P&G Colleagues,

We issued our third letter today in the series of letters to P&G shareholders about the ongoing proxy contest with Triun.

Before commenting on the letter, I want to acknowledge that we've heard your feedback regarding the many proxy voting materials you have received. We recognize it's a lot, because that's what happens in proxy contests, and it will continue until the October 10 Annual Shareholder Meeting. The volume is especially heavy for P&G employees and retirees who receive the bulk of the mailings because of substantial stock ownership.

We thank you for your patience during this unusual time, and ask for your help to continue voting. We hope the How to Vote BLUE video has been helpful. And as always, we want to continue to hear what's on your mind. Your voice is important, so talk with your manager about your business, and click HERE to provide your feedback and questions about the Company.

In the letter you and all shareholders will soon receive, we reinforce a few key points:

P&G is a profoundly different Company than it was just a few years ago. We are executing a winning strategy that is working, and now is the time to focus on accelerating momentum.

The P&G Board has the skills and experience to continue successfully overseeing the execution of the plan in place. We regularly refresh our Board and add new Directors who can best help advance the strategy to deliver value for all P&G shareholders.

We've done our homework and concluded that Nelson Peltz is not right for the P&G Board. The overwhelming feedback we received from investors, analysts and executives was clear: Mr. Peltz would not be helpful to P&G's Board, management team and employees that are successfully executing a plan that has the Company on the right track. He has an outdated view of P&G and our industry, and is focused on his own agenda simply to meet the expectations of his limited partners. Adding an activist investor like Mr. Peltz risks undoing what we've done and derailing the progress we are making to deliver for all P&G shareholders.

By now, these points are familiar to you. But I want to reinforce one more point, and that's how much I believe in the power of you P&G people. You have executed the most significant transformation in our Company's history. You have met or exceeded our objectives for the past fiscal year. You have delivered strong shareholder returns in the past two years well above the vast majority of peers.

I strongly believe it is in the best interest of our Company, our shareholders, and each of us who care about P&G and the communities in which we live and work, to VOTE BLUE because it is a vote for BOTH strong shareholder returns in the short-, mid- and long-term AND a vote for you, P&G people.

Thank you for all that you are doing and for your support.

Sincerely,

David

Important Additional Information and Where to Find It
