About Zhongjin

Zhongjin is incorporated under the laws of the People's Republic of China ("China") and is headquartered in Tianjin, China. Zhongjin engages in the business of producing and distributing Reconstituted Bone Xenograft ("RBX"), which is considered to be a medical device. This bone grafting technology accelerates bone healing. Its medical devices are distributed to 400 hospitals in 22 provinces throughout China. Zhongjin markets its technology to hospitals in China and targets to position itself as a comprehensive medical device provider of bone grafting products and services.

Industry Overview

Historically the primary technology for bone grafting includes the methods of (i) autograft, a method that requires multiple painful surgeries, or (ii) allograft which carries certain immunological risks. The autograft is a procedure in which a complex or compound bone fracture is fused using bone tissue harvested from the patient's own body, usually the hip bone. The allograft procedure, although similar to the autograft procedure, uses bone tissue from a donor's cadaver bone. Compared to the traditional aforementioned techniques, the xenograft procedure derives its material from porcine or bovine bone to manufacture a natural ingredient.

Zhongjin Products

Management believes that Zhongjin's RBX requires fewer medical procedures and presents less immunological side effects compared to autograft or allograft methods. Manufacturing of RBX starts with a bovine bone. Chemical agents decalcify and remove protein from the low-density bone removing impurities that may infect or be rejected by the patient's body. This process makes the bone more tolerable to human tissues. Bone Morphogenetic Protein ("BMP") is infused into the inorganic bone and the result is RBX. The entire process of RBX takes approximately 100 days, and can be used in a variety of bone-related injuries.

Zhongjin is dedicated to the manufacture of RBX. RBX was tested at Beijing General Military Hospital and enjoyed an 88.4% success rate, as determined by clinical trials conducted by the hospital's Orthopedic Department. In certain cases, it has been found to be more cost effective than traditional methods. The 100 day process includes initial bone selection, detoxification of the fresh bone materials, the extraction process of BMP and the decalcification to make the de-antigen carrier element, followed by sterile laboratory manipulation to impregnate this element with BMP to final RBX form. Quality is assured by the Tianjin Institute for Medical Science, a leading Chinese medical research institute, through sample testing of BMP bio-growth materials and the final product RBX. RBX has excellent compatibility with natural human bone. RBX can be used for injuries ranging from complex fractures to bone defects and bone traumas.

Marketing

Zhongjin is presently manufacturing and distributing RBX to 400 hospitals in 22 provinces of China. Through intensive marketing campaigns and development of its distribution network, Zhongjin is experiencing growing demand for this product. With increased national medical budgets, a national initiative to enhance medical procedures and in the interest of increasing 'quality of life' technologies, China's medical community is adapting RBX technology to counter the rapid increase of bone related injuries. With a significant rise in bone-related traumas in China and no immediate solutions for hospitals, Zhongjin believes that the medical industry requires a cheaper, minimally intrusive surgical procedure to meet the demands placed on hospitals by growing cases of bone-related injuries.

Zhongjin makes direct sales through a distribution network consisting of nine provincial branches with 50 direct sales personnel. This network is further expanded by 20 independent medical device third party resellers covering another 13 provinces. The marketing of the products is carried out through professional medical seminars, technical conferences, internal hospital meetings and clinical studies. All of these techniques are used to promote the advantages and applications of the products to the medical community. Zhongjin has identified 224 key hospitals and certain doctors for promotion of the RBX products in 2004. Product awareness has also been promoted and enhanced through advertisements in professional magazines and the press, such as the Chinese Journal of Orthopedics and Chinese Journal of Surgery.

Sources and Availability of Raw Materials (Vendors)

The principle element of RBX is bovine bone for which there are numerous suppliers, and obtaining the main ingredient is relatively simple and inexpensive.

Customers

Zhongjin's two main customers are medical device resellers: the Shanghai Yicheng Medical Device Company is Zhongjin's largest customer, representing 15% of total sales in 2004, and the Anhui Hefei Jialian Medical Appliance Company representing 10% of total sales in 2004. The aforementioned customers have each signed a three-year letter of intent for RBX deliveries from 2004 through 2006, amounting to $1,425,000 in sales, although these agreements are not binding on the parties and may be changed or terminated at any time. Zhongjin recognizes the importance of the medical device resellers for increasing sales and continues to establish new links with medical device companies throughout China. Zhongjin's medical device customers represent 56% of all sales, and direct sales to hospitals and doctors account for 44% of sales in 2004.

Intellectual Property

Zhongjin has no trademarks or patents pending on its technology. Zhongjin maintains the RBX technology as a trade secret since public knowledge of the RBX manufacturing process on a wide-scale would erode the Company's competitive advantage. Zhongjin has signed confidentiality agreements with key employees who are in critical positions of the manufacturing process. As a further means of security, files and records relating to the manufacturing process are maintained separately, and no non-executive level employee is acquainted with the entire process.

Research and Development

Historically, research and development has been conducted by independent parties. In 2004, research and development continued to be conducted by independent parties and charged to operations as incurred.

Government and Environmental Regulations

Zhongjin maintains the following licenses and is in good standing with the regulatory agencies that enforce PRC government laws:

- (i) Business License issued by The Tianjin Administration for Industry and Commerce;
- (ii) Manufacturing License for Medical Devices issued by The Tianjin Drug Administration, and
- (iii) Certificate for Medical Devices Product Standard: Q12 XJ 3867-2001, which is a certified product statement of manufacturing and production for medical devices.

These regulations are issued by the State Food and Drug Administration of China. The nature of the product and industry in which Zhongjin operates is highly regulated and governmental approval is vital to production of medical device products.

Employees

As of December 31, 2004, Zhongjin had 91 full-time employees broken down as follows:

	Department	No. of employees
Management		11
Production(1)		23
Sales		41
Finance and accounting		6
Administration		5
Total		86

(1) Third party medical institutions undertake research and development. However, in-house R&D professionals are currently included as production personnel.

In 2004, Zhongjin recruited 37 additional employees, of which 10 are production staff, 27 in sales, and 5 in finance. It allows Zhongjin to continue to meet product demand and enables it to expand its sales and distribution networks. Our management team is based in Tianjin City, China, and consists of 7 managers that lead a sales team of 41 persons. The sales teams are located in the provinces of Guangdong, Tianjin, Beijing, Shandong, Hunan, Hubei, Sichuan and Fujian.

Competition

The RBX technology developed by Zhongjin is competing against traditional methods of bone graft surgery such as autografting and allografting. Most bone grafting products derived from natural bone or synthetic bone marrow combinations for bone fusion procedures are available internationally and are predominantly developed and manufactured by international pharmaceutical companies. In China, the traditional bone grafting products dominate the market. The present market for bone grafting technology is fragmented with only several small firms operating in regional markets and Zhongjin believes that there is no other company committed to the development of a manufacturing platform for the xenograft technology to serve the current national demand for such products.

Shanxi Osteorad is a competitor on a national level and it specializes in allograft-related products. Other companies that provide bone grafting medical devices include the synthetic bone grafting products from companies such as Shanghai Rebone Biomaterials Co., Ltd., and U.S. Biomaterials Corporation, as well as Mathys (Shanghai) Medical Trading Company Ltd. which produce synthetic bone grafting products. The Shanghai Xiaobo Science and Technology Development Company produces p-DBM (de-mineralized bone matrix) on a small scale and does not directly compete with Zhongjin.

Related Party Transactions

The Company advanced cash to parties related through common shareholders during 2003 and 2004. Of the total of $1,170,700, $169,286 is interest-free, unsecured and due on demand. As regards to the term loan of $244,263 already due for repayment on April 30, 2005, the Company has extended the term for 1 year from May 1, 2005 to April 30, 2006 at an interest rate of 6% per annum. The Company paid off the purchase price in cash during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003.

Risk Factors

OUR PRIMARY OPERATIONS ARE CONDUCTED IN THE PRC AND THEREFORE OUR BUSINESS CAN BE ADVERSELY AFFECTED BY CHANGES IN THE POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL CONDITIONS IN THE PRC.

The Company's primary operations are conducted in the PRC. Accordingly, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations may be influenced by the political, economic and legal environments in the PRC, and by the general state of the PRC's economy.

The Company's operations in the PRC are subject to special considerations and significant risks not typically associated with companies in North America and Western Europe. These include risks associated with, among others, the political, economic and legal environments and foreign currency exchange. The Company's results may be adversely affected by changes in the political, economic and social conditions in the PRC, and by changes in governmental policies with respect to laws and regulations, anti-inflationary measures, currency conversion and remittance abroad, and rates and methods of taxation, among other things.

The Company's operating assets and primary sources of income and cash flows are its interest in subsidiary company in the PRC. The PRC economy has, for many years, been a centrally-planned economy, operating on the basis of annual, five-year and ten-year state plans adopted by central PRC governmental authorities, which set out national production and development targets. The PRC government has been pursuing economic reforms since it first adopted its "open-door" policy in 1978. There is no assurance that the PRC government will continue to pursue economic reforms or that there will not be any significant change in its economic or other policies, particularly in the event of any change in the political leadership of, or the political, economic or social conditions in, the PRC. There is also no assurance that the Company will not be adversely affected by any such change in governmental policies or any unfavorable change in the political, economic or social conditions, the laws or regulations, or the rate or method of taxation in the PRC.

As many of the economic reforms which have been or are being implemented by the PRC government are unprecedented or experimental, they may be subject to adjustment or refinement, which may have adverse effects on the Company. Further, through state plans and other economic and fiscal measures, it remains possible for the PRC government to exert significant influence on the PRC economy.

WE HAVE CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Certain conflicts of interest exist between us and our officers and directors. The officers have other business interests to which they currently devote attention, and are expected to continue to do so. As a result, conflicts of interest may arise that can be resolved only through their exercise of judgment in a manner which is consistent with their fiduciary duties owed to the Company.

REGULATION OF PENNY STOCKS

Our securities are subject to a Securities and Exchange Commission rule that imposes special sales practice requirements upon broker-dealers who sell such securities to persons other than established customers or accredited investors. For purpose of the rule, "accredited investors" means, in general terms, institutions with assets in excess of $5,000,000, or individuals having a net worth in excess of $1,000,000 or having an annual income that exceeds $200,000 (or that, when combined with a spouse's income, exceeds $300,000). For transactions covered by the rule, the broker dealer must make special suitability determination for the purchaser and receive from the purchasers written agreement to the transaction prior to the sale. Consequently, the rule may affect the ability of broker-dealers to sell our securities and also may affect the ability of our purchasers to sell such securities in any market that might develop therefor.

In addition, the Securities and Exchange Commission has adopted a number of rules to regulate penny stocks. Such rules include Rule 3a51-1 under the Securities Act of 1933, an Rules 15g-1, 15g-2, 15g-3, 15g-4, 15g-5, 15g-6, and 15g- 7 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Because our securities may constitute penny stocks within the meaning of the rules, the rules would apply us and to our securities. The rules may further affect the ability of our shareholders to sell their shares in any public market, which might develop.

According to Securities and Exchange Commission Release No. 34-29093, the market for penny stocks has suffered in recent years from patterns of fraud and abuse. Such patterns include (i) control of the market for the security by one or a few broker-dealers that are often related to the promoter or issuer; (ii) manipulation of prices through prearranged matching of purchases and sales and false and misleading press releases; (iii) boiler room practices involving high-pressure sales tactics and unrealistic price projections by inexperienced sales persons; (iv) excessive and undisclosed bid-ask differential and markups by selling broker-dealers; and (v) the wholesale dumping of the same securities by promoters and broker-dealers after prices have been manipulated to a desired level, along with the resulting inevitable collapse of those prices and with consequent investor losses. Our management is aware of the abuses that have occurred historically in the penny stock market. Although we do not expect to be in a position to dictate the behavior of the market or of broker-dealers who participate in the market, management will strive within the confines of practical limitations to prevent the described patterns form being established with respect to our securities.

INDEMNIFICATION OF OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Our By-Laws provide for the indemnification of our directors, officers, employees, and agents, under certain circumstances, against attorney's fees and other expenses incurred by them in any litigation to which they become a party arising from their association with or activities on behalf of us. We will also bear the expenses of such litigation for any of our directors, officers, employees, or agents, upon such persons promise to repay us therefor if it is ultimately determined that any such person shall not have been entitled to indemnification. This indemnification policy could result in substantial expenditures by us, which we may be unable to recoup.

DEPENDENCE UPON OUTSIDE ADVISORS

To supplement the business experience of our officers and directors, we may be required to employ accountants, technical experts, appraisers, attorneys, or other consultants or advisors. The selection of any such advisors will be made by our officers. Furthermore, it is anticipated that such persons may be engaged on an as needed basis without a continuing fiduciary or other obligation to us. In the event our officers consider it necessary to hire outside advisors, they may elect to hire people who are affiliates, if those affiliates are able to provide the required services.

NO FORESEEABLE DIVIDENDS

We have not paid dividends on our securities and do not anticipate paying such dividends in the foreseeable future.

NO PUBLIC MARKET EXISTS

While our equity securities are listed for trading on the Over the Counter Bulletin Board under the trading symbol "GENX.OB", there is no significant or consistent public market for our common stock, and no assurance can be given that a market will develop or that a shareholder will ever be able to liquidate such investment without considerable delay, if at all. If a market should develop, the price may be highly volatile.

Factors such as those discussed in this Risk Factors section may have a significant impact upon the market price of the securities. Owing to the low price of the securities, many brokerage firms may not be willing to effect transactions in the securities. Even if a purchaser finds a broker willing to effect a transaction in these securities, the combination of brokerage commissions, state transfer taxes, if any, and any other selling costs may exceed the selling price. Further, many leading institutions will not permit the use of such securities as collateral for any loans.

RULE 144 SALES

Our restricted shares of common stock may be resold only pursuant to an effective registration statement or under the requirements of Rule 144 or other applicable state securities law. Rule 144 provides in essence that a person who has held restricted securities for a prescribed period, may under certain conditions, sell every three months, in brokerage transactions, a number of shares that does not exceed the greater of 1.0% of our outstanding common stock or the average weekly trading volume during the four calendar weeks prior to sale. There is no limit on the amount of restricted securities that may be sold by a non-affiliate after the restricted securities have been held by the owner, for a period of at least two years. A sale under Rule 144, or under any other exemption from the Act, if available, or pursuant to subsequent registrations of common stock of present shareholders, may have a depressive effect upon the price of our common stock.

STATE LAW CONSIDERATION

Because the securities registered hereunder have not been registered for resale under the laws of any state, the holders of such shares and persons who desire to purchase them in any trading market that might develop in the future, should be aware, that there may be significant state restrictions upon the ability of investors to sell the securities and of purchasers to purchase the securities. Accordingly, investors should consider the secondary market for our securities to be a limited one.

The increase in revenue was mainly due to the commercialization of our main product, Reconstituted Bone Xenograft, as well as increased marketing efforts, which resulted in increases in our customer base and related volume of recurring and new customer sales. In addition, the Company only commenced business operations in June for fiscal year of 2003 whereas the Company has been in operation for the whole fiscal year of 2004.

For the year ended December 31, 2004, total gross profit was $2,067,404 or 88.0% of total net sales, as compared to total gross profit of $1,009,274 or 82.6% of total net sales for the period from February 10, 2003 (date of inception) to December 31, 2003. The gross profit margin was improved by 5.4%, which was primarily due to commercialization of our main product, Reconstituted Bone Xenograft, and increased sales of products.

Selling Expenses. For the year ended December 31, 2004, selling expenses was $528,427, as compared to $280,160 for the period from February 10, 2003 (date of inception) to December 31, 2003, reflecting an increase of $248,267 or 88.6%. The selling expenses to sales, is 22.5% and 22.9% for the year ended December 31, 2004 and for the period from February 10, 2003 (date of inception) to December 31, 2003, respectively. The slight improvement in selling expenses was primarily due to the continued development and implementation of our business during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004.

General and Administrative Expenses. For the year ended December 31, 2004, general and administrative expenses was $546,859, as compared to general and administrative expenses of $285,362 for the period from February 10, 2003 (date of inception) to December 31, 2003, reflecting an increase of $261,497 or 91.6%. The general and administrative expenses to sales, is 23.3% and 23.4% for the year ended December 31, 2004 and for the period from February 10, 2003 (date of inception) to December 31, 2003, respectively. The increase in general and administrative expenses are in line with the increases in net sales.

Other income (Expenses). For the year ended December 31, 2004, interest income was $22,646 as compared to interest income of $7,233 for the period from February 10, 2003 (date of inception) to December 31, 2003. The increase was primarily due to the increase in amounts advanced to related parties during 2004.

Net Income. The Company recorded a net income of $1,013,261 and $450,985 for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively. The increase is attributable to the substantial growth in the demand for our products throughout China and continued development and implementation of our business in 2004.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Operating. For the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004, the Company's operations provided cash resources of $90,046, as compared to cash resources used of $601,314 for the period from February 10, 2003 (date of inception) to December 31, 2003. The increase in net cash flows generated from operating activities in the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004, was primarily due to the decrease in cash flows related to inventories, accounts payable and accrued liabilities. As of December 31, 2004, we had $325,995 in cash and cash equivalents, as compared to $242,059 as of December 31, 2003.

Plan of Operation

The Company anticipates that, based on current plans and assumptions relating to its existing operations, its projected cash flow from operations are sufficient to support the Company's working capital requirement for its planned operations for the next twelve months.

Exchange rate

Fluctuations of currency exchange rates between Renminbi and the United States dollar could adversely affect our business since our sole investment conducts its business exclusively in China, and its revenue from operations is settled in Renminbi. The Chinese government controls its foreign reserves through restrictions on imports and conversion of Renminbi into foreign currency. Although the Renminbi to United States dollar exchange rate has been stable since January 1, 1994 and the Chinese government has stated its intention to maintain the stability of the value of the Renminbi, there can be no assurance that exchange rates will remain stable. The Renminbi could devalue against the United States dollar. Exchange rate fluctuations may adversely affect our revenue arising from the sales of products in China and denominated in Renminbi and our financial performance when measured in United States dollar.

Recent accounting pronouncements

In April 2002, The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS No. 145, "Rescission of FASB Statements No. 4, 22 and 64. Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13, and Technical Corrections." The Statement addresses the accounting for extinguishment of debt, sale-leaseback transactions and certain lease modifications. The Statement is effective for transactions occurring after May 15, 2002. The adoption of SFAS No. 145 did not have material impact on the Company's financial statement presentation or disclosure.

In July 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146, "Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities." The Statement addresses financial accounting and reporting for costs associated with exit or disposal activities and supercedes Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 94-3, "Liability Recognition for Certain Employee Termination Benefits and Other Costs to Exit an Activity (Including Certain Costs Incurred in a Restructuring)." The provisions of SFAS No. 146 are effective for exit or disposal activities that are initiated after December 31, 2002. The adoption of SFAS No. 146 did not have a material impact on the Company's financial statement presentation or disclosure.

In October 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 147, "Acquisitions of Certain Financial Institutions. The Company does not expect this standard will have any effect on its financial statement presentation or disclosure.

In November 2002, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 45, "Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others" (FIN 45). FIN 45 requires that upon issuance of a guarantee, a guarantor must recognize an initial liability for the market value of the obligations it assumes under that guarantee and must disclose that information in its interim and annual financial statements. The Company does not expect this standard will have any effect on its financial statements presentation or disclosure.

In December 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 148, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. Transition and Disclosure" SFAS No. 148 amends SFAS No. 123 "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation," to provide alternative methods of transition for a voluntary change to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. In addition, SFAS No. 148 amends the disclosure requirements of SFAS No. 123 to require prominent disclosures in both annual and interim financial statements about the method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation and the effect of the method used on reported results. SFAS No. 148 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2002. The interim disclosure provisions are effective for financial reports containing financial statements for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2002. The Company does not expect the adoption of SFAS No. 148 to have a material effect on our financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

In January 2003, the FASB issued Interpretation No. 46 "Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities (an interpretation of ARB No. 51) ("FIN-46")." FIN46 addresses consolidation by business enterprises of certain variable interest entities, commonly referred to as special purpose entities. The adoption of FIN46 is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 149 "Amendment of Statement 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities." SFAS No. 149 amends and clarifies financial accounting and reporting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts and for hedging activities under SFAS No. 133 "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities." It is effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003 and for hedging relationships designed after June 30, 2003. All provisions of SFAS No. 149 should be applied prospectively. The adoption of SFAS 149 is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In May 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 150, "Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity". SFAS 150 establishes standards for how an issuer classifies and measures certain financial instruments with characteristics of both liabilities and equity. It requires that an issuer classify a financial instrument that is within its scope as a liability (or as an asset in some circumstances). It is effective for financial instruments entered into or modified after May 31, 2003 and otherwise is effective at the beginning of the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003. It is to be implemented by reporting the cumulative effect of a change in an accounting principle for financial instruments created before issuance date of SFAS No. 150 and still existing at the beginning of the interim period of adoption. Restatement is permitted. The adoption of SFAS No. 150 is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In November 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued SFAS 151, Inventory Costs- an amendment of ARB No. 43, Chapter 4. This Statement amends the guidance in ARB No. 43, Chapter 4, "Inventory Pricing," to clarify the accounting for abnormal amounts of idle facility expense, freight, handling costs, and wasted material (spoilage). Paragraph 5 of ARB 43, Chapter 4, previously stated that "under some circumstances, items such as idle facility expense, excessive spoilage, double freight, and rehandling costs may be so abnormal as to require treatment as current period charges" This Statement requires that those items be recognized as current-period charges regardless of whether they meet the criterion of "so abnormal." In addition, this Statement requires that allocation of fixed production overheads to the costs of conversion be based on the normal capacity of the production facilities. This Statement is effective for inventory costs incurred during fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2005. Management does not believe the adoption of this Statement will have any immediate material impact on the Company.

On December 16, 2004, the FASB published Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (Revised 2004), Share-Based Payment ("SFAS 123R"). SFAS 123R requires that compensation cost related to share-based payment transactions be recognized in the financial statements. Share-based payment transactions within the scope of SFAS 123R include stock options, restricted stock plans, performance-based awards, stock appreciation rights, and employee share purchase plans. The provisions of SFAS 123R are effective as of the first interim period that begins after June 15, 2005. Accordingly, the Company will implement the revised standard in the third quarter of fiscal year 2005. Currently, the Company accounts for its share-based payment transactions under the provisions of APB 25, which does not necessarily require the recognition of compensation cost in the financial statements. Management is assessing the implications of this revised standard, which may materially impact the Company's results of operations in the third quarter of fiscal year 2005 and thereafter.

On December 16, 2004, FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 153, Exchanges of Nonmonetary Assets, an amendment of APB Opinion No. 29, Accounting for Nonmonetary Transactions ("SFAS 153"). This statement amends APB Opinion 29 to eliminate the exception for nonmonetary exchanges of similar productive assets and replaces it with a general exception for exchanges of nonmonetary assets that do not have commercial substance. Under SFAS 153, if a nonmonetary exchange of similar productive assets meets a commercial-substance criterion and fair value is determinable, the transaction must be accounted for at fair value resulting in recognition of any gain or loss. SFAS 153 is effective for nonmonetary transactions in fiscal periods that begin after June 15, 2005. The Company does not anticipate that the implementation of this standard will have a material impact on its financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

ITEM 7. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Financial Statements and schedules that constitute Item 7 are attached at the end of Annual Report on Form 10-KSB. An index to these Financial Statements and schedules is also included in Item 13 of this Annual Report on Form 10-KSB.

On June 9, 2004, the Company notified Manning Elliott, Chartered Accountants ("Elliott"), its independent public accountant that the Company was terminating its engagement effective June 17, 2004. The Company's Board of Directors approved such decision.

Elliott's opinion in its report on the Company's financial statements for the years ended September 30, 2002 and 2003 contained no adverse opinion or disclaimer of opinion and was not qualified or modified as to audit scope or accounting principle. During the two most recent fiscal years and the subsequent interim period ended June 17, 2004 (the date of termination), there were no disagreements with Elliott on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure, or auditing scope or procedure, which disagreements, if not resolved to the satisfaction of Elliott would have caused disagreements in connection with its report on our financial statements for any such periods.

From June 17, 2004 to October 26, 2004, Kabani & Company, Inc. ("Kabani") was engaged as the Company's independent public accountants. Prior to their dismissal, there were no disagreements with Kabani on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure or auditing scope or procedure, which disagreements if not resolved to the satisfaction of Kabani would have caused them to make reference to this subject matter of the disagreements in connection with their report, nor were there any "reportable events" as such term as described in Item 304(a)(1)(iv) of Regulation S-B .

On October 26, 2004, the Board of Directors dismissed Kabani as the Company's independent public accountants. On October 28, 2004, the Board appointed Weinberg & Company, Inc. to serve as the Company's independent public accountants till its dismissal on March 29, 2005.

On March 29, 2005, the Board re-appointed Kabani to serve as the Company's independent public accountants. None of the reports of Weinberg & Company, Inc. on the Company's financial statements since the last fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2004 contained an adverse opinion or a disclaimer of opinion, nor were they qualified or modified as to uncertainty, audit scope or accounting principles. From the time Weinberg & Company, Inc. was engaged as the Company's independent public accountants and during any subsequent interim period preceding the dismissal, there were no disagreements with Weinberg & Company, Inc. on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure, or auditing scope or procedure which, if not resolved to Weinberg & Company, Inc.'s satisfaction, would have caused Weinberg & Company, Inc. to make reference to the subject matter in connection with its report on the Registrant's financial statements during such periods; and there were no reportable events as defined in Item 304(a)(1)(v) of Regulation S-B.

ITEM 8A. INTERNAL CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

As of the end of the period covered by this report, the Company conducted an evaluation under the supervision and with the participation of the principal executive officer and principal financial officer, of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act")). Based on this evaluation, the principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms. There was no change in the Company's internal controls over financial reporting during the Company's most recently completed fiscal quarter that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

GENEX PHARMACEUTICAL, INC. AND SUBSIDIARY
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2004 AND 2003

NOTE 1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS AND BUSINESS COMBINATION

Tianjin Zhongjin Biology Development Co., Ltd. (TZBD) was founded in the People's Republic of China on February 10, 2003. TZBD is located in the Tianjin Economic and Technological Development Zone in the People's Republic of China. The business license of TZBD was issued by Tianjin Industrial and Commercial Administration on February 10, 2004. The operating period of the business license is from February 10, 2003 to February 9, 2053. TZBD is primarily engaged in production and sales of Reconstituted Bone Xenograft (RBX) in the People's Republic of China. All of the customers are hospitals in People's Republic of China. Marketing is either through distributors or through TZBD's sales offices in various cities in China.

On June 17, 2004, TZBD consummated a share purchase agreement with KS E-Media Holdings, Inc. ("KSE"), a Delaware corporation, under which TZBD shareholders sold 100% undivided interest in TZBD to KSE, in exchange for 3,658,375 shares of KSE. As a part of the agreement, KSE cancelled 2,212,500 shares of its issued and outstanding stock owned by its former president. Within ten (10) days from the Closing Date, KS E-Media effectuated a four-for-one forward split of the KS E-Media Common Shares by way of stock dividend. On June 17, 2004, the KSE was renamed Genex Pharmaceutical, Inc.

KSE was incorporated in the State of Delaware on February 28, 2002. Through June 17, 2004, KSE was considered a development stage company as defined by Statement of Financial Accounting Standard ("SFAS") No. 7, "Accounting and Reporting by Development Stage Enterprises". KSE was a start-up stage Internet based fulfillment Company based in Vancouver, BC, Canada. KSE filed a SB-2 Registration Statement with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") on December 23, 2002 that was declared effective May 7, 2003.

According to the terms of the share exchange agreement, control of the combined companies (the "Company") passed to the former shareholders of TZBD. This type of share exchange has been treated as a capital transaction accompanied by recapitalization of TZBD in substance, rather than a business combination, and is deemed a "reverse acquisition" for accounting purposes. No pro forma financial statements are being presented as the legal acquirer had no significant asset or operations prior to the acquisition.

CHANGE IN REGISTRATION LOCATION:

The Company changed its registration location from Tianjin economic and technological development district to Tianjin Xiqing economic development district. The change in registration took place on March 5, 2004.

NOTE 2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying consolidated financial statements at and for the year ended December 31, 2004 include the accounts of TZBD and its parent company, KSE (legal acquirer) from the date of acquisition. The historical results for the year ended December 31, 2004 include the accounts of TZBD only. All significant inter-company accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation

NOTE 3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, demand and time deposits with banks and liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less.

Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost (determined on a weighted average basis) or market. Management compares the cost of inventories with the market value and an allowance is made to write down the inventories to the market value, if market is lower than cost.

Accounts receivable and allowance for doubtful accounts

The Company uses the allowance method to account for uncollectible accounts receivable. The Company periodically adjusts the allowance for doubtful accounts based on management's continuing review of accounts receivable. This analysis by management is based on the composition of accounts receivable, analysis of historical bad debts, customer concentrations, customer credit worthiness, an analysis of current economic and business trends as well as changes in customer payment patterns. Terms of the sales vary from COD through a credit term up to 6 to 9 months.

The Company records a full allowance for accounts receivable that have been determined legally to be uncollectible. For accounts receivable that have been outstanding for over 270 days, the Company determines an appropriate allowance based on individual circumstances.

During the year ended December 2004 and 2003, the Company recorded $22,135 and $19,000 as general allowance for doubtful and long overdue accounts.

Advances from customers

The customers advance payments to the Company for purchases. The advances are interest free and unsecured. The advances from customers amounted to $76,149 at December 31, 2004.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to earnings as incurred; additions, renewals and betterments are capitalized. When property and equipment are retired or otherwise disposed of, the related cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the respective accounts, and any gain or loss is included in operations. Depreciation of property and equipment is provided using the straight-line method for substantially all assets with estimated lives ranging from 3 to 7 years.

Impairment of long-lived assets

Effective January 1, 2002, the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets" ("SFAS 144"), which addresses financial accounting and reporting for the impairment or disposal of long-lived assets and supersedes SFAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed Of," and the accounting and reporting provisions of APB Opinion No. 30, "Reporting the Results of Operations for a Disposal of a Segment of a Business." The Company periodically evaluates the carrying value of long-lived assets to be held and used in accordance with SFAS 144. SFAS 144 requires impairment losses to be recorded on long-lived assets used in operations when indicators of impairment are present and the undiscounted cash flows estimated to be generated by those assets are less than the assets' carrying amounts. In that event, a loss is recognized based on the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the fair market value of the long-lived assets. Loss on long-lived assets to be disposed of is determined in a similar manner, except that fair market values are reduced for the cost of disposal. Based on its review, the Company believes that, as of December 31, 2004, there were no significant impairments of its long-lived assets.

Revenue recognition

The Company's revenue recognition policies are in compliance with Staff accounting bulletin (SAB) 104. Sales revenue is recognized at the date of shipment to customers when a formal arrangement exists, the price is fixed or determinable, the delivery is completed, no other significant obligations of the Company exist and collectibility is reasonably assured. Payments received before all of the relevant criteria for revenue recognition are recorded as unearned revenue.

Advertising costs

The Company expenses the costs of advertising as incurred or, as appropriate, the first time the advertising takes place. Advertising costs for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003 were insignificant.

Research and development costs

Research and development costs are expensed as incurred.

Income taxes

The Company accounts for income tax using Statements of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 109 "Accounting for Income Taxes". SFAS No. 109 requires an asset and liability approach for financial accounting and reporting for income taxes and allows recognition and measurement of deferred tax assets based upon the likelihood of realization of tax benefits in future years. Under the asset and liability approach, deferred taxes are provided for the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes. A valuation allowance is provided for deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that these items will either expire before the Company is able to realize their benefits, or that future deductibility is uncertain. No provision for deferred taxation has been made, as there are no temporary differences at the balance sheet date.

According to the Provisional Regulations of the People's Republic of China on Income Tax, the document of Reductions and Exemptions of Income Tax for the Company has been approved by the local tax bureau and the Management Regulation of Tianjin Economic and Technological Development Zone. The Company is exempted from income tax in its first two years of operations.

Stock based compensation

The Company has adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation", which defines a fair-value-based method of accounting for stock based employee compensation and transactions in which an entity issues its equity instruments to acquire goods and services from non-employees. Stock compensation for stock granted to non-employees has been determined in accordance with SFAS No.123 and the Emerging Issues Task Force consensus in Issue No. 96-18, "Accounting for Equity Instruments that are issued to Other than Employees for Acquiring, or in Conjunction with Selling Goods or Services" ("EITF 96-18"), as the fair value of the consideration received or the fair value of equity instruments issued, whichever is more reliably measured.

The Company continues to follow Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees", in accounting for stock options issued to employees (see Note 11) and non-employee directors, and pro forma disclosures of the effect on net income (loss) and net income (loss) per share as if the Company had accounted for such stock options under the fair value method prescribed by SFAS No. 123. The Company did not grant any stock options to its officers and management during the fiscal years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003.

Earning per share

Net income per share is calculated in accordance with the Statement of financial accounting standards No. 128 (SFAS No. 128), "Earnings per share". SFAS No. 128 superseded Accounting Principles Board Opinion No.15 (APB 15). Net income per share for all periods presented has been restated to reflect the adoption of SFAS No. 128. Basic net income per share is based upon the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted net income per share is based on the assumption that all dilutive convertible shares and stock options were converted or exercised. Dilution is computed by applying the treasury stock method. Under this method, options and warrants are assumed to be exercised at the beginning of the period (or at the time of issuance, if later), and as if funds obtained thereby were used to purchase common stock at the average market price during the period.

Reserve funds

In accordance with the PRC Companies Law, the Company's PRC subsidiary is required to transfer a percentage of its profit after taxation, as determined in accordance with PRC accounting standards and regulations, to the surplus reserve funds upon dividend distribution. The surplus reserve funds are comprised of the statutory surplus reserve fund and the welfare reserve fund. Subject to certain restrictions set out in the PRC Companies Law, the statutory surplus reserve fund may be distributed to stockholders in the form of share bonus and/or cash dividends. The welfare fund is non-distributable and must be used for the benefits of all the staff of the enterprise. During the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003, no dividend had been declared by Zhongjin, and therefore, no reserve funds were transferred.

Foreign currency translation

Assets and liabilities in foreign currency at the balance sheet date are translated at the exchange rate prevailing at that date. Revenue and expenses are translated at the average exchange rate, which approximate the actual rate prevailing on the date of the transaction. Transaction gains and losses are reflected in the income statement. Gains and losses arising from translation of foreign currency financial statements are reflected as a component of the equity section of the balance sheet. Such items, along with net income, are components of comprehensive income. The functional currency of the Company is the Chinese Renminbi. The unit of Renminbi is in Yuan. Translation gains and losses were insignificant for the year ended December 31, 2004.

This quotation of the exchange rates does not imply free convertibility of RMB to other foreign currencies. All foreign exchange transactions continue to take place either through the Bank of China or other banks authorized to buy and sell foreign currencies at the exchange rate quoted by the People's Bank of China. Approval of foreign currency payments by the Bank of China or other institutions require submitting a payment application form together with invoices, shipping documents and signed contracts.

Fair values of financial instruments

The Company values its financial instruments as required by SFAS No. 107, "Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments". The Company's financial instruments primarily consist of cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, other receivables, prepayments, accounts payable and accruals, short-term loans and amount due to and due from related parties. The carrying values of financial instruments approximate the fair values because of their short-term maturities.

F-12

Use of estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Management makes these estimates using the best information available at the time the estimates are made. However, actual results could differ materially from those results.

Statement of cash flows

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 95, "Statement of Cash Flows," cash flows from the Company's operations is calculated based upon the local currencies. As a result, amounts related to assets and liabilities reported on the statement of cash flows will not necessarily agree with changes in the corresponding balances on the balance sheet.

Segment reporting

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 131 ("SFAS 131"), "Disclosure About Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information" requires use of the "management approach" model for segment reporting. The management approach model is based on the way a company's management organizes segments within the company for making operating decisions and assessing performance. Reportable segments are based on products and services, geography, legal structure, management structure, or any other manner in which management disaggregates a company. SFAS 131 has no effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements as the Company consists of one reportable business segment. All revenue is from customers in People's Republic of China. All of the Company's assets are located in People's Republic of China.

Recent accounting pronouncements

In December 2004, the FASB issued FASB Statement No. 123R, "Share-Based Payment, an Amendment of FASB Statement No. 123" ("FAS No. 123R"). FAS No. 123R requires companies to recognize in the statement of operations the grant-date fair value of stock options and other equity-based compensation issued to employees. FAS No. 123R is effective beginning in the Company's second quarter of fiscal 2006. The Company is in process of evaluating the impact of this pronouncement on its financial position.

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS Statement No. 153, "Exchanges of Non-monetary Assets." The Statement is an amendment of APB Opinion No. 29 to eliminate the exception for non-monetary exchanges of similar productive assets and replaces it with a general exception for exchanges of non-monetary assets that do not have commercial substance. The Company believes that the adoption of this standard will have no material impact on its financial statements.

In March 2004, the Emerging Issues Task Force ("EITF") reached a consensus on Issue No. 03-1, "The Meaning of Other-Than-Temporary Impairment and its Application to Certain Investments." The EITF reached a consensus about the criteria that should be used to determine when an investment is considered impaired, whether that impairment is other-than-temporary, and the measurement of an impairment loss and how that criteria should be applied to investments accounted for under SFAS No. 115 "Accounting in certain investments in debt and equity securities". EITF 03-01 also included accounting considerations subsequent to the recognition of other-than-temporary impairment and requires certain disclosures about unrealized losses that have not been recognized as other-than-temporary impairments. Additionally, EITF 03-01 includes new disclosure requirements for investments that are deemed to be temporarily impaired. In September 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) delayed the accounting provisions of EITF 03-01; however the disclosure requirements remain effective for annual reports ending after June 15, 2004. The Company will evaluate the impact of EITF 03-01 once final guidance is issued.

NOTE 12. MAJOR CUSTOMERS AND CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT RISK

The Company's two main customers are medical device resellers: the Shanghai Yicheng Medical Device Company is Zhongjin's largest customer, representing 15% of total sales in 2004, and the Anhui Hefei Jialian Medical Appliance Company representing 10% of total sales. The aforementioned customers have each signed a three-year letter of intent for RBX deliveries from 2004 through to 2006, amounting to $1,425,000 in sales, although these agreements are not binding. The Company recognizes the importance of the medical device resellers for increasing sales and continues to establish new links with medical device companies throughout China. The Company's medical device customers represent 56% of all sales, and direct sales to hospitals and doctors account for 44% of sales, in 2004.

The Company's financial instruments that are exposed to concentration of credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents, and accounts receivable from customers. Cash and cash equivalents are mainly maintained with major banks in the PRC. The Company periodically performs credit analysis and monitors that financial condition of its customers at the subsidiary level in order to ensure collections and minimize credit risk.

NOTE 13. CURRENT VULNERABILITY DUE TO CERTAIN CONCENTRATIONS

The Company's primary operations are conducted in the PRC. Accordingly, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations may be influenced by the political, economic and legal environments in the PRC, and by the general state of the PRC's economy.

The Company's operations in the PRC are subject to special considerations and significant risks not typically associated with companies in North America and Western Europe. These include risks associated with, among others, the political, economic and legal environments and foreign currency exchange. The Company's results may be adversely affected by changes in the political, economic and social conditions in the PRC, and by changes in governmental policies with respect to laws and regulations, anti-inflationary measures, currency conversion and remittance abroad, and rates and methods of taxation, among other things.

The Company's operating assets and primary sources of income and cash flows are its interest in subsidiaries and associated company in the PRC. The PRC economy has, for many years, been a centrally-planned economy, operating on the basis of annual, five-year and ten-year state plans adopted by central PRC governmental authorities, which set out national production and development targets. The PRC government has been pursuing economic reforms since it first adopted its "open-door" policy in 1978. There is no assurance that the PRC government will continue to pursue economic reforms or that there will not be any significant change in its economic or other policies, particularly in the event of any change in the political leadership of, or the political, economic or social conditions in, the PRC. There is also no assurance that the Company will not be adversely affected by any such change in governmental policies or any unfavorable change in the political, economic or social conditions, the laws or regulations, or the rate or method of taxation in the PRC.

As many of the economic reforms which have been or are being implemented by the PRC government are unprecedented or experimental, they may be subject to adjustment or refinement, which may have adverse effects on the Company. Further, through state plans and other economic and fiscal measures, it remains possible for the PRC government to exert significant influence on the PRC economy.

14. STATUTORY COMMON WELFARE FUND

As stipulated by the Company Law of the People's Republic of China (PRC), net income after taxation can only be distributed as dividends after appropriation has been made for the following:

- (i) Making up cumulative prior years' losses, if any;
- (ii) Allocations to the "Statutory surplus reserve" of at least 10% of income after tax, as determined under PRC accounting rules and regulations, until the fund amounts to 50% of the Company's registered capital;

- (iii) Allocations of 5-10% of income after tax, as determined under PRC accounting rules and regulations, to the Company's "Statutory common welfare fund", which is established for the purpose of providing employee facilities and other collective benefits to the Company's employees; and
- (iv) Allocations to the discretionary surplus reserve, if approved in the shareholders' general meeting.

The Company established a reserve for the annual contribution of 5% of net income to the welfare fund. The amount allocated to the statutory reserve for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003 amounted to $50,663 and $22,549, respectively.

15. STATUTORY RESERVE
