sub-adviser. WTAM's recommendation of Western was based on, among other factors, Western's prior experience with funds in the WisdomTree fund complex as well as Western's expertise in active management and its performance track record.

At the Meeting, the Board, including those trustees who are not interested persons (as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended) of the Trust (the Independent Trustees), considered the approval of the Investment Sub-Advisory Agreement (the Agreement) between WTAM and Western pursuant to which Western will coordinate the investment and reinvestment of the assets of the Fund.

In considering whether to approve the Agreement, the Board considered and discussed information and analysis provided by WTAM. The Board was assisted in its review by independent legal counsel. In considering the approval of the Agreement, the Board considered all factors that it deemed to be relevant, including those discussed below. The Board did not identify any particular factor as controlling, and each Trustee may have attributed different weights to the various factors.

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services to be Provided. The Board considered the nature, extent and quality of the services to be provided by Western, recognizing Western's operational capabilities and resources. The Board considered Western's organization, history and reputation and the qualifications of its personnel, as well as its expertise in providing portfolio management services to other similar investment portfolios. The Board also considered WTAM's favorable assessment of the nature and quality of the investment sub-advisory services expected to be provided to the Fund by Western and WTAM's recommendation to engage Western.

Investment Performance of Western. Because Western was a newly-appointed investment sub-adviser for the Fund, the Board could not consider Western's investment performance in managing the Fund's portfolio as a factor in evaluating the Agreement during the Meeting. The Board discussed with WTAM representatives the portfolio management personnel and the investment strategies to be employed in management of the Fund's assets.

Costs of Services to be Provided, Profitability and Economies of Scale. The Board considered the proposed fees to be paid under the Agreement, noting that the fees would be paid by WTAM, and not the Fund, and thus would not impact the fees paid by the Fund. The Board concluded that the proposed fees payable to Western by WTAM were reasonable and appropriate. The Board recognized that, because Western's fee would be paid by WTAM, and not the Fund, an analysis of profitability and economies of scale was more appropriate in the context of the Board's consideration of the investment advisory agreement between the Trust and WTAM. Accordingly, the Board did not consider Western's profitability to be relevant to its deliberations with respect to approval of the Agreement. The Board considered potential benefits to Western from acting as investment sub-adviser to the Fund.

Conclusion. After consideration of the factors discussed above, the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, determined that the approval of the Agreement was in the best interests of the Fund and approved the Agreement for the Fund.

The WisdomTree Funds are exchange traded funds (ETFs) registered with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission as separate series (Funds) of WisdomTree Trust (Trust). WisdomTree Asset Management, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of WisdomTree Investments, Inc., serves as the investment adviser to the Trust. None of the WisdomTree entities are affiliated with ALPS Distributors, Inc., the Funds distributor. WisdomTree Investments, its affiliates and their independent providers are not liable for any informational errors, incompleteness, delays, or for any actions taken in reliance on information contained herein.

Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Funds carefully before investing. A prospectus, containing this and other information, is available at www.wisdomtree.com, or by calling 1-866-909-WISE (9473). Investors should read the prospectus carefully before investing. There are risks associated with investing, including possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Indexes are unmanaged and you cannot invest directly in an index.

There are risks associated with investing including possible loss of principal. Foreign investing involves special risks, such as risk of loss from currency fluctuation or political or economic uncertainty. Investments in real estate involve additional special risks, such as credit risk, interest rate fluctuations and the effect of varied economic conditions. Funds that focus their investments in one country or region may be significantly impacted by events and developments associated with the region which can adversely affect performance. Funds focusing on a single sector and/or smaller companies generally experience greater price volatility. Investments in emerging, offshore or frontier markets are generally less liquid and less efficient than investments in developed markets and are subject to additional risks, such as risks of adverse governmental regulation and intervention or political developments. Inflation protected securities do not eliminate risks associated with inflation or deflation. Investments in currency involve additional special risks, such as credit risk and interest rate fluctuations. Derivative investments can be volatile and these investments may be less liquid than other securities, and more sensitive to the effect of varied economic conditions. As these Funds can have a high concentration in some issuers the Funds can be adversely impacted by changes affecting such issuers.

Fixed income investments are subject to interest rate risk; their value will normally decline as interest rates rise. In addition when interest rates fall income may decline. Fixed income investments are also subject to credit risk, the risk that the issuer of a bond will fail to pay interest and principal in a timely manner, or that negative perceptions of the issuer's ability to make such payments will cause the price of that bond to decline. One of the risks associated with the Managed Futures Strategy Fund (WDTI) and the Global Real Return Fund (RRF) is the complexity of the different factors which contribute to each Fund's performance, as well as their correlation (or non-correlation) to other asset classes. These factors include use of long and short positions in commodity futures contracts, currency forward contracts, swaps and other derivatives. An investment in WDTI is speculative and involves a substantial degree of risk. WDTI should not be used as a proxy for taking long only (or short only) positions in commodities or currencies. In markets without sustained price trends or markets that quickly reverse or whipsaw WDTI may suffer significant losses. Unlike typical exchange-traded funds, there are no indexes that the Currency Funds, Fixed Income Funds, WDTI or RRF attempt to track or replicate. Thus, the ability of these Funds to achieve their objectives will depend on the effectiveness of the portfolio manager. Due to the investment strategy of certain Funds they may make higher capital gain distributions than other ETFs. Please read the Fund's prospectus for specific details regarding the Fund's risk profile.

Transactions in Fund shares will result in brokerage commissions and will generate tax consequences. Shares may be sold through brokerage accounts, but may be redeemed from the Funds only in large amounts of 50,000 shares or more.
