Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

In this Current Report on Form 8-K (Form 8-K), "Reliant Energy" refers to Reliant Energy, Inc., and "we," "us" and "our" refer to Reliant Energy and its subsidiaries.

Outlook

On Saturday, September 13, 2008, Hurricane Ike struck the upper Texas coast causing substantial damage to the electric transmission and distribution system serving the Houston-Galveston area. Hurricane Ike left over 2.1 million electric consumers (more than 90 percent of the metered electric consumers in the Houston-Galveston area) without power. More than 1.0 million electric consumers were without power for at least six days. As of September 24, 2008, there were still more than 500,000 electric consumers without power. We are the largest retail energy provider in the Houston-Galveston area.

We have revised our 2008 retail contribution margin outlook downward by $300 million to $350 million primarily because of the effects of Hurricane Ike. This downward adjustment includes reduced sales volumes, the sell back of excess supply, updates to our retail pricing assumptions and storm related increased operating costs.

Based on forward commodity prices as of September 19, 2008, our open wholesale contribution margin would decline by approximately $480 million for 2008. This estimate reflects lower forward commodity prices, milder weather and reduced off-peak power prices.

In response to our intention to terminate the credit-enhanced retail structure as described below, we are developing a new retail strategy aimed at lowering collateral requirements and stabilizing future earnings. We will update our 2009 and 2010 outlook in connection with our third quarter earnings release.

Merrill Lynch Arrangement

Under the terms of our credit-enhanced retail structure, Merrill Lynch provides guarantees and posts collateral for the supply purchases and related transactions of our retail energy business. On September 29, 2008, we entered into an agreement with Merrill Lynch providing that:

- the parties will use their commercially reasonable efforts to negotiate definitive agreements before October 31, 2008 to unwind the structure by April 1, 2009;
- Merrill Lynch waives compliance with the minimum adjusted EBITDA covenant in the $300 million retail working capital facility through October 31, 2008, so long as all other covenants are complied with; and
- we agree to not draw on the retail working capital facility.

The outlook updates provided in this report exclude any financial impacts arising from termination of the credit-enhanced retail structure.

Financing Arrangements

On September 29, 2008, we entered into a commitment from GS Loan Partners for a $650 million senior secured term loan. The commitment is subject to the parties entering into a definitive credit agreement and provides for the following terms:

- November 2012 maturity;
- issue at 4% closing payment;
- initial interest at LIBOR plus 4.50% with LIBOR floor of 3.75%, or a base rate plus 3.50% with a base rate floor of 4.75%;
- 10% prepayment premium on the amount prepaid during the first year, 5% during the second year, 3% during the third year and no prepayment premium thereafter;
- equally secured with the same collateral that secures Reliant's revolving credit agreement, senior secured notes, and PEDFA Guarantees;
- our subsidiaries, except those contractually prohibited from doing so, will be guarantors;
- minimum availability and maximum hedging limitations; and
- specified levels for the ratios of adjusted net secured debt and total debt to adjusted net earnings (loss) before interest expense, interest income, income taxes, depreciation and amortization (consolidated secured leverage and total leverage ratios).

On September 29, 2008, we reached an agreement with First Reserve Fund XII, L.P. providing for the purchase of 350,000 shares of Reliant convertible participating preferred stock at $1,000 per share. The agreement is subject to the parties entering into a definitive purchase agreement and provides for the following terms:

- cumulative quarterly cash dividends, payable at 14% per annum;
- convertible at lesser of $11 and lowest 20-day volume weighted average price of our common stock during the six months after closing, with a floor of $8.00;
- holders may require redemption of the preferred stock upon a change of control at the greater of (i) face amount plus accrued and unpaid dividends, plus a make-whole premium if the redemption is before the fifth anniversary or (ii) the amount received by common stock holders on an as-converted basis;

- we may redeem the preferred stock after the third anniversary for the face amount plus accrued and unpaid dividends, plus a make-whole premium if the redemption is before the fifth anniversary;
- holders may require redemption any time after the seventh anniversary for the face amount plus accrued and unpaid dividends; and
- First Reserve may designate one director to our board so long as it retains 50% of the initial convertible preferred stock or the common stock issued upon conversion.

Each of these financing arrangements is contingent upon, among other things, reaching the definitive agreements with Merrill Lynch regarding the unwind of the credit-enhanced retail structure described above. The above descriptions of these financing arrangements are not complete, and the Commitment Letter with GS Loan Partners, attached as Exhibit 99.1 to this report, and the Commitment Letter with First Reserve, together with the summary of terms attached as Exhibit 99.2 to this report, are each incorporated herein by reference.

As of September 26, 2008, we had available liquidity of $1.2 billion, excluding the $300 million retail working capital facility. We will receive proceeds of approximately $500 million upon closing the sale of our Bighorn plant, which is expected in the fourth quarter. We believe these sources of liquidity, together with the $1 billion in new capital described in this report will be sufficient to facilitate the unwind of the credit-enhanced retail structure.
