Edgar Filing: Clough Global Equity Fund - Form SC 13D/A

Would you rather have $15.01 per share or $16.53?

That is not a trick question. A proposal submitted by our affiliate requests the Board of Trustees of Clough Global Equity Fund (GLQ) to authorize a self-tender offer for all outstanding common shares at or close to net asset value (NAV). If shareholders approve our proposal, the Board, to its credit, has agreed to implement it. Since GLQ's stock closed at $15.01 on July 2, 2015 and the NAV was $16.53, the value of the stock of tendering shareholders would potentially increase by about 10%!

Therefore, a vote for our proposal seems like a no brainer. Yet, in a long-winded opposition statement, management attempts to persuade shareholders that they are better off with an investment worth $15.01 per share than one worth $16.53 per share.

Why would management of GLQ devote almost 3,000 words to convince shareholders that they are better off with a $15.01 stock than $16.53 in cash? One reason could be that the investment manager's fees would fall sharply after a self-tender offer. Currently, the investment manager collects more than $5 million per year from GLQ. Management accuses us of wanting to make a profit at the expense of other shareholders. Yet, all shareholders would have the same opportunity as us to tender shares. On the other hand, management has a clear conflict of interest. We don't think it is coincidence that the word "fees" does not appear at all in its opposition statement.

When I was a child, I had an uncle who would show me two coins and ask me which one I wanted: a shiny new penny or a dirty old dime? In my opinion, management is using a sophisticated variation of my trickster uncle's ploy to persuade shareholders to vote against our proposal. We hope that shareholders of GLQ are not that gullible and choose to vote for greater shareholder value. $16.53 is better than $15.01. It really is that simple.

PLEASE VOTE FOR PROXY PROPOSAL 2

Very truly yours,
/S/ Phillip Goldstein
