Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure

In response to recent publicity regarding the auction rate securities markets, Ashland Inc. (ASH) reports that it has investments totaling $344 million in these markets. These investments include $304 million in student loan backed securities, all of which are AAA/Aaa rated and guaranteed by the United States Department of Education. The remainder of Ashland's auction rate portfolio is composed of taxable municipal bonds with AAA/Aaa and AA/Aa ratings, including $30 million of municipal bonds guaranteed by monoline insurers. The company has no reason to believe that the underlying issuers are at risk. Ashland reported $1.075 billion of total cash, cash equivalents and available-for-sale securities in its Form 10-Q for the quarter ended December 31, 2007, which was filed on February 8, 2008.

Ashland has experienced both failed and successful auctions in its auction rate securities portfolio. In instances where failures occur, the reset interest rate typically ranges from LIBOR plus 150 to 200 basis points for student loan backed securities to as high as 20% for municipal bonds. Because the student loan instruments are AAA rated, guaranteed by the United States Department of Education and the interest rate resets are above market, Ashland believes these securities offer good value.

Ashland is furnishing the information pursuant to the Securities and Exchange Commission's ("SEC") Regulation FD. The information is intended to be considered in the context of Ashland's SEC filings and other public announcements. By filing this report on Form 8-K, Ashland makes no admission as to the materiality of any information in this report and undertakes no duty to update the information in future reports.
