On April 21, 2017, Clyde Hosein delivered notice to RingCentral, Inc. (the Company) that he will resign as the Company's Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, effective as of the day following the date on which the Company files its quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the three months ended March 31, 2017. Mr. Hosein will remain employed in a non-executive role until the end of May 2017 in order to, among other things, assist in the transition of his responsibilities. Mr. Hosein's resignation did not involve any disagreement on any matter related to the Company's operations, policies or practices.

On April 21, 2017, the Company's Board of Directors (the Board) appointed Mitesh Dhruv, the Company's current Senior Vice President, Finance and Strategy, to serve as Chief Financial Officer, effective as of the same date as Mr. Hosein's resignation.

Mr. Dhruv, 39, has served with the Company since April 2012 in a variety of positions, including most recently as Senior Vice President, Finance and Strategy since October 2015. From September 2014 to October 2015, he served as the Company's Vice President, Finance and Corporate Controller, and from April 2012 to September 2014, as Vice President, Finance. Prior to joining RingCentral, he worked at Bank of America-Merrill Lynch from December 2005 to March 2012 as an equity analyst, covering software and cloud companies. Mr. Dhruv currently receives an annual base salary of $285,000 and is eligible to participate in the Company's benefits and MBO bonus program, with his target bonus being 75% of base salary. The Board has not yet determined the compensation and other terms of Mr. Dhruv's employment following his appointment as Chief Financial Officer of the Company.

There are no arrangements or understandings between Mr. Dhruv and any other persons pursuant to which Mr. Dhruv was appointed an officer of the Company, and there are no family relationships between Mr. Dhruv and any directors or executive officer of the Company.
