PROXY STATEMENT OF FIRST CLOVER LEAF FINANCIAL CORP.

PROXY STATEMENT AND PROSPECTUS OF FIRST MID-ILLINOIS BANCSHARES, INC.

Merger Proposal-Your Vote Is Important

DEAR FIRST CLOVER LEAF FINANCIAL CORP. AND FIRST MID-ILLINOIS BANCSHARES, INC.
STOCKHOLDERS:

On April 26, 2016, First Clover Leaf Financial Corp. (which we refer to as “First Clover Leaf”) and First Mid-Illinois Bancshares, Inc. (which we refer to as “First Mid”) entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (which, as amended by the First Amendment to Agreement and Plan of Merger entered into as of June 6, 2016, we refer to as the “merger agreement”) pursuant to which First Mid has agreed to acquire First Clover Leaf through the merger of First Clover Leaf with and into First Mid (which we refer to as the “merger”). First Mid will be the surviving company in the merger. In the proposed merger, each issued and outstanding share of First Clover Leaf common stock will be converted into and become the right to receive, at the election of each stockholder, either (a) $12.87 or (b) 0.495 shares of validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable shares of First Mid common stock, par value $4.00 per share, together with cash in lieu of fractional shares. The merger consideration is subject to potential adjustment in three circumstances. First, if the closing consolidated balance sheet delivered by First Clover Leaf to First Mid as of the last day of the month preceding the closing date of the merger, or as of three business days prior to the closing date of the merger if such date is more than three business days following the last day of the preceding month, reflects consolidated stockholders’ equity less than $80,700,000 (as computed and adjusted in accordance with the merger agreement), for every $50,000 shortfall thereof, (i) the cash consideration will be reduced by $0.0075 per share and (ii) the exchange ratio shall be reduced by 0.00025. As of March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf’s consolidated stockholder’s equity as computed in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) was $81,498,496. Second, if at any time during the ten business day period starting on the twelfth business day immediately preceding the effective time of the merger, the average closing price of a share of First Mid common stock is less than $21.30 and decreases by more than 20% in relation to the NASDAQ Bank Index, First Clover Leaf will have the right to terminate the merger agreement unless First Mid elects to increase the exchange ratio pursuant to the formula described in the section of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled “The Merger Agreement-Merger Consideration.” Third, if, prior to the effective time, the number of shares of First Mid common stock are changed into a different number of shares or a different class of shares pursuant to any reclassification, recapitalization, split-up, combination, exchange of shares or readjustment, or if a stock dividend thereof shall be declared with a record date within such period, an appropriate and proportionate adjustment shall be made to the exchange ratio so as to provide the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock with the same economic effect as contemplated by the merger agreement prior to such event.

Elections are subject to proration so that no more than 25% of the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to effective time will be exchanged for cash and no more than 75% of the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to effective time will be exchanged for First Mid common stock.

Upon the effectiveness of the merger, each share of issued and outstanding First Clover Leaf common stock shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be cancelled and retired and shall cease to exist. Each certificate formerly representing any share of First Clover Leaf common stock and each uncertificated share registered to a holder on the stock transfer books of First Clover Leaf shall thereafter represent only the right to receive the merger consideration described above and herein.

Based on the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding as of April 26, 2016 and First Mid's $25.27 common stock closing price on April 26, 2016, the date of the merger agreement, and assuming no adjustments to the merger consideration, First Clover Leaf stockholders will receive a total aggregate merger consideration of approximately $88,267,056, made up of approximately $22,541,429 in cash and $65,725,627 in First Mid common stock, subject to receipt of cash in respect of fractional shares.

Upon closing of the merger, assuming no adjustment in the number of shares of First Mid common stock to be issued in the merger pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, the former stockholders of First Clover Leaf will own approximately []% of First Mid's issued and outstanding common stock.

First Mid's common stock currently trades on the NASDAQ Global Market under the symbol "FMBH." First Clover Leaf's common stock currently trades on the NASDAQ Capital Market under the symbol "FCLF." On [], 2016, the latest practicable date before the printing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, the closing price of First Mid common stock was $[] per share. The shares of First Mid common stock issued pursuant to the merger will be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (which we refer to as the "Securities Act"), and will trade on the NASDAQ Global Market.

We cannot complete the merger unless we obtain the necessary governmental approvals and unless the stockholders of both companies approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. Each of us is asking our stockholders to consider and vote on this merger proposal at our respective company's special meeting of stockholders.

The places, dates and times of the stockholders' meetings are as follows:

For stockholders of First Clover Leaf: For stockholders of First Mid:

This joint proxy statement/prospectus contains a more complete description of the stockholders' meetings and the terms of the merger. We urge you to review this entire document carefully. You may also obtain information about First Clover Leaf and First Mid from documents that each has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (which we refer to as the "SEC").

The boards of directors of First Clover Leaf and First Mid recommend that the First Clover Leaf and First Mid stockholders, respectively, vote "FOR" approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein and "FOR" the other matters to be considered at the special meeting.

Your vote is important, regardless of the number of shares that you own. Whether or not you plan to attend your company's meeting, please take the time to vote by following the voting instructions included in the enclosed proxy card. Submitting a proxy now will not prevent you from being able to vote in person at your company's special meeting. If you do not vote your shares as instructed in the enclosed proxy card, or if you do not instruct your broker how to vote any shares held for you in "street name," the effect will be a vote against the merger and the transactions contemplated therein.

You should read this entire joint proxy statement/prospectus carefully because it contains important information about the merger. In particular, you should read carefully the information under the section entitled “Risk Factors” beginning on page 27.

Thank you for your cooperation and continued support.

Sincerely,

P. David Kuhl
President and Chief Executive Officer
First Clover Leaf Financial Corp.

Notice of Special Meeting of Stockholders

Date: [], 2016
Time: [], local time
Place: []

Dear First Clover Leaf Stockholders:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that First Clover Leaf Financial Corp. ("First Clover Leaf") will hold a special meeting of stockholders on [], 2016 at [], local time, at []. The purpose of the meeting is to consider and vote on the following matters:

a proposal to approve the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of April 26, 2016, between First Clover Leaf and First Mid-Illinois Bancshares, Inc. ("First Mid"), as amended, pursuant to which First Clover Leaf will merge with and into First Mid, and the transactions contemplated therein;

a proposal to approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation that certain executive officers of First Clover Leaf may receive in connection with the merger proposal pursuant to existing agreements or arrangements with First Clover Leaf (which we refer to as the "First Clover Leaf compensation proposal"); and the approval to adjourn the special meeting to permit further solicitation in the event that an insufficient number of votes are cast to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

Holders of record of First Clover Leaf common stock at the close of business on [], 2016 are entitled to receive this notice and to vote at the special meeting and any adjournments or postponements thereof. Approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote. Approval of the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal and the adjournment of the special meeting also require the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote.

The board of directors of First Clover Leaf unanimously recommends that you vote "FOR" approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, "FOR" approval of the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal and "FOR" approval to adjourn the special meeting to permit further solicitation in the event that an insufficient number of votes are cast to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

Your vote is important. I encourage you to attend the meeting in person. Whether or not you plan to attend the meeting, please act promptly to vote your shares. You may vote your shares by telephone or over the Internet or completing, signing and dating a proxy card and returning it in the accompanying postage paid envelope provided. You may also vote your shares by telephone or by following the instructions set forth on the proxy card. Please review the instructions for each of your voting options described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus. If you attend the meeting, you may vote your shares in person, even if you have previously submitted a proxy in writing, by telephone or through the Internet. Submitting a proxy will ensure that your shares are represented at the meeting. We look forward with pleasure to seeing and visiting with you at the meeting.

Additionally, in order to make a timely election of merger consideration, please complete, sign and return the election form and letter of transmittal, included with this joint proxy statement/prospectus, in the enclosed prepaid envelope. To be considered timely, election forms must be received by 5:00 p.m., Chicago time, on the fifth business day before the effective time of the merger.

Under Maryland law, if the merger is completed, First Clover Leaf stockholders of record who do not vote to approve the merger agreement, and otherwise comply with the applicable provisions of Maryland law pertaining to objecting stockholders, will be entitled to exercise rights of appraisal and obtain payment in cash for the fair value of their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock by following the procedures set forth in detail in this joint proxy statement/prospectus. A copy of the section of the Maryland General Corporation Law pertaining to objecting stockholders' rights of appraisal is included as Appendix B to this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER

The following questions and answers are intended to briefly address some commonly asked questions regarding the merger, the merger agreement and the special meetings. We urge you to read carefully the remainder of this joint proxy statement/prospectus because the information in this section may not provide all the information that might be important to you in determining how to vote. Additional important information is also contained in the appendices to, and the documents incorporated by reference in, this document.

Q: What is the proposed transaction?

You are being asked to vote on the approval of a merger agreement that provides for the merger of First Clover Leaf with and into First Mid, with First Mid as the surviving company. The merger is anticipated to be completed in the second half of 2016. At a date following the completion of the merger, First Mid intends to merge First Clover Leaf Bank, National Association, First Clover Leaf's wholly-owned bank subsidiary (which we refer to as "First Clover Leaf Bank"), with and into First Mid-Illinois Bank & Trust, N.A., First Mid's wholly-owned bank subsidiary (which we refer to as "First Mid Bank"), with First Mid Bank as the surviving bank (which we refer to as the "bank merger"). At such time, First Clover Leaf Bank's banking offices will become banking offices of First Mid Bank. Until the banks are merged, First Mid will own and operate First Clover Leaf Bank and First Mid Bank as separate bank subsidiaries.

Q: What will First Clover Leaf stockholders be entitled to receive in the merger?

If the merger is completed, each share of First Clover Leaf common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger (other than shares owned by First Clover Leaf as treasury stock and any dissenting shares), will be converted into the right to receive, at the election of each stockholder, either (a) $12.87 or (b) 0.495 shares of First Mid common stock, subject to certain adjustments and proration, as set forth in the merger agreement. Based on the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding as of April 26, 2016, the date of the merger agreement, and First Mid's $25.27 common stock closing price on April 26, 2016, and assuming no adjustments to the merger consideration, First Clover Leaf stockholders will receive a total aggregate A: merger consideration of approximately $88,267,056, made up of approximately $22,541,429 in cash and $65,725,627 in First Mid common stock, subject to receipt of cash in respect of fractional shares. Only whole shares of First Mid common stock will be issued in the merger. As a result, cash will be paid instead of any fractional shares in an amount, rounded to the nearest whole cent, determined by multiplying $12.87 by the fractional share of First Mid common stock to which such former holder of First Clover Leaf common stock would otherwise be entitled, as more fully described on page 80. Shares of First Clover Leaf common stock held by First Clover Leaf stockholders who elect to exercise their dissenters' rights will not be converted into merger consideration.

Q: How will First Clover Leaf stockholders elect to receive cash or stock consideration?

Subject to proration and redesignation procedures, First Clover Leaf stockholders are offered the opportunity to elect to receive their merger consideration in the form of cash or First Mid common stock for each share of First Clover Leaf common stock that they hold. First Clover Leaf stockholders who wish to make an election must complete the election form and letter of transmittal (which we refer to as an "election form") included with this joint proxy statement/prospectus. For an election to be valid, a properly executed election form must be received by the A: exchange agent before the election deadline, which is 5:00 p.m., Chicago time, on the fifth business day prior to the effective time of the merger (we refer to this date as the "election deadline"). Your election will be properly made only if you have submitted a properly completed election form to First Mid's exchange agent by the election deadline. The election form also serves as a letter of transmittal, so you should send the election form and your stock certificates to the exchange agent prior to the election deadline. The form of merger consideration actually paid to First Clover Leaf stockholders is subject to proration and may differ from their elections. See "Summary-

Election and Allocation of Cash Consideration or Stock Consideration” on page 10 and “Description of the Merger Agreement-Election and Exchange Procedures” on page 84 for a description of the election mechanics and the distribution of merger consideration.

Q How will the aggregate cash consideration and stock consideration be distributed among First Clover Leaf stockholders?

A: The form of merger consideration actually paid to First Clover Leaf stockholders is subject to proration and may differ from their elections. The maximum number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock that will be converted into cash consideration will equal 25% of the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger. The maximum number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be converted into stock consideration will equal 75% of the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger. The amount of cash and/or First Mid common stock actually received by a First Clover Leaf stockholder will depend primarily upon the cash and stock elections made by all First Clover Leaf stockholders. See “Summary-Election and Allocation of Cash Consideration or Stock Consideration” on page 10 and “Description of the Merger Agreement-Election and Exchange Procedures” on page 84 for a description of the election mechanics and the distribution of merger consideration.

Q If I am a First Clover Leaf stockholder, what happens if I don’t make an election for cash or First Mid common stock by the election deadline?

A: If you fail to make a proper election prior to the election deadline, you will be deemed to have made an election to receive stock consideration.

Q Is the merger consideration subject to adjustment?

A: The merger consideration is subject to potential adjustment in three circumstances. First, if the consolidated balance sheet delivered by First Clover Leaf to First Mid as of the last day of the month preceding the closing date of the merger, or as of three business days prior to the closing date of the merger if such date is more than three business days following the last day of the preceding month, reflects consolidated stockholders’ equity less than $80,700,000 (as computed and adjusted in accordance with the merger agreement), for every $50,000 shortfall thereof, (i) the cash consideration will be reduced by $0.0075 per share and (ii) the exchange ratio shall be reduced by 0.00025. As of March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf’s consolidated stockholder’s equity as computed in accordance with GAAP was $81,498,496. Second, if at any time during the ten business day period starting on the twelfth business day immediately preceding the effective time of the merger, the average closing price of a share of First Mid common stock is less than $21.30 and decreases by more than 20% in relation to the NASDAQ Bank Index, First Clover Leaf will have the right to terminate the merger agreement unless First Mid elects to increase the exchange ratio pursuant to the formula described in the section entitled “Description of the Merger Agreement-Merger Consideration” on page 80. Third, if, prior to the effective time, the number of shares of First Mid common stock are changed into a different number of shares or a different class of shares pursuant to any reclassification, recapitalization, split-up, combination, exchange of shares or readjustment, or if a stock dividend thereof shall be declared with a record date within such period, an appropriate and proportionate adjustment shall be made to the exchange ratio so as to provide the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock with the same economic effect as contemplated by the merger agreement prior to such event.

Q: What is the value of the per share merger consideration?

A: The per share value of the merger consideration constituting cash is $12.87. The per share value of the merger consideration constituting First Mid common stock to be received by First Clover Leaf stockholders will fluctuate as the market price of First Mid common stock fluctuates before the completion of the merger. This price will not be known at the time of the First Clover Leaf special meeting and may be more or less than the current price of common stock or the price of First Mid common stock at the time of the special meeting. Based on the closing stock price of First Mid common stock on the NASDAQ Global Market on April 26, 2016, the trading day of the public announcement of the merger, of $25.27, the value of the per share merger consideration constituting First Mid common stock was $12.51. Based on the closing stock price of First Mid common stock on the NASDAQ Global Market on [], 2016, the latest practicable date before the mailing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, of $[], the value of the per share merger consideration constituting First Mid common stock was $[]. We urge you to obtain current market quotations for shares of First Mid common stock and First Clover Leaf common stock.

Q: Why do First Clover Leaf and First Mid want to engage in the merger?

First Clover Leaf believes that the merger will provide First Clover Leaf stockholders with substantial benefits, and First Mid believes that the merger will further its strategic growth plans. To review the reasons for the merger in more detail, see “The Merger-First Clover Leaf’s reasons for the merger and recommendation of the board of directors” on page 48 and “The Merger-First Mid’s reasons for the merger and recommendation of the board of directors” on page 60.

Q: In addition to approving the merger agreement, what else are First Clover Leaf stockholders being asked to vote on?

In addition to the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, First Clover Leaf is soliciting proxies from holders of its common stock with respect to a proposal to approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation that certain executive officers of First Clover Leaf may receive in connection with the merger pursuant to existing agreements or arrangements with First Clover Leaf (which we refer to as the “First Clover Leaf compensation proposal”), and also a proposal to adjourn the First Clover Leaf special meeting to permit further solicitation in the event that an insufficient number of votes are cast to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. Completion of the merger is not conditioned upon approval of the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal or the adjournment proposal.

Q: Why are First Clover Leaf stockholders being asked to vote on the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal?

The SEC, in accordance with the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 (which we refer to as the “Dodd-Frank Act”), has adopted rules that require First Clover Leaf to seek an advisory (non-binding) vote with respect to certain payments that are payable to First Clover Leaf’s named executive officers in connection with the merger.

Q: What will happen if First Clover Leaf’s stockholders do not approve the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal?

First Clover Leaf stockholders’ approval of the compensation payable to certain of First Clover Leaf’s executive officers in connection with the merger is not a condition to completion of the merger. The vote with respect to such compensation is an advisory vote and will not be binding on First Clover Leaf (or First Mid after the merger) regardless of whether the merger agreement is approved. Accordingly, because the compensation to be paid to certain First Clover Leaf executive officers in connection with the merger is contractual, such compensation may be payable if the merger is completed regardless of the outcome of the advisory vote.

Q: What does the First Clover Leaf board of directors recommend?

First Clover Leaf’s board of directors has determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein are in the best interests of First Clover Leaf and its stockholders. First Clover Leaf’s board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote “FOR” the approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, “FOR” approval of the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal and “FOR” the approval to adjourn the special meeting to permit further solicitation in the event that an insufficient number of votes are cast to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. To review the reasons for the merger in more detail, see “The Merger-First Clover Leaf’s reasons for the merger and recommendation of the board of directors” on page 48.

Q: Do any of First Clover Leaf’s executive officers or directors have interests in the merger that may differ from those of the First Clover Leaf stockholders?

A: The interests of some of the directors and executive officers of First Clover Leaf may be different from those of First Clover Leaf stockholders, and the directors and officers of First Clover Leaf may be participants in arrangements that are different from, or are in addition to, those of First Clover Leaf stockholders. The members of the First Clover Leaf’s board of directors knew about these additional interests and considered them among other matters, when making its decision to approve the merger agreement, and in recommending that First Clover Leaf’s common stockholders vote in favor of adopting the merger agreement. See “The Merger-interests of certain persons in the merger” on page 69.

Q: What vote is required to approve each proposal at the First Clover Leaf special meeting?

A: Approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote. Abstentions, shares not voted and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote against the merger proposal. Approval of the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal and the proposal to adjourn the special meeting also requires the affirmative vote of the majority of outstanding shares entitled to vote. Abstentions, shares not voted and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote against such proposals.

Q: In addition to approving the merger agreement, what else are First Mid stockholders being asked to vote on?

A: In addition to the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger, First Mid is soliciting proxies from holders of its common stock with respect to a proposal to adjourn the First Mid special meeting to permit further solicitation in the event that an insufficient number of votes are cast to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. Completion of the merger is not conditioned upon approval of the adjournment proposal.

Q: What does the First Mid board of directors recommend?

A: First Mid’s board of directors has determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger, is in the best interests of First Mid and its stockholders. First Mid’s board of directors unanimously recommends (with the exception of Robert S. Cook who abstained from participating in any decision-making relating to the merger) that you vote “FOR” the approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger, and “FOR” the approval to adjourn the special meeting to permit further solicitation in the event that an insufficient number of votes are cast to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. To review the reasons for the merger in more detail, see “The Merger-First Mid’s reasons for the merger and recommendation of the board of directors” on page 60.

Q: Do any of First Mid’s executive officers or directors have interests in the merger that may differ from those of the First Mid stockholders?

A: Robert S. Cook is a member of the First Mid board of directors and owns and/or has voting power over less than one percent of the shares of common stock of First Clover Leaf. In order to avoid any potential conflicts of interest or the appearance of a potential conflict of interest, Robert S. Cook disclosed his ownership interest in First Clover Leaf to the First Mid board of directors and abstained from participating in any decision-making related to the merger.

Q: What vote is required to approve each proposal at the First Mid special meeting?

Approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger, requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Mid common stock entitled to vote. Abstentions, shares not voted and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote against the merger proposal. Approval of the proposal to adjourn the special meeting requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast for the proposal. Abstentions are deemed to be votes cast and thereby have the same effect as a vote against the adjournment proposal. Shares not voted and broker non-votes will have no effect on this proposal.

Q: Why is my vote important?

The merger cannot be completed unless the merger agreement is approved by both First Mid and First Clover Leaf stockholders. If you fail to submit a proxy or vote in person at the special meeting, or vote to abstain, or you do not provide your broker, bank or other fiduciary with voting instructions, as applicable, this will have the same effect as a vote against the approval of the merger agreement. The boards of directors of First Mid and First Clover Leaf both unanimously recommend (with the exception, in the case of First Mid, of Robert S. Cook who abstained from participating in any decision-making relating to the merger) that their respective company's stockholders vote for "FOR" the proposal to approve the merger agreement.

Q: What do I need to do now? How do I vote?

If you are a First Clover Leaf stockholder, you may vote at the special meeting if you own shares of First Clover Leaf common stock of record at the close of business on the record date for the special meeting, [], 2016. If you are a First Mid stockholder, you may vote at the special meeting if you own shares of First Mid common stock of record at the close of business on the record date for the special meeting, [], 2016. Please review the instructions for each of your voting options described on your proxy card. After you have carefully read and considered the information contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, please vote or submit your proxy to vote by a method described on your proxy card. This will enable your shares to be represented at the special meeting. You may also vote in person at the special meeting. If you do not vote by proxy and do not vote at the special meeting, this will make it more difficult to achieve a quorum for the meeting.

Q: If my shares of common stock are held in "street name" by my broker, bank or other fiduciary, will my broker, bank or other fiduciary automatically vote my shares for me?

No. Your broker, bank or other fiduciary cannot vote your shares without instructions from you. If your shares are held in "street name" through a broker, bank or other fiduciary, you must provide the record holder of your shares with instructions on how to vote the shares. Please follow the voting instructions provided by the broker, bank or other fiduciary. You may not vote shares held in street name by returning a proxy card directly to First Mid or First Clover Leaf, or by voting in person at the First Mid special meeting or the First Clover Leaf special meeting, unless you provide a "legal proxy," which you must obtain from your broker, bank or other fiduciary. Further, brokers, banks or other fiduciaries who hold shares of First Mid common stock or First Clover Leaf common stock on behalf of their customers may not give a proxy to First Mid or First Clover Leaf to vote those shares with respect to any of the proposals without specific instructions from their customers, as brokers, banks and other fiduciaries do not have discretionary voting power on these matters. Failure to instruct your broker, bank or other fiduciary how to vote will have the same effect as a vote against adoption of the merger agreement.

Q: How will my proxy be voted?

A: If you properly submit your proxy to vote by a method described on your proxy card, your proxy will be voted in accordance with your instructions. If you sign, date and send in your proxy form, but you do not indicate how you want to vote, your proxy will be voted “FOR” approval of the merger agreement and the other proposals in the notice of the special meeting of the stockholders for First Clover Leaf or First Mid, as appropriate.

Q: Can I revoke my proxy and change my vote?

A: You may change your vote or revoke your proxy prior to the special meeting by filing with the corporate secretary of First Clover Leaf or First Mid, as appropriate, a duly executed revocation of proxy or submitting a new proxy with a later date. You may also revoke a prior proxy by voting in person at the applicable special meeting.

Q: Are there risks I should consider in deciding to vote on the approval of the merger agreement?

A: Yes, in evaluating the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, you should read this joint proxy statement/prospectus carefully, including the factors discussed in the section titled “Risk Factors” beginning on page 27.

Q: What if I oppose the merger? Do I have dissenters’ rights?

A: First Clover Leaf stockholders may assert dissenters’ rights in connection with the merger and, upon complying with the requirements of the Maryland General Corporation Law (which we refer to as the “MGCL”), receive cash in the amount of the “fair value” of their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock instead of the merger consideration.

This “fair value” could be more than the merger consideration but could also be less. See “The Merger-First Clover Leaf stockholder dissenters’ rights.”

A copy of the applicable section of the MGCL is attached as Appendix B to this document. First Mid stockholders are not entitled to dissenters’ rights with respect to approval of the merger agreement.

Q: What are the material tax consequences of the merger to U.S. holders of First Clover Leaf Common Stock?

A: First Clover Leaf and First Mid each expect the merger to qualify as a “reorganization” pursuant to Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (which we refer to as the “Internal Revenue Code”). However, neither First Clover Leaf nor First Mid has requested or received a ruling from the Internal Revenue Service that the merger will qualify as a reorganization. The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to a First Clover Leaf stockholder will depend on the relative mix of cash and First Mid common stock received by such First Clover Leaf stockholder. Assuming that the merger qualifies as a reorganization, First Clover Leaf stockholders should not recognize any gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes if they exchange their First Clover Leaf shares solely for shares of First Mid common stock in the merger, except with respect to cash received in lieu of fractional shares of First Mid common stock. First Clover Leaf stockholders will recognize gain or loss if they exchange their First Clover Leaf shares solely for cash in the merger. First Clover Leaf stockholders will recognize gain, but not loss, if they exchange their First Clover Leaf shares for a combination of First Mid common stock and cash, but their taxable gain in that case will not exceed the cash they receive in the merger. You should consult with your tax advisor for the specific tax consequences of the merger to you. See “Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger” on page 76.

Q: When and where are the special meetings?

A: The First Clover Leaf special meeting will take place on [], 2016, at [] local time, at []. The First Mid special meeting will take place on [], 2016, at [] local time, at [].

Q: Who may attend the First Clover Leaf special meeting?

A: Only First Clover Leaf stockholders on the record date, which is [], 2016, may attend the First Clover Leaf special meeting. If you are a stockholder of record, you will need to present the proxy card that you received or another proof of identification in order to be admitted into the meeting.

Q: Who may attend the First Mid special meeting?

A: Only First Mid stockholders on the record date, which is [], 2016, may attend the First Mid special meeting. If you are a stockholder of record, you will need to present the proxy card that you received or another proof of identification in order to be admitted into the meeting.

Q: Should I send in my First Clover Leaf stock certificates now?

A: Yes. The election form also serves as a letter of transmittal, so you should complete the election form that you receive with this joint proxy statement/prospectus to exchange your First Clover Leaf stock certificates for merger consideration. Please send the election form and your First Clover Leaf stock certificates to the exchange agent for the merger, Computershare Trust Company, N.A. (who we refer to as the “exchange agent”), in the envelope provided. Do not send your stock certificates to First Mid or First Clover Leaf.

Q: Whom may I contact if I cannot locate my First Clover Leaf stock certificate(s)?

A: If you are unable to locate your original First Clover Leaf stock certificate(s), you should follow the instructions set forth in the election form included with this joint proxy statement/prospectus with respect to lost or stolen stock certificates.

Q: What should I do if I hold my shares of First Clover Leaf common stock in book-entry form?

A: You should follow the instructions set forth in the election form included with this joint proxy statement/prospectus with respect to shares of First Clover Leaf common stock held in book-entry form.

Q: What should I do if I receive more than one set of voting materials?

A: First Clover Leaf stockholders and First Mid stockholders may receive more than one set of voting materials, including multiple copies of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and multiple proxy cards or voting instruction cards. For example, if you hold shares of First Clover Leaf and/or First Mid common stock in more than one brokerage account, you will receive a separate voting instruction card for each brokerage account in which you hold such shares. If you are a holder of record of First Clover Leaf common stock or First Mid common stock and your shares are registered in more than one name, you will receive more than one proxy card. In addition, if you are a holder of both First Clover Leaf common stock and First Mid common stock, you will receive one or more separate proxy cards or voting instruction cards for each company. Please complete, sign, date and return each proxy card and voting instruction card that you receive or otherwise follow the voting instructions set forth in this joint proxy statement/prospectus to ensure that you vote every share of First Clover Leaf common stock and/or First Mid common stock that you own.

Q: When is the merger expected to be completed?

A: We will try to complete the merger as soon as reasonably possible. Before that happens, the merger agreement must be approved by stockholders of both First Mid and First Clover Leaf and we must obtain the necessary regulatory approvals. Assuming First Mid and First Clover Leaf stockholders vote to approve the merger and adopt the merger agreement and we obtain the other necessary approvals and satisfaction or waiver of the other conditions to the closing described in the merger agreement, we expect to complete the merger in the second half of 2016. See “Description of the Merger Agreement-Conditions to completion of the merger” on page 90.

Q: Is completion of the merger subject to any conditions besides stockholder approval?

A: Yes. The transaction must receive the required regulatory approvals and there are other standard closing conditions that must be satisfied. See “Description of the Merger Agreement-Conditions to completion of the merger” on page 90.

Q: What happens if the merger is not completed?

A: Neither First Clover Leaf nor First Mid can assure you of when or if the merger will be completed. If the merger is not completed, First Clover Leaf stockholders will not receive any consideration for their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock and will continue to be holders of First Clover Leaf common stock. Each of First Clover Leaf and First Mid will remain independent companies. Under certain circumstances, First Clover Leaf may be required to pay First Mid a fee with respect to the termination of the merger agreement, as described under “Description of the Merger Agreement-Termination fee” on page 92.

Q: Who can answer my other questions?

A: If you have more questions about the merger or how to submit your proxy, or if you need additional copies of this joint proxy statement/prospectus or the enclosed proxy form, you should contact:

For First Clover Leaf stockholders: Dee McDonald, First Clover Leaf Financial Corp., P.O. Box 540, Edwardsville, IL 62025, telephone: 618-656-6122.

For First Mid stockholders: Aaron Holt, First Mid-Illinois Bancshares, Inc., P.O. Box 499, Mattoon, IL 61938, telephone: 217-258-0463.

If you are First Clover Leaf stockholder and you have more questions about how to make your election for merger consideration, or if you need additional copies of the election form included with this mailing, you should contact Dee McDonald, First Clover Leaf Financial Corp., P.O. Box 540, Edwardsville, IL 62025, telephone: 618-656-6122 or the exchange agent, Computershare Trust Company, N.A., at 1-855-396-2084.

SUMMARY

This summary highlights selected information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and may not contain all of the information that is important to you. To understand the merger more fully, you should read this entire joint proxy statement/prospectus carefully, including the appendices and the documents referred to or incorporated in this joint proxy statement/prospectus. A copy of the merger agreement is attached as Appendix A to this joint proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated by reference herein. First Clover Leaf Financial Corp.
6814 Goshen Road
(618) 656-6122

First Clover Leaf Financial Corp. is a Maryland corporation and registered bank holding company. First Clover Leaf is engaged in the business of banking through its wholly-owned subsidiary, First Clover Leaf Bank, National Association, a nationally chartered commercial bank headquartered in Edwardsville, Illinois. First Clover Leaf's principal business consists of attracting retail deposits from the general public in the areas surrounding our office locations and investing those deposits, together with funds generated from operations, primarily in one-to-four family residential real estate loans, multi-family real estate loans, commercial real estate loans, construction and land loans, commercial business loans and consumer loans, and in investment securities. First Clover Leaf conducts its business through its seven branch offices located in Edwardsville, Wood River, Highland, and Swansea, Illinois, and Clayton, Missouri.

As of March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf had total assets of approximately $636.9 million, total gross loans, including loans held for sale, of approximately $447.5 million, total deposits of approximately $514.5 million and total stockholders' equity of approximately $81.5 million.

First Clover Leaf common stock is traded on the NASDAQ Capital Market under the ticker symbol “FCLF.”

The merger and the merger agreement (See page 80)

First Mid's acquisition of First Clover Leaf is governed by a merger agreement. The merger agreement provides that, if all of the conditions set forth in the merger agreement are satisfied or waived, First Clover Leaf will be merged with and into First Mid with First Mid as the surviving company. After the consummation of the merger, First Clover Leaf Bank will be a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Mid. At a date following the completion of the merger, First Mid intends to merge First Clover Leaf Bank with and into First Mid Bank, with First Mid Bank as the surviving bank. At such time, First Clover Leaf Bank's banking offices will become banking offices of First Mid Bank. Until the banks are merged, First Mid will own and operate First Clover Leaf Bank and First Mid Bank as separate bank subsidiaries. The merger agreement is included as Appendix A to this joint proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated by reference herein. We urge you to read the merger agreement carefully and fully, as it is the legal document that governs the merger.

What First Clover Leaf stockholders will receive as consideration in the merger (See page 80)

If the merger is completed, each share of First Clover Leaf common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger (other than shares owned by First Clover Leaf as treasury stock and any dissenting shares), will be converted into the right to receive, at the election of each stockholder, either (a) $12.87 or (b) 0.495 shares of common stock, par value $4.00 per share, of First Mid, subject to certain adjustments and proration, as set forth in the merger agreement. Based on the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding as of April 26, 2016, the date of the merger agreement, and First Mid's $25.27 common stock closing price on April 26, 2016, and assuming no adjustments to the merger consideration, First Clover Leaf stockholders will receive a total aggregate merger consideration of approximately $88,267,056, made up of approximately $22,541,429 in cash and $65,725,627 in First Mid common stock, subject to receipt of cash in respect of fractional shares. Only whole shares of First Mid common stock will be issued in the merger. As a result, cash will be paid instead of any fractional shares in an amount, rounded to the nearest whole cent, determined by multiplying $12.87 by the fractional share of First Mid common stock to which such former holder of First Clover Leaf common stock would otherwise be entitled as more fully described on page 80. Shares of First Clover Leaf common stock held by First Clover Leaf stockholders who elect to exercise their dissenters' rights will not be converted into merger consideration.

Election and Allocation of Cash Consideration or Stock Consideration (See page 83)

First Clover Leaf stockholders are offered the opportunity to elect to receive their merger consideration in the form of cash or First Mid common stock for each share of First Clover Leaf common stock that they hold. We refer to each share for which a stock election has been made as a "stock electing share" and each share for which a cash election has been made as a "cash electing share." First Clover Leaf stockholders who wish to make an election must complete the election form included with this joint proxy statement/prospectus. For an election to be valid, a properly executed election form must be received by the exchange agent before the election deadline, which is 5:00 p.m., Chicago time, on the fifth business day prior to the effective time of the merger.

Because the cash consideration and the stock consideration to be paid in the merger are limited, First Clover Leaf stockholders may actually receive an amount of cash and/or number of shares of First Mid common stock that is different from what they elected to receive. The amount of cash and/or number of shares received by each First Clover Leaf stockholder will depend on, among other factors:

- The number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to the merger (because the aggregate merger consideration is fixed, subject to possible adjustment under certain circumstances);
- The number of stock-electing shares;
- The number of cash-electing shares; and
- Any adjustment to the merger consideration pursuant to the merger agreement.

Potential Adjustment of Merger Consideration (See page 80)

The merger consideration is subject to potential adjustment in three circumstances. First, if the closing consolidated balance sheet delivered by First Clover Leaf to First Mid as of the last day of the month preceding the closing date of the merger, or as of three business days prior to the closing date of the merger if such date is more than three business days following the last day of the preceding month, reflects consolidated stockholders' equity less than $80,700,000 (as computed and adjusted in accordance with the merger agreement), for every $50,000 shortfall thereof, (i) the cash consideration will be reduced by $0.0075 per share and (ii) the exchange ratio shall be reduced by 0.00025. As of March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf's consolidated stockholder's equity as computed in accordance with GAAP was $81,498,496. Second, if at any time during the ten business day period starting on the twelfth business day immediately preceding the effective time of the merger, the average closing price of a share of First Mid common stock is less than $21.30 and decreases by more than 20% in relation to the NASDAQ Bank Index, First Clover Leaf will have the right to terminate the merger agreement unless First Mid elects to increase the exchange ratio pursuant to the formula described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement-Merger Consideration." Third, if, prior to the effective time, the number of shares of First Mid common stock are changed into a different number of shares or a different class of shares pursuant to any reclassification, recapitalization, split-up, combination, exchange of shares or readjustment, or if a stock dividend thereof shall be declared with a record date within such period, an appropriate and proportionate adjustment shall be made to the exchange ratio so as to provide the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock with the same economic effect as contemplated by the merger agreement prior to such event. See "Description of the Merger Agreement-Merger Consideration."

Material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger (See page 76)

First Clover Leaf and First Mid each expect the merger to qualify as a "reorganization" pursuant to Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to a First Clover Leaf stockholder will depend on the relative mix of cash and First Mid common stock received by such First Clover Leaf stockholder. Assuming that the merger qualifies as a reorganization, First Clover Leaf stockholders should not recognize any gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes if they exchange their First Clover Leaf shares solely for shares of First Mid common stock in the merger, except with respect to cash received in lieu of fractional shares of First Mid common stock. First Clover Leaf stockholders will recognize gain or loss if they exchange their First Clover Leaf shares solely for cash in the merger. First Clover Leaf stockholders will recognize gain, but not loss, if they exchange their First Clover Leaf shares for a combination of First Mid common stock and cash, but their taxable gain in that case will not exceed the cash they receive in the merger. The tax consequences of the merger to each First Clover Leaf stockholder will depend on such First Clover Leaf stockholder's own situation. First Clover Leaf stockholders should consult with their own tax advisors for a full understanding of the tax consequences of the merger to them. Each of Schiff Hardin LLP and Barack Ferrazzano Kirschbaum & Nagelberg LLP have delivered tax opinions, dated June 13, 2016, to the effect that the merger qualifies as a reorganization under Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. In addition, the completion of the merger is conditioned on receipt of a tax opinion from each of Schiff Hardin LLP and Barack Ferrazzano Kirschbaum & Nagelberg LLP, dated the closing date, to the same effect as the opinions described in the preceding sentence. The opinions will not bind the Internal Revenue Service, which could take a different view. See "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger" for a more detailed discussion of the tax consequences of the merger.

At the April 26, 2016, meeting of the First Clover Leaf board of directors, a representative of Raymond James & Associates, Inc. (which we refer to as "Raymond James") rendered Raymond James' oral opinion, which was subsequently confirmed by delivery of a written opinion to the First Clover Leaf board of directors, dated April 26, 2016, as to the fairness, as of such date, from a financial point of view, to the holders of First Clover Leaf's outstanding common stock of the merger consideration to be received by such holders in the merger pursuant to the merger agreement, based upon and subject to the qualifications, assumptions and other matters considered in connection with the preparation of its opinion.

The full text of the written opinion of Raymond James, dated April 26, 2016, which sets forth, among other things, the various qualifications, assumptions and limitations on the scope of the review undertaken, is attached as Appendix D to this document. Raymond James provided its opinion for the information and assistance of the First Clover Leaf board of directors (solely in its capacity as such) in connection with, and for purposes of, its consideration of the merger and its opinion only addresses whether the merger consideration to be received by the holders of the common stock in the merger pursuant to the merger agreement was fair, from a financial point of view, to such holders. The opinion of Raymond James did not address any other term or aspect of the merger agreement or the merger contemplated thereby. The Raymond James opinion does not constitute a recommendation to the First Clover Leaf board of directors or any holder of First Clover Leaf common stock as to how the board of directors, such stockholder or any other person should vote or otherwise act with respect to the merger or any other matter.

FIG Partners, LLC (which we refer to as "FIG") delivered to the First Mid board of directors its opinion dated April 26, 2016 that, based upon and subject to the various considerations set forth in its written opinion, the merger consideration to be paid to the stockholders of First Clover Leaf is fair to the stockholders of First Mid from a financial point of view. In requesting FIG's advice and opinion, no limitations were imposed by First Mid upon FIG with respect to the investigations made or procedures followed by it in rendering its opinion. The full text of the opinions of FIG, which describe the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken, are attached hereto as Appendix E. First Mid stockholders should read these opinions in their entirety.

First Clover Leaf's reasons for the merger; Board recommendation to First Clover Leaf's stockholders (See page 48)
The First Clover Leaf board of directors believes that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein are in the best interests of First Clover Leaf and its stockholders. First Clover Leaf's board of directors unanimously recommends that First Clover Leaf stockholders vote "FOR" the proposal to approve the merger agreement, "FOR" the approval, by advisory (non-binding) vote, of certain compensation arrangements for First Clover Leaf's named executive officers in connection with the merger, and "FOR" adjournment of the First Clover Leaf special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the merger agreement. See the section entitled "The Merger-First Clover Leaf's reasons for the merger and recommendation of the board of directors" beginning on page 48 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

First Mid's reasons for the merger; Board recommendation to First Mid's stockholders (See page 60)

First Mid's board of directors believes that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger, is in the best interests of First Mid and its stockholders. First Mid's board of directors unanimously recommends (with the exception of Robert S. Cook who abstained from participating in any decision-making relating to the merger) that you vote "FOR" the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger and "FOR" adjournment of the First Mid special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the merger agreement. See the section entitled "The Merger-First Mid's reasons for the merger and recommendation of the board of directors" beginning on page 60 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Interests of officers and directors of First Clover Leaf in the merger may be different from, or in addition to, yours (See page 69)

The interests of some of the directors and executive officers of First Clover Leaf may be different from those of First Clover Leaf stockholders, and the directors and officers of First Clover Leaf may be participants in arrangements that are different from, or are in addition to, those of First Clover Leaf stockholders. The members of the First Clover Leaf board of directors knew about these additional interests and considered them among other matters, when making its decision to approve the merger agreement, and in recommending that First Clover Leaf's common stockholders vote in favor of adopting the merger agreement. See “The Merger-interests of certain persons in the merger” on page 69.

Interests of officers and directors of First Mid in the merger may be different from, or in addition to, yours (See page 69)

When you consider the recommendation of the First Mid board of directors to vote in favor of approval of the merger agreement, you should be aware that Robert S. Cook, who is a member of the First Mid board of directors, owns and/or has voting power over less than one percent of the shares of common stock of First Clover Leaf. The First Mid board of directors was aware of Robert S. Cook’s beneficial ownership of First Clover Leaf common stock and, in order to avoid any potential conflicts of interest or the appearance of a potential conflict of interest, Robert S. Cook abstained from any decision-making related to the merger.

First Clover Leaf stockholders will have dissenters’ rights in connection with the merger (See page 73)

First Clover Leaf stockholders may assert dissenters’ rights in connection with the merger and, upon complying with the requirements of the MGCL, receive cash in the amount of the “fair value” of their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock instead of the merger consideration. This “fair value” could be more than the merger consideration but could also be less. See “The Merger-First Clover Leaf stockholder dissenters’ rights.”

A copy of the applicable section of the MGCL is attached as Appendix B to this document. You should read the statute carefully and consult with your legal counsel if you intend to exercise these rights. First Mid stockholders are not entitled to dissenters’ rights with respect to approval of the merger agreement.

The merger and the performance of the combined company are subject to a number of risks (See page 27)

There are a number of risks relating to the merger and to the businesses of First Mid, First Clover Leaf and the combined company following the merger. See the “Risk Factors” beginning on page 27 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus for a discussion of these and other risks relating to the merger. You should also consider the other information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the other documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. See the sections of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled “Incorporation of Certain First Mid Documents by Reference” and “Where You Can Find More Information” beginning on pages 154 and 153, respectively.

Stockholder approval will be required to complete the merger and approve the other proposals set forth in the notice (See pages 35 and 39)

First Clover Leaf. Approval by First Clover Leaf’s stockholders at First Clover Leaf’s special meeting of stockholders on [], 2016 is required to complete the merger. The presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote on the merger agreement is necessary to constitute a quorum at the meeting. Each share of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding on the record date entitles its holder to one vote on the merger agreement and any other proposal listed in the notice. Approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote. Abstentions, shares not voted and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote against the merger proposal. As of the record date of [], 2016, First Clover Leaf’s directors and executive officers and their affiliates held approximately []% of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting. Approval of the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal and the proposal to adjourn the special meeting also requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote. Abstentions, shares not voted and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote against these proposals.

First Mid. Approval by First Mid’s stockholders at First Mid’s special meeting of stockholders on [], 2016 is required to complete the merger. The presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the shares of First Mid common stock entitled to vote on the merger agreement is necessary to constitute a quorum at the meeting. Each share of First Mid common stock outstanding on the record date entitles its holder to one vote on the merger agreement and any other proposal listed in the notice of special meeting of First Mid stockholders. Approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock, requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Mid common stock entitled to vote. Abstentions, shares not voted and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote against the merger proposal. As of the record date of [], 2016, First Mid's directors and executive officers and their affiliates held approximately []% of the outstanding shares of First Mid common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting. Approval of the proposal to adjourn the special meeting requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast for the proposal. Abstentions are deemed to be votes cast and thereby have the same effect as a vote against the adjournment proposal. Shares not voted and broker non-votes will have no effect on this proposal.

Completion of the merger is subject to regulatory approvals (See page 68)

The merger cannot proceed without obtaining all requisite regulatory approvals. First Mid and First Clover Leaf have agreed to take all appropriate actions necessary to obtain the required approvals. The merger of First Mid and First Clover Leaf is subject to prior approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (which we refer to as the "Federal Reserve"). First Mid submitted an application with the Federal Reserve on June 3, 2016 seeking the necessary approvals. The merger may not be consummated until 15 days after receipt of Federal Reserve approval, during which time the United States Department of Justice may challenge the merger on antitrust grounds. The commencement of an antitrust action would stay the effectiveness of the Federal Reserve's approval, unless a court specifically orders otherwise.

At a date following the completion of the merger, First Mid intends to merge First Clover Leaf Bank with and into First Mid Bank, with First Mid Bank as the surviving bank. The bank merger will be subject to approval by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (which we refer to as the "OCC"). First Mid Bank intends to file an application with the OCC seeking this approval in the near future.

While First Mid knows of no reason why the approval of any of the applications would be denied or unduly delayed, it cannot assure you that all regulatory approvals required to consummate the merger and the bank merger will be obtained or obtained in a timely manner.

Conditions to the merger (See page 90)

Closing Conditions for the Benefit of First Mid. First Mid's obligations to close the merger are subject to fulfillment of certain conditions, including:

- accuracy of representations and warranties of First Clover Leaf in the merger agreement as of the closing date, except as otherwise set forth in the merger agreement;
- performance by First Clover Leaf in all material respects of its obligations under the merger agreement;
- approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein (i) at the meeting of First Clover Leaf stockholders and (ii) at the meeting of First Mid stockholders;
- no order, injunction, decree, statute, rule, regulation or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing or making illegal the consummation of the merger or any of the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement;
- receipt of all necessary regulatory approvals;
- the registration statement, of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part, concerning First Mid common stock issuable pursuant to the merger agreement having been declared effective by the SEC and continuing to be effective as of the effective time of the merger;
- receipt of a certificate signed on behalf of First Clover Leaf certifying (i) the accuracy of the representations and warranties of First Clover Leaf in the merger agreement and (ii) performance by First Clover Leaf in all material respects of its obligations under the merger agreement;

receipt of a tax opinion from its tax counsel that (i) the merger constitutes a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and (ii) each of First Mid and First Clover Leaf will be a party to such reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(b) of the Internal Revenue Code; and the business of First Clover Leaf and First Clover Leaf Bank shall have been conducted in the ordinary course of business, except as required under the merger agreement, and no material adverse change in First Clover Leaf since April 26, 2016.

Closing Conditions for the Benefit of First Clover Leaf. First Clover Leaf’s obligations to close the merger are subject to fulfillment of certain conditions, including:

- accuracy of representations and warranties of First Mid in the merger agreement as of the closing date, except as otherwise set forth in the merger agreement;
- performance by First Mid in all material respects of its obligations under the merger agreement;
- approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein (i) at the meeting of First Clover Leaf stockholders and (ii) at the meeting of First Mid stockholders;
- no order, injunction, decree, statute, rule, regulation or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing or making illegal the consummation of the merger or any of the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement;
- receipt of all necessary regulatory approvals;
- the registration statement, of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part, concerning First Mid common stock issuable pursuant to the merger agreement having been declared effective by the SEC and continuing to be effective as of the effective time of the merger;
- receipt of a certificate signed on behalf of First Mid certifying (i) the accuracy of the representations and warranties of First Mid in the merger agreement and (ii) performance by First Mid in all material respects of its obligations under the merger agreement;
- receipt of a tax opinion from its tax counsel that (i) the merger constitutes a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and (ii) each of First Mid and First Clover Leaf will be a party to such reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(b) of the Internal Revenue Code; and
- no material adverse change in First Mid since April 26, 2016.

How the merger agreement may be terminated by First Mid and First Clover Leaf (See page 91)

First Mid and First Clover Leaf may mutually agree to terminate the merger agreement and abandon the merger at any time. Subject to conditions and circumstances described in the merger agreement, either First Mid or First Clover Leaf may terminate the merger agreement as follows:

- any regulatory authority has denied approval of any of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement or issued a final nonappealable order that has the effect of making consummation of the merger illegal or otherwise preventing or prohibiting consummation of the merger, or any application for a necessary regulatory approval has been withdrawn at the request of a regulatory authority, provided that such right to terminate is not available to a party whose failure to perform or observe the covenants of the merger agreement has been the cause of the denial or withdrawal of regulatory approval;
- the merger is not completed by December 31, 2016 (which we refer to as the “outside date”), provided that such right to terminate is not available to a party whose failure to fulfill any of its obligations under the merger agreement has resulted in the failure of the merger to be completed before such date;

any stockholder approval necessary for the merger is not obtained; or any state or federal law, rule or regulation is adopted or issued and becomes effective and has the effect of prohibiting the merger.

In addition, First Clover Leaf may terminate the merger agreement as follows:

if First Clover Leaf is not in material breach of the merger agreement, and any of the representations or warranties of First Mid are or become untrue or inaccurate such that the conditions set forth in the merger agreement would not be satisfied or there has been a breach by First Mid of any of its covenants or agreements in the merger agreement causing it to fail to perform in all material respects all agreements required to be performed by it under the merger agreement, and, in either such case, such breach has not been, or cannot be, cured prior to the earlier of two business days before the outside date or thirty days after notice to First Mid from First Clover Leaf;

prior to First Clover Leaf's meeting of stockholders, in order to enter into an agreement with respect to an unsolicited superior proposal from a third party, provided that First Mid be provided with an opportunity, pursuant to procedures set forth in the merger agreement, to make an offer that is more favorable to the First Clover Leaf stockholders, and further provided that the termination fee is paid by First Clover Leaf to First Mid; or if at any time during the ten business day period starting on the twelfth business day immediately preceding the effective time of the merger, the average closing price of a share of First Mid common stock is less than $21.30 and decreases by more than 20% in relation to the NASDAQ Bank Index, First Clover Leaf will have the right to terminate the merger agreement unless First Mid elects to increase the exchange ratio pursuant to the formula described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement-Merger Consideration."

In addition, First Mid may terminate the merger agreement as follows:

if First Mid is not in material breach of the merger agreement, and any of the representations or warranties of First Clover Leaf are or become untrue or inaccurate such that the conditions set forth in the merger agreement would not be satisfied or there has been a breach by First Clover Leaf of any of its covenants or agreements in the merger agreement causing it to fail to perform in all material respects all agreements required to be performed by it under the merger agreement, and, in either such case, such breach has not been, or cannot be, cured prior to the earlier of two business days before the outside date or thirty days after notice to First Clover Leaf from First Mid; or prior to First Clover Leaf's stockholders meeting if First Clover Leaf's board of directors (i) approves or recommends, or proposes publicly to approve or recommend, any acquisition of First Clover Leaf by a third-party, and/or permits First Clover Leaf to enter into an acquisition agreement with a third party or (ii) recommends that the stockholders of First Clover Leaf tender their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock in an tender offer or exchange offer for First Clover Leaf common stock has commenced (other than by First Mid or its affiliates) or fails to recommend rejection of such offer within ten business days after its commencement.

A Termination fee may be payable by First Clover Leaf under some circumstances (See page 92)

First Clover Leaf has agreed to pay First Mid a termination fee of $3.6 million if the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, including if First Mid terminates the merger agreement because First Clover Leaf breaches its covenant not to solicit an acquisition proposal from a third party or if First Clover Leaf terminates the merger agreement in order to enter into an agreement for a superior proposal.

Voting agreement (See page 85)

On April 26, 2016, certain of the directors of First Clover Leaf agreed to vote all of their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock in favor of the merger agreement at the special meeting of First Clover Leaf stockholders. The voting agreement covers 1,030,533 shares of First Clover Leaf common stock, constituting approximately 14.7% of First Clover Leaf's outstanding shares of common stock as of April 26, 2016. This voting agreement terminates if the merger agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms. A copy of the form of voting agreement is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix C.

Accounting treatment of the merger (See page 68)

For accounting and financial reporting purposes, the merger will be accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting for business combinations in accordance with GAAP.

Certain differences in First Mid stockholder rights and First Clover Leaf stockholder rights (See page 145)

Because they will receive First Mid common stock, First Clover Leaf stockholders will become First Mid stockholders as a result of the merger. Their rights as stockholders after the merger will be governed by First Mid's certificate of incorporation and bylaws. The rights of First Mid stockholders are different in certain respects from the rights of First Clover Leaf's stockholders. The material differences are described later in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

First Mid shares will be listed on NASDAQ (See page 93)

The shares of First Mid common stock to be issued pursuant to the merger will be listed on the NASDAQ Global Market under the symbol "FMBH."

Risk Factors (See page 27)

You should consider all the information contained or incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus in deciding how to vote for the proposals presented. In particular, you should consider the factors described under "Risk Factors."

Financing (See page 75)

The merger agreement is not subject to any financing contingency. First Mid intends to finance the cash portion of the merger consideration through certain dividends from its subsidiaries, borrowings under its credit facility, as it may be amended, and cash on hand at First Mid.

SELECTED HISTORICAL CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL DATA OF FIRST MID

The following table summarizes selected historical consolidated financial data of First Mid for the periods and as of the dates indicated. This information has been derived from First Mid's consolidated financial statements filed with the SEC. Historical financial data as of and for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and March 31, 2015 are unaudited and include, in management's opinion, all normal recurring adjustments considered necessary to present fairly the results of operations and financial condition of First Mid. You should not assume the results of operations for past periods and for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and March 31, 2015 indicate results for any future period. You should read this information in conjunction with First Mid's consolidated financial statements and related notes thereto included in First Mid's Annual Report on Form 10-K as of and for the year ended December 31, 2015, and in First Mid's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q as of and for the three months ended March 31, 2016, which are incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. See "Incorporation of Certain First Mid Documents by Reference" and "Where You Can Find More Information" beginning on pages 154 and 153, respectively, of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

SUMMARY UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED COMBINED FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The following tables show unaudited pro forma financial information about the financial condition and results of operations of First Mid, including per share data, after giving effect to the merger with First Clover Leaf and other pro forma adjustments. The unaudited pro forma financial information assumes that the merger is accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting for business combinations in accordance with GAAP, and that the assets and liabilities of First Clover Leaf will be recorded by First Mid at their respective fair values as of the date the merger is completed. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined balance sheet gives effect to the merger as if the merger had occurred on March 31, 2016. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined income statements for the three months ended March 31, 2016, and the year ended December 31, 2015, give effect to the merger as if the merger had become effective at January 1, 2015. The unaudited selected pro forma combined financial information has been derived from and should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and related notes of First Mid and First Clover Leaf, which are incorporated by reference into, or included, in this joint proxy statement/prospectus by reference. See “Incorporation of Certain First Mid Documents by Reference” and “Where You Can Find More Information” beginning on pages 154 and 153, respectively of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, “Selected Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Information” beginning on page 140 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and “First Clover Leaf Financial Statements” beginning on page 155 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information is presented for illustrative purposes only and does not indicate the financial results of the combined company had the companies actually been combined at the beginning of each period presented. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information also does not consider any expense efficiencies, increased revenue or other potential financial benefits of the merger. In addition, as explained in more detail in the accompanying notes to the “Selected Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Condensed Consolidated Financial Information” beginning on page 140, the preliminary allocation of the pro forma purchase price reflected in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information is subject to adjustment and may vary significantly from the actual purchase price allocation that will be recorded upon completion of the merger.

UNAUDITED COMPARATIVE PER COMMON SHARE DATA

We have summarized below the per share information for our companies on a historical, pro forma combined and equivalent basis. This information was derived from First Mid's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015 and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the three months ended March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015, as amended by its Form 10-K/A filed with the SEC on April 28, 2016, and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and other documents that have been filed with the SEC by First Mid and by First Clover Leaf, which should be read in conjunction with this information. See "Incorporation of Certain First Mid Documents by Reference" and "Where You Can Find More Information" beginning on pages 154 and 153, respectively.

The pro forma combined information gives effect to the merger accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting for business combinations in accordance with GAAP. The pro forma calculations reflect that 25% of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock will be converted into the right to receive the per share cash consideration and 75% of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf will be converted into the right to receive the per share stock consideration and assume no adjustment to the merger consideration pursuant to the merger agreement. We assume that the merger occurred as of the beginning of the fiscal year or period presented (or in the case of book value, as of the date specified). The information is presented for illustrative purposes only. You should not rely on the pro forma information as being indicative of the historical results that we would have had if we had been combined or the future results that we will experience after the merger. The pro forma information, although helpful in illustrating the financial characteristics of the combined company under one set of assumptions, does not reflect the benefits of expected cost savings, opportunities to earn additional revenue, the impact of restructuring and merger-related costs, or other factors that may result as a consequence of the merger and, accordingly, does not attempt to predict or suggest future results.

The following table presents the closing prices of First Mid common stock and First Clover Leaf common stock on April 26, 2016, the trading day of public announcement of the merger agreement, and [], 2016, the last practicable trading day prior to the mailing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. The table also sets forth the implied per share value of the merger consideration constituting First Mid common stock proposed for each share of First Clover Leaf common stock as of the same two dates. This implied value was calculated by determining the value obtained by multiplying the closing sale price of First Mid common stock on the relevant date by the exchange ratio of 0.495.

The above table shows only historical comparisons. These comparisons may not provide meaningful information to First Mid or First Clover Leaf stockholders in determining whether to approve the merger agreement. First Clover Leaf stockholders are urged to obtain current market quotations for shares of First Mid common stock and First Clover Leaf common stock and to review carefully the other information contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus or incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus in considering whether to approve the merger agreement. The market prices of First Mid common stock and First Clover Leaf common stock will fluctuate between the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the date of completion of the merger. No assurance can be given concerning the market prices of First Clover Leaf common stock or First Mid common stock before or after the effective time of the merger. Changes in the market price of First Mid common stock prior to the completion of the merger will affect the per share market value of the merger consideration constituting First Mid common stock that First Clover Leaf stockholders will receive upon completion of the merger.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to general investment risks and the other information contained in or incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus, including the matters addressed under the section “Special Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements” beginning on page 33 you should carefully consider the following risk factors in deciding how to vote for the proposals presented in this joint proxy statement/prospectus. You should also consider the other information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the other documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. See “References to Additional Information” in the forepart of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the sections of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled “Incorporation of Certain First Mid Documents by Reference” beginning on page 154 and “Where You Can Find More Information” beginning on page 153.

Risks Related to the Merger and First Mid’s Business Upon Completion of the Merger

The Value of the Merger Consideration that Constitutes First Mid Common Stock will Fluctuate Based on the Price of First Mid Common Stock.

The merger consideration that First Clover Leaf stockholders will receive as First Mid common stock is a fixed number of shares of First Mid common stock; it is not a number of shares of First Mid common stock with a particular fixed market value. The market value of shares of First Mid common stock and First Clover Leaf common stock at the effective time of the merger may vary significantly from their respective values on the date the merger agreement was executed or at other dates, including the date on which First Clover Leaf stockholders vote on the adoption of the merger agreement. The market price of First Mid’s common stock could be subject to significant fluctuations due to changes in sentiment in the market regarding First Mid’s operations or business prospects, including market sentiment regarding First Mid’s entry into the merger agreement. These risks may be affected by, among other things:

- operating results that vary from the expectations of First Mid management or of securities analysts and investors;
- operating and securities price performance of companies that investors consider to be comparable to First Mid;
- announcements of strategic developments, acquisitions, dispositions, financings, and other material events by First Mid or its competitors; and
- changes in global financial markets and economies and general market conditions, such as interest or foreign exchange rates, stock, commodity, credit or asset valuations or volatility.

Stock price changes may also result from a variety of other factors, many of which are outside of the control of First Mid and First Clover Leaf, including changes in the business, operations or prospects of First Mid or First Clover Leaf, regulatory considerations, and general business, market, industry or economic conditions. Accordingly, at the time of the First Clover Leaf special meeting, First Clover Leaf stockholders will not know or be able to calculate the market value of the First Mid common shares they would receive upon the completion of the merger.

First Clover Leaf Stockholders May Receive a Form of Consideration Different from what they Elect.

Although each holder of First Clover Leaf common stock may elect to receive as consideration only shares of First Mid common stock, only cash or a combination of First Mid common stock and cash, the pool of the aggregate cash and shares of First Mid common stock representing merger consideration for all First Clover Leaf stockholders is fixed and no more than 25% of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock will be exchanged for cash and no more than 75% of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock will be exchanged for First Mid common stock. As a result, if either the aggregate cash elections or stock elections exceed the maximum availability, First Clover Leaf stockholders who elect the consideration that exceeds the maximum availability will receive some of their merger consideration in the form that they did not elect.

The Market Price of First Mid Common Stock after the Merger May be Affected by Factors Different from Those Affecting the Shares of First Clover Leaf or First Mid Currently.

Upon completion of the merger, holders of First Clover Leaf common stock will become holders of First Mid common stock. First Mid's business differs in important respects from that of First Clover Leaf and they currently operate in different markets. Accordingly, the results of operations of the combined company and the market price of First Mid common stock after the completion of the merger may be affected by factors different from those currently affecting the independent results of operations of each of First Mid and First Clover Leaf. For a discussion of the business and market of First Mid and of some important factors to consider in connection with its business, please see the documents incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and referred to under "Incorporation of Certain First Mid Documents by Reference." For a discussion of the business and market of First Clover Leaf and of some important factors to consider in connection with its business, please see "Business of First Clover Leaf." First Clover Leaf Stockholders Will Have a Reduced Ownership and Voting Interest After the Merger and Will Exercise Less Influence Over Management.

First Clover Leaf stockholders currently have the right to vote in the election of the First Clover Leaf board of directors and on other matters requiring stockholder approval under Maryland law and First Clover Leaf's articles of incorporation and bylaws. Upon the completion of the merger, each First Clover Leaf stockholder will become a stockholder of First Mid with a percentage ownership of First Mid that is smaller than such stockholder's percentage ownership of First Clover Leaf. Additionally, only one member of the First Mid board of directors after the completion of the merger will be designated by First Clover Leaf upon the completion of the merger. Based on the number of issued and outstanding shares of First Mid common stock and First Clover Leaf common stock on [], 2016, and the exchange ratio of 0.495 and the maximum aggregate number of shares of First Mid common stock available as merger consideration, and assuming no adjustment in the number of shares of First Mid common stock to be issued as merger consideration pursuant to the merger agreement, stockholders of First Clover Leaf, as a group, will receive shares in the merger constituting approximately []% of First Mid common shares expected to be outstanding immediately after the merger (without giving effect to any First Mid common shares held by First Clover Leaf stockholders prior to the merger). Because of this, current First Clover Leaf stockholders, as a group, will have less influence on the board of directors, management and policies of First Mid (as the combined company following the merger) than they now have on the board of directors, management and policies of First Clover Leaf.

A lawsuit has been filed against First Clover Leaf, certain executive officers of First Clover Leaf, certain members of First Clover Leaf's board of directors and First Mid and any adverse judgment in such lawsuit may prevent the merger from becoming effective or from becoming effective within the expected time frame.

First Clover Leaf, certain executive officers of First Clover Leaf, certain members of the First Clover Leaf board of directors and First Mid have been named as defendants in a purported class action lawsuit brought by an alleged First Clover Leaf individual stockholder challenging the merger and seeking, among other things, to enjoin the defendants from completing the merger pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement. One of the conditions to the completion of the merger is that no order, injunction or decree preventing the consummation of the merger shall have been issued by any court or agency of competent jurisdiction and be in effect. Consequently, if the plaintiff is successful in obtaining an injunction prohibiting the parties from completing the merger pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, such an injunction may prevent the completion of the merger in the expected time frame (or altogether), and any other adverse judgment could adversely affect the value of First Mid's common stock. See "The Merger-Legal Proceedings Related to the Merger."

First Mid May Fail to Realize the Anticipated Benefits of the Merger.

First Mid and First Clover Leaf have operated and, until the completion of the merger, will continue to operate, independently. The success of the merger, including anticipated benefits and cost savings, will depend on, among other things, First Mid's ability to combine the businesses of First Mid and First Clover Leaf in a manner that permits growth opportunities, including, among other things, enhanced revenues and revenue synergies, an expanded market reach and operating efficiencies, and does not materially disrupt the existing customer relationships of First Mid or First Clover Leaf nor result in decreased revenues due to any loss of customers. If First Mid is not able to successfully achieve these objectives, the anticipated benefits of the merger may not be realized fully or at all or may take longer to realize than expected. Failure to achieve these anticipated benefits could result in increased costs, decreases in the amount of expected revenues and diversion of management's time and energy and could have an adverse effect on the surviving corporation's business, financial condition, operating results and prospects.

Certain employees may not be employed by First Mid after the merger. In addition, employees that First Mid wishes to retain may elect to terminate their employment as a result of the merger, which could delay or disrupt the integration process. It is possible that the integration process could result in the disruption of First Mid's or First Clover Leaf's ongoing businesses or cause inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures and policies that adversely affect the ability of First Mid or First Clover Leaf to maintain relationships with customers and employees or to achieve the anticipated benefits and cost savings of the merger.

Among the factors considered by the boards of directors of First Mid and First Clover Leaf in connection with their respective approvals of the merger agreement were the benefits that could result from the merger. There can be no assurance that these benefits will be realized within the time periods contemplated or at all.

Regulatory Approvals May Not Be Received, May Take Longer than Expected or May Impose Conditions that Are Not Presently Anticipated or Cannot Be Met.

Before the transactions contemplated in the merger agreement can be completed, various approvals must be obtained from bank regulatory agencies and other governmental authorities. In deciding whether to grant antitrust or regulatory clearances, the relevant governmental entities will consider a variety of factors, including the regulatory standing of each of the parties. An adverse development in either party's regulatory standing or other factors could result in an inability to obtain one or more of the required regulatory approvals or delay their receipt. The terms and conditions of the approvals that are granted may impose requirements, limitations or costs or place restrictions on the conduct of the combined company's business. First Mid and First Clover Leaf believe that the merger should not raise significant regulatory concerns and that First Mid will be able to obtain all requisite regulatory approvals in a timely manner. Despite the parties' commitments to use their reasonable and diligent efforts to comply with conditions imposed by regulatory entities, under the terms of the merger agreement, First Mid and First Clover Leaf will not be required to take actions that would reasonably be expected to materially restrict or burden First Mid following the merger. There can be no assurance that regulators will not impose conditions, terms, obligations or restrictions and that such conditions, terms, obligations or restrictions will not have the effect of delaying the completion of the merger, imposing additional material costs on or materially limiting the revenues of the combined company following the merger or otherwise reduce the anticipated benefits of the merger if the merger were consummated successfully within the expected time frame. In addition, neither First Mid nor First Clover Leaf can provide assurance that any such conditions, terms, obligations or restrictions will not result in the delay or abandonment of the merger. Additionally, the completion of the merger is conditioned on the absence of certain orders, injunctions or decrees by any court or regulatory agency of competent jurisdiction that would prohibit or make illegal the completion of the merger.

The Merger Agreement May Be Terminated in Accordance with Its Terms and the Merger May Not Be Completed. The merger agreement is subject to a number of conditions which must be fulfilled in order to complete the merger. Those conditions include, among other things: approval of the merger agreement and the transactions it contemplates by First Clover Leaf and First Mid stockholders, receipt of certain requisite regulatory approvals, absence of orders prohibiting completion of the merger, effectiveness of the registration statement of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part, the accuracy of the representations and warranties by both parties (subject to the materiality standards set forth in the merger agreement) and the performance by both parties of their covenants and agreements, and the receipt by both parties of legal opinions from their respective tax counsels. These conditions to the closing of the merger may not be fulfilled in a timely manner or at all, and, accordingly, the merger may not be completed. In addition, the parties can mutually decide to terminate the merger agreement at any time, before or after stockholder approval, or First Mid or First Clover Leaf may elect to terminate the merger agreement in certain other circumstances.

Termination of the Merger Agreement Could Negatively Impact First Clover Leaf.

If the merger is not completed for any reason, including as a result of First Clover Leaf stockholders or First Mid stockholders declining to approve the merger agreement, the ongoing business of First Clover Leaf may be adversely impacted and, without realizing any of the anticipated benefits of completing the merger, First Clover Leaf would be subject to a number of risks, including the following:

First Clover Leaf may experience negative reactions from the financial markets, including negative impacts on its stock price (including to the extent that the current market price reflects a market assumption that the merger will be completed);

First Clover Leaf may experience negative reactions from its customers, vendors and employees;

First Clover Leaf will have incurred substantial expenses and will be required to pay certain costs relating to the merger, whether or not the merger is completed;

the merger agreement places certain restrictions on the conduct of First Clover Leaf's businesses prior to completion of the merger. Such restrictions, the waiver of which is subject to the consent of First Mid (not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), may prevent First Clover Leaf from making certain acquisitions or taking certain other specified actions during the pendency of the merger; and matters relating to the merger (including integration planning) will require substantial commitments of time and resources by First Clover Leaf management, which would otherwise have been devoted to other opportunities that may have been beneficial to First Clover Leaf as an independent company.

If the merger agreement is terminated and the First Clover Leaf board of directors seeks another merger or business combination, First Clover Leaf stockholders cannot be certain that First Clover Leaf will be able to find a party willing to offer equivalent or more attractive consideration than the consideration First Mid has agreed to provide in the merger, or that such other merger or business combination will be completed. Additionally, if the merger agreement is terminated and the First Clover Leaf board of directors seeks another merger or business combination, under certain circumstances First Clover Leaf may be required to pay First Mid a termination fee of $3.6 million.

First Clover Leaf Will Be Subject to Business Uncertainties and Contractual Restrictions While the Merger Is Pending.

Uncertainty about the effect of the merger on employees and customers may have an adverse effect on First Clover Leaf and, consequently, on First Mid. These uncertainties may impair First Clover Leaf's ability to attract, retain and motivate key personnel until the merger is completed, and could cause customers and others that deal with First Clover Leaf to seek to change existing business relationships with First Clover Leaf. Retention of certain employees may be challenging during the pendency of the merger, as certain employees may experience uncertainty about their future roles. If key employees depart because of issues relating to the uncertainty and difficulty of integration or a desire not to remain with the business, First Mid's business following the merger could be negatively impacted. In addition, the merger agreement restricts First Clover Leaf from making certain transactions and taking other specified actions without the consent of First Mid until the merger occurs. These restrictions may prevent First Clover Leaf from pursuing attractive business opportunities that may arise prior to the completion of the merger.

First Clover Leaf Directors and Officers May Have Interests in the Merger Different From the Interests of First Clover Leaf Stockholders.

The interests of some of the directors and executive officers of First Clover Leaf may be different from those of First Clover Leaf stockholders, and the directors and officers of First Clover Leaf may be participants in arrangements that are different from, or are in addition to, those of First Clover Leaf stockholders. The members of the First Clover Leaf's board of directors knew about these additional interests and considered them among other matters, when making its decision to approve the merger agreement, and in recommending that First Clover Leaf's common stockholders vote in favor of adopting the merger agreement. Such interests include, among others:

- the receipt of certain change in control benefits;
- extending offers of employment to certain named executive officers;
- entering into a severance and retention arrangement with certain named executive officers; and
- the continuation of service on First Mid's board of directors of one First Clover Leaf director.

These interests are more fully described in this joint proxy statement-prospectus under the heading "The Merger-interests of certain persons in the merger" on page 69.

The Merger Agreement Contains Provisions that May Discourage Other Companies from Trying to Acquire First Clover Leaf for Greater Merger Consideration.

The merger agreement contains provisions that may discourage a third party from submitting a business combination proposal to First Clover Leaf that might result in greater value to First Clover Leaf's stockholders than the proposed merger with First Mid or may result in a potential competing acquirer proposing to pay a lower per share price to acquire First Clover Leaf than it might otherwise have proposed to pay absent such provisions. These provisions include a general prohibition on First Clover Leaf from soliciting, or, subject to certain exceptions relating to the exercise of fiduciary duties by First Clover Leaf's board of directors, entering into discussions with any third party regarding any acquisition proposal or offers for competing transactions. First Clover Leaf also has an unqualified obligation to submit the proposal to approve the merger to a vote by its stockholders, even if First Clover Leaf receives an alternative acquisition proposal that its board of directors believes is superior to the merger, unless the merger agreement has been terminated in accordance with its terms. In addition, First Clover Leaf may be required to pay First Mid a termination fee of $3.6 million upon termination of the merger agreement in certain circumstances involving acquisition proposals for competing transactions. See "Description of the Merger Agreement-Termination" beginning on page 91 and "Description of the Merger Agreement-Termination fees" beginning on page 92.

The Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Condensed Consolidated Financial Information Included in This Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus Is Preliminary and the Actual Financial Condition and Results of Operations After the Merger May Differ Materially.

The unaudited pro forma financial information included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is presented for illustrative purposes only and is not necessarily indicative of what the combined company's actual financial position or results of operations would have been had the merger been completed on the date(s) indicated. The preparation of the pro forma financial information is based upon available information and certain assumptions and estimates that First Mid and First Clover Leaf currently believe are reasonable. The unaudited pro forma financial information reflects adjustments, which are based upon preliminary estimates, to allocate the purchase price to First Clover Leaf's net assets. The purchase price allocation reflected in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is preliminary, and the final allocation of the purchase price will be based upon the actual purchase price and the fair value of the assets and liabilities of First Clover Leaf as of the date of the completion of the merger. In addition, following the completion of the merger, there may be further refinements of the purchase price allocation as additional information becomes available. Accordingly, the final purchase accounting adjustments may differ materially from the pro forma adjustments reflected in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The Respective Opinions of First Mid and First Clover Leaf's Financial Advisors Will Not Reflect Changes in Circumstances Between the Signing of the Merger Agreement and the Completion of the Merger.

Neither First Mid nor First Clover Leaf has obtained an updated opinion from its respective financial advisor as of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Changes in the operations and prospects of First Clover Leaf or First Mid, general market and economic conditions and other factors that may be beyond the control of First Clover Leaf or First Mid, and on which the opinions of the financial advisors of First Mid and First Clover Leaf were based, may significantly alter the value of First Clover Leaf or the prices of First Mid common stock or First Clover Leaf common stock by the time the merger is completed. The opinion does not speak as of the time the merger will be completed or as of any date other than the date of such opinion. Because neither First Mid nor First Clover Leaf currently anticipates asking its financial advisor to update its opinion, the opinions will not address the fairness of the merger consideration from a financial point of view at the time the merger is completed.

First Mid and First Clover Leaf Will Incur Transaction and Integration Costs in Connection with the Merger.

Each of First Mid and First Clover Leaf has incurred and expects that it will incur significant, non-recurring costs in connection with consummating the merger. In addition, First Mid will incur integration costs following the completion of the merger as First Mid integrates the businesses of the two companies, including facilities and systems consolidation costs and employment-related costs. There can be no assurances that the expected benefits and efficiencies related to the integration of the businesses will be realized to offset these transaction and integration costs over time. See the risk factor entitled “-First Mid May Fail to Realize the Anticipated Benefits of the Merger” on page 28. First Mid and First Clover Leaf may also incur additional costs to maintain employee morale and to retain key employees. First Mid and First Clover Leaf will also incur significant legal, financial advisor, accounting, banking and consulting fees, fees relating to regulatory filings and notices, SEC filing fees, printing and mailing fees and other costs associated with the merger.

The shares of First Mid common stock to be received by First Clover Leaf common stockholders as a result of the merger will have different rights from the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock.

Upon completion of the merger, First Clover Leaf common stockholders who receive merger consideration constituting First Mid common stock will become First Mid stockholders and their rights as stockholders will be governed by the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (which we refer to as the “DGCL”) and First Mid's certificate of incorporation and bylaws. The rights associated with First Clover Leaf common stock are different from the rights associated with First Mid common stock. Please see “Comparison of Rights of First Mid Stockholders and First Clover Leaf Stockholders” beginning on page 145 for a discussion of the different rights associated with First Mid common stock.

Risks Relating to First Mid's Business

You should read and consider risk factors specific to First Mid's business that will also affect the combined company after the merger. These risks are described in the sections entitled “Risk Factors” in First Mid's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015, and in other documents incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. Please see the sections entitled “Incorporation of Certain First Mid Documents by Reference” and “Where You Can Find More Information” beginning on pages 154 and 153, respectively, of this joint proxy statement/prospectus for the location of information incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

SPECIAL NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This joint proxy statement/prospectus, and the documents to which this joint proxy statement/prospectus refer, contain certain forward-looking statements, such as discussions of pricing and fee trends, credit quality and outlook, liquidity, new business results, expansion plans, anticipated expenses and planned schedules of First Mid and First Clover Leaf. Such forward-looking statements are intended to be covered by the safe harbor provisions for forward-looking statements contained in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements, which are based on certain assumptions and describe future plans, strategies and expectations of First Mid and First Clover Leaf, are identified by use of the words “believe,” “expect,” “intend,” “anticipate,” “estimate,” “project,” or similar expressions. Actual results could differ materially from the results indicated by these statements because the realization of those results is subject to many risks and uncertainties, including, among other things,

- the possibility that any of the anticipated benefits of the proposed transactions between First Mid and First Clover Leaf will not be realized or will not be realized within the expected time period;
- the risk that integration of the operations of First Clover Leaf with First Mid will be materially delayed or will be more costly or difficult than expected;
- the inability to complete the proposed transactions due to the failure to obtain the required stockholder approvals;
- the failure to satisfy other conditions to completion of the proposed transactions, including receipt of required regulatory and other approvals;
- the failure of the proposed transactions to close for any other reason;
- the effect of the announcement of the transaction on customer relationships and operating results;
- the possibility that the transaction may be more expensive to complete than anticipated, including as a result of unexpected factors or events;
- changes in interest rates;
- general economic conditions and those in the market areas of First Mid and First Clover Leaf;
- legislative/regulatory changes; monetary and fiscal policies of the U.S. Government, including policies of the U.S. Treasury and the Federal Reserve;
- the quality or composition of First Mid’s and First Clover Leaf’s loan or investment portfolios and the valuation of those investment portfolios;
- success in raising capital by First Mid;
- demand for loan products; deposit flows;
- competition, demand for financial services in the market areas of First Mid and First Clover Leaf; and
- accounting principles, policies and guidelines.

These risks and uncertainties should be considered in evaluations of forward-looking statements and undue reliance should not be placed on such statements. Additional information concerning First Mid and First Clover Leaf, including additional factors and risks that could materially affect First Mid's and First Clover Leaf's financial results, are included in First Mid's and First Clover Leaf's filings with the SEC, including their Annual Reports on Form 10-K. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made. Except as required under the federal securities laws or the rules and regulations of the SEC, we do not undertake any obligation to update or review any forward-looking information, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE SPECIAL MEETING OF FIRST CLOVER LEAF STOCKHOLDERS

Purpose

First Clover Leaf stockholders are receiving this joint proxy statement/prospectus because on [], 2016, the record date for a special meeting of stockholders to be held on [], 2016, at [] at [], local time, they owned shares of the common stock of First Clover Leaf, and the board of directors of First Clover Leaf is soliciting proxies for the matters to be voted on at this special meeting, as described in more detail below. Each copy of this joint proxy statement/prospectus was mailed to holders of First Clover Leaf common stock on [], 2016, and is accompanied by a proxy card for use at the meeting and at any adjournment(s) of the meeting.

At the special meeting, the First Clover Leaf board of directors will ask you to vote upon the following:

- a proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein;
- a proposal to approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation that certain executive officers of First Clover Leaf may receive in connection with the merger proposal pursuant to existing agreements or arrangements with First Clover Leaf; and
- a proposal to approve an adjournment of the special meeting to permit further solicitation in the event that an insufficient number of votes are cast to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

When you sign the enclosed proxy card or otherwise vote pursuant to the instructions set forth on the proxy card, you appoint the proxy holder as your representative at the special meeting. The proxy holder will vote your shares as you have instructed in the proxy card, thereby ensuring that your shares will be voted whether or not you attend the special meeting. Even if you plan to attend the special meeting, we ask that you instruct the proxies how to vote your shares in advance of the special meeting just in case your plans change.

If you have not already done so, please complete, date and sign the accompanying proxy card and return it promptly in the enclosed, postage paid envelope or otherwise vote pursuant to the instructions set forth on the proxy card. Instead of voting by mailing a proxy card, record stockholders can vote their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock via the Internet or by telephone. The Internet and telephone voting procedures are designed to authenticate stockholders' identities, allow stockholders to provide their voting instructions and confirm that their instructions have been recorded properly. Specific instructions for Internet or telephone voting are set forth on the enclosed proxy card. If you do not vote your shares as instructed on the proxy card, or if you do not attend and cast your vote at the special meeting, the effect will be a vote against the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

Record date, shares entitled to vote, required vote, quorum

The record date for the First Clover Leaf special meeting is []. First Clover Leaf's stockholders of record as of the close of business on that day will receive notice of and will be entitled to vote at the special meeting. As of the record date, there were [] shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding and entitled to vote at the meeting. The outstanding shares are held by approximately [] holders of record.

The presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote on the merger agreement is necessary to constitute a quorum at the meeting. Each share of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding on the record date entitles its holder to one vote on the matters being brought before the special meeting.

To determine the presence of a quorum at the meeting, First Clover Leaf will also count as present at the meeting broker non-votes, the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock present in person but not voting, and the shares of common stock for which First Clover Leaf has received proxies but with respect to which the holders of such shares have abstained or signed without providing instructions. Based on the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding as of the record date, at least [] shares need to be present at the special meeting, whether in person or by proxy, to constitute a quorum.

Approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote. Abstentions, shares not voted and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote against the merger proposal. Approval of the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal and the proposal to adjourn the special meeting also requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock entitled to vote. Abstentions, shares not voted and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote against the proposals.

As of the record date for the meeting, First Clover Leaf's directors and executive officers beneficially owned a total of [] shares, or approximately []% of the outstanding shares, of First Clover Leaf common stock. We anticipate that these individuals will vote their shares in favor of the merger agreement. Certain of these individuals have entered into a written agreement with First Mid that they will vote their shares in favor of the merger agreement, except as may be limited by their fiduciary obligations.

How to vote your shares

Instead of voting by completing, signing and returning the enclosed proxy card, stockholders of record can vote their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock via the Internet or by telephone. The Internet and telephone voting procedures are designed to authenticate stockholders' identities, allow stockholders to provide their voting instructions and confirm that their instructions have been recorded properly. Specific instructions for Internet or telephone voting are set forth on the enclosed proxy card. The deadline for voting by telephone or via the Internet is [], [] time, on [], 2016.

If you properly complete and timely submit your proxy, your shares will be voted as you have directed. You may vote for, against, or abstain with respect to the approval of the merger and the other proposals. If you are the record holder of your shares and submit your proxy without specifying a voting instruction, your shares will be voted as the First Clover Leaf board of directors recommends and will be voted "FOR" approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, "FOR" the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal and "FOR" the adjournment of the special meeting to permit further solicitation in the event that an insufficient number of votes are cast to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. If you do not vote your shares as instructed on the proxy card, or if you do not attend and cast your vote at the special meeting, it will have no effect.

You should send your stock certificates to the exchange agent with your election form prior to the election deadline. Shares held in "street name"

If you hold shares in "street name" with a broker, bank or other fiduciary, you will receive voting instructions from the holder of record of your shares. Under the rules of various national and regional securities exchanges, brokers, banks and other fiduciaries may generally vote your shares on routine matters, such as the ratification of an independent registered public accounting firm, even if you provide no instructions, but may not vote on non-routine matters, such as the matters being brought before the special meeting, unless you provide voting instructions. Shares for which a broker does not have the authority to vote are recorded as "broker non-votes" and are not counted in the vote by stockholders, but will count for purposes of a quorum. As a result, any broker non-votes will have the practical effect of a vote against the merger proposal, the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal and the adjournment proposal. We therefore encourage you to provide directions to your broker, bank or other fiduciary as to how you want your shares voted on all matters to be brought before the special meeting. You should do this by carefully following the instructions your broker gives you concerning its procedures. Your broker, bank or other fiduciary may allow you to deliver your voting instructions via the telephone or the Internet. Please see the instruction form provided by your broker, bank or other fiduciary that accompanies this proxy statement. If you wish to change your voting instructions after you have returned your voting instruction form to your broker, bank or other fiduciary, you must contact your broker, bank or other fiduciary. If you want to vote your shares of First Clover Leaf common stock held in street name in person at the special meeting, you will need to obtain a written proxy in your name from your broker, bank or other fiduciary.

Revocation of proxies

You may revoke your proxy at any time before it is voted by filing with the Secretary of First Clover Leaf a duly executed revocation of proxy, submitting a new proxy with a later date; or voting in person at the special meeting. Attendance at the special meeting will not, in and of itself, constitute a revocation of a proxy.

All written notices of revocation and other communication with respect to the revocation of proxies should be addressed to: First Clover Leaf Financial Corp., Corporate Secretary, 6814 Goshen Road, P.O. Box 540, Edwardsville, Illinois 62025. If you hold your shares in the name of a broker, bank or other fiduciary and desire to revoke your proxy, you will need to contact your broker, bank or other fiduciary to revoke your proxy.

Proxy solicitation

In addition to this mailing, proxies may be solicited by directors, officers or employees of First Clover Leaf in person or by telephone or electronic transmission. None of such directors, officers or employees will be directly compensated for such services. First Clover Leaf will pay the costs associated with the solicitation of proxies for the special meeting.

THE FIRST CLOVER LEAF PROPOSALS

Proposal 1-Approval of the Merger Agreement

At the First Clover Leaf special meeting, stockholders of First Clover Leaf will be asked to approve the merger agreement, pursuant to which First Clover Leaf will merge with and into First Mid, and the transactions contemplated therein. Stockholders of First Clover Leaf should read this joint proxy statement/prospectus carefully and in its entirety, including the appendices, for more detailed information concerning the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. A copy of the merger agreement is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix A.

For the reasons discussed in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, the board of directors of First Clover Leaf unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein are in the best interests of First Clover Leaf and its stockholders, and unanimously adopted and approved the merger agreement. The board of directors of First Clover Leaf unanimously recommends that First Clover Leaf stockholders vote "FOR" approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

Proposal 2-First Clover Leaf Compensation Proposal

In accordance with Section 14A of the Exchange Act, First Clover Leaf is providing its stockholders with the opportunity to cast an advisory (non-binding) vote on certain compensation that may become payable to its named executive officers that is based on or otherwise relates to the merger, the value of which is set forth in the table included in the section of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled "The Merger-Merger-related compensation for First Clover Leaf's named executive officers." As required by Section 14A of the Exchange Act, and the applicable SEC rules issued thereunder, First Clover Leaf is asking its stockholders to vote on the approval of the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that the compensation that may be paid or become payable to First Clover Leaf's named executive officers that is based on or otherwise relates to the merger, as disclosed in the table and associated narrative discussion in the section of the proxy statement and prospectus entitled "The Merger-Merger-related compensation for First Clover Leaf's named executive officers," is hereby APPROVED."

Approval of the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of the majority of shares votes cast without regard to broker non-votes or proxies marked "ABSTAIN." The vote on the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal is a vote separate and apart from the vote on the merger. Accordingly, a First Clover Leaf stockholder may vote to approve the merger and vote not to approve the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal and vice versa.

Because the vote on the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal is advisory in nature only, it will not be binding on either First Cover Leaf or First Mid. Accordingly, because First Clover Leaf is contractually obligated to pay the compensation described in the section of this proxy statement and prospectus entitled "The Merger-Merger-related compensation for First Clover Leaf's named executive officers," such compensation will be payable, subject only to the conditions applicable thereto, if the merger is approved and the merger is completed, regardless of the outcome of the advisory vote.

The Board of Directors of First Clover Leaf unanimously recommends a vote "FOR" the First Clover Leaf compensation proposal.

Proposal 3-Adjournment of the Special Meeting

If, at the First Clover Leaf special meeting, the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock cast in favor of the merger agreement is insufficient to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, First Clover Leaf intends to move to adjourn the First Clover Leaf special meeting in order to enable the board of directors of First Clover Leaf to solicit additional proxies for approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. In this proposal, First Clover Leaf is asking its stockholders to authorize the holder of any proxy solicited by the board of directors of First Clover Leaf, on a discretionary basis, to vote in favor of adjourning the First Clover Leaf special meeting to another time and place for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies.

The board of directors of First Clover Leaf unanimously recommends a vote "FOR" the proposal to adjourn the special meeting.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE SPECIAL MEETING OF FIRST MID STOCKHOLDERS

Purpose

First Mid stockholders are receiving this joint proxy statement/prospectus because on [], 2016, the record date for a special meeting of stockholders to be held on [], 2016, at [] at [], local time, they owned shares of the common stock of First Mid, and the board of directors of First Mid is soliciting proxies for the matters to be voted on at this special meeting, as described in more detail below. Each copy of this joint proxy statement/prospectus was mailed to holders of First Mid common stock on [], 2016, and is accompanied by a proxy card for use at the meeting and at any adjournment(s) of the meeting.

At the special meeting, the First Mid board of directors will ask you to vote upon the following:

• a proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger; and

• a proposal to approve an adjournment of the special meeting to permit further solicitation in the event that an insufficient number of votes are cast to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

When you sign the enclosed proxy card or otherwise vote pursuant to the instructions set forth on the proxy card, you appoint the proxy holder as your representative at the special meeting. The proxy holder will vote your shares as you have instructed in the proxy card, thereby ensuring that your shares will be voted whether or not you attend the special meeting. Even if you plan to attend the special meeting, we ask that you instruct the proxies how to vote your shares in advance of the special meeting just in case your plans change.

If you have not already done so, please complete, date and sign the accompanying proxy card and return it promptly in the enclosed, postage paid envelope or otherwise vote pursuant to the instructions set forth on the proxy card. Instead of voting by mailing a proxy card, record stockholders can vote their shares of First Mid common stock via the Internet or by telephone. The Internet and telephone voting procedures are designed to authenticate stockholders' identities, allow stockholders to provide their voting instructions and confirm that their instructions have been recorded properly. Specific instructions for Internet or telephone voting are set forth on the enclosed proxy card. If you do not vote your shares as instructed on the proxy card, or if you do not attend and cast your vote at the special meeting, the effect will be a vote against the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

Record date, shares entitled to vote, required vote, quorum

The record date for the First Mid special meeting is []. First Mid's stockholders of record as of the close of business on that day will receive notice of and will be entitled to vote at the special meeting. As of the record date, there were [] shares of First Mid common stock outstanding and entitled to vote at the meeting. The outstanding shares are held by approximately [] holders of record.

To determine the presence of a quorum at the meeting, First Mid will also count as present at the meeting broker non-votes, the shares of First Mid common stock present in person but not voting, and the shares of common stock for which First Mid has received proxies but with respect to which the holders of such shares have abstained or signed without providing instructions. Based on the number of shares of First Mid common stock outstanding as of the record date, at least [] shares need to be present at the special meeting, whether in person or by proxy, to constitute a quorum.

Approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of First Mid common stock entitled to vote. Abstentions, shares not voted and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote against the merger proposal. Approval of the proposal to adjourn the special meeting requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast for the proposal.

Abstentions are deemed to be votes cast and thereby have the same effect as a vote against the adjournment proposal. Shares not voted and broker non-votes will have no effect on this proposal.

As of the record date for the meeting, First Mid's directors and executive officers beneficially owned a total of [] shares, or approximately []% of the outstanding shares, of First Mid common stock. We anticipate that these individuals will vote their shares in favor of the merger agreement.

How to vote your shares

Instead of voting by completing, signing and returning the enclosed proxy card, stockholders of record can vote their shares of First Mid common stock via the Internet or by telephone. The Internet and telephone voting procedures are designed to authenticate stockholders' identities, allow stockholders to provide their voting instructions and confirm that their instructions have been recorded properly. If you want to vote your shares of First Mid common stock held in street name in person at the special meeting, you will need to obtain a written proxy in your name from your broker, bank or other fiduciary.

Revocation of proxies

You may revoke your proxy at any time before it is voted by filing with the Secretary of First Mid a duly executed revocation of proxy, submitting a new proxy with a later date; or voting in person at the special meeting. Attendance at the special meeting will not, in and of itself, constitute a revocation of a proxy.

All written notices of revocation and other communication with respect to the revocation of proxies should be addressed to: First Mid-Illinois, Bancshares, Inc., Corporate Secretary, 1421 Charleston Avenue, P.O. Box 499, Mattoon, Illinois 61938. If you hold your shares in the name of a broker, bank or other fiduciary and desire to revoke your proxy, you will need to contact your broker, bank or other fiduciary to revoke your proxy.

Proxy solicitation

In addition to this mailing, proxies may be solicited by directors, officers or employees of First Mid in person or by telephone or electronic transmission. None of such directors, officers or employees will be directly compensated for such services. First Mid will pay the costs associated with the solicitation of proxies for the special meeting.

THE FIRST MID PROPOSALS

Proposal 1-Approval of the Merger Agreement and the Share Issuance

At the First Mid special meeting, stockholders of First Mid will be asked to approve the merger agreement, pursuant to which First Clover Leaf will merge with and into First Mid, and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger. Stockholders of First Mid should read this joint proxy statement/prospectus carefully and in its entirety, including the appendices, for more detailed information concerning the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. A copy of the merger agreement is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix A.

For the reasons discussed in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, the board of directors of First Mid determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger, are in the best interests of First Mid and its stockholders, and adopted and approved the merger agreement. The board of directors of First Mid recommends that First Mid stockholders vote "FOR" approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger.

Proposal 2-Adjournment of the Special Meeting

If, at the First Mid special meeting, the insufficient number of shares of First Mid common stock cast in favor of the merger agreement is insufficient to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, First Mid intends to move to adjourn the First Mid special meeting in order to enable the board of directors of First Mid to solicit additional proxies for approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein. In this proposal, First Mid is asking its stockholders to authorize the holder of any proxy solicited by the board of directors of First Mid, on a discretionary basis, to vote in favor of adjourning the First Mid special meeting to another time and place for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies.

The board of directors of First Mid recommends a vote "FOR" the proposal to adjourn the special meeting.

THE MERGER

This section of the joint proxy statement/prospectus describes material aspects of the merger. While First Mid and First Clover Leaf believe that the description covers the material terms of the merger and the related transactions, this summary may not contain all of the information that is important to you. You should carefully read this entire joint proxy statement/prospectus, the attached Appendices and the other documents to which this joint proxy statement/prospectus refers for a more complete understanding of the merger. The agreement and plan of merger attached hereto as Appendix A, not this summary, is the legal document which governs the merger.

General

The boards of directors of First Mid and First Clover Leaf are using this joint proxy statement/prospectus to solicit proxies from the holders of First Mid and First Clover Leaf common stock for use at the First Mid and First Clover Leaf special meetings of stockholders at which First Mid and First Clover Leaf stockholders will be asked to vote on approval of the merger agreement and thereby approve the merger. When the merger is consummated, First Clover Leaf will merge with and into First Mid and will cease to exist, which will result in First Clover Leaf Bank being a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Mid. The merger is anticipated to be completed in the second half of 2016. At a date following the completion of the merger, First Mid intends to merge First Clover Leaf Bank with and into First Mid Bank, with First Mid Bank as the surviving bank. At such time, First Clover Leaf Bank's banking offices will become banking offices of First Mid Bank. Until the banks are merged, First Mid will own and operate First Clover Leaf Bank and First Mid Bank as separate bank subsidiaries.

Under the merger agreement, the officers and directors of First Mid serving at the effective time of the merger will continue to serve as the officers and directors of First Mid after the merger is consummated, provided that, subject to any necessary approvals, First Mid shall take all appropriate action, subject to and in accordance with the respective bylaws of First Mid and First Clover Leaf, to appoint one individual currently serving on First Clover Leaf's board of directors and mutually agreeable to the parties to First Mid's board of directors, effective at the effective time of the merger and to appoint one individual currently serving on First Clover Leaf Bank's board of directors and mutually agreeable to the parties to First Mid Bank's board of directors, effective at the effective time of the bank merger. Each share of First Clover Leaf common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger (other than shares owned by First Clover Leaf as treasury stock or otherwise owned by First Clover Leaf or First Mid and any dissenting shares), will be converted into the right to receive, at the election of each stockholder, either (a) $12.87 or (b) 0.495 shares of common stock, par value $4.00 per share, of First Mid, subject to certain adjustments and proration, as set forth in the merger agreement. Only whole shares of First Mid common stock will be issued in the merger. As a result, cash will be paid instead of any fractional shares in an amount, rounded to the nearest whole cent, determined by multiplying $12.87 by the fractional share of First Mid common stock to which such former holder of First Clover Leaf common stock would otherwise be entitled. The maximum number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be converted into cash consideration will equal 25% of the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger. The maximum number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be converted into stock consideration will equal 75% of the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger. Shares of First Clover Leaf common stock held by First Clover Leaf stockholders who elect to exercise their dissenters' rights will not be converted into merger consideration.

Background of the merger

First Clover Leaf's board of directors and management has regularly reviewed and discussed its business strategy, performance and prospects in the context of the economic environment, developments in the regulation of financial institutions and the competitive landscape. Among other things, these discussions have included possible strategic alternatives available to First Clover Leaf, including possible acquisitions or business combinations involving other financial institutions. In connection with First Clover Leaf's regular and ongoing evaluation of strategic alternatives, members of management and the board of directors have had, from time to time, discussions with representatives of other financial institutions about possible transactions and have regularly updated the board regarding such discussions. First Clover Leaf has also consulted with its legal and financial advisors regarding various possible transactions.

First Mid's board of directors and management regularly reviews and discusses acquisition opportunities and strategies for growth as part of its ongoing efforts to strengthen its businesses and improve its operations and performance in order to create value for its stockholders, including reviewing strategic alternatives with its investment banking and financial advisor, FIG Partners, LLC ("FIG"), and its outside legal counsel, Schiff Hardin LLP ("Schiff Hardin"). Among other things, these discussions have included dialogue about possible strategic opportunities for growth available to First Mid and potential acquisitions or business combinations involving various other financial institutions.

On July 27, 2012, William Rowland, who was then the Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of First Mid, and Dennis Terry, who was then the President and Chief Executive Officer of First Clover Leaf, met at First Clover Leaf's headquarters in Edwardsville, Illinois for an introductory meeting. During this meeting, Mr. Rowland mentioned First Mid's potential interest in expanding into First Clover Leaf's market territory and asked that First Clover Leaf keep First Mid in mind for strategic options in the future. On September 7, 2012, Mr. Terry met with Mr. Rowland and expressed interest in continuing discussions with First Mid.

On January 22, 2013, Mr. Rowland, accompanied by Joseph Dively, who was then First Mid's Senior Executive Vice President, met with the First Clover Leaf board of directors and discussed the history and financial performance of First Mid. At this meeting, First Clover Leaf requested that First Mid submit an acquisition proposal.

At the February 26, 2013 regularly scheduled meeting of the First Mid board of directors, Mr. Rowland discussed and presented a draft of a non-binding indication of interest setting forth the terms on which First Mid would offer to acquire First Clover Leaf. The terms included a price between $10.25 and $10.75 per share, subject to certain conditions, including satisfactory completion of due diligence and the negotiation of a mutually agreeable definitive agreement. Following discussion, the First Mid board of directors approved the non-binding indication of interest and First Mid delivered it to First Clover Leaf.

On March 1, 2013, Mr. Terry called Mr. Rowland and informed him that First Clover Leaf had determined to remain independent and, accordingly, did not accept First Mid's acquisition proposal.

On October 24, 2013, Mr. Dively and Mike Taylor, First Mid's Senior Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, met with First Clover Leaf's then newly appointed President and Chief Executive Officer, P. David Kuhl. At the meeting, Mr. Dively and Mr. Taylor expressed First Mid's interest in exploring strategic opportunities with First Clover Leaf.

Through 2014 and 2015, the First Mid board of directors continued to explore various strategic directions and growth opportunities for First Mid, including, from time to time, potential acquisitions or business combinations with financial institutions other than First Clover Leaf.

Through 2014 and August of 2015, First Clover Leaf considered a number of possible strategic transactions in which First Clover Leaf would be the acquiring party. In each instance, First Clover Leaf was unable to negotiate a transaction or to make a competitive bid for another financial institution, in many cases because First Clover Leaf's common stock was not trading at a high enough value to make an attractive acquisition proposal.

Early in the summer of 2015, the First Clover Leaf board and management determined to engage in a strategic planning session in August that would provide more formal guidance from a financial advisor regarding First Clover Leaf's prospects with strategic transactions, both as an acquirer and as a seller, as well as its prospects and stock valuation as an independent entity. Subsequently, Mr. Kuhl contacted a representative of Raymond James & Associates, Inc. ("Raymond James"), who had been in regular contact with First Clover Leaf for several years, and asked for Raymond James to prepare a presentation for the board of directors. Over the next several weeks, Raymond James worked closely with management regarding its future prospects, as well as possible financial institutions that may likely be interested in pursuing a strategic transaction with First Clover Leaf.

On August 25, 2015, representations from Raymond James met with the board for the scheduled strategic planning session and discussed First Clover Leaf's alternatives, including as an acquiror, a seller and remaining as an independent entity. After a lengthy discussion between the board and representatives of Raymond James, it was the general consensus that First Clover Leaf's common stock was not trading at a high enough value, or with enough trading volume, to make the common stock an attractive acquisition currency. The market for the common stock would make it difficult in the near term for the company to pursue an acquisition strategy that would provide for appropriate increases in stockholder value. Raymond James also discussed the likelihood of First Clover Leaf being able to meaningfully increase the stock's trading value over time. Additionally, the board and Raymond James discussed the potential value that could be achieved for First Clover Leaf's stockholders in a change in control transaction and whether that value could exceed the valuation of the common stock if First Clover Leaf stayed as an independent entity and met its budgeted performance over the next several years. At the conclusion of Raymond James's presentation, the board determined that it was in the best interest of the company's stockholders to more actively explore its strategic options to determine whether there was a possible merger partner that shared First Clover Leaf's desire to maximize stockholder value while providing a high level of banking services to the communities and customers that it serves. To this end, the board appointed an executive committee, consisting of independent directors as well as Mr. Kuhl (the "Executive Committee"), to work with Raymond James to develop an effective strategy to make this determination and to report their results at the regularly scheduled September board meeting.

Over the next several weeks, Raymond James worked with the Executive Committee and developed a list of eleven potential merger partners. Raymond James then contacted each of these eleven partners to discuss their potential interest in an acquisition of a community bank in the St. Louis area. First Mid was not one of the eleven identified potential merger partners. On September 21, 2015, Raymond James met with the Executive Committee to report their findings and to recommend a strategic process designed to approach the most viable merger partners to further determine if there was a merger transaction that would maximize shareholder value to First Clover Leaf's stockholders. With the input from Raymond James, the Executive Committee determined that it would recommend to the full board that the Company undertake a process to approach the six potential merger partners that had demonstrated an interest in acquiring a bank in the St. Louis area, the capacity to offer a compelling price and the ability to continue to offer a high level of banking services to the communities and customers served by First Clover Leaf. On September 22, 2015, the Executive Committee made this recommendation at the regularly scheduled board meeting. After much discussion with representatives of Raymond James, the board voted unanimously to retain the services of Raymond James to serve as their financial advisor and to execute the strategy developed by the Executive Committee with the help of Raymond James.

On October 5, 2015, Mr. Kuhl met with representatives of First Clover Leaf's special legal counsel, Barack Ferrazzano Kirschbaum & Nagelberg LLP ("Barack Ferrazzano"), to discuss various legal matters related to an exploration of a company's strategic options, including the board's fiduciary duties, obligations under federal and state securities laws, the due diligence process and maintaining confidentiality throughout the process.

On October 7, 2015, First Clover Leaf entered into an engagement letter with Raymond James for it to serve as First Clover Leaf's financial advisor through the strategic process. Over the next several weeks, representatives of Raymond James worked with management of First Clover Leaf as well as representatives of Barack Ferrazzano to develop materials necessary for the process, including establishing a due diligence on-line data room, preparing confidentiality agreements and initial informational materials.

On October 30, 2015, Raymond James began contacting the six previously determined parties on a no-names basis to determine their level of interest in entering into a confidentiality agreement. Over that time period, four of the parties indicated that they were interested in executing a confidentiality agreement so they could learn the identity of the possible acquisition candidate and evaluate whether the party would move forward with its diligence review. Each of those parties executed a confidentiality agreement.

Three parties expressed a desire to move forward with due diligence and, on November 9, 2015, Raymond James opened an on-line data room for those interested parties. On November 10, 2015, a party that had signed a confidentiality agreement and had begun due diligence informed Raymond James that it was removing itself from the process as a result of general timing issues and its need to focus on other internal projects.

Two parties, "Party A" and "Party B," expressed an early interest in meeting with Mr. Kuhl regarding the potential business combination. On November 12, 2015, Mr. Kuhl and representatives of Raymond James met with representatives from Party A and on November 16, 2015, they met with representatives from Party B.

In early December, "Party C" informed Raymond James that it was no longer interested in pursuing a transaction with First Clover Leaf as it was engaged in a strategic transaction with another financial institution and could not conduct two transactions simultaneously.

On November 23, 2015, Mr. Dively and Mr. Kuhl met for a general discussion about their respective organizations. On December 4, 2015, Mr. Dively met with representatives of Raymond James. During these meetings, Mr. Dively discussed the listing of First Mid's common stock on the NASDAQ Global Market in May 2014, as well as First Mid's institutional ownership, recent increase in stock price, efforts to increase interest in its common stock, general desire to participate in acquisition transactions, and general interest in the St. Louis market. Prior to and during these meetings, Mr. Dively did not know, and neither Mr. Kuhl nor Raymond James mentioned to Mr. Dively, that First Clover Leaf had undertaken a strategic process and the conversation was general in nature regarding the respective companies' business practices, philosophies, market areas and general strategies. As mentioned, First Mid was not originally a party identified by Raymond James as a likely merger partner. However, since the start of the process, First Mid's stock price had improved meaningfully and, as a result, First Clover Leaf determined that First Mid had the financial capacity to be competitive with the other potential partners.

On December 9, 2015, First Clover Leaf received two initial, non-binding, indications of interest, one from each of Party A and Party B. Party A's initial indication of interest provided for a per share merger consideration of between $12.50 and $13.50, which consisted of 70% of Party A's common stock and 30% cash. Party B's initial indication of interest provided for a per share merger consideration of $12.25, to be paid in all cash. Each of the indications of interest provided for customary conditions, including more in-depth due diligence.

On December 10, 2015, the Executive Committee met to review the initial indications of interest provided by Party A and Party B. After a lengthy discussion and presentation by Raymond James, the Executive Committee instructed Raymond James to negotiate with both parties in an attempt to get them to raise their proposed merger consideration. They also agreed to allow Party A to conduct more in-depth due diligence on First Clover Leaf's credit portfolio. The Executive Committee also discussed bringing First Mid into the process and, after a discussion regarding First Mid's attributes as a possible merger partner, it authorized Raymond James to allow First Mid to conduct due diligence after it entered into a confidentiality agreement.

Following that meeting, Raymond James informed First Mid of an acquisition opportunity related to an un-named target company and asked First Mid to execute a non-disclosure agreement in order to receive information about the opportunity. On December 11, 2015, First Mid entered into a confidentiality agreement and was informed of First Clover Leaf's identity as the acquisition target. First Mid was granted access to the on-line data room.

At its regularly scheduled meeting on December 15, 2015, the First Clover Leaf board met with representatives of Raymond James and Barack Ferrazzano and discussed in-depth the preliminary indications of interest received, the inclusion of First Mid in the process and the remaining due diligence that would be conducted by the interested parties.

Over the next several weeks, Raymond James had ongoing discussions with Party A and Party B, as well as with First Mid, regarding their indications of interest and their ability to maximize the merger consideration to be received by First Clover Leaf's stockholders.

On January 4, 2016, the First Mid board of directors held a special meeting and discussed the merits of the potential acquisition of First Clover Leaf and parameters to be included in an indication of interest. At the meeting, FIG presented on the financial aspects of the transaction, and the board of directors approved (with the exception of Robert S. Cook, who abstained from participating in any decision-making relating to the merger) the submission of a preliminary, non-binding indication of interest to First Clover Leaf outlining the principal terms and conditions of a potential acquisition, subject to certain conditions, including satisfactory completion of due diligence and the negotiation of a mutually agreeable definitive agreement. These terms included, among other things, merger consideration of $12.00 per share, 60% of which would be paid in shares of First Mid common stock and 40% of which would be paid in cash. On January 5, 2016, First Mid delivered to Raymond James its preliminary, non-binding indication of interest.

On January 11, 2016, Party A submitted a revised indication of interest with a per share merger consideration between $11.64 and $12.11, with the same stock and cash mix of 70% stock and 30% cash. Party A indicated to Raymond James that the decrease in the per share merger consideration from its initial indication of interest reflected the substantial decrease in the market value of Party A's common stock since December 9, 2015, the date of the original submission. Party B also submitted a revised indication of interest on January 11, 2016, in which Party B increased its proposed per share merger consideration to $13.00, all cash. Party B also requested at that time to conduct more in-depth due diligence on First Clover Leaf's credit portfolio.

On January 12, 2016, the First Clover Leaf board met with representatives of Raymond James and Barack Ferrazzano to discuss the latest three indications of interest received, including the one from First Mid. After a lengthy discussion regarding the levels of interest for a possible transaction, the current market environment and First Clover Leaf's ongoing evaluation of its value as an independent entity, the board determined that it would be in the best interest of its stockholders to continue to negotiate with all of the remaining parties and attempt to receive a higher level of merger consideration.

Over the next several days, Raymond James approached each of Party A, Party B and First Mid. Party A indicated that, as a result of the decreases in the market value of its common stock, it would be unable to increase its proposed merger consideration. Party A indicated that it remained interested in pursuing a transaction with First Clover Leaf on the terms of its latest indication of interest. Raymond James agreed with Party A that First Clover Leaf would continue its discussions with the other interested parties and that Raymond James could potentially go back to Party A for further discussions in the event that the other proposals were not further developed, but that this would be unlikely if their pricing level remained unchanged. Raymond James agreed with Party B to conduct their credit due diligence in order to confirm their pricing over the next several weeks, with completion targeted for February 16, 2016.

Additionally, on January 14, 2016, Raymond James informed FIG that First Mid would not be invited to conduct credit diligence unless they increased their pricing proposal. Raymond James indicated that First Clover Leaf would consider a transaction structure that had more than 60% stock if that would allow First Mid to increase its pricing level.

On January 21, 2016, Mr. Kuhl met with Mr. Dively and Mr. Taylor to discuss the acquisition process and expressed his interest in First Mid continuing in that process. Mr. Kuhl informed Mr. Dively and Mr. Taylor that one other potential acquiror remained in the process. Mr. Dively inquired if an offer of $12.75 per share would be sufficient for First Mid to continue to the next phase and Mr. Kuhl indicated that it would. Mr. Kuhl and Mr. Dively further agreed that First Mid would be permitted to conduct a due diligence review to determine whether asset quality issues existed by reviewing First Clover Leaf's top 75 credits.

On January 26, 2016, First Mid submitted a revised preliminary, non-binding indication of interest with a proposed per share merger consideration of $12.75, with a stock and cash mix of 75% First Mid stock and 25% cash. On January 26, 2016, the Executive Committee of First Clover Leaf's board met to discuss this revised indication of interest. There was considerable discussion regarding the attributes of First Mid's common stock, including the increase in its market value over the several months prior to the revised indication of interest, its dividend payout ratio, trading volume and the anticipation that it would be included in the Russell 2000 index when it is recalibrated in the second quarter of 2016. The board also discussed First Mid's general business attributes, its history of community banking and its commitment to its customers and the communities that it serves.

Raymond James, FIG, First Clover Leaf and First Mid had ongoing discussions following the submission of First Mid's January 26, 2016 revised preliminary, non-binding indication of interest and during those discussions Raymond James stressed the need for First Mid to increase its proposed merger consideration. On February 9, 2016, representatives from First Mid and First Clover Leaf met to conduct an asset quality review of First Clover Leaf's top 75 credits.

On February 16, 2016, First Mid submitted a further revised preliminary, non-binding indication of interest which reflected an increase in the merger consideration to $12.87 a share, with 75% of First Clover Leaf shares to be exchanged for First Mid common stock and 25% of First Clover Leaf shares to be exchanged for cash. It was additionally confirmed that the stock portion would be based on a fixed exchange ratio of .495 determined by using the $12.87 acquisition price and a stock price for First Mid of $26.00.

On February 16, 2016, Party B completed its due diligence. On that date, Party B informed Raymond James that, as a result of its due diligence and Party B's ongoing strategic objectives, including its desired target markets for expansion and its final determination that First Clover Leaf's markets did not meet its desired targets, Party B would withdraw from the process. First Mid was not advised by First Clover Leaf of Party B's decision.

On February 23, 2016 representatives of Raymond James met with board to determine the next course of action. After much discussion, the board agreed to move forward on an exclusive basis to attempt to execute a transaction with First Mid at a price of $12.87 per share. On February 24, 2016, Mr. Kuhl informed Mr. Dively that the First Clover Leaf board of directors' decision.

On March 1, 2016, First Mid and First Clover Leaf entered into a non-binding letter of intent with the financial terms set forth in the February 16, 2016 revised preliminary, non-binding indication of interest. The letter of intent was subject to customary conditions, including continued due diligence and a 45 day exclusivity provision, subject to a 30 day extension if First Mid and First Clover Leaf are negotiating with each other in good faith. First Mid then began a more in-depth due diligence review of First Clover Leaf's credit portfolio, contracts, and other legal documents and, shortly thereafter, instructed its special legal advisor, Schiff Hardin to prepare the documentation necessary for the transaction, including a draft of the Merger Agreement, on the terms contained in the letter of intent. In addition, following the execution of the non-binding letter of intent, First Mid and First Clover Leaf and their respective representatives undertook additional, detailed due diligence of each other's business.

On March 15, 2016, First Mid and Schiff Hardin provided First Clover Leaf and Barack Ferrazzano with an initial draft merger agreement for the proposed transaction. Over the course of the following weeks, the parties and their respective legal advisors exchanged drafts of the merger agreement and disclosure schedules thereto, several of which were shared with the board of directors of each of First Mid and First Clover Leaf, and worked toward finalizing the terms of the transaction, including: the representations and warranties to be given by the parties; the operational covenants regarding First Clover Leaf's actions between signing of the Merger Agreement and the closing of a transaction; a mechanism to adjust the level of merger consideration in the event that First Clover Leaf does not meet a certain level of adjusted minimum tangible equity; the inclusion of a double-trigger termination provision; the level of severance and other rights of First Clover Leaf employees leading up to, and following, the proposed transaction; and the provisions regarding a termination fee and First Clover Leaf's ability to pursue other transactions if necessary to satisfy its board's fiduciary duties. During this period of negotiation, the parties and their representatives continued to conduct ongoing, reciprocal due diligence.

On March 22, 2016, Mr. Kuhl gave an update to First Clover Leaf's board regarding the ongoing negotiations with First Mid. On March 31, 2016, Mr. Kuhl, certain other of First Clover Leaf's executive officers and representatives of Raymond James met with representatives of First Mid at their offices in Mattoon, Illinois to interview those officers and conduct additional, reverse due diligence on First Mid. On April 14, 2016, First Mid and First Clover Leaf acknowledged and confirmed that the exclusivity period set forth in the non-binding letter of intent was automatically extended by an additional 30 days.

On April 14, 2016, the Executive Committee of the First Clover Leaf board met to discuss the ongoing negotiations and to discuss the general status of the potential transaction. Representatives of Raymond James and Barack Ferrazzano participated in the discussions. The Executive Committee discussed with management, among other things, the current economic environment in First Clover Leaf's market areas, the challenges of growing organically and delivering increased value to its stockholders, the performance of First Mid common stock, First Mid operations and their commitment to community banking. Mr. Kuhl indicated that he had discussed with First Mid executives the ability to arrange a meeting between various directors of each of the companies so that First Clover Leaf's board could gain additional insight into First Mid's ongoing strategy and community banking strategy. On April 18, 2016, various members of the boards of each company met informally and discussed each other's strategies and philosophies.

On April 18, 2016, Barack Ferrazzano distributed a draft of the merger agreement to First Clover Leaf's board for its review and consideration. On April 20, 2016, the First Clover Leaf board held an informal board session, at which there was full attendance, with representatives of Barack Ferrazzano and Raymond James. At that session, representatives of Barack Ferrazzano discussed the terms of the merger agreement in detail and answered questions about the agreement. Additionally, representatives of Raymond James led a discussion with the board regarding the operation of the double-trigger termination provision as well as the price adjustment provision tied to the minimum net worth concept. After a lengthy discussion among the board members, the directors agreed to continue to review the agreement and meet during its regularly scheduled board meeting on April 26, 2016 to consider the final merger agreement and to consider the transactions contemplated thereby.

On April 26, 2016, the First Mid board of directors held a special meeting to discuss the proposed transaction and to review the merger agreement. Representatives from Schiff Hardin, FIG and First Mid's management joined the meeting and reviewed in detail the final terms of the merger agreement with the board. FIG also reviewed with the board the financial aspects of the transaction and its opinion that, based upon and subject to the various considerations set forth in its written opinion, the merger consideration to be paid to the stockholders of First Clover Leaf in the merger is fair to the stockholders of First Mid from a financial point of view. FIG subsequently delivered its written opinion to the board. After asking questions of FIG, Schiff Hardin and First Mid's management, the board discussed the terms of the merger agreement, FIG's opinion and the fiduciary duties the board of directors owes the First Mid stockholders. Following this discussion and consideration, the board determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the issuance of shares of First Mid common stock to First Clover Leaf stockholders, was advisable and in the best interests of First Mid and its stockholders. The board then unanimously approved (with the exception of Robert S. Cook, who abstained from participating in any decision-making relating to the merger) the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the issuance of shares of First Mid common stock to First Clover Leaf stockholders, and to recommend that the First Mid stockholders approve the adoption of the merger agreement.

Also on April 26, 2016, at the First Clover Leaf regularly scheduled board meeting, representatives of management, Raymond James and Barack Ferrazzano reviewed for the First Clover Leaf board of directors the final terms of the transaction documents. Raymond James rendered its written opinion to the First Clover Leaf board of directors that, as of that date, and based upon and subject to the factors, assumptions and limitations set forth in its written opinion, the merger consideration was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock. The First Clover Leaf board of directors discussed at length the transaction, the pricing terms and the difficulties of being able to grow First Clover Leaf either organically or through acquisitions. In this regard, the First Clover Leaf board considered the financial analyses of Raymond James regarding the valuation of First Clover Leaf as a stand-alone entity. The directors discussed the attributes of First Mid's common stock, including its recent market performance, its higher dividend payout ratio, its trading volume and the anticipation that it will be included in the Russell 2000 in the next several months. The board also discussed First Mid's commitment to community banking and its general corporate philosophy. Following extensive discussion and questions and answers, including consideration of the factors described under "First Clover Leaf's reasons for the merger and recommendation of First Clover Leaf's board of directors", the First Clover Leaf board of directors unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, were in the best interest of First Clover Leaf and its stockholders and to recommend that the First Clover Leaf stockholders approve the adoption of the merger agreement. Following the respective board meetings of First Mid and First Clover Leaf, in the afternoon of April 26, 2016, First Mid and First Clover Leaf executed the merger agreement and First Mid executed the voting agreements entered into with certain of the directors of First Clover Leaf. After the closing of the market on April 26, 2016, First Mid and First Clover Leaf issued a press release announcing the execution of the merger agreement.

First Clover Leaf's reasons for the merger and recommendation of the board of directors

At its meeting on April 26, 2016, the First Clover Leaf board of directors unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, were in the best interests of First Clover Leaf and its stockholders.

In deciding to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, First Clover Leaf's board of directors consulted with First Clover Leaf's management, as well as its legal counsel, Barack Ferrazzano, and financial advisor, Raymond James, and considered numerous factors, including the following:

- information with respect to the businesses, earnings, operations, financial condition, prospects, capital levels and asset quality of First Clover Leaf and First Mid, both individually and as a combined company;
- the value to be received by First Clover Leaf stockholders in the merger as compared to stockholder value projected for First Clover Leaf as a stand-alone entity over the next several years;
- the fact that the per share cash merger consideration of $12.87 for each share of First Clover Leaf common stock represented a 34.1% premium over the $9.60 closing price of First Clover Leaf's common stock on April 25, 2016, the last day of trading prior to the approval of the merger agreement;
- the fact that the per share stock merger consideration of $12.75, determined by applying the 0.495 exchange ratio to the $25.75 closing price of First Mid's common stock on April 25, 2016, represented a 32.8% premium over the $9.60 closing price of First Clover Leaf's common stock on April 25, 2016, the last day of trading prior to the approval of the merger agreement;
- the market value of First Mid common stock prior to the execution of the merger agreement and the prospects for future appreciation in the stock, including relative to its anticipated inclusion in the Russell 2000 index;
- the financial analyses of Raymond James, First Clover Leaf's independent financial advisor, and its written opinion, dated as of April 26, 2016, delivered to the First Clover Leaf board of directors to the effect that, as of that date, and based upon and subject to the factors, assumptions and limitations set forth in the opinion, the merger consideration was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock;
- the enhanced liquidity for First Clover Leaf stockholders, including with respect to the First Mid common stock to be received in the merger;
- the historical performance of each of First Clover Leaf common stock and First Mid common stock and the dividend paid for each;
- the fact that First Clover Leaf's past attempts to acquire, or enter into a merger with, other financial institutions in 2014 and 2015 were unsuccessful and that the First Clover Leaf board of directors was not aware of a potential acquisition that it believed would be in the best interests of stockholders to pursue;
- First Clover Leaf's board of directors' belief that combining with a larger financial institution will benefit stockholders and customers in that the combined organization will be better equipped to respond to economic and industry developments and should be better positioned to develop and build on its position in existing markets;
- the perceived risks and uncertainties attendant to First Clover Leaf's operation as an independent banking organization, including the risks and uncertainties related to the continuing low-interest rate environment, competition in First Clover Leaf's market area, increased operating and regulatory costs and increased capital requirements;
- the effects of the merger on First Clover Leaf's employees, including the retention of a significant number of employees and their ability to participate in First Mid's benefit plans;

the efforts made to solicit interest from institutions considered to have the ability and potential interest in acquiring First Clover Leaf and the low probability of securing a more attractive proposal from another institution capable of consummating the transaction;

the ability of First Mid to complete the merger from a financial and regulatory perspective;

the likelihood that the merger will be approved by the relevant bank regulatory authorities without undue burden and in a timely manner;

the board of directors' understanding that the merger will qualify as a "reorganization" under Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, providing favorable tax consequences to First Clover Leaf's stockholders in the merger; and the board of directors' review with its independent legal advisor, Barack Ferrazzano, of the material terms of the merger agreement, including the board of directors' ability, under certain circumstances, to withhold, withdraw, qualify or modify its recommendation to First Clover Leaf stockholders and to consider and pursue a better unsolicited acquisition proposal, subject to the potential payment by First Clover Leaf of a termination fee to First Mid, which the board of directors concluded was reasonable in the context of termination fees in comparable transactions and in light of the overall terms of the merger agreement, as well as the nature of the covenants, representations and warranties and termination provisions in the merger agreement.

The above discussion of the information and factors considered by First Clover Leaf's board is not intended to be exhaustive, but includes a description of all material factors considered by First Clover Leaf's board. First Clover Leaf's board of directors further considered various risks and uncertainties related to each of these factors and the ability to complete the merger. In view of the wide variety of factors considered by First Clover Leaf's board of directors in connection with its evaluation of the merger, it did not consider it practical to, nor did it attempt to, quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors that it considered. In considering the factors described above, individual directors may have given differing weights to different factors. First Clover Leaf's board of directors collectively made its determination with respect to the merger based on the conclusion reached by its members, based on the factors that each of them considered appropriate, that the merger is in the best interests of First Clover Leaf and its stockholders and that the benefits expected to be achieved from the merger outweigh the potential risks.

After considering the foregoing and other relevant factors and risks, and their overall impact on the stockholders and other constituencies of First Clover Leaf, the First Clover Leaf board of directors concluded that the anticipated benefits of the merger outweighed the anticipated risks of the transaction. Accordingly, First Clover Leaf's board of directors unanimously approved the merger agreement and the merger, and the board of directors unanimously recommends that First Clover Leaf stockholders vote "FOR" approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

Opinion of Raymond James & Associates, Inc.

First Clover Leaf retained Raymond James as financial advisor on October 7, 2015. Pursuant to that engagement, the First Clover Leaf board of directors requested that Raymond James evaluate the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of First Clover Leaf's outstanding common stock of the merger consideration to be received by such holders pursuant to the merger agreement.

At the April 26, 2016, meeting of the First Clover Leaf board of directors, a representative of Raymond James rendered its oral opinion, which was subsequently confirmed by delivery of a written opinion to the First Clover Leaf board of directors, dated April 26, 2016, as to the fairness, as of such date, from a financial point of view, to the holders of First Clover Leaf's outstanding common stock of the merger consideration to be received by such holders in the merger pursuant to the merger agreement, based upon and subject to the qualifications, assumptions and other matters considered in connection with the preparation of its opinion.

The full text of the written opinion of Raymond James is attached as Appendix D to this document. The summary of the opinion of Raymond James set forth in this document is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such written opinion. Holders of First Clover Leaf common stock are urged to read this opinion in its entirety.

Raymond James provided its opinion for the information of the First Clover Leaf board of directors (solely in its capacity as such) in connection with, and for purposes of, its consideration of the merger and its opinion only addresses whether the merger consideration to be received by the holders of the common stock in the merger pursuant to the merger agreement was fair, from a financial point of view, to such holders. The opinion of Raymond James does not address any other term or aspect of the merger agreement or the merger contemplated thereby. The Raymond James opinion does not constitute a recommendation to the First Clover Leaf board of directors or to any holder of First Clover Leaf common stock as to how the First Clover Leaf board of directors, such stockholder or any other person should vote or otherwise act with respect to the merger or any other matter. Raymond James does not express any opinion as to the likely trading range of First Mid common stock following the merger, which may vary depending on numerous factors that generally impact the price of securities or on the financial condition of First Mid at that time.

In connection with its review of the proposed merger and the preparation of its opinion, Raymond James, among other things:

- reviewed the financial terms and conditions as stated in the draft of the merger agreement by and between First Mid and First Clover Leaf, dated as of April 18, 2016;
- reviewed certain information related to the historical, current and future operations, financial condition and prospects of First Clover Leaf made available to Raymond James by First Clover Leaf, including, but not limited to, financial projections prepared by the management of First Clover Leaf relating to First Clover Leaf for the periods ending December 31, 2016 through 2020, as approved for Raymond James' use by First Clover Leaf (which we refer to as the "Projections");
- reviewed First Clover Leaf's and First Mid's recent public filings and certain other publicly available information regarding First Clover Leaf and First Mid;
- reviewed financial, operating and other information regarding First Clover Leaf and the industry in which it operates;
- reviewed the financial and operating performance of First Clover Leaf and those of other selected public companies that Raymond James deemed to be relevant;
- considered the publicly available financial terms of certain transactions that Raymond James deemed to be relevant;
- reviewed the current and historical market prices and trading volume for First Clover Leaf and the current market prices of the publicly traded securities of certain other companies that Raymond James deemed to be relevant;
- reviewed a certificate addressed to Raymond James from a member of senior management of First Clover Leaf regarding, among other things, the accuracy of the information, data and other materials (financial or otherwise) provided to, or discussed with, Raymond James by or on behalf of First Clover Leaf;
- conducted such other financial studies, analyses and inquiries and considered such other information and factors as Raymond James deemed appropriate; and
- discussed with members of the senior management of First Clover Leaf certain information relating to the aforementioned and any other matters which Raymond James deemed relevant to its inquiry.

With First Clover Leaf's consent, Raymond James assumed and relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all information supplied by or on behalf of First Clover Leaf, or otherwise reviewed by or discussed with Raymond James, and Raymond James did not undertake any duty or responsibility to, nor did Raymond James, independently verify any of such information. Raymond James did not make or obtain an independent appraisal of the assets or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of First Clover Leaf or First Mid. With respect to the Projections and any other information and data provided to or otherwise reviewed by or discussed with Raymond James, Raymond James, with First Clover Leaf's consent, assumed that the Projections and such other information and data were reasonably prepared in good faith on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of management of First Clover Leaf and Raymond James relied upon First Clover Leaf to advise Raymond James promptly if any information previously provided became inaccurate or was required to be updated during the period of its review. Raymond James expressed no opinion with respect to the Projections or the assumptions on which they were based. Based upon the terms specified in the merger agreement, Raymond James assumed that the merger will qualify as a reorganization under the provisions of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. Raymond James relied upon and assumed, without independent verification, that the final form of the merger agreement would be substantially similar to the draft merger agreement reviewed by Raymond James in all respects material to its analysis, and that the merger would be consummated in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement without waiver of or amendment to any of the conditions thereto. Furthermore, Raymond James assumed, in all respects material to its analysis, that the representations and warranties of each party contained in the merger agreement were true and correct and that each party will perform all of the covenants and agreements required to be performed by it under the merger agreement without being waived. Raymond James also relied upon and assumed, without independent verification, that (i) the merger would be consummated in a manner that complies in all respects with all applicable international, federal and state statutes, rules and regulations, and (ii) all governmental, regulatory or other consents and approvals necessary for the consummation of the merger would be obtained and that no delay, limitations, restrictions or conditions would be imposed or amendments, modifications or waivers made that would have an effect on the merger or First Clover Leaf that would be material to its analysis or opinion.

Raymond James expressed no opinion as to the underlying business decision to effect the merger, the structure or tax consequences of the merger, or the availability or advisability of any alternatives to the merger. The Raymond James opinion is limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to be received by the holders of the First Clover Leaf common stock. Raymond James expressed no opinion with respect to any other reasons (legal, business, or otherwise) that may support the decision of the First Clover Leaf board of directors to approve or consummate the merger. Furthermore, no opinion, counsel or interpretation was intended by Raymond James on matters that require legal, accounting or tax advice. Raymond James assumed that such opinions, counsel or interpretations had been or would be obtained from appropriate professional sources. Furthermore, Raymond James relied, with the consent of First Clover Leaf, on the fact that First Clover Leaf was assisted by legal, accounting and tax advisors, and, with the consent of First Clover Leaf relied upon and assumed the accuracy and completeness of the assessments by First Clover Leaf and its advisors, as to all legal, accounting and tax matters with respect to First Clover Leaf and the merger.

In formulating its opinion, Raymond James considered only the merger consideration to be received by the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock, and Raymond James did not consider, and its opinion did not address, the fairness of the amount or nature of any compensation to be paid or payable to any of the officers, directors or employees of First Clover Leaf, or such class of persons, in connection with the merger whether relative to the merger consideration or otherwise. Raymond James was not requested to opine as to, and its opinion did not express an opinion as to or otherwise address, among other things: (1) the fairness of the merger to the holders of any class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of First Clover Leaf, or to any other party, except and only to the extent expressly set forth in the last sentence of its opinion or (2) the fairness of the merger to any one class or group of First Clover Leaf's or any other party's security holders or other constituents vis-à-vis any other class or group of First Clover Leaf's or such other party's security holders or other constituents (including, without limitation, the allocation of any consideration to be received in the merger amongst or within such classes or groups of security holders or other constituents). Raymond James expressed no opinion as to the impact of the merger on the solvency or viability of First Clover Leaf or First Mid or the ability of First Clover Leaf or First Mid to pay their respective obligations when they come due.

Material Financial Analyses

The following summarizes the material financial analyses reviewed by Raymond James with the First Clover Leaf board of directors at its meeting on April 26, 2016, which material was considered by Raymond James in rendering its opinion. No company or merger used in the analyses described below is identical or directly comparable to First Clover Leaf, First Mid or the contemplated merger.

Selected Companies Analysis. Raymond James analyzed the relative valuation multiples of 17 publicly-traded banks and thrifts in the Midwest (Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin) with assets between $500 million and $1.0 billion, last twelve months (which we refer to as “LTM”) return on average assets (which we refer to as “ROAA”) greater than 0.0%, and non-performing assets to total assets (which we refer to as “NPA/assets”) ratio less than 3.0% that it deemed relevant, including:

- Centru Financial Corporation
- County Bancorp, Inc.
- HopFed Bancorp, Inc.
- Landmark Bancorp, Inc.
- Ohio Valley Banc Corp.
- SB Financial Group, Inc.
- First Savings Financial Group, Inc.
- Mackinac Financial Corporation
- Middlefield Banc Corp.
- First Capital, Inc.
- Westbury Bancorp, Inc.
- Guaranty Federal Bancshares, Inc.
- HMN Financial, Inc.
- United Bancshares, Inc.
- Citizens Community Bancorp, Inc.
- F Bancorp, Inc.
- United Community Bancorp

Raymond James calculated various financial multiples for each bank or thrift above, including (i) price per share compared to tangible book value (which we refer to as “TBV”) per share as of December 31, 2015 (or March 31, 2016 if the data was available), (ii) price per share compared to core tangible book value (which we refer to as “CTBV”) per share (core tangible book value assumes a normalized tangible common equity as a percentage of tangible assets ratio, which we refer to as a “TCE/TA ratio”, of 8.0%) as of December 31, 2015 (or March 31, 2016 if the data was available), and (iii) price per share compared to earnings per share (which we refer to as “EPS”) for the most recent LTM ended as of December 31, 2015 (or March 31, 2016 if the data were available). Raymond James reviewed the mean, median, 25th percentile and 75th percentile relative valuation multiples of the selected public banks and thrifts and compared them with corresponding valuation multiples for First Clover Leaf implied by the merger consideration. The results of the selected public banks and thrifts analysis are summarized below:

	Price / TBV per share	Price / CTBV per share	Price / LTM EPS
Mean	99%	100%	13.5x
Median	97%	97%	11.6x
25 th Percentile	90%	90%	10.0x
75 th Percentile	104%	105%	17.9x
Merger Consideration	128%	137%	18.9x

Furthermore, Raymond James applied the mean, median, 25th percentile and 75th percentile relative valuation multiples for each of the metrics to First Clover Leaf's actual and projected financial results and determined the implied equity price per share of First Clover Leaf common stock and then compared those implied equity values per share to the merger consideration of $12.52 per share. The results of this are summarized below:

	Price / TBV per share	Price / CTBV per share	Price / LTM EPS
Mean	$9.71	$9.79	$8.96
Median	9.50	9.58	7.70
25 th Percentile	8.81	9.06	6.63
75 th Percentile	10.20	10.21	11.83
Merger Consideration	$12.52	$12.52	$12.52

Selected Transaction Analysis. Raymond James analyzed publicly available information relating to selected transactions announced since December 31, 2013 involving targets headquartered in the Midwest region with assets between $300 million and $1.0 billion, LTM ROAA greater than 0.0%, and an NPA/assets ratio less than 3.0%. The regional transactions that Raymond James analyzed consisted of targets headquartered in the following Midwest states: Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin. Raymond James also analyzed publicly available information relating to selected transactions announced since June 30, 2015 involving nationwide targets with assets between $300 million and $1.0 billion, LTM ROAA greater than 0.0% and an NPA/assets ratio less than 3.0%. Raymond James prepared a summary of the relative valuation multiples paid in these transactions. The selected transactions used in the analysis included:

Raymond James examined valuation multiples of transaction value compared to the targets' most recent quarter (which we refer to as "MRQ") TBV, MRQ CTBV, LTM EPS, and MRQ core deposits, where such information was publicly available. Core deposits are defined as total deposits less time deposits of $100,000 or more. Raymond James reviewed the mean, median, 25th percentile and 75th percentile relative valuation multiples of the selected transactions and compared them to corresponding valuation multiples for First Clover Leaf implied by the merger consideration. Furthermore, Raymond James applied the mean, median, 25th percentile and 75th percentile relative valuation multiples to First Clover Leaf's MRQ TBV, MRQ CTBV, LTM EPS and MRQ core deposits to determine the implied equity price per share and then compared those implied equity values per share to the merger consideration of $12.52 per share, adjusted for the dilutive effect of First Clover Leaf's options. The results of the selected transactions analysis are summarized below:

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis. Raymond James analyzed the discounted present value of First Clover Leaf's projected free cash flows for the quarter ending September 30, 2016 through the year ending December 31, 2020 on a standalone basis. Raymond James used tangible common equity in excess of a target ratio of 8.0% at the end of each projection period for free cash flow.

The discounted cash flow analysis was based on the Projections. Consistent with the periods included in the Projections, Raymond James used calendar year 2020 as the final year for the analysis and applied multiples, ranging from 10.0x to 14.0x, to calendar year 2020 net income in order to derive a range of terminal values for First Clover Leaf in 2020.

The projected unleveraged free cash flows and terminal values were discounted using rates ranging from 11.0% to 15.0%. The resulting range of present equity values was divided by the number of diluted shares outstanding in order to arrive at a range of present values per First Clover Leaf share. Raymond James reviewed the range of per share prices derived in the discounted cash flow analysis and compared them to the price per share for First Clover Leaf implied by the merger consideration. The results of the discounted cash flow analysis are summarized below:

	Equity Value/ Per Share
Minimum	$8.88
Maximum	11.60
Merger Consideration	$12.52

Additional Considerations. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process and is not susceptible to a partial analysis or summary description. Raymond James believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses, without considering the analyses taken as a whole, would create an incomplete view of the process underlying its opinion. In addition, Raymond James considered the results of all such analyses and did not assign relative weights to any of the analyses, but rather made qualitative judgments as to significance and relevance of each analysis and factor, so the ranges of valuations resulting from any particular analysis described above should not be taken to be the view of Raymond James as to the actual value of First Clover Leaf.

In performing its analyses, Raymond James made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, economic and regulatory conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of First Clover Leaf. The analyses performed by Raymond James are not necessarily indicative of actual values, trading values or actual future results which might be achieved, all of which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by such analyses. Such analyses were provided to the First Clover Leaf board of directors (solely in its capacity as such) and were prepared solely as part of the analysis of Raymond James of the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock of the merger consideration to be received by such holders in connection with the proposed merger pursuant to the merger agreement. The analyses do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which companies may actually be sold, and such estimates are inherently subject to uncertainty. The opinion of Raymond James was one of many factors taken into account by the First Clover Leaf board of directors in making its determination to approve the merger. Neither Raymond James's opinion nor the analyses described above should be viewed as determinative of the First Clover Leaf board of directors' or First Clover Leaf management's views with respect to First Clover Leaf, First Mid or the merger. Raymond James provided advice to First Clover Leaf with respect to the proposed transaction. Raymond James did not, however, recommend any specific amount of consideration to the First Clover Leaf board of directors or that any specific merger consideration constituted the only appropriate consideration for the merger. First Clover Leaf placed no limits on the scope of the analysis performed, or opinion expressed, by Raymond James.

The Raymond James opinion was necessarily based upon market, economic, financial and other circumstances and conditions existing and disclosed to it on April 18, 2016, and any material change in such circumstances and conditions may affect the opinion of Raymond James, but Raymond James does not have any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm that opinion. Raymond James relied upon and assumed, without independent verification, that there had been no change in the business, assets, liabilities, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows or prospects of First Clover Leaf since the respective dates of the most recent financial statements and other information, financial or otherwise, provided to Raymond James that would be material to its analyses or its opinion, and that there was no information or any facts that would make any of the information reviewed by Raymond James incomplete or misleading in any material respect.

During the two years preceding the date of Raymond James' written opinion, Raymond James has not been engaged by, performed services for or received any compensation from First Clover Leaf (other than any amounts that were paid to Raymond James under the engagement letter described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus pursuant to which Raymond James was retained as a financial advisor to the Company to assist in reviewing strategic alternatives).

For services rendered in connection with the delivery of its opinion, First Clover Leaf paid Raymond James a customary investment banking fee upon delivery of its opinion in the amount of $200,000. First Clover Leaf will also pay Raymond James a customary fee for advisory services in connection with the merger, which is contingent upon the closing of the merger. More specifically, if the merger between First Clover Leaf and First Mid is consummated, or any transaction between First Clover Leaf and a third-party resulting in the transfer of a material interest in First Clover Leaf, its business, revenues or income or a material amount of its assets occurs, then First Clover Leaf will pay to Raymond James a fee that is equal to 1% of the transaction value of such transaction. Based on the market price of First Mid common stock, which will be deemed to be the average of the last reported sales prices of First Mid common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for the twenty consecutive business days prior to the completion of the merger, the aggregate fee payable to Raymond James would be $ [] on [], 2016, the latest practicable date before the printing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

First Clover Leaf also agreed to reimburse Raymond James for its expenses incurred in connection with its services, including the fees and expenses of its counsel, and will indemnify Raymond James against certain liabilities arising out of its engagement.

Raymond James is actively involved in the investment banking business and regularly undertakes the valuation of investment securities in connection with public offerings, private placements, business combinations and similar transactions. In the ordinary course of business, Raymond James may trade in the securities of First Clover Leaf and First Mid for its own account and for the accounts of its customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities. Raymond James may provide investment banking, financial advisory and other financial services to First Clover Leaf and/or First Mid or other participants in the merger in the future, for which Raymond James may receive compensation.

First Mid's reasons for the merger and recommendation of the board of directors

First Mid's board of directors believes that the merger is in the best interests of First Mid and its stockholders. In deciding to approve the agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger, First Mid's board of directors after consulting with its management as well as its legal and financial advisors, considered a number of factors, including the following, which are not presented in order of priority:

- its knowledge of First Mid's business, operations, financial condition, earnings and prospects and of First Clover Leaf's business, operations, financial condition, earnings and prospects, taking into account the results of First Mid's comprehensive due diligence process and loan review of First Clover Leaf;
- the opportunity for First Mid to expand its presence into the attractive St. Louis, Missouri market area and establish a presence outside of Illinois for the first time;
- the mortgage services that First Clover Leaf's business could bring to existing and future customers of First Mid;
- the ability to expand First Mid's wealth management, trust and insurance services, which are not currently offered by First Clover Leaf, into the St. Louis, Missouri market;
- management's view that First Clover Leaf's business, operations and commitment to community banking complement those of First Mid's and provide an opportunity to leverage existing operations for greater efficiencies and cost-savings and enhanced earnings per share;
- management's belief that the combined institution will strengthen First Mid's ability to serve large customers and provide opportunities for loan growth;
- the likelihood of a successful integration of First Clover Leaf's business operations and workforce with those of First Mid and management's view that the integration will be facilitated by the similarities between the cultures and business philosophies of First Mid and First Clover Leaf; management's expectations regarding cost synergies, earnings accretion and internal rate of return;

the financial and other terms of the merger agreement, including the tax treatment, the split between stock and cash consideration and termination fee provisions, which it reviewed with its outside financial and legal advisors;
the potential risks associated with achieving anticipated cost synergies and savings and successfully integrating First Clover Leaf's business, operations and workforce with those of First Mid;
the potential risk of diverting management attention and resources from the operation of First Mid's business and towards the completion of the merger the financial analyses presented by FIG, First Mid's financial advisor, and the opinion dated as of April 26, 2016 delivered to the First Mid board of directors by FIG, to the effect that, as of that date, and subject to and based on the qualifications and assumptions set forth in the opinion, the aggregate merger consideration to be paid to the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock was fair, from a financial point of view, to First Mid; and the regulatory and other approvals required in connection with the merger and the expectation that such regulatory approvals will be received in a timely manner and without the imposition of unacceptable conditions.

The above discussion of the information and factors considered by First Mid's board of directors is not intended to be exhaustive, but includes a description of material factors considered by the First Mid board of directors. In view of the wide variety of factors considered by the First Mid board of directors in connection with its evaluation of the merger, the First Mid board of directors did not consider it practical to, nor did it attempt to, quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors that it considered. In considering the factors described above, individual directors may have given differing weights to different factors. First Mid's board of directors collectively made its determination with respect to the merger based on the conclusion reached by its members, other than Robert S. Cook who abstained from participating in any decision-making related to the merger, based on the factors that each of them considered appropriate, that the merger is in the best interests of First Mid's stockholders.

First Mid's board of directors believes that the merger is in the best interests of First Mid and its stockholders. First Mid's board of directors approved the merger agreement and recommends that stockholders vote "FOR" approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the issuance of First Mid common stock in connection with the merger.

Opinion of FIG Partners, LLC

FIG delivered to the board of directors of First Mid its opinion, dated April 26, 2016, that, based upon and subject to the various considerations set forth in its written opinion, the merger consideration to be paid to the stockholders of First Clover Leaf is fair to the stockholders of First Mid from a financial point of view. In requesting FIG's advice and opinion, no limitations were imposed by First Mid upon FIG with respect to the investigations made or procedures followed by it in rendering its opinion. The full text of the opinions of FIG, which describe the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken, are attached hereto as Appendix E. First Mid stockholders should read these opinions in their entirety.

FIG is a nationally recognized investment banking firm and, as part of its investment banking business, it values financial institutions in connection with mergers and acquisitions, private placements and for other purposes. As a specialist in securities of financial institutions, FIG has experience in, and knowledge of, banks, thrifts and bank and thrift holding companies. The board of directors of First Mid selected FIG to act as its financial advisor in connection with the merger on the basis of the firm's reputation and expertise in transactions such as the merger.

FIG will receive a fee from First Mid for performing its financial advisory services in connection with the merger and rendering a written opinion to the board of directors of First Mid as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger to First Clover Leaf; a portion of which is contingent upon the consummation of the merger. Pursuant to an engagement letter between First Mid and FIG, First Mid agreed to pay FIG an aggregate fee equal to 0.50% of the merger consideration, a portion of which was payable upon delivery of FIG's opinion and the principal portion of which will be payable upon consummation of the merger. Based on the closing price of First Mid common stock of $ [] per share on [], 2016, the latest practicable date before the printing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, the aggregate fee payable to FIG is $ []. First Mid has also agreed to reimburse certain of FIG's expenses and to indemnify FIG and certain related parties against certain liabilities that may arise out of the engagement. As part of its investment banking business, FIG is routinely engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive bidding, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes. As a specialist in the securities of banking companies, FIG has experience and knowledge of, the valuation of banking institutions. FIG's opinion has been reviewed by FIG's compliance officer consistent with internal policy. In addition to the amounts payable to FIG in connection with the merger, during the two years prior to the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, First Mid also paid FIG approximately $1,540,000 for its work in connection with First Mid Bank's August 14, 2015 acquisition of certain branches of Old National Bank and First Mid's June 18, 2015 issuance of 1,392,859 shares of common stock in a private placement offering. First Mid also reimbursed FIG for approximately $80,000 in expenses it incurred in connection with its work for First Mid during 2015. FIG has not had a material relationship with or received compensation from First Clover Leaf during the prior two years.

FIG's opinion is directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration, and, as such, does not constitute a recommendation to any First Mid stockholder as to how the stockholder should vote at First Mid's stockholder meeting. The summary of the opinion of FIG set forth in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion.

The following is a summary of the analyses performed by FIG in connection with its fairness opinion. Certain analyses were confirmed in a presentation to the board of directors of First Mid by FIG. The summary set forth below does not purport to be a complete description of either the analyses performed by FIG in rendering its opinion or the presentation delivered by FIG to the board of directors of First Mid, but it does summarize all of the material analyses performed and presented by FIG.

The preparation of a fairness opinion involves various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analyses and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. In arriving at its opinion, FIG did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor considered by it, but rather made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor. FIG may have given various analyses more or less weight than other analyses. Accordingly, FIG believes that its analyses and the following summary must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses, without considering all factors, could create an incomplete view of the process underlying the analyses set forth in its report to the board of directors of First Mid and its fairness opinion.

In performing its analyses, FIG made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business and economic conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of First Mid. The analyses performed by FIG are not necessarily indicative of actual value or actual future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by such analyses. Such analyses were prepared solely as part of FIG's analysis of the fairness of the transaction consideration, from a financial point of view, to First Mid stockholders. The analyses do not purport to be an appraisal or to reflect the prices at which a company might actually be sold or the prices at which any securities may trade at the present time or at any time in the future. FIG's opinion does not address the relative merits of the merger as compared to any other business combination in which First Mid might engage. In addition, as described above, FIG's opinion was one of many factors taken into consideration by the board of directors of First Mid in making its determination to approve the merger agreement.

During the course of its engagement, and as a basis for arriving at its opinion, FIG reviewed and analyzed material bearing upon the financial and operating conditions of First Mid and First Clover Leaf and material prepared in connection with the merger, including, among other things, the following:

- (i) reviewed the merger agreement and terms of the merger;
- (ii) reviewed certain documents filed with the SEC by First Mid and First Clover Leaf;
- (iii) reviewed the audited financial statements for First Mid and First Clover Leaf for the years 2014 and 2015;
- (iv) reviewed recent trading activity and the market for First Mid common stock;
 - reviewed certain historical publicly available business and financial information concerning First Mid and First Clover Leaf including, among other things, quarterly reports filed by the parties with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (which we refer to as the “FDIC”) and the Federal Reserve;
- (v) reviewed certain internal financial statements and other financial and operating data concerning First Mid and First Clover Leaf;
- (vi) held discussions with members of the senior management of First Mid for the purpose of reviewing the future prospects of First Mid and First Clover Leaf, including the respective businesses, assets, liabilities and the amount and timing of cost savings (which we refer to as the “synergies”) expected to be achieved as a result of the merger;
- (vii) reviewed the terms of recent merger and acquisition transactions, to the extent publicly available, involving banks and bank holding companies that we considered relevant; and
- (viii) performed such other analyses and considered such other factors as it deemed appropriate.
- (ix)

FIG also took into account its assessment of general economic, market and financial conditions and its experience in other transactions as well as its knowledge of the banking industry and its general experience in securities valuation. In rendering its opinion, FIG assumed and relied on, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of the financial and other information and representations contained in the financials and other materials provided to, or discussed with, it by First Mid and First Clover Leaf or publicly available, including median publicly available analyst earnings estimates for First Mid for the years ending December 31, 2016 and December 31, 2017. In that regard, FIG assumed that the financial analysis provided to, or discussed with, FIG by First Mid or made available by First Clover Leaf or derived there from, including, without limitation, the synergies and other financial forecasts have been reasonably prepared on a basis reflecting the best currently available information and judgments of First Mid and First Clover Leaf. FIG is not an expert in the evaluation of loan and lease portfolios for purposes of assessing the adequacy of the allowances for losses with respect thereto and has assumed that such allowances for First Mid and First Clover Leaf are in the aggregate adequate to cover such losses. FIG was not retained to and did not conduct a physical inspection of any of the properties or facilities of First Mid and First Clover Leaf. In addition, FIG has not reviewed individual credit files nor has it made an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets and liabilities First Mid and First Clover Leaf or any of their respective subsidiaries and FIG was not furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals.

No company used as a comparison in the above analysis is identical to First Clover Leaf. The peer analysis detailed above was used to compare the operating and financial performance of First Clover Leaf to companies of similar size and in similar operating markets. Accordingly, an analysis of these results is not purely mathematical. Rather, it involves considerations and judgements concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics of the companies and of the banking environment at the time of the opinion. Compared to its US peers, First Clover Leaf's asset quality ratios and capital ratios are above the median, while earnings ratios are below the median. Compared to its regional peers, First Clover Leaf's earnings and asset quality ratios are in line with the median, while capital ratios are above the median.

Comparable Transaction Analysis

FIG reviewed two groups of comparable merger transactions. The first group consisted of transactions announced between January 1, 2015 and April 22, 2016 that involved target banks headquartered in the U.S. with total assets between $500 million and $1.0 billion, last twelve months ROAA between 0.0% and 1.00%, and a ratio of non-performing assets to total assets less than 3.0% (the "Comparable Transactions - National"). All consideration types were included. The group was limited to targets that were either bank holding companies, commercial banks, or savings banks/thrifts and transactions in which pricing was disclosed. FIG calculated the medians of the following relevant transaction ratios in the Comparable Transactions - National and Comparable Transactions - Regional: the multiple of the offer value to the acquired company's tangible book value; the multiple of the offer value to the acquired company's last twelve months net income; the multiple of the offer value to the acquired company's total assets; and the tangible book value premium to core deposits. FIG compared these multiples with the corresponding multiples for the merger, valuing the total consideration that would be received pursuant to the merger agreement at approximately $90.2 million, or $12.87 per First Clover Leaf share. In calculating the multiples for the merger, FIG used First Clover Leaf's tangible book value, last twelve months net income, and total core deposits as of December 31, 2015. The results of this analysis are as follows:

The Comparable Transactions - National group suggested a range of value of $13.74 to $16.32, with a midpoint of $15.36. The Comparable Transactions - Regional group suggested a range of value of $12.56 to $14.55, with a midpoint of $13.84. FIG noted that the Merger Consideration of $12.87 per share was slightly below the range of values suggested by the comparable transaction analysis.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

FIG estimated the value of First Clover Leaf common stock by calculating the present value of its projected future earnings stream and projected future equity. The analysis was based on First Clover Leaf's internal projections, as adjusted by First Mid and First Clover Leaf for net income of $4.9 million, $5.0 million, $5.1 million, $5.4 million, and $5.6 million for the years 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019 and 2020, respectively.

FIG applied a price to tangible book value multiple at ratios ranging from 130% to 170% of First Clover Leaf's estimated tangible book value in 2020 and price to earnings multiple at ratios ranging 18 to 22 times First Clover Leaf's 2020 estimated earnings to derive two unique terminal values. The present value of these terminal amounts were then calculated based on a range of discount rates of 10% to 14%. The discount rates selected by FIG were intended to reflect different assumptions regarding the required rates of return for holders of First Clover Leaf common stock. The present value of the terminal values was then added to the present value of the earnings stream for 2016 through 2020 to derive a total value based on discounted cash flows. The two analyses and the underlying assumptions yielded a range of values for First Clover Leaf common stock.

FIG assigned the greatest significance to the terminal values represented by 150% of 2019 estimated tangible book value and 20 times 2020 estimated earnings. The consideration of $12.87 paid by First Mid and First Clover Leaf is within the indicated range on a tangible book value basis using a terminal multiple of 150% and slightly above the indicated range using a price to earnings multiple of 20.0 times. When taking into account the full range of discount rates and multiples, the consideration paid to First Clover Leaf falls within this range.

Pro Forma Financial Impact

FIG performed a pro forma merger analysis that combined projected income statement and balance sheet information of First Mid and First Clover Leaf. FIG analyzed the estimated financial impact of the merger on certain projected financial results for First Mid and First Clover Leaf and financial forecasts and projections relating to the earnings of First Mid, which were derived by FIG from publicly available consensus estimates, and First Clover Leaf, which were derived from projections prepared by First Clover Leaf management and adjusted by First Mid and FIG, and pro forma assumptions (including, without limitation, purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings and related expenses), which, in the case of First Mid were derived by FIG from publicly available information and, in the case of First Clover Leaf, were derived by FIG from information prepared by First Mid management. FIG discussed with First Mid management each of the balance sheet estimates of First Clover Leaf and certain financial forecasts and projections relating to First Clover Leaf's earnings. This analysis indicated that the merger could be accretive to First Mid estimated EPS in 2017 and have a four year payback period for First Mid estimated tangible book value per share. For all of the above analysis, the actual results achieved by First Mid following the merger may vary from the projected results, and the variations may be material.

As described above, based upon the foregoing analyses and other investigations and assumptions set forth in its opinion, without giving specific weightings to any one factor or comparison, FIG determined that the merger consideration was fair, from a financial point of view, to First Mid stockholders. FIG's opinion and presentation to the board of directors of First Mid were among the many factors taken into consideration by the board of directors of First Mid in making its determination to approve the merger, and to recommend that First Mid stockholders approve the merger.

Accounting treatment of the merger

For accounting and financial reporting purposes, the merger will be accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting for business combinations in accordance with GAAP. Under the acquisition method of accounting, the assets (including identifiable intangible assets) and liabilities (including executory contracts and other commitments) of First Clover Leaf as of the effective time of the merger will be recorded at their respective fair values and added to those of First Mid. Any excess of purchase price over the fair values is recorded as goodwill. Consolidated financial statements of First Mid issued after the merger will reflect these fair values and will not be restated retroactively to reflect the historical consolidated financial position or results of operations of First Clover Leaf.

Regulatory approvals

The merger cannot proceed without obtaining all requisite regulatory approvals. First Mid and First Clover Leaf have agreed to take all appropriate actions necessary to obtain the required approvals. The merger of First Mid and First Clover Leaf is subject to prior approval of the Federal Reserve. First Mid submitted an application to the Federal Reserve on June 3, 2016 seeking the necessary approvals.

In reviewing that application, the Federal Reserve is required to consider the following:

competitive factors, such as whether the merger will result in a monopoly or whether the benefits of the merger to the public in meeting the needs and convenience of the community clearly outweigh the merger's anticompetitive effects or restraints on trade; and banking and community factors, which includes an evaluation of: the financial and managerial resources of First Mid, including its subsidiaries, and of First Clover Leaf, and the effect of the proposed transaction on these resources;

management expertise;
internal control and risk management systems;
the capital of First Clover Leaf; the convenience and needs of the communities to be served; and the effectiveness of First Clover Leaf and First Mid in combating money laundering activities.

The application process includes publication and opportunity for comment by the public. The Federal Reserve may receive, and must consider, properly filed comments and protests from community groups and others regarding (among other issues) each institution's performance under the Community Reinvestment Act of 1977, as amended (which we refer to as the "Community Reinvestment Act"). The merger may not be consummated until 15 days after receipt of Federal Reserve approval, during which time the United States Department of Justice may challenge the merger on antitrust grounds. The commencement of an antitrust action would stay the effectiveness of the Federal Reserve's approval, unless a court specifically orders otherwise.

At a date following the completion of the merger, First Mid intends to merge First Clover Leaf Bank with and into First Mid Bank, with First Mid Bank as the surviving bank. The bank merger will be subject to approval by the OCC. First Mid Bank intends to file an application with the OCC seeking this approval in the near future.

While First Mid knows of no reason why the approval of any of the applications would be denied or unduly delayed, it cannot assure you that all regulatory approvals required to consummate the merger and the bank merger will be obtained or obtained in a timely manner.

Interests of certain persons in the merger

First Mid. In considering the recommendations of the First Mid board of directors, First Mid stockholders should be aware that Robert S. Cook, who is a member of the First Mid board of directors, owns and/or has voting power over less than one percent of the shares of common stock of First Clover Leaf. In order to avoid any potential conflicts of interest or the appearance of a potential conflict of interest, Robert S. Cook disclosed this ownership to the First Mid board of directors and abstained from participating in any decision-making related to the merger.

First Clover Leaf. In considering the recommendations of the First Clover Leaf board of directors, First Clover Leaf stockholders should be aware that certain directors and executive officers of First Clover Leaf and First Clover Leaf Bank may have interests in the merger that are different from, or are in addition to, the interests of First Clover Leaf stockholders generally. The First Clover Leaf board of directors was aware of these interests to the extent these interests existed at the time the First Clover Leaf board of directors approved the merger agreement and considered them, among other matters, in approving the merger agreement and determining to recommend to First Clover Leaf stockholders to vote for approval of the merger agreement.

Stock Ownership. As of [], First Clover Leaf's directors controlled, in the aggregate, [] shares of First Clover Leaf's common stock, representing approximately []% of First Clover Leaf's outstanding shares of common stock.

Additionally, as of [], 2016, First Clover Leaf's directors, executive officers and their affiliates collectively controlled [] shares, constituting approximately []% of the shares then outstanding.

Appointment to the Boards of Directors of First Mid-Illinois Bancshares and First Mid Bank. Under the merger agreement, First Mid will appoint one current director of First Clover Leaf to the First Mid board of directors and, upon completion of the bank merger, will appoint one current director of First Clover Leaf Bank to the First Mid Bank board of directors.

Prior Agreements between First Clover Leaf and Certain Executives. First Clover Leaf has previously entered into employment agreements with P. David Kuhl, William D. Barlow, Lisa R. Fowler and Darlene F. McDonald, salary continuation agreements with Mr. Barlow, Ms. Fowler and Ms. McDonald, and a separation and release agreement with Mr. Barlow. The agreements provide for payments to each executive if his or her employment is terminated in certain circumstances, including in connection with the change in control as described below. (Although each of the employment agreements provide that payments to the executive are subject to reduction to the extent necessary to avoid an excess parachute payment under Internal Revenue Code Section 280G, no such reduction is necessary for any executive with respect to the payments to be made in connection with this merger.)

P. David Kuhl. First Clover Leaf has previously entered into an employment agreement with P. David Kuhl, its President and Chief Executive Officer. Under the agreement, if Mr. Kuhl's employment is terminated by First Clover Leaf (other than for cause, death or disability) or is terminated by him for good reason within the period beginning with the approval of a change in control by First Clover Leaf's board and ending 24 months following the effective date of a change in control, First Clover Leaf would be obligated to pay him a lump sum equal to $660,000 plus the amount of any unvested contributions to First Clover Leaf's 401(k) plan. Mr. Kuhl is currently fully vested in his 401(k) plan benefit. Mr. Kuhl would also be entitled to one year of employer-paid group health care continuation coverage.

The one-year post termination restrictions against Mr. Kuhl competing with First Clover Leaf or First Clover Leaf Bank, or soliciting any of their customers or employees, that are contained in the employment agreement do not apply if Mr. Kuhl's employment is terminated by First Clover Leaf without cause, or if he terminates his employment for good reason, following a change in control.

William D. Barlow. First Clover Leaf had previously entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Barlow, its Executive Vice President and Chief Lending Officer. Under the agreement, if Mr. Barlow resigned for any reason within the period beginning with the approval of a change in control by First Clover Leaf's board and ending 90 days following the effective date of a change in control, First Clover Leaf was obligated to pay him a lump sum equal to the value of his base salary, target bonus for each calendar year that end in the 18-month period following termination and benefits for 18 months.

The one-year post termination restrictions against Mr. Barlow's competing with First Clover Leaf or First Clover Leaf Bank, or soliciting any of their customers or employees, that are contained in the employment agreement do not apply if Mr. Barlow's employment is terminated by First Clover Leaf without cause, or if he terminates his employment for good reason, following a change in control.

First Clover Leaf had previously entered into a salary continuation agreement with Mr. Barlow. The agreement provided for a salary continuation benefit to be payable to Mr. Barlow in the case of his termination of employment. Under the agreement, if Mr. Barlow's employment terminated following attainment of age 65, he would have been entitled to an annual benefit of $58,000 for ten years, payable in equal monthly installments. If Mr. Barlow's employment had been terminated by First Clover Leaf without cause, or he terminated for good reason within 24 months following a change in control, he would have been entitled to the same annual benefit of $58,000 for ten years. If Mr. Barlow terminated employment within 24 months following a change in control without good reason, he would have been entitled to a reduced benefit, based on the accrued benefit (as determined under GAAP), payable in equal monthly installments over ten years. The salary continuation agreement also provided that First Clover Leaf could terminate the agreement, in which case Mr. Barlow would have been paid a lump sum equal to the accrued benefit (as determined under GAAP).

In connection with Mr. Barlow's resignation on May 5, 2016, First Clover Leaf entered into a separation and release agreement with Mr. Barlow. Pursuant to the agreement, in exchange for his relinquishment of any rights pursuant to his employment agreement and salary continuation agreement, First Clover Leaf paid to Mr. Barlow a single lump sum payment in the amount of $525,000. In exchange for the payment, Mr. Barlow agreed not to compete with First Clover Leaf or First Clover Leaf Bank in Madison County or St. Clair Country, Illinois for a period of one year following his resignation.

Lisa R. Fowler. First Clover Leaf has previously entered into an employment agreement with Lisa R. Fowler, its Executive Vice President and Chief Credit Officer. Under the agreement, if Ms. Fowler's employment is terminated by First Clover Leaf (other than for cause, death or disability) or is terminated by her for good reason at any time on or after the effective date of a change in control, First Clover Leaf will be obligated to pay Ms. Fowler a lump sum equal to the value of her base salary, target bonus for each calendar year that ends in the 18-month period following termination and benefits for 18 months.

Ms. Fowler's employment agreement also provides that, following termination of her employment for any reason, she will not for a period of two years, solicit any of First Clover Leaf or First Clover Leaf Bank's employees to leave their employment, or solicit the business of any of First Clover Leaf or First Clover Leaf Bank's customers or clients. First Clover Leaf has previously entered into a salary continuation agreement with Ms. Fowler. The agreement provides for a salary continuation benefit to be payable to Ms. Fowler in the case of her termination of employment. If Ms. Fowler's employment terminates following attainment of age 65, she would be entitled to an annual benefit of $42,000 for ten years, payable in equal monthly installments. If Ms. Fowler's employment is terminated without cause, or if she terminates her employment for good reason, within 24 months following a change in control, she would be entitled to a reduced benefit based on the accrued benefit (as determined under GAAP), payable in equal monthly installments for over ten years. The salary continuation agreement also provides that First Clover Leaf can terminate the agreement, in which case Ms. Fowler would be entitled to a lump sum equal to the accrued benefit (as determined under GAAP). Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, First Clover Leaf will terminate the salary continuation agreement, and make the required payment, prior to the effective time.

Darlene F. McDonald. First Clover Leaf has previously entered into an employment agreement with Darlene F. McDonald, its Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer. Under the agreement, if Ms. McDonald's employment is terminated by First Clover Leaf (other than for cause, death or disability) or is terminated by her for good reason at any time on or after the effective date of a change in control, First Clover Leaf will be obligated to pay Ms. McDonald a lump sum equal to the value of her base salary, target bonus for each calendar year that ends in the 18-month period following termination and benefits for 18 months.

Ms. McDonald's employment agreement also provides that, following termination of her employment for any reason, she will not for a period of two years, solicit any of First Clover Leaf or First Clover Leaf Bank's employees to leave their employment, or solicit the business of any of First Clover Leaf or First Clover Leaf Bank's customers or clients. First Clover Leaf has previously entered into a salary continuation agreement with Ms. McDonald. The agreement provides for a salary continuation benefit to be payable to Ms. McDonald in the case of her termination of employment. If Ms. McDonald's employment terminates following attainment of age 65, she would be entitled to an annual benefit of $42,000 for ten years, payable in equal monthly installments. If Ms. McDonald's employment is terminated without cause, or if she terminates her employment for good reason, within 24 months following a change in control, she would be entitled to a reduced benefit based on the accrued benefit (as determined under GAAP), payable in equal monthly installments for over ten years. The salary continuation agreement also provides that First Clover Leaf can terminate the agreement, in which case Ms. McDonald would be entitled to a lump sum equal to the accrued benefit (as determined under GAAP). Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, First Clover Leaf will terminate the salary continuation agreement, and make the required payment, prior to the effective time.

See "-Merger-related compensation for First Clover Leaf's named executive officers" below for quantification of the amounts payable to First Clover Leaf's named executive officers.

Director Deferred Fee Plan. First Clover Leaf maintains a non-qualified deferred compensation plan for the benefit of its directors. Pursuant to the plan, directors may defer receipt of their fees earned for board service until termination of service on the board. Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, First Clover Leaf will terminate its Director Deferred Fee Plan prior to the effective time. Any directors who previously elected to defer fees will be paid those fees in a single lump sum immediately prior to the effective time.

Continued Director and Officer Liability Coverage. Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, First Mid agreed to maintain, for up to six years following the effective time, insurance coverage under the current policy of directors' and officers' liability insurance maintained by First Clover Leaf for actions taken prior to the effective time of the merger. The cost of such insurance coverage shall not exceed 200% of the premiums First Clover Leaf paid for its current policy term. Following the effective time, to the extent permitted by applicable law, First Mid has agreed to indemnify and hold harmless the current and former directors, officers and employees of First Clover Leaf and its subsidiaries for all actions taken by them prior to the effective time of the merger.

Post-Merger Compensation Arrangements with First Mid. Since execution of the merger agreement, First Mid has engaged, and it expects to continue to engage, in discussions with certain of First Clover Leaf executive officers or directors regarding potential roles with the combined company after the consummation of the merger. As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, none of the executive officers and directors of First Clover Leaf have entered into any agreements or arrangements with First Mid or its affiliates regarding continued service with First Mid, or its affiliates after the effective time of the merger. However, prior to the effective time of the merger, such agreements or arrangements may be entered into, which could amend, terminate or otherwise modify the existing First Clover Leaf arrangements with the executive officers that are described in this section and/or provide for the payment (or the right to future payment) of all or a portion of the benefits provided under such arrangements.

Merger-related compensation for First Clover Leaf's named executive officers

The information set forth in the table below is intended to comply with Item 402(t) of the SEC's Regulation S-K, which requires disclosure of information about certain compensation for each named executive officer of First Clover Leaf that is based on, or otherwise relates to, the merger (which is referred to as "merger-related compensation"). The merger-related compensation described below payable by First Clover Leaf upon the effective time is based on the existing agreements with First Clover Leaf, and does not include amounts payable, if any, for continued employment with First Mid following the effective time of the merger. For additional details regarding the terms of the payments and benefits described below, see the discussion under the heading "Interests of certain persons in the merger" above.

The table below sets forth the amount of payments and benefits that each of First Clover Leaf's named executive officers would receive in connection with the merger, based on multiple assumptions that may or may not actually occur or be accurate on the relevant date, including the assumptions described below and in the footnotes to the table. For purposes of calculating such amounts, in addition to the assumptions described in the footnotes to the table below, the effective time of the merger is assumed to occur on September 30, 2016 solely for purposes of the disclosure in this section, and each named executive officer (other than Mr. Barlow) is assumed to experience a qualifying termination on such date.

Name	Salary/Bonus ($)(1)	Salary Continuation Payment ($)(2)	Perquisites/ Benefits ($)(3)	Total ($)
P. David Kuhl	$ 660,000	$ —	$ 10,772	$670,772
William D. Barlow(4)	525,000	—	—	525,000
Lisa R. Fowler	361,200	33,005	39,093	433,298
Darlene F. McDonald	363,300	44,504	30,746	438,550

The employment agreements for Mr. Kuhl, Ms. Fowler and Ms. McDonald provide for a lump sum cash severance payment in connection with a qualifying termination. In the case of Mr. Kuhl, the amount of the severance payment is set at $660,000. In the case of Ms. Fowler and Ms. McDonald, the amount of the severance payment based on salary and bonus is equal to 18 months of base salary ($258,000 for Ms. Fowler and $259,500 for Ms. McDonald) and two times the annual target bonus ($103,200 for Ms. Fowler and $103,800 for Ms. McDonald). With respect to Mr. Kuhl, Ms. Fowler and Ms. McDonald, the severance amount in this column is a “double trigger” in nature, which means that payment of this amount is conditioned upon a change in control and a qualifying termination of employment. The amount set forth with respect to Mr. Barlow is the lump sum cash severance payment paid to him pursuant to his separation and release agreement.

The amount reflected is the amount of the accrued benefit as calculated in accordance with GAAP. This amount will be paid to Ms. Fowler and Ms. McDonald upon the termination of their salary continuation agreements prior to (2) the effective time of the merger, and is in satisfaction of First Clover Leaf’s obligations under the agreements, regardless of whether either executive experiences a qualifying termination of employment in connection with the change in control.

The amount reflected with respect to Mr. Kuhl is the value of one year of employer-paid group health care continuation coverage. With respect to Ms. Fowler and Ms. McDonald, the amount reflected is the amount of additional cash severance paid based on the value of 18 months’ of employer-paid group health care and life (3) insurance coverage ($23,613 for Ms. Fowler and $15,176 for Ms. McDonald), and the value of 18 months’ of 401(k) matching contributions ($15,480 for Ms. Fowler and $15,570 for Ms. McDonald). These benefits are double trigger, in that they would only be paid upon a change in control and a subsequent qualifying termination of employment.

(4) Mr. Barlow voluntarily resigned his employment with First Clover Leaf effective May 5, 2016.

Restrictions on resale of First Mid common stock

The shares of First Mid common stock to be issued in connection with the merger will be registered under the Securities Act, and will be freely transferable, except for shares issued to any stockholder who may be deemed to be an “affiliate” of First Mid for purposes of Rule 144 under the Securities Act. Persons who may be deemed to be affiliates of First Mid include individuals or entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with First Mid and may include the executive officers, directors and significant stockholders of First Mid.

First Clover Leaf stockholder dissenters’ rights

Under Sections 3-201 through 3-213 of the MGCL, First Clover Leaf’s stockholders have the right to object to the merger and to demand and receive “fair value” of their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock, determined as of the date of the meeting at which the merger is approved, without reference to any appreciation or depreciation in value resulting from the merger or its proposal. These rights are also known as dissenters’ rights.

Sections 3-201 through 3-213 of the MGCL, which set forth the procedures a stockholder requesting payment for his, her or its shares must follow, are reprinted in their entirety as Appendix B to this joint proxy statement/prospectus. The following discussion is not a complete statement of the law relating to dissenters’ rights under Sections 3-201 through 3-213 of the MGCL. This discussion and Appendix B should be reviewed carefully by any First Clover Leaf stockholder who wishes to exercise dissenters’ rights or who wishes to preserve the right to do so, as failure to strictly comply with the procedures set forth in Sections 3-201 through 3-213 of the MGCL will result in the loss of dissenters’ rights.

General Requirements. Sections 3-201 through 3-213 of the MGCL generally require the following:

Written Objection to the Proposed Transaction. First Clover Leaf stockholders who desire to exercise their dissenters’ rights must file with First Clover Leaf, at or before the First Clover Leaf stockholder meeting to vote on the merger agreement and the merger, a written objection to the proposed transaction. A vote against the merger agreement and the merger will not satisfy such objection requirement. The written objection should be delivered or addressed to Corporate Secretary, First Clover Leaf Financial Corp., 6814 Goshen Road, P.O. Box 540, Edwardsville, IL 62025.

Refrain From Voting For or Consenting to the Merger Proposal. If you wish to exercise your dissenters' rights, you must not vote in favor of the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger. If you return a properly executed proxy that does not instruct the proxy holder to vote against or to abstain on the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger, or otherwise vote in favor of the merger agreement and the merger, your dissenters' rights will terminate, even if you previously filed a written notice of intent to demand payment. You do not have to vote against the merger in order to preserve your dissenters' rights.

Written Demand for Payment. Within 20 days after acceptance of the articles of merger by the Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation, you must make a written demand on First Mid for payment of your stock that states the number and class of shares for which payment is demanded. All written demands for payment of the fair value of First Clover Leaf common stock should be delivered or addressed to Sharon Vandermeer, First Mid-Illinois Bancshares, Inc., 1421 Charleston Avenue, Mattoon, IL 61938.

An objection to the merger, demand for payment of the fair value and a petition for appraisal, discussed below, must be executed by or on behalf of the holder of record, fully and correctly, as the holder's name appears on the holder's stock certificates. Therefore, if your First Clover Leaf common stock is owned of record in a fiduciary capacity, such as by a broker, trustee, guardian or custodian, execution of the demand should be made in that capacity.

First Mid Written Notice. Under Section 3-207 of the MGCL, First Mid, as the successor to First Clover Leaf, will promptly notify each objecting stockholder in writing of the date the articles of merger were accepted for record by the Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation. First Mid may also send a written offer to pay the objecting holders of First Clover Leaf common stock what it considers to be the fair value of the stock. If First Mid chooses to do this, it will provide each objecting stockholder of First Clover Leaf with: (i) a balance sheet as of a date not more than six months before the date of the offer; (ii) a profit and loss statement for the 12 months ending on the date of that balance sheet; and (iii) any other information First Mid considers pertinent.

Any stockholder who files a notice of objection, but fails to file a written demand for the payment of fair value in a timely manner, will be bound by the vote of the First Clover Leaf stockholders and will not be entitled to receive payment in cash as an objecting stockholder.

If you demand payment for your First Clover Leaf common stock, you have no right to the First Mid common stock or cash into which your First Clover Leaf common stock would be converted after the merger is approved, except the payment of fair value. If you demand payment for your First Clover Leaf common stock, your rights as a First Clover Leaf stockholder will be restored if the demand for payment is withdrawn, a petition of appraisal is not filed within the time required, a court determines that you are not entitled to relief, or the merger is abandoned or rescinded. A demand for payment may be withdrawn only with First Clover Leaf consent.

Petition for Appraisal. Within 50 days after the date the articles of merger are accepted by the Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation, First Mid or any holder of First Clover Leaf common stock who has complied with the statutory requirements summarized above may file a petition with a court of equity in New Castle, Delaware, for an appraisal to determine the fair value of First Clover Leaf common stock (which we refer to as an "appraisal"). First Mid is not obligated to, and has no present intention to, file a petition with respect to an appraisal of the fair value of First Clover Leaf common stock. Accordingly, it is the obligation of objecting holders of First Clover Leaf common stock to initiate all necessary action to perfect their dissenters' rights within the time period prescribed by Section 3-208 of the MGCL.

If a petition for an appraisal is timely filed, after a hearing on the petition, the court will determine the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock that are entitled to dissenters' rights and will appoint three disinterested appraisers to determine the fair value of the First Clover Leaf common stock on terms and conditions the court considers proper. Within 60 days after appointment (or such longer period as the court may direct), the appraisers will file with the court and mail to each party to the proceeding their report stating their conclusion as to the fair value of the stock. Within 15 days after the filing of this report, any party may object to such report and request a hearing. The court shall, upon motion of any party, enter an order confirming, modifying or rejecting such report and, if confirmed or modified, enter judgment directing the time within which payment for the fair value shall be made by First Mid. If the appraisers' report is rejected, the court may determine the fair value of the stock of the objecting stockholders or may remit the proceeding to the same or other appraisers. Any judgment entered pursuant to a court proceeding shall include interest from the date at which fair value is determined pursuant to Section 3-202. The cost of the appraisal proceedings, including compensation and expenses of the appraisers, will be First Mid's responsibility, except that all or any part of the expenses may be assessed against any and all of the objecting stockholders to whom an offer to pay for common stock has been made, if the court finds the failure to accept the offer was arbitrary and vexatious or not in good faith. Costs of the proceedings will not include fees and expenses of counsel. Costs of the proceedings may include fees and expenses of experts only if First Mid did not make an offer of payment for your common stock or if the value of the common stock as determined in the appraisal proceeding materially exceeds the amount offered by First Mid. The court's judgment is final and conclusive on all parties and has the same force and effect as other decrees in equity.

Fair Value. You should be aware that the fair value of your First Clover Leaf common stock as determined under Sections 3-201 through 3-213 of the MGCL could be more than, the same as or less than the value of the First Mid stock you would receive in the merger if you did not seek appraisal of your First Clover Leaf common stock. You should further be aware that, if you have duly demanded the payment of the fair value of your First Clover Leaf common stock in compliance with Section 3-203 of the MGCL, you will not, after making such demand, be entitled to vote the First Clover Leaf common stock subject to the demand for any purpose or be entitled to, with respect to such shares of stock, the payment of dividends or other distributions payable to holders of record on a record date occurring after the close of business on the date the stockholders approved the merger agreement and the merger. Fair value may not include any appreciation or depreciation that directly or indirectly results from the transaction objected to or from its proposal.

If you fail to comply strictly with these procedures you will lose your dissenters' rights. Consequently, if you wish to exercise your dissenters' rights, we strongly urge you to consult a legal advisor before attempting to exercise your dissenters' rights.

Financing

The merger agreement is not subject to any financing contingency. First Mid intends to finance the cash portion of the merger consideration through dividends from certain of its subsidiaries, borrowings under its current facility, as it may be amended, and cash on hand. First Mid's current line of credit has a current available balance of $15 million. See "Selected Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Information" on page 140.

MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE MERGER

The following summary describes the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to U.S. holders (as defined below) of First Clover Leaf common stock. The summary is based upon the Internal Revenue Code, applicable Treasury Regulations, judicial decisions and administrative rulings and practice, all as in effect as of the date hereof, and all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect. This summary does not address any tax consequences of the merger under state, local or foreign laws, or any federal laws other than those pertaining to income tax.

For purposes of this discussion, the term “U.S. holder” means a beneficial owner that is: an individual citizen or resident of the United States; a corporation (or other entity taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized under the laws of the United States or any of its political subdivisions; a trust that (1) is subject to the supervision of a court within the United States and the control of one or more U.S. persons or (2) has a valid election in effect under applicable U.S. Treasury regulations to be treated as a U.S. person; or an estate that is subject to U.S. federal income taxation on its income regardless of its source.

This discussion addresses only those U.S. holders of First Clover Leaf common stock that hold their First Clover Leaf common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Internal Revenue Code and does not address all the U.S. federal income tax consequences that may be relevant to particular holders of First Clover Leaf common stock in light of their individual circumstances or to holders of First Clover Leaf common stock that are subject to special rules, such as non-U.S. holders (as defined below) (except to the extent discussed under the subheading “Tax Implications to Non-U.S. Stockholders” below); financial institutions; investors in pass-through entities; persons who are subject to alternative minimum tax; insurance companies; mutual funds; tax-exempt organizations; dealers in securities or currencies; traders in securities that elect to use a mark-to-market method of accounting; persons that hold First Clover Leaf common stock as part of a straddle, hedge, constructive sale or conversion or other integrated transaction; regulated investment companies; real estate investment trusts; persons whose “functional currency” is not the U.S. dollar; and holders who acquired their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock through the exercise of an employee stock option or otherwise as compensation.

If a partnership (or other entity that is taxed as a partnership for federal income tax purposes) holds First Clover Leaf common stock, the tax treatment of a partner in that partnership generally will depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Partnerships and partners in partnerships should consult their own tax advisors about the tax consequences of the merger to them.

The parties intend for the merger to be treated as a “reorganization” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Each of Barack Ferrazzano and Schiff Hardin have delivered opinions, dated June 13, 2016, and filed as exhibits to the registration statement of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part, to the effect that, subject to the exceptions, qualifications and limitations set forth therein, (i) the merger will constitute a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, and (ii) First Clover Leaf and First Mid will each be a party to such reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. Additionally, it is a condition to First Clover Leaf’s obligation to complete the merger that First Clover Leaf receive an opinion from Barack Ferrazzano, dated the closing date of the merger, and it is a condition to First Mid’s obligation to complete the merger that First Mid receive an opinion from Schiff Hardin, dated the closing date of the merger, each to the same effect as the opinions described in the preceding sentence. These conditions are waivable, and First Mid and First Clover Leaf undertake to recirculate and resolicit if either of these conditions is waived and the change in tax consequences is material. These opinions are and will be based upon representation letters provided by First Mid and First Clover Leaf and upon customary factual assumptions. Neither First Mid nor First Clover Leaf has sought, and neither of them will seek, any ruling from the Internal Revenue Service regarding any matters relating to the merger, and the opinions described above will not be binding on the Internal Revenue Service or any court. Consequently, there can be no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service will not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of the conclusions set forth below. In addition, if any of the representations or assumptions upon which the opinions are based are inconsistent with the actual facts, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger could be adversely affected.

The actual tax consequences of the merger to you may be complex and will depend upon your specific situation and upon factors that are not within the control of First Mid or First Clover Leaf. You should consult with your own tax advisor as to the tax consequences of the merger in light of your particular circumstances, including the applicability and effect of the alternative minimum tax and any state, local or foreign and other tax laws.

The following discussion summarizes the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to U.S. holders, assuming the merger qualifies as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Tax Consequences of the merger for U.S. holders of First Clover Leaf Common Stock. The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to a U.S. holder will depend on whether such U.S. holder receives cash, shares of First Mid common stock or a combination of cash and stock in exchange for such U.S. holder's First Clover Leaf common stock. At the time a First Clover Leaf stockholder makes a cash or stock election pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, such stockholder will not know whether, and to what extent, the proration provisions of the Merger Agreement will alter the mix of consideration such stockholder will receive. As a result, the tax consequences to such stockholder will not be ascertainable with certainty until such stockholder knows the precise amount of cash and shares of First Mid common stock that such stockholder will receive pursuant to the merger.

Exchange of First Clover Leaf common stock solely for First Mid common stock. Except as discussed below, see “-Cash in Lieu of Fractional Shares of First Mid Common Stock,” a U.S. holder who exchanges all of its shares of First Clover Leaf common stock solely for shares of First Mid common stock pursuant to the merger will not recognize gain or loss in connection with such exchange. A U.S. holder's aggregate tax basis in the First Mid common stock received in the merger in exchange for its First Clover Leaf common stock, including any fractional shares deemed received by the U.S. holder under the treatment discussed below in “-Cash in Lieu of Fractional Shares of First Mid Common Stock,” generally will equal such U.S. holder's aggregate tax basis in the First Clover Leaf common stock surrendered by such U.S. holder in the merger. The holding period for the shares of First Mid common stock received by such U.S. Holder in the merger in exchange for its First Clover Leaf common stock, including any fractional shares deemed received by the U.S. holder under the treatment discussed below in “-Cash in Lieu of Fractional Shares of First Mid Common Stock,” generally will include the holding period for the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock exchanged therefor.

Exchange of First Clover Leaf common stock solely for cash. A U.S. holder who exchanges all of its shares of First Clover Leaf common stock solely for cash pursuant to the merger generally will recognize capital gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received by such U.S. holder and the U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in the First Clover Leaf common stock exchanged therefor. Any capital gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. holder held the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock for more than one year at the effective time of the merger.

Exchange of First Clover Leaf common stock for a combination of First Mid common stock and cash. Except as discussed below, a U.S. holder who exchanges its shares of First Clover Leaf common stock for a combination of First Mid common stock and cash pursuant to the merger will recognize gain (but not loss) equal to the lesser of (i) the excess, if any, of the amount of cash plus the fair market value of any First Mid common stock received in the merger, over such U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock surrendered by such U.S. holder in the merger and (ii) the amount of cash received by such U.S. holder in the merger (other than cash received in lieu of fractional shares of First Mid common stock).

For purposes of this calculation, the fair market value of First Mid common stock is based on the trading price of that stock on the date of the Merger, rather than the methodology used in calculating the number of shares of First Mid common stock to be issued to the stockholder. In the case of any U.S. holder who acquired different blocks of First Clover Leaf common stock at different times and at different prices, any realized gain or loss will be determined separately for each identifiable block of shares exchanged in the merger. A loss realized on the exchange of one block of shares cannot be used to offset a gain realized on the exchange of another block of shares, but a U.S. holder will generally be able to reduce its capital gains by capital losses in determining its income tax liability. Such

U.S. holder should consult its tax advisor prior to the exchange with regard to identifying the basis or holding periods of the particular shares of First Mid common stock received in the merger.

In addition, Treasury regulations under Section 358 of the Internal Revenue Code provide that where a stockholder surrenders shares of target stock in an exchange and receives cash and shares of acquirer stock, then, to the extent the terms of the exchange specify that shares of acquirer stock or cash are received in exchange for a particular share of target stock surrendered, the terms of the exchange shall control for the purpose of determining the gain to the extent the terms of the exchange are economically reasonable. Therefore, a U.S. holder might be permitted to calculate the amount of taxable gain separately for each share of First Clover Leaf common stock surrendered in the merger based on the specific consideration received for such share. This result might be permitted if the stockholder designates, on the election form (and as specifically authorized by the merger agreement), specific shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be exchanged for cash or to be exchanged for First Mid common stock, as the case may be. Such a designation might result in less taxable gain to a U.S. holder even if the holder holds a single block of First Clover Leaf common stock with a uniform tax basis. However, it is unclear whether a designation described in this paragraph will be treated as satisfying the requirements of the Treasury regulations, and whether the proration provisions of the merger agreement may affect such designation, and therefore there can be no assurance that the IRS would not successfully challenge a U.S. holder that reports taxable gain on the basis of such a designation. U.S. holders therefore should consult with their tax advisors with respect to the advisability, including any benefits or risks, of making an express designation in their election form.

Generally, a U.S. holder's aggregate tax basis in the First Mid common stock received by such U.S. holder in the merger in exchange for its First Clover Leaf common stock, including any fractional shares deemed received by the U.S. holder under the treatment discussed below in "-Cash in Lieu of Fractional Shares of First Mid Common Stock," will equal such U.S. holder's aggregate tax basis in the First Clover Leaf common stock surrendered in the merger, increased by the amount of taxable gain or dividend income (see below), if any, recognized by such U.S. holder in the merger (other than with respect to cash received in lieu of fractional shares of First Mid common stock), and decreased by the amount of cash, if any, received by such U.S. holder in the merger (other than cash received in lieu of fractional shares of First Mid common stock). The holding period for the shares of First Mid common stock received in the merger, including any fractional shares deemed received by the U.S. holder under the treatment discussed below in "-Cash in Lieu of Fractional Shares of First Mid Common Stock," generally will include the holding period for the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock exchanged therefor.

Any capital gain generally will be long-term capital gain if the U.S. holder held the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock for more than one year at the effective time of the merger. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. All or part of the gain that a particular U.S. holder of First Clover Leaf recognizes could be treated as dividend income rather than capital gain if (i) such U.S. holder is a significant stockholder of First Mid or (ii) such U.S. holder's percentage ownership, taking into account constructive ownership rules, in First Mid after the merger is not meaningfully reduced from what its percentage ownership would have been if it had received solely shares of First Mid common stock rather than a combination of cash and shares of First Mid common stock in the merger. This could happen, for example, because of ownership of additional shares of First Mid common stock by such holder, ownership of shares of First Mid common stock by a person related to such holder or a share repurchase by First Mid from other holders of First Mid common stock. These rules are complex and dependent upon the specific factual circumstances particular to each U.S. holder. Consequently, each U.S. holder that may be subject to those rules should consult its tax advisor as to the application of these rules to the particular facts relevant to such U.S. holder.

Cash in Lieu of Fractional Shares of First Mid Common Stock. A U.S. holder who receives cash instead of a fractional share of First Mid common stock will be treated as having received the fractional share of First Mid common stock pursuant to the merger and then as having exchanged the fractional share of First Mid common stock for cash in a redemption by First Mid. In general, this deemed redemption will be treated as a sale or exchange, and a U.S. holder will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between (i) the amount of cash received by such U.S. holder and (ii) the portion of the basis of the shares of First Clover Leaf common stock allocable to such fractional interest. Such gain or loss generally will constitute capital gain or loss and will be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. holder's holding period for the First Clover Leaf common stock exchanged by such U.S. Holder is greater than one year as of the effective time of the merger.

Medicare Tax on Unearned Income. A U.S. holder that is an individual is subject to a 3.8% tax on the lesser of (i) his or her “net investment income” for the relevant taxable year or (ii) the excess of his or her modified adjusted gross income for the taxable year over a certain threshold (between $125,000 and $250,000 depending on the individual’s U.S. federal income tax filing status). A similar regime applies to estates and trusts. Net investment income generally would include any capital gain incurred in connection with the merger.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting. Payments of cash to a U.S. holder of First Clover Leaf common stock pursuant to the merger may, under certain circumstances, be subject to information reporting and backup withholding (currently at a rate of 28%) unless the holder provides proof of an applicable exemption satisfactory to First Mid and the exchange agent or, in the case of backup withholding, furnishes its taxpayer identification number and otherwise complies with all applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules. Any amounts withheld from payments to a U.S. holder under the backup withholding rules are not additional tax and generally will be allowed as a refund or credit against the U.S. holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability, provided the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

A U.S. holder of First Clover Leaf common stock, as a result of having received First Mid common stock in the merger, will be required to retain records pertaining to the merger. In addition, each U.S. holder of First Clover Leaf common stock who is a “significant holder” will be required to file a statement with such holder’s U.S. federal income tax return in accordance with Treasury Regulations Section 1.368-3(b) setting forth such holder’s basis in the First Clover Leaf common stock surrendered and the fair market value of the First Mid common stock and cash received in the merger. A “significant holder” is a holder of First Clover Leaf common stock who, immediately before the merger, owned at least 5% of the vote or value of the outstanding stock of First Clover Leaf or securities of First Clover Leaf with a basis for federal income taxes of at least $1 million.

Tax Implications to Non-U.S. Stockholders. For purposes of this discussion, the term “non-U.S. holder” means a beneficial owner of First Clover Leaf common stock (other than an entity treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) that is not a U.S. holder. The rules governing the U.S. federal income taxation of non-U.S. holders are complex, and no attempt will be made herein to provide more than a limited summary of those rules. Any gain a non-U.S. holder recognizes from the exchange of First Clover Leaf common stock for First Mid common stock and cash in the merger generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income taxation unless (a) the gain is effectively connected with a trade or business conducted by the non-U.S. holder in the United States, or (b) in the case of a non-U.S. holder who is an individual, such stockholder is present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of the sale and other conditions are met. Non-U.S. holders described in (a) above will be subject to tax on gain recognized at applicable U.S. federal income tax rates and, in addition, non-U.S. holders that are corporations (or treated as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes) may be subject to a branch profits tax equal to 30% (or a lesser rate under an applicable income tax treaty) on their effectively connected earnings and profits for the taxable year, which would include such gain. Non-U.S. holders described in (b) above will be subject to a flat 30% tax on any gain recognized, which may be offset by U.S. source capital losses.

This discussion does not address tax consequences that may vary with, or are contingent upon, individual circumstances. Moreover, it does not address any non-income tax or any foreign, state or local tax consequences of the merger. Tax matters are very complicated, and the tax consequences of the merger to you will depend upon the facts of your particular situation. Accordingly, we strongly urge you to consult with a tax advisor to determine the particular federal, state, local or foreign

DESCRIPTION OF THE MERGER AGREEMENT

The following is a summary of the material terms of the merger agreement. This summary does not purport to describe all the terms of the merger agreement and is qualified by reference to the complete text of the merger agreement, which is attached as Appendix A to this joint proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. You should read the merger agreement completely and carefully as it, rather than this description, is the legal document that governs the merger.

The text of the merger agreement has been included to provide you with information regarding its terms. The terms of the merger agreement (such as the representations and warranties) are intended to govern the contractual rights and relationships, and allocate risks, between the parties in relation to the merger. The merger agreement contains representations and warranties that First Mid and First Clover Leaf made to each other as of specific dates. The representations and warranties were negotiated between the parties with the principal purpose of setting forth their respective rights with respect to their obligations to complete the merger. The statements embodied in those representations and warranties may be subject to important limitations and qualifications as set forth therein, including a contractual standard of materiality different from that generally applicable under federal securities laws.

General

The merger agreement provides for the merger of First Clover Leaf with and into First Mid, with First Mid as the surviving company. The merger is anticipated to be completed in the second half of 2016. At such time, First Clover Leaf Bank's banking offices will become banking offices of First Mid Bank. Until the banks are merged, First Mid will own and operate First Clover Leaf Bank and First Mid Bank as separate bank subsidiaries.

Closing and effective time

Closing. The closing of the merger will take place on the fifth business day following the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions to closing set forth in the merger agreement, or at another time that both parties mutually agree upon. See “-Conditions to completion of the merger” for a more complete description of the conditions that must be satisfied prior to closing. The date of the completion of the merger sometimes is referred to in this joint proxy statement/prospectus as the “closing date.”

Completion of the Merger. The merger will become effective as of the date and time specified in the certificate of merger that will be filed with the Delaware Secretary of State and the articles of merger that will be filed with the Maryland Department of Assessments and Taxation. The time at which the merger becomes effective is sometimes referred to in this joint proxy statement/prospectus as the “effective time.”

Merger Consideration

If the merger is completed, each share of First Clover Leaf common stock which First Clover Leaf stockholders own immediately before the completion of the merger will be converted into the right to receive, at the election of each stockholder, either (a) $12.87 or (b) 0.495 shares of common stock, par value $4.00 per share, of First Mid, subject to certain adjustments and proration, as set forth in the merger agreement. Based on the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding as of April 26, 2016, the date of the merger agreement, and First Mid's $25.27 common stock closing price on April 26, 2016, and assuming no adjustments to the merger consideration, First Clover Leaf stockholders will receive a total aggregate merger consideration of approximately $88,267,056, made up of approximately $22,541,429 in cash and $65,725,627 in First Mid common stock, subject to receipt of cash in respect of fractional shares. Shares of First Clover Leaf common stock held by First Clover Leaf stockholders who elect to exercise their dissenters' rights will not be converted into merger consideration.

The merger consideration is subject to the following adjustments:

First Clover Leaf Consolidated Stockholders' Equity is Less than $80,700,000. If the closing consolidated balance sheet delivered by First Clover Leaf to First Mid as of the last day of the month preceding the closing date of the merger, or as of three business days prior to the closing date of the merger if such date is more than three business days following the last day of the preceding month, reflects consolidated stockholders' equity (as computed and adjusted in accordance with the merger agreement) less than $80,700,000, for every $50,000 shortfall thereof, (i) the cash consideration will be reduced by $0.0075 per share and (ii) the exchange ratio shall be reduced by 0.00025. As of March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf's consolidated stockholder's equity as computed in accordance with GAAP was $81,498,496. For the purposes of this potential adjustment, the consolidated stockholders' equity of First Clover Leaf reflected on the closing consolidated balance sheet shall be computed and adjusted in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement to reflect that the following amounts (which amounts cannot be known until the date of the closing consolidated balance sheet) shall be disregarded, and not be taken into account or otherwise reduce such consolidated stockholders' equity reflected on the closing consolidated balance sheet: (A) any changes to the valuation of the First Clover Leaf's investment portfolio attributed to ASC 320, whether upward or downward, from December 31, 2015 until the date of the closing consolidated balance sheet, (B) the aggregate fees and expenses of attorneys, accountants, consultants, financial advisors and other professional advisors incurred by First Clover Leaf and its subsidiaries in connection with the merger agreement or the transactions contemplated thereby, (C) any amounts paid or payable to any director, officer or employee of First Clover Leaf or any of its subsidiaries under any contract, severance arrangement, benefit plan or employment practice of First Clover Leaf or any of its subsidiaries and all other payroll and non-payroll related costs and expenses incurred by First Clover Leaf or any of its subsidiaries in connection with the merger agreement or the transactions contemplated thereby, (D) costs associated with the termination of the First Clover Leaf's 401(k) plan, its salary continuation agreements, and any other employee benefit plan, (E) any costs associated with the termination of the First Clover Leaf's data processing agreement, (F) any negative provisions for loan losses taken by First Clover Leaf from the date of the merger agreement until the date of the closing consolidated balance sheet, and (G) any other expenses incurred solely in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, in each case incurred or to be incurred by First Clover Leaf or any of its subsidiaries through closing in connection with the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

Decrease in Market Price of First Mid Common Stock. If at any time during the ten business day period prior to the twelfth business day immediately preceding the effective time of the merger (which we refer to as the "determination date"), the average closing price of a share of First Mid common stock (we refer to such average closing price as the "First Mid market value") is less than $21.30 and decreases by more than 20% in relation to the NASDAQ Bank Index, First Clover Leaf will have the right to terminate the merger agreement unless First Mid elects to increase the exchange ratio within five business days of First Clover Leaf's notice of termination. First Mid may elect to increase the exchange ratio to equal the lesser of (i) a quotient, the numerator of which is equal to the product of (A) $25.06, (B) the exchange ratio and (C) the quotient of the average daily closing sales price of the NASDAQ Bank Index for the ten consecutive trading days immediately preceding the determination date divided by the average daily closing sales price of the NASDAQ Bank Index for the ten consecutive trading days immediately preceding April 26, 2016 minus 0.20 and the denominator of which is equal to the average daily closing sales price of First Mid for the ten consecutive trading days immediately preceding the determination date; or (ii) the quotient determined by dividing $25.06 by the First Mid market value, and multiplying the quotient by the product of the exchange ratio and 0.80. If First Mid elects to increase the exchange ratio, the merger agreement will remain in effect in accordance with its terms, except that the consideration for the merger will be increased to reflect the revised exchange ratio. If First Mid declines to increase the exchange ratio, the merger will be abandoned. If First Mid or any company belonging to the NASDAQ Bank Index declares or effects a stock dividend, reclassification, recapitalization, split-up, combination, exchange of shares or similar transaction between April 26, 2016 and the determination date, the prices for the common stock of such company shall be appropriately adjusted for the purposes of adjusting the exchange ratio pursuant to this paragraph.

Reclassification, Recapitalization or other Readjustment to First Mid Common Stock. If, prior to the effective time, shares of First Mid common stock shall be changed into a different number of shares or a different class of shares because of any reclassification, recapitalization, split-up, combination, exchange of shares or readjustment, or if a stock dividend thereof shall be declared with a record date within such period, an appropriate and proportionate adjustment shall be made to the exchange ratio so as to provide the holders of First Clover Leaf common stock with the same economic effect as contemplated by the merger agreement prior to such event.

The market prices of both First Mid common stock and First Clover Leaf common stock will fluctuate before the completion of the merger, and the market price of First Mid common stock may also fluctuate between the completion of the merger and the time holders of First Clover Leaf common stock receive any First Mid common stock. Holders of First Clover Leaf common stock should obtain current stock price quotations for First Mid common stock and First Clover Leaf common stock before voting on the merger and before making an election for merger consideration. No fractional shares of First Mid common stock will be issued in the merger. Instead, First Mid will pay to each holder of First Clover Leaf common stock who would otherwise be entitled to a fractional share of First Mid common stock an amount in cash (without interest) rounded to the nearest whole cent, determined by multiplying $12.87 by the fractional share of First Mid common stock to which such former holder would otherwise be entitled.

Holders of First Clover Leaf common stock, even if they make a valid election in accordance with the election procedures described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, will not know or be able to calculate until after the completion of the merger whether and to what extent they will be subject to the proration and adjustment procedures described below, and to what extent they will receive cash consideration and/or stock consideration in accordance with their election. Any holder of First Clover Leaf common stock who does not make a valid election will be deemed to have made an election for stock consideration.

Stock Election

The merger agreement provides that each holder of First Clover Leaf common stock who makes a valid election for stock consideration will have the right to receive, in exchange for each share of First Clover Leaf common stock, subject to proration and adjustment as set forth in the merger agreement and described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, a number of shares of First Mid common stock equal to the exchange ratio of 0.495. We refer to each share for which a stock election has been made as a “stock electing share.”

Even if a holder of First Clover Leaf common stock makes a valid election for stock consideration, such stockholder may nevertheless receive a mix of cash and stock consideration. The allocation of the mix of consideration payable to First Clover Leaf stockholders in the merger will not be known until after completion of the merger. The maximum number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock that will be converted into the right to receive stock consideration shall be an amount equal to 75% of the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time.

Cash Election

The merger agreement provides that each holder of First Clover Leaf common stock who makes a valid election for cash consideration will have the right to receive, in exchange for each share of First Clover Leaf common stock, subject to proration and adjustment as set forth in the merger agreement and described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, $12.87 in cash. We refer to each share for which a cash election has been made as a “cash electing share.”

Even if a holder of First Clover Leaf common stock makes a valid election for cash consideration, such stockholder may nevertheless receive a mix of cash and stock consideration. The allocation of the mix of consideration payable to First Clover Leaf stockholders in the merger will not be known until after completion of the merger. The maximum number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock that will be converted into the right to receive cash consideration shall be an amount equal to 25% of the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time.

Non-Election

Holders of First Clover Leaf common stock who fail to make an election or whose elections are not received by the exchange agent by the election deadline or whose forms of election are improperly completed and/or not signed, will be deemed to have made an election for stock consideration.

Dissenting Shares

Holders of First Clover Leaf common stock who perfect their dissenters' rights under the MGCL (who we refer to as "dissenting stockholders") will have the right to receive "fair value" of their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock, determined as of the date of the meeting at which the merger is approved. This "fair value" could be more than the merger consideration but could also be less. Dissenting stockholders will not have the right to receive merger consideration in the merger and will only be entitled to their rights as dissenting stockholders under the MGCL. If any dissenting stockholder effectively withdraws or loses his, her or its right to dissenters' rights of appraisal, such holder will have the right to receive merger consideration in the merger and will be deemed to have made an election for stock consideration, unless such holder properly submitted an effective election form prior to the election deadline. See "The Merger - First Clover Leaf stockholder dissenters' rights."

Allocation Procedures and Proration

As a result of the merger, First Clover Leaf will be merged with and into First Mid. Each share of First Clover Leaf common stock will then be converted into the right to receive cash or shares of First Mid common stock as each First Clover Leaf stockholder elects, subject to the limitations described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Specifically, notwithstanding the election of First Clover Leaf stockholders to receive cash or First Mid common stock: (i) the maximum number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be converted into the right to receive First Mid common stock shall be an amount equal to 75% of the total number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock issued and outstanding on the effective time of the merger; and (ii) the maximum number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock that will be converted into the right to receive cash (excluding dissenting shares) shall be an amount equal to 25% of the total number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock issued and outstanding on the effective time of the merger. First Mid shall cause its exchange agent to affect the following allocation and redesignation procedures no later than five business days after the election deadline.

Stock Consideration Equal to or More Than 75% . If the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be converted into shares of First Mid common stock exceeds 75% of the number of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time, then:

• All cash electing shares shall be converted into the right to receive the cash consideration; and

All stock electing shares will be entitled to receive First Mid common stock, only with respect to that number of stock electing shares held by such stockholder equal to the product obtained by multiplying (i) the number of stock electing shares held by such holder by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which is 75% of the number of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding at the effective time of the merger, and the denominator is the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be converted into shares of First Mid common stock, with the remaining number of such holder's stock electing shares being converted into the right to receive the cash consideration.

Cash Consideration Equal to or Less Than 25% . If the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be converted into cash consideration exceeds 25% of the number of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time (excluding dissenting shares), then:

• All stock electing shares shall be converted into the right to receive the stock consideration; and

All cash electing shares will be entitled to receive cash consideration, only with respect to that number of cash electing shares held by such stockholder equal to the product obtained by multiplying (i) the number of cash electing shares held by such holder by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which is 25% of the number of First Clover Leaf common stock outstanding at the effective time of the merger, and the denominator is the number of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be converted into cash consideration, with the remaining number of such holder's cash electing shares being converted into the right to receive the First Mid common stock.

Election and Exchange Procedures

Election Form and Letter of Transmittal. Included with the copy of this joint proxy statement/prospectus sent to each holder of First Clover Leaf common stock is an election form with instructions for making an election as to the form of consideration that each holder of First Clover Leaf common stock prefers to receive in the merger with respect to each share of First Clover Leaf common stock held by such holder. First Mid and First Clover Leaf will also send an election form to persons who become holders of First Clover Leaf common stock after the record date for the First Clover Leaf stockholder's meeting and the election deadline.

Each holder of First Clover Leaf common stock who wishes to make an election to receive stock consideration or cash consideration in the merger must submit a properly completed and signed election form to the exchange agent at its designated office by the election deadline. The deadline for making your election will be 5:00 p.m., Chicago Time, on the fifth business day prior to the effective time of the merger, unless you are notified in writing of an earlier election deadline. First Mid will use its reasonable efforts to provide notice to First Clover Leaf stockholders of the anticipated election deadline at least five business days prior to the election deadline.

If your election is not timely and properly made, your shares of First Clover Leaf stock will be treated as "no election shares" and you will be deemed to have made an election for stock consideration. Neither First Mid nor its exchange agent will be under any obligation to notify any person of any defects in an election form.

The election form also serves as a letter of transmittal. Although the merger agreement provides that a separate letter of transmittal will be mailed to First Clover Leaf stockholders after the completion of the merger for such stockholders to exchange their stock certificates for merger consideration, First Clover Leaf and First Mid have subsequently agreed to combine the election form with the letter of transmittal, which should be returned to the exchange agent by the election deadline. First Clover Leaf stockholders who do not return their stock certificates with their election form prior to the election deadline will receive transmittal materials and instructions from the exchange agent after the merger is complete.

You must carefully follow the instructions in the election form and return a properly executed election form and your First Clover Leaf stock certificates, if any, to the exchange agent in order to receive the merger consideration for your shares. First Mid stock certificates submitted for exchange must be in a form that is acceptable for transfer (as explained in the election form). Neither First Mid nor its exchange agent will be under any obligation to notify any person of any defects in an election form.

Holders of First Clover Leaf common stock who cannot locate their stock certificates, should follow the instructions set forth in the election form for lost or stolen stock certificates. Holders of First Clover Leaf common stock who hold their shares in book-entry form should follow the instructions set forth in the election form with respect to shares of First Clover Leaf common stock held in book-entry form.

As soon as reasonably practicable after its receipt of properly completed and signed election forms and letters of transmittal and accompanying First Clover Leaf stock certificates, First Mid's exchange agent will issue by book-entry transfer shares of First Mid common stock or cash representing the merger consideration, together with cash in lieu of fractional share interests. No interest will be paid on any cash payment.

Until the certificates representing First Clover Leaf common stock are surrendered for exchange, holders of such certificates will not receive the cash or stock consideration or dividends or distributions on the First Mid common stock into which such First Clover Leaf common stock have been converted. When the certificates are surrendered to First Mid's exchange agent, any unpaid dividends or other distribution will be paid without interest. In no event will First Mid, the exchange agent, or any other person be liable to any former holder of shares of First Clover Leaf common stock for any amount delivered in good faith to a public official pursuant to applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar laws.

Holders of First Clover Leaf common stock, even if they make a valid election in accordance with the election procedures described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, will not know or be able to calculate until after the completion of the merger whether and to what extent they will be subject to the proration and adjustment procedures described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and to what extent they will receive cash consideration and/or stock consideration in accordance with their election. Any holder of First Clover Leaf common stock who does not make a valid election will be deemed to have made an election for stock consideration.

Holders of First Clover Leaf common stock should follow the instructions in the election form for sending their stock certificates to the exchange agent.

Voting agreement

On April 26, 2016, certain of the directors of First Clover Leaf entered into a voting agreement with First Mid. Under this agreement, these stockholders have each agreed to vote, subject to their fiduciary duties, their respective shares of First Clover Leaf common stock:

- in favor of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement;
- against any action or agreement which would result in a breach of any term of, or any other obligation of First Clover Leaf under the merger agreement; and
- against any action or agreement which would impede, interfere with or attempt to discourage the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Furthermore, each of these stockholders has also agreed not to sell, assign or transfer any shares of First Clover Leaf common stock that they own without the prior written consent of First Mid. The 1,030,533 shares of First Clover Leaf common stock subject to the voting agreement represent approximately 14.7% of First Clover Leaf's outstanding shares of common stock as of April 26, 2016. The voting obligations under the voting agreement will automatically terminate upon the earlier of the effective time or the termination of the merger agreement in accordance with its terms. A copy of the form of voting agreement is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix C.

Trust preferred securities

At or before the effective time of the merger, First Mid will assume and discharge First Clover Leaf's outstanding debt, guarantees, securities, and (to the extent necessary) other agreements under and relating to First Clover Leaf's trust preferred securities.

Conduct of business pending the merger

Conduct of Business of First Clover Leaf. Under the merger agreement, First Clover Leaf has agreed to certain restrictions on its activities and the activities of its subsidiaries until the merger is completed or the merger agreement is terminated. In general, First Clover Leaf and its subsidiaries are required to conduct their business in the ordinary course of business and use commercially reasonable efforts to maintain and preserve intact its business organization and advantageous business relationships.

The following is a summary of the more significant restrictions imposed upon First Clover Leaf, subject to the exceptions set forth in the merger agreement. First Clover Leaf will not (and neither it nor its subsidiaries will agree to take, make any commitment to take or adopt any resolutions in support of any action to), without First Mid's prior written consent:

- effect any change in the capitalization of First Clover Leaf or the number of issued and outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf;
- pay any dividends or other distributions on its capital stock, except First Clover Leaf is permitted to continue paying its regular quarterly dividend of $0.06 per share of First Clover Leaf common stock in the ordinary course of business;
- amend the material terms of, waive any rights under, terminate, knowingly violate the terms of or enter into any contract material to First Clover Leaf;
- amend its articles of incorporation or by-laws, the charter or by-laws of First Clover Leaf Bank, or the certificate of trust or trust agreement of First Clover Leaf Statutory Trust I;
- increase the compensation of First Clover Leaf's officers or key employees, nor pay any bonuses except in the Ordinary Course of Business;
- establish, amend, or terminate any employee benefit plan;
- loan more than $2,000,000 to any borrower or related group of borrowers, or renew or restructure a loan in the amount of $5,000,000 or more to any one borrower or related group of borrowers unless within the exception provided in the merger agreement;
- apply or consent to any extension of time for filing any Tax Return or any extension of the period of limitations applicable thereto;
- implement or adopt any change in its accounting principles, practices or methods, other than as may be required by GAAP or applicable regulatory accounting requirements;
- make any expenditure for fixed assets in excess of $50,000 for any single item, or $100,000 in the aggregate, or enter into leases of fixed assets having an annual rental in excess of $50,000 in the aggregate;
- incur any liabilities or obligations, make any commitments or disbursements, acquire (other than by way of foreclosures or acquisitions of control in a fiduciary or similar capacity or in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in good faith, in each case in the ordinary course of business) or dispose of any property or asset, make any contract or agreement, or engage in any transaction except in the ordinary course of business consistent with prudent banking practices and the current policies of First Clover Leaf and its subsidiaries;
- enter into any new line of business or materially change its lending, investment, underwriting, risk and asset liability management and other banking and operating policies; settle any action, suit, claim or proceeding against it or any of its subsidiaries in excess of $100,000 or, if less than $100,000 that would impose a material restriction of the business of First Clover Leaf or any of its subsidiaries or create precedent for claims that are reasonably likely to be material to First Clover Leaf;

make application for the opening, relocation or closing of any, or open, relocate or close any, branch office, loan production office or other significant office or operations facility;

enter into any employment, consulting or similar agreements that are not terminable by 30 days' or fewer notice without penalty or obligation; terminate the employment of any officer without first notifying First Mid; or hire any employee with an annual salary in excess of $75,000.

Additionally, First Clover Leaf Bank is restricted from:

- purchasing or investing in obligations of the government of the United States or agencies of the United States or state or local governments having maturities of more than ten years or which municipal obligations have, at the time of purchase, been assigned a rating less than an A by Moody's Investors Service or by Standard and Poor's;

engaging or agreeing to engage in any "covered transaction" within the meaning of Sections 23A or 23B of the Federal Reserve Act or any transactions of the kind referred to in Section; and agreeing to take, making an agreement to take or adopting any resolutions in support of the actions described above.

Conduct of Business of First Mid. Under the merger agreement, First Mid has agreed to certain restrictions on its activities and the activities of its subsidiaries until the merger is completed or the merger agreement is terminated. In general, First Mid is required to conduct its business in the ordinary course of business and use commercially reasonable efforts to maintain and preserve intact its business organization and advantageous business relationships.

The following is a summary of the more significant restrictions imposed upon First Mid, subject to the exceptions set forth in the merger agreement. First Mid will not (and neither it nor its subsidiaries will agree to take, make any commitment to take or adopt any resolutions in support of any action to), without First Clover Leaf's prior written consent:

enter into any agreement with respect to, or consummate, any merger or business combination, or any acquisition of any other person, in each case that would reasonably be expected to prevent, impede or materially delay the consummation of the merger; make any loan, advance or capital contribution to, or investment in, any person, in each case that would reasonably be expected to prevent, impede or materially delay the consummation of the merger;

amend its certificate of incorporation or by-laws or similar governing documents of any of its subsidiaries, in a manner that would materially and adversely affect the benefits of the merger to the stockholders of First Clover Leaf; or declare or pay any dividend or other distribution on any share of First Mid capital stock; provided, however, that First Mid shall be permitted to continue declaring and paying its regular semi-annual dividend per share of (i) First Mid common stock in accordance with its ordinary course of business, including making increases in such dividend subject to the financial performance of First Mid and its subsidiaries, and (ii) Series C stock pursuant to its terms; or implement or adopt any change in its accounting principles, practices or methods, other than as may be required by GAAP or applicable regulatory accounting requirements.

Certain covenants of the parties

In addition to the restrictions noted above, the merger agreement contains certain other covenants and agreements, including, among other things, the following:

First Mid agreed to file its application with the Federal Reserve and take all other appropriate actions necessary to obtain the regulatory approvals required for the merger within 45 days of execution of the merger agreement and First Clover Leaf and First Clover Leaf Bank agreed to use all reasonable and diligent efforts to assist in obtaining such approvals.

First Mid and First Clover Leaf each agreed to use their respective commercially reasonable efforts in good faith to satisfy the conditions required to close the merger and to consummate the merger as soon as practicable and not to intentionally take or intentionally permit to be taken any action that would be in breach of the terms or provisions of the merger agreement (including any action that would impair or impede the timely obtainment of the required regulatory approvals) or that would cause any of the representations contained herein to be or become untrue.

First Mid and First Clover Leaf each agreed to coordinate with the other the declaration of, record date and payment date for any dividends on either party's common stock.

First Mid and First Clover Leaf each agreed to duly call, give notice of, convene and hold a meeting of their respective stockholders for the purpose of obtaining approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

First Mid and First Clover Leaf each agreed to coordinate any public statement regarding the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement to the media.

The merger agreement also contains certain covenants relating to employee benefits and other matters pertaining to officers and directors. See "The Merger-Interests of certain persons in the merger" on page 69.

No solicitation of or discussions relating to an acquisition proposal

Except as described below, First Clover Leaf has agreed in the merger agreement that it will not, and will cause First Clover Leaf Bank to not, solicit, initiate or knowingly encourage or facilitate (including by way of furnishing information) any inquiries regarding, or the making of any proposal or offer that constitutes an acquisition proposal. First Clover Leaf also agreed to cause each of its each of its officers, directors, employees, consultants, accountants, brokers, financial advisors, legal counsel, agents, advisors and other representatives to cease immediately and cause to be immediately terminated all soliciting activities, discussions and negotiations and access to nonpublic information with, to or by any person (other than First Mid) regarding any proposal that constitutes, or could reasonably be expected to lead to, any acquisition proposal.

Notwithstanding the foregoing restrictions, prior to obtaining approval of the merger from the First Clover Leaf stockholders, in the event that the First Clover Leaf board of directors determines in good faith and after consultation with outside counsel, that in light of an acquisition proposal, it is necessary to provide such information or engage in such negotiations or discussions in order to act in a manner consistent with its fiduciary duties, First Clover Leaf's board of directors may, in response to an unsolicited acquisition proposal that constitutes or is reasonably expected to result in a superior acquisition proposal, subject to certain conditions, including notice to First Mid, (i) furnish information with respect to First Clover Leaf or First Clover Leaf Bank to such person making such acquisition proposal pursuant to a customary confidentiality agreement and (ii) participate in discussions or negotiations regarding such acquisition proposal and/or (iii) terminate merger agreement in order to concurrently enter into an agreement with respect to such superior acquisition proposal. However, prior to terminating the merger agreement pursuant to this provision, First Clover Leaf must provide First Mid at least three days' notice thereof and provide First Mid with an opportunity, pursuant to procedures set forth in the merger agreement, to make an offer that is more favorable to the First Clover Leaf stockholders.

Under the merger agreement, "superior acquisition proposal" means an acquisition proposal containing terms that the board of directors of First Clover Leaf determines in its good faith judgment (based on the advice of an independent financial advisor) to be more favorable to the Company's stockholders than the merger and for which financing, to the extent required, is then committed or which, in the good faith judgment of the First Clover Leaf board of directors, is reasonably capable of being obtained by such third party.

If First Mid terminates the merger agreement because First Clover Leaf breaches its covenant not to solicit an acquisition proposal from a third party or if First Clover Leaf terminates the merger agreement in order to enter into an agreement for a superior proposal, First Clover Leaf will pay to First Mid a termination fee equal to $3.6 million. See "-Termination fees."

Representations and warranties

The merger agreement contains representations and warranties made by First Clover Leaf and First Mid. These include, among other things, representations relating to:

- valid corporate organization and existence;
- ownership of their respective subsidiaries;

- receipt of a tax opinion from its tax counsel that (i) the merger constitutes a "reorganization" within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and (ii) each of First Mid and First Clover Leaf will be a party to such reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(b) of the Internal Revenue Code;
- approval of the listing of the shares of First Mid common stock issuable pursuant to the merger agreement on the NASDAQ Global Market; and
- no material adverse change in First Clover Leaf or business conduct by First Clover Leaf outside of the ordinary course of business of First Clover Leaf, except as required under the merger agreement, or inconsistent with prudent banking practices since April 26, 2016.

Closing Conditions for the Benefit of First Clover Leaf. First Clover Leaf's obligations are subject to fulfillment of certain conditions, including:

- accuracy of representations and warranties of First Mid in the merger agreement as of the closing date, except as otherwise set forth in the merger agreement;
- performance by First Mid in all material respects of its obligations under the merger agreement;
- approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated therein (i) at the meeting of First Clover Leaf stockholders and (ii) at the meeting of First Mid stockholders;
- execution and delivery of the articles of merger, in form suitable for filing with the Delaware Secretary of State and the Maryland Department of Assessments and Taxation;
- no order, injunction, decree, statute, rule, regulation or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing or making illegal the consummation of the merger or any of the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement;
- receipt of all necessary regulatory approvals;
- the registration statement, of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part, concerning First Mid common stock issuable pursuant to the merger agreement having been declared effective by the SEC and continuing to be effective as of the effective time of the merger;
- receipt of a certificate signed on behalf of First Mid certifying (i) the accuracy of representations and warranties of First Mid in the merger agreement and (ii) performance by First Mid in all material respects of its obligations under the merger agreement;
- receipt of a tax opinion from its tax counsel that (i) the merger constitutes a "reorganization" within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and (ii) each of First Mid and First Clover Leaf will be a party to such reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(b) of the Internal Revenue Code;
- approval of the listing of the shares of First Mid common stock issuable pursuant to the merger agreement on the NASDAQ Global Market; and
- no material adverse change in First Mid since April 26, 2016.

Termination

First Mid and First Clover Leaf may mutually agree to terminate the merger agreement and abandon the merger at any time. Subject to conditions and circumstances described in the merger agreement, either First Mid or First Clover Leaf may terminate the merger agreement as follows:

- any regulatory authority has denied approval of any of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement or issued a final nonappealable order that has the effect of making consummation of the merger illegal or otherwise preventing or prohibiting consummation of the merger, or any application for a necessary regulatory approval has been withdrawn at the request of a regulatory authority, provided that such right to terminate is not available to a party whose failure to perform or observe the covenants of the merger agreement has been the cause of the denial or withdrawal of regulatory approval;
- the merger is not completed by December 31, 2016 (which we refer to as the "outside date"), provided that such right to terminate is not available to a party whose failure to fulfill any of its obligations under the merger agreement has resulted in the failure of the merger to be completed before such date;
- any stockholder approval necessary for the merger is not obtained; or any state or federal law, rule or regulation is adopted or issued and becomes effective and has the effect of prohibiting the merger.

In addition, First Clover Leaf may terminate the merger agreement as follows:

if First Clover Leaf is not in material breach of the merger agreement, and any of the representations or warranties of First Mid are or become untrue or inaccurate such that the conditions set forth in the merger agreement would not be satisfied or there has been a breach by First Mid of any of its covenants or agreements in the merger agreement causes it to fail to perform in all material respects all agreements required to be performed by it under the merger agreement, and, in either such case, such breach has not been, or cannot be, cured prior to the earlier of two business days before the outside date or thirty days after notice to First Mid from First Clover Leaf;

prior to First Clover Leaf's meeting of stockholders, in order to enter into an agreement with respect to an unsolicited superior proposal from a third party, provided that First Mid be provided with an opportunity, pursuant to procedures set forth in the merger agreement, to make an offer that is more favorable to the First Clover Leaf stockholders, and further provided that the termination fee is paid by First Clover Leaf to First Mid; or if at any time during the ten business day period starting on the twelfth business day immediately preceding the effective time of the merger, the average closing price of a share of First Mid common stock is less than $21.30 and decreases by more than 20% in relation to the NASDAQ Bank Index, First Clover Leaf will have the right to terminate the merger agreement unless First Mid elects to increase the exchange ratio pursuant to the formula described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement-Merger Consideration."

In addition, First Mid may terminate the merger agreement as follows:

if First Mid is not in material breach of the merger agreement, and any of the representations or warranties of First Clover Leaf are or become untrue or inaccurate such that the conditions set forth in the merger agreement would not be satisfied or there has been a breach by First Clover Leaf of any of its covenants or agreements in the merger agreement causes it to fail to perform in all material respects all agreements required to be performed by it under the merger agreement, and, in either such case, such breach has not been, or cannot be, cured prior to the earlier of two business days before the outside date or thirty days after notice to First Clover Leaf from First Mid; or prior to First Clover Leaf's stockholders meeting if First Clover Leaf's board of directors (i) approves or recommends, or proposes publicly to approve or recommend, any acquisition of First Clover Leaf by a third-party, and/or permits First Clover Leaf to enter into an acquisition agreement with a third party or (ii) recommends that the stockholders of First Clover Leaf tender their shares of First Clover Leaf common stock in an tender offer or exchange offer for First Clover Leaf common stock has commenced (other than by First Mid or its affiliates) or fails to recommend rejection of such offer within ten business days after its commencement.

Any termination of the merger agreement will not relieve the breaching party from liability resulting from its fraud or any willful and material beach by that party of the merger agreement.

Termination fee

First Clover Leaf has agreed to pay First Mid a termination fee of $3.6 million if the merger agreement is terminated: by First Mid or First Clover Leaf if the merger has not been consummated by December 31, 2016 because of a breach by First Clover Leaf of its covenant not to solicit acquisition proposals and, prior to such termination, an alternative proposal (substituting 50% for the 20% threshold in the definition thereof, which we refer to as a "qualifying transaction") was publicly announced or otherwise communicated to First Mid and is not withdrawn or otherwise abandoned and such qualifying transaction is consummated within 12 months following the termination of the merger agreement;

by First Mid or First Clover Leaf if the First Clover Leaf stockholder approval has not been obtained because of a breach by First Clover Leaf of its covenant not to solicit acquisition proposals and prior to the special meeting a qualifying transaction was publicly announced or otherwise communicated to First Mid and is not withdrawn or otherwise abandoned and such qualifying transaction is consummated within 12 months following the termination of the merger agreement;

by First Mid if First Clover Leaf has breached its covenant not to solicit acquisition proposals and prior to such termination an alternative proposal was publicly announced or otherwise communicated to First Mid and is not withdrawn or otherwise abandoned and such alternative offer is consummated within 12 months following the termination of the merger agreement;

by First Clover Leaf in connection with accepting a superior proposal; or by First Mid if (i) the First Clover Leaf board of directors fails to include in the joint proxy statement/prospectus the recommendation that the stockholders approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, or makes a company recommendation change, (ii) the First Clover Leaf board of directors approves or recommends an alternative proposal or superior proposal and/or permits First Clover Leaf to enter into an alternative acquisition agreement related to an alternative proposal or a superior proposal, (iii) First Clover Leaf fails to call a special meeting of its stockholders or to deliver the joint proxy statement/prospectus to its stockholders in material breach of specified provisions of the merger agreement, or (iv) a tender offer or exchange offer for the outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock is commenced and the First Clover Leaf board of directors recommends that the First Clover Leaf stockholders tender their shares in connection with such offer or within ten business days after the commencement of such tender or exchange offer, the First Clover Leaf board of directors fails to recommend rejection of such offer.

Management of First Mid and First Clover Leaf after the merger

First Mid has agreed, subject to any necessary approval by the appropriate governmental authorities, to take all appropriate action to appoint one individual serving on the First Clover Leaf board of directors, and mutually agreeable to the parties, to the First Mid board of directors, effective immediately upon the effective time of the merger. Moreover, First Mid has agreed to take all appropriate action to appoint one individual serving on the First Clover Leaf Bank board of directors, and mutually agreeable to the parties, to the First Mid Bank board of directors, effective immediately upon the effectiveness of the bank merger. The First Mid and the First Mid-Illinois Bank & Trust boards of directors will otherwise remain the same after the mergers.

NASDAQ stock listing

First Mid common stock currently is listed on the NASDAQ Global Market under the symbol "FMBH." The shares to be issued to First Clover Leaf's stockholders as merger consideration also will be eligible for trading on the NASDAQ Global Market. If the merger is completed, First Clover Leaf common stock will be delisted from the NASDAQ Capital Market and deregistered under the Exchange Act, and First Clover Leaf will no longer file periodic reports with the SEC on account of First Clover Leaf common stock.

Amendment

The merger agreement may be amended in writing by the parties.

Legal Proceedings Related to the Merger

As of July 8, 2016, First Clover Leaf, certain executive officers of First Clover Leaf, certain members of First Clover Leaf's board of directors, and First Mid are named as defendants in one purported class action lawsuit brought by an alleged individual First Clover Leaf stockholder challenging the merger (the "Lawsuit"). The Lawsuit is captioned Raul v. Highlander, et al, Case No. 16-L-703, and was filed on May 20, 2016, in the Circuit Court of Madison County, Illinois, Third Judicial District. The Lawsuit alleges breaches of fiduciary duty by the individual officers and directors of First Clover Leaf relating to the process leading to the proposed merger of First Clover Leaf and First Mid. The Lawsuit alleges that the merger consideration is inadequate and that the joint proxy statement/prospectus does not contain sufficient disclosures and detail. The Lawsuit also alleges that First Clover Leaf and First Mid aided and abetted the alleged breaches of fiduciary duty by the individual defendants. The relief sought includes class certification, declaratory relief, an injunction enjoining consummation of the merger, rescission of the merger should it be consummated, interest on any monetary judgment, costs, and attorneys' fees.

First Clover Leaf, First Mid and the individual defendants believe that the factual allegations in the Lawsuit are without merit and legally unfounded and they intend to vigorously defend against these allegations.

BUSINESS OF FIRST CLOVER LEAF

Unless the context requires otherwise, references in this section of this proxy statement/prospectus to “we,” “us,” or “our” refer to First Clover Leaf and its wholly owned subsidiary, First Clover Leaf Bank, on a consolidated basis.

General

First Clover Leaf is a Maryland corporation that was incorporated in March 2006 and was formed by our predecessor company, First Federal Financial Services, Inc., in connection with the “second-step” conversion of First Federal Financial Services, MHC and the simultaneous acquisition of Clover Leaf Financial Corp. and its wholly owned savings bank subsidiary, Clover Leaf Bank, a former Illinois state bank headquartered in Edwardsville, Illinois. The second-step conversion, stock offering and acquisition of Clover Leaf Financial Corp. were consummated in July 2006. As a result of these transactions, Clover Leaf Financial Corp. was merged with and into First Clover Leaf and Clover Leaf Bank was merged with and into our wholly owned subsidiary, First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Edwardsville, which was renamed First Clover Leaf Bank. In August 2014, First Clover Leaf Bank converted from a federal savings and loan association to a nationally-chartered bank.

Our principal business consists of attracting retail deposits from the general public in the areas surrounding our office locations and investing those deposits, together with funds generated from operations, primarily in one-to-four family residential real estate loans, multi-family real estate loans, commercial real estate loans, construction and land loans, commercial business loans and consumer loans, and in investment securities. Our revenues are derived principally from interest on loans and securities. Our primary sources of funds are deposits and principal and interest payments on loans and securities. We conduct our business through our six branch offices located in Madison and St. Clair counties in Illinois along with one branch location in Clayton, Missouri.

At March 31, 2016, we had total consolidated assets of $636.9 million, net loans of $440.4 million, total deposits of $514.5 million and stockholders’ equity of $81.5 million. We had net income of $1.0 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2016.

Our headquarters are located at 6814 Goshen Road, P.O. Box 540, Edwardsville, Illinois 62025, and our telephone number is (618) 656-6122.

Our website address is www.firstcloverleafbank.com. Information on our website is not and should not be considered a part of this proxy statement/prospectus. Our website contains a direct link to our filings with the SEC, including copies of annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K, and amendments to these filings, if any. Copies may also be obtained, without charge, by written request, Attention: Secretary, First Clover Leaf Financial Corp., P.O. Box 540, Edwardsville, Illinois 62025.

Lending Activities

Historically, our principal lending activity included the origination of first mortgage loans for the purchase or refinancing of one-to-four family residential property and the origination of multi-family loans. Over the past few years, in addition to these segments, we have focused our efforts on the origination of commercial real estate loans, construction and land loans, and commercial business loans. Our decision to convert to a national charter in August 2014 was due in large part to further these efforts.

Commercial real estate loans represented $162.3 million, or 36.4% of our loan portfolio at March 31, 2016.

One-to-four family residential real estate mortgage loans represented $114.9 million, or 25.8%, of our loan portfolio at March 31, 2016. We offer commercial business loans, and these loans represented $99.7 million, or 22.3% of our loan portfolio, at March 31, 2016. Our multi-family loans represented $40.1 million, or 9.0% of our loan portfolio at March 31, 2016. We offer construction and land loans secured by single-family properties and residential subdivisions.

Construction and land loans represented $12.6 million, or 2.8%, of our loan portfolio at March 31, 2016. We also originate consumer loans, including home equity loans and automobile loans, which totaled $16.7 million, or 3.7%, of our loan portfolio at March 31, 2016.

One-to-Four Family Real Estate Loans. As of March 31, 2016, one-to-four family residential loans totaled $114.9 million, or 25.8%, of our total loan portfolio. These loans are predominately collateralized by properties located in our primary market area. Virtually all of our residential real estate loans have fixed rates of interest primarily because consumers in our markets generally prefer fixed-rate mortgage loans in the continuing low interest rate environment. We generally sell most of the conforming, fixed-rate loans that we originate, but we generally retain the servicing rights on these loans. At March 31, 2016, we were servicing $122.9 million in loans for others.

We currently offer one-to-four family residential mortgage loans with terms of 10, 15, 20, and 30 years. Our 10-year balloon loans provide for principal and interest amortization of up to 30 years with a balloon payment at the end of the term. All of our loans with terms of 15 years or greater amortize over the term of the loan.

For one-to-four family first mortgage residential real estate loans, we may generally lend up to 80% of the property's appraised value, or up to 90% of the property's appraised value if the borrower obtains private mortgage insurance. We require title insurance on all of our one-to-four family first mortgage loans, and we also require that fire and extended coverage casualty insurance (and, if appropriate, flood insurance) be maintained in an amount equal to at least the lesser of the loan balance or the replacement cost of the improvements on the property. We require a property appraisal for all mortgage loans that are underwritten to comply with secondary market standards. Appraisals are conducted by independent or in-house licensed appraisers from a list approved by our board of directors. Our residential real estate loans include "due-on-sale" clauses.

We do not originate, sell, or place any loans in our loan portfolio that are considered sub-prime or Alt-A.

Multi-Family Real Estate Loans. Loans secured by multi-family real estate totaled $40.1 million, or 9.0%, of our total loan portfolio at March 31, 2016. Multi-family real estate loans generally are secured by apartment buildings and rental properties. The majority of our multi-family real estate loans are secured by properties located within our lending area. At March 31, 2016, our largest multi-family real estate loan relationship had a principal balance of $8.2 million, and the loans were secured by apartment buildings. At March 31, 2016, these loans were performing in accordance with their repayment terms. Multi-family real estate loans generally are offered with interest rates that adjust after one, three or five years. The majority of these loans either float with the prime rate or they are fixed balloon loans.

We consider a number of factors in originating multi-family real estate loans. We evaluate the qualifications and financial condition of the borrower (including credit history), profitability and expertise, as well as the value and condition of the mortgaged property securing the loan. When evaluating the qualifications of the borrower, we consider the financial resources of the borrower, the borrower's experience in owning or managing similar property and the borrower's payment history with us and other financial institutions. In evaluating the property securing the loan, the factors we consider include the net operating income of the mortgaged property before debt service and depreciation, the debt service coverage ratio (the ratio of net operating income to debt service), and the ratio of the loan amount to the appraised value of the mortgaged property. Multi-family real estate loans are generally originated in amounts up to 85% of the lower of the sale price or the appraised value of the mortgaged property securing the loan. All multi-family real estate loans over $250,000 are appraised by independent or in-house licensed appraisers approved by the board of directors. All multi-family real estate loans below $250,000 must either have an independent or in-house licensed appraisal or valuation.

Loans secured by multi-family real estate generally involve a greater degree of credit risk than one-to-four family residential mortgage loans and carry larger loan balances. This increased credit risk is a result of several factors, including the concentration of principal in a limited number of loans and borrowers, the effects of general economic conditions on income producing properties, and the increased difficulty of evaluating and monitoring these types of loans. Furthermore, the repayment of loans secured by multi-family real estate typically depends upon the successful operation of the real estate property securing the loan. If the cash flow from the project is reduced, the borrower's ability to repay the loan may be impaired.

Commercial Real Estate Loans. Loans secured by commercial real estate totaled $162.3 million, or 36.4%, of our total loan portfolio as of March 31, 2016. Our commercial real estate loans are secured predominately by office buildings, and to a lesser extent warehouse properties, and more specialized properties such as churches and schools. We originate commercial real estate loans generally with a typical term of five years with balloon payments. These loans generally amortize over 15 to 25 years. We offer both adjustable and fixed rates of interest on commercial real estate loans, with the interest rate for adjustable rate loans tied to the prime interest rate. Our largest commercial real estate loan relationship at March 31, 2016, comprised of separate credits, had an aggregate principal balance of $12.2 million and was secured by hotels. These loans were performing in accordance with their repayment terms as of March 31, 2016.

Commercial real estate loans generally have higher interest rates than residential mortgage loans. In addition, commercial real estate loans are more sensitive to changes in market interest rates because they often have shorter terms to maturity, and therefore, the interest rates adjust more frequently. Commercial real estate loans often have significant additional risk compared to one-to-four family residential mortgage loans, as they typically involve large loan balances concentrated with single borrowers or groups of related borrowers. In addition, the repayment of commercial real estate loans typically depends on the successful operation of the related real estate project, and thus may be subject, to a greater extent than residential mortgage loans, to adverse conditions in the real estate market or in the economy generally.

In our underwriting of commercial real estate loans, we may generally lend up to 85% of the property's appraised value. We require independent or in-house licensed appraisals for all commercial real estate loans in excess of $250,000. For loans that do not exceed this amount, we utilize a valuation. Decisions to lend are based on the economic viability of the property and the creditworthiness of the borrower. Creditworthiness is determined by considering the character, experience, management and financial strength of the borrower, and the ability of the property to generate adequate funds to cover both operating expenses and debt service. In evaluating whether to make a commercial real estate loan, we place primary emphasis on the ratio of net cash flow to debt service on the property, and we generally require a ratio of cash flow to debt service of at least 120%, computed after deduction for a vacancy factor and property expenses we deem appropriate.

We require title insurance on all of our commercial real estate loans, and we also require that fire and extended coverage casualty insurance (and, if appropriate, flood insurance) be maintained. In addition, we generally require that the borrower personally guarantee the repayment of the loan.

Construction and Land Loans. As of March 31, 2016, construction and land loans totaled $12.6 million, or 2.8%, of our total loan portfolio. This portfolio consists of construction/speculative loan construction/permanent loans and land development loans.

Construction/speculative loans are made to area homebuilders or developers who do not have, at the time the loan is originated, a signed contract with a homebuyer who has a commitment for permanent financing with either First Clover Leaf Bank or another lender. The homebuyer may enter into a purchase contract either during or after the construction period. These loans have the risk that the builder will have to make interest and principal payments on the loan, and finance real estate taxes and other holding costs of the completed home or lot for a significant time after the completion of construction. Funds are disbursed in phases as construction is completed. All construction/speculative loans typically require that the builder-borrower personally guarantee the full repayment of the principal and interest on the loan and make interest payments during the construction phase. These loans are generally originated for a term of 12 months, with interest rates that are tied to the prime lending rate. First Clover Leaf Bank recognizes the relative increased risk element for these types of loans and therefore generally observes a loan-to-value ratio of no more than 80% of the lower of cost or the estimated value of the completed property. In addition, we generally limit the number of our construction/speculative loans per borrower based on their available liquidity.

Construction/permanent loans are generally made to either a homebuilder or a homeowner who, at the time of construction, has a signed contract together with a commitment for permanent financing from First Clover Leaf Bank or another lender for the finished home. The construction phase of a loan for a one-to-four family, owner-occupied property generally lasts up to six months with loan-to-value ratios of up to 80% (or up to 90% if the borrower obtains private mortgage insurance) of the appraised estimated value of the completed property or cost, whichever is less. Following the initial six-month period, construction/permanent loans convert to permanent loans, regardless of whether the construction phase has been completed.

Construction lending generally involves a greater degree of risk than our other one-to-four family mortgage lending. The repayment of the construction loan is, to a great degree, dependent upon the successful and timely completion of the home construction. Construction delays or the financial impairment of the builder may further impair the borrower's ability to repay the loan.

Our procedures for underwriting construction/speculative loans include an assessment of the borrower's credit history and the borrower's ability to meet other existing debt obligations, as well as payment of principal and interest on the proposed loan. We use the same underwriting standards and procedures for construction/permanent lending as we do for one-to-four family residential real estate lending.

We also originate land development loans to area homebuilders that are secured by individual unimproved or improved residential building lots. Land loans are generally offered with variable prime-based interest rates with terms of up to two years. The general loan-to-value ratio is 75% of the lower of cost or appraised value of the property. At March 31, 2016, the largest construction and land loan relationship, comprised of separate credits, had an aggregate principal balance of $3.7 million and was secured by residential lots and land to be developed. The loans were performing in accordance with the repayment terms.

Commercial Business Loans. We offer commercial business loans to customers in our market area. Some of these loans are secured in part by additional real estate collateral. We make various types of secured and unsecured commercial business loans for the purpose of financing equipment acquisition, expansion, working capital and other general business purposes. The terms of these loans are generally for less than five years. Equipment loans usually involve a one-time disbursement of funds, with repayment over the term of the loan, while operating lines of credit involve multiple disbursements and revolving notes that can be renewed annually. The loans are either negotiated on a fixed-rate basis or carry variable interest rates indexed to the prime rate. At March 31, 2016, we had commercial business loans outstanding with an aggregate balance of $99.7 million, or 22.3%, of the total loan portfolio. As of March 31, 2016, our largest commercial business loan relationship, comprised of separate credits, had an aggregate principal balance of $8.5 million. The loans were secured primarily by a floor plan for new and used vehicles located in our primary market area. The loans were performing in accordance with their repayment terms as of March 31, 2016.

We have continued our emphasis on the origination of commercial business lending. These loans tend to have higher rates of interest and are more sensitive than other loan categories to changes in market interest rates because they often have shorter terms to maturity, and therefore, the interest rates adjust more frequently. In addition, commercial business lending gives us greater access to commercial borrowers that may open transactional checking accounts with First Clover Leaf Bank.

Commercial credit decisions are based upon a complete credit review of the borrower. A determination is made as to the borrower's ability to repay in accordance with the proposed terms as well as an overall assessment of the credit risks involved. Personal guarantees of borrowers are generally required. In evaluating a commercial business loan, we consider debt service capabilities, actual and projected cash flows and the borrower's inherent industry risks. Credit agency reports of an individual borrower's or guarantor's credit history as well as bank checks and trade investigations supplement the analysis of the borrower's creditworthiness. Collateral supporting a secured transaction is also analyzed to determine its marketability and liquidity. Commercial business loans generally bear higher interest rates than residential loans, but they also may involve a higher risk of default since their repayment generally depends on the successful operation of the borrower's business.

Repayment of our commercial business loans is often dependent on the cash flows of the borrower, which may be unpredictable, and the collateral securing these loans may fluctuate in value. Our commercial business loans are originated primarily based on the identified cash flow of the borrower and secondarily on the underlying collateral provided by the borrower. Most often, this collateral consists of accounts receivable, inventory, equipment or real estate. Credit support provided by the borrower for most of these loans and the probability of repayment is based on the projected cash flow of the company or liquidation of the pledged collateral and enforcement of a personal guarantee, if any. As a result, in the case of loans secured by accounts receivable, the availability of funds for the repayment of these loans may be substantially dependent on the ability of the borrower to collect amounts due from its customers. The collateral securing other loans may depreciate over time, may be difficult to appraise and may fluctuate in value based on the success of the business.

Consumer Loans. Our consumer loans consist primarily of home equity lines of credit, automobile loans, loans secured by deposits and securities, and unsecured personal loans. As of March 31, 2016, consumer loans totaled $16.7 million, or 3.7%, of our total loan portfolio.

At March 31, 2016, home equity lines of credit totaled $12.9 million, or 2.8%, of total loans. Home equity lines of credit are generally made for owner-occupied homes, and are secured by first or second mortgages on residential properties. We generally offer home equity lines of credit with a maximum loan to appraised value ratio of 90% (including senior liens on the subject property). We currently offer these loans for terms of up to five years and with adjustable rates that are tied to the prime lending rate. To date, we are seeing minimal stress in our home equity portfolio or signs of material default risks. We review reports periodically of the higher advanced credit lines and look at payment patterns and advance patterns in an effort to detect potential problems.

Automobile loans are generally offered with maturities of up to 72 months for new automobiles, while loans secured by used automobiles have maximum terms that vary depending on the age of the automobile. We require all borrowers to maintain collision insurance on automobiles securing loans in excess of $1,000, with First Clover Leaf Bank listed as loss payee. In those instances where the borrower fails to maintain adequate insurance coverage, we are further protected against loss through a third-party policy insurance coverage. Our automobile loan portfolio totaled $3.8 million, or 0.9%, of total loans at March 31, 2016.

Consumer loans generally entail greater credit risk than residential mortgage loans, particularly in the case of loans that are unsecured or are secured by assets that tend to depreciate in value, such as automobiles. In these cases, repossessed collateral for a defaulted consumer loan may not provide an adequate source of repayment for the outstanding loan and the remaining value often does not warrant further substantial collection efforts against the borrower. Further, consumer loan collections depend on the borrower's continuing financial stability, and therefore are more likely to be adversely affected by job loss, divorce, illness or personal bankruptcy.

Our procedures for underwriting consumer loans include an assessment of the borrower's credit history and ability to meet other existing debt obligations, as well as payments of principal and interest on the proposed loans. The stability of the borrower's monthly income may be determined by verification of gross monthly income from primary employment, and additionally from any verifiable secondary income. Although the borrower's creditworthiness is a primary consideration, the underwriting process also includes a comparison of the value of the collateral security, if any, to the proposed loan amount. We require either an independent or in-house licensed appraisal or valuation for all consumer loans in excess of $50,000 if secured by real estate.

Loan Originations, Purchases, Sales and Servicing. Although we originate fixed-rate and adjustable-rate loans, our ability to generate each type of loan depends upon borrower demand, market interest rates, and the interest rates offered on each type of loan by competing lenders in our market area. This includes banks, savings institutions, credit unions, mortgage banking companies, and life insurance companies. Loan originations are derived from a number of sources, including existing or prior customers and walk-in customers.

Loan originations are adversely affected by rising interest rates, which typically result in decreased loan demand. Accordingly, the volume of our loan originations and the interest rates we can charge on loans vary from period to period. One-to-four family residential mortgage loans are generally underwritten to conform to Fannie Mae seller/servicer guidelines, and are currently originated primarily on a fixed interest rate basis. We generally sell most of our conforming, fixed-rate, one-to-four family loans that we originate with servicing rights retained, which means that we will continue to collect payments on the loans and supervise foreclosure proceedings, if necessary. We retain a portion of the interest paid by the borrower on the loans, generally 25 basis points, as consideration for our services. We currently service $122.9 million of loans for others. In the first quarter of 2016, we originated $4.8 million in one-to-four family residential mortgage loans and received proceeds of $5.0 million from the sale of residential loans into the secondary market.

Loan Approval Procedures and Authority. Our lending activities are subject to written underwriting standards and loan origination procedures adopted by management and the board of directors. Authorized officers have predetermined approval levels, and they may approve renewals of commercial business and commercial real estate loans by a total of their combined lending limits where there has been no deterioration in either the payment pattern or financial strength of the borrower. However, all loans in excess of $5.0 million must be presented to the entire board of directors and approved by simple majority. In addition, a list of all preauthorized loans is presented to the board of directors' loan committee on a monthly basis.

Loans to One Borrower. At March 31, 2016, the maximum amount that First Clover Leaf Bank could have loaned to any one borrower under the 15% limit of risk-based capital was approximately $11.5 million. In addition, the Supplemental Lending Limit Program under the OCC allows a national bank to make residential real estate loans, small business loans, or small farm loans in the lesser of the following two amounts: (1) 10% of the bank's capital and surplus; or (2) the percentage of its capital and surplus, in excess of 15%, that a state bank is permitted to lend under the state lending limit that is available for any such residential real estate, small business, small farm loans, or any unsecured loans in the state where the main office of the national bank is located. The largest lending relationship with First Clover Leaf Bank at March 31, 2016 was in accordance with these supplemental terms and totaled $14.4 million. This relationship, comprised of separate credits, consisted of a floor plan for new and used vehicles, a real estate loan for a commercial building, and a separate commercial loan. These loans were performing in accordance with their repayment terms as of March 31, 2016.

Appraisal Policies. In general, we obtain appraisals for new loan originations in excess of $250,000 secured by real estate. For reasons of safety and soundness, we may also require an appraisal for loan originations under the $250,000 threshold. The regulations also permit us to obtain an appropriate evaluation under certain circumstances. Appraisals are conducted by independent or in-house licensed appraisers from a list approved by our board of directors. We also request a new appraisal on a renewing loan if the credit appears to be distressed or the market has had significant changes and we do not feel that we can properly assess the value from our own resources. We also subscribe to a service that provides access to current property listings and sales on single family residences which allows access to comparative sales prices. We obtain a new appraisal on a commercial property when a borrower is experiencing cash flow difficulties which appear to be more than temporarily impaired and we do not feel that we have the resources necessary to properly assess the situation. In addition, if we determine that it is necessary to foreclose on a property, we obtain a new appraisal.

Competition

We face intense competition within our market area both in making loans and attracting deposits. The City of Edwardsville and the surrounding area have a high concentration of financial institutions, including large commercial banks, community banks and credit unions. We face additional competition for deposits from short-term money market funds, brokerage firms, mutual funds and insurance companies. Some of our competitors offer products and services that we currently do not offer, such as trust services. Based on FDIC data as of June 30, 2015 (the latest date for which information is available), our market share of deposits was 10.04% of all FDIC-insured deposits in Madison County, making us the third largest institution out of 26 institutions located in Madison County by deposit size as of that date. Our primary focus is to build and develop profitable customer relationships across all lines of business while maintaining our role as a community bank.

Market Area

Our primary lending area is concentrated in Madison, Macoupin, and St. Clair Counties in Illinois. The economy of our market area is characterized by a large number of small retail establishments and small industry. Additionally, major employers in our immediate market area include Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville, Phillips 66 refinery, the local school districts, the Madison County government, Scott Air Force Base, and area hospitals. Historically, these markets have tended to be less volatile than other parts of the country. We have recently expanded into St. Louis County, Missouri, which is approximately 20 miles southwest of our headquarters in Edwardsville, Illinois.

Employees

As of March 31, 2016, we had 94 full-time employees and 14 part-time employees. Our employees are not represented by any collective bargaining group. Management believes that we have good working relations with our employees.

Regulation and Supervision

In August of 2014, First Clover Leaf Bank converted its charter from a federal savings and loan association to a national bank, making First Clover Leaf a bank holding company. While the charter conversion did not change our regulators, it fundamentally changed the laws and regulations applicable to us. The following is a summary of the material elements of the supervisory and regulatory framework applicable to us under our new regulatory regime. It does not describe all of the statutes, regulations and regulatory policies that apply, nor does it restate all of the requirements of those that are described. The descriptions are qualified in their entirety by reference to the particular statutory and regulatory provision.

FDIC-insured institutions, like First Clover Leaf Bank, as well as their holding companies and their affiliates, are extensively regulated under federal and state law. As a result, First Clover Leaf's growth and earnings performance may be affected not only by management decisions and general economic conditions, but also by the requirements of federal and state statutes and by the regulations and policies of various bank regulatory agencies, including the OCC, the Federal Reserve, the FDIC and the Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection (the "CFPB"). Furthermore, taxation laws administered by the Internal Revenue Service and state taxing authorities, accounting rules developed by the Financial Accounting Standards Board, securities laws administered by the SEC and state securities authorities, and anti-money laundering laws enforced by the U.S. Department of the Treasury (the "Treasury") have an impact on the business of First Clover Leaf and First Clover Leaf Bank. The effect of these statutes, regulations, regulatory policies and accounting rules are significant to the operations and results of First Clover Leaf and First Clover Leaf Bank, and the nature and extent of future legislative, regulatory or other changes affecting financial institutions are impossible to predict with any certainty.

Federal and state banking laws impose a comprehensive system of supervision, regulation and enforcement on the operations of FDIC-insured institutions, their holding companies and affiliates that is intended primarily for the protection of the FDIC-insured deposits and depositors of banks, rather than stockholders. These federal and state laws, and the regulations of the bank regulatory agencies issued under them, affect, among other things, the scope of First Clover Leaf's and First Clover Leaf Bank's business, the kinds and amounts of investments they may make, Bank reserve requirements, capital levels relative to assets, the nature and amount of collateral for loans, the establishment of branches, First Clover Leaf's ability to merge, consolidate and acquire, dealings with insiders and affiliates and First Clover Leaf Bank's payment of dividends. In the last several years, First Clover Leaf and First Clover Leaf Bank have experienced heightened regulatory requirements and scrutiny following the global financial crisis and as a result of the Dodd-Frank Act. Although the reforms primarily targeted systemically important financial service providers, their influence filtered down in varying degrees to community banks over time, and the reforms have caused First Clover Leaf's compliance and risk management processes, and the costs thereof, to increase.

This supervisory and regulatory framework subjects FDIC-insured institutions and their holding companies to regular examination by their respective regulatory agencies, which results in examination reports and ratings that are not publicly available and that can impact the conduct and growth of their business. These examinations consider not only compliance with applicable laws and regulations, but also capital levels, asset quality and risk, management ability and performance, earnings, liquidity, and various other factors. The regulatory agencies generally have broad discretion to impose restrictions and limitations on the operations of a regulated entity where the agencies determine, among other things, that such operations are unsafe or unsound, fail to comply with applicable law or are otherwise inconsistent with laws and regulations or with the supervisory policies of these agencies.

The following is a summary of the material elements of the supervisory and regulatory framework applicable to First Clover Leaf and First Clover Leaf Bank, beginning with a discussion of the continuing regulatory emphasis on capital levels. It does not describe all of the statutes, regulations and regulatory policies that apply, nor does it restate all of the requirements of those that are described. The descriptions are qualified in their entirety by reference to the particular statutory and regulatory provision.

Regulatory Emphasis on Capital

Regulatory capital represents the net assets of a banking organization available to absorb losses. Because of the risks attendant to their business, FDIC-insured institutions are generally required to hold more capital than other businesses, which directly affects First Clover Leaf's earnings capabilities. Although capital has historically been one of the key measures of the financial health of banks, its role became fundamentally more important in the wake of the global financial crisis, as the banking regulators recognized that the amount and quality of capital held by banks prior to the crisis was insufficient to absorb losses during periods of severe stress. Certain provisions of the Dodd-Frank Act and Basel III, discussed below, establish strengthened capital standards for banking organizations, require more capital to be held in the form of common stock and disallow certain funds from being included in capital determinations. These standards represent regulatory capital requirements that are meaningfully more stringent than those in place previously.

Minimum Required Capital Levels. Bank holding companies have historically had to comply with less stringent capital standards than their bank subsidiaries and have been able to raise capital with hybrid instruments such as trust preferred securities. The Dodd-Frank Act mandated that the Federal Reserve establish minimum capital levels for holding companies on a consolidated basis as stringent as those required for FDIC-insured institutions. As a consequence, the components of holding company permanent capital known as “Tier 1 Capital” were restricted to those capital instruments that were considered Tier 1 Capital for FDIC-insured institutions. A result of this change is that the proceeds of hybrid instruments, such as trust preferred securities, are being excluded from Tier 1 Capital over a phase-out period. However, if such securities were issued prior to May 19, 2010 by bank holding companies with less than $15 billion of assets, they may be retained, subject to certain restrictions. Because First Clover Leaf has assets of less than $15 billion, First Clover Leaf is able to maintain its trust preferred proceeds as Tier 1 Capital but First Clover Leaf has to comply with new capital mandates in other respects and will not be able to raise Tier 1 Capital in the future through the issuance of trust preferred securities.

The capital standards for First Clover Leaf and First Clover Leaf Bank changed on January 1, 2015 to add the requirements of Basel III, discussed below. The minimum capital standards effective prior to and including March 31, 2016 are:

- A leverage requirement, consisting of a minimum ratio of Tier 1 Capital to total adjusted average quarterly assets of 3% for the most highly-rated banks with a minimum requirement of at least 4% for all others, and

- A risk-based capital requirement, consisting of a minimum ratio of Total Capital to total risk-weighted assets of 8% and a minimum ratio of Tier 1 Capital to total risk-weighted assets of 4%.

For these purposes, “Tier 1 Capital” consists primarily of common stock, noncumulative perpetual preferred stock and related surplus less intangible assets (other than certain loan servicing rights and purchased credit card relationships). Total Capital consists primarily of Tier 1 Capital plus “Tier 2 Capital,” which includes other non-permanent capital items, such as certain other debt and equity instruments that do not qualify as Tier 1 Capital, and First Clover Leaf Bank’s allowance for loan losses, subject to a limitation of 1.25% of risk-weighted assets. Further, risk-weighted assets for the purpose of the risk-weighted ratio calculations are balance sheet assets and off-balance sheet exposures to which required risk weightings of 0% to 100% are applied.

The Basel International Capital Accords. The risk-based capital guidelines described above are based upon the 1988 capital accord known as “Basel I” adopted by the international Basel Committee on Banking Supervision, a committee of central banks and bank supervisors, as implemented by the U.S. federal banking regulators on an interagency basis. In 2008, the banking agencies collaboratively began to phase-in capital standards based on a second capital accord, referred to as “Basel II,” for large or “core” international banks (generally defined for U.S. purposes as having total assets of $250 billion or more, or consolidated foreign exposures of $10 billion or more). On September 12, 2010, the Group of Governors and Heads of Supervision, the oversight body of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision, announced agreement on a strengthened set of capital requirements for banking organizations around the world, known as Basel III, to address deficiencies recognized in connection with the global financial crisis. Because of Dodd-Frank Act requirements, Basel III essentially layers a new set of capital standards on the previously existing Basel I standards.

The Basel III Rule. In July 2013, the U.S. federal banking agencies approved the implementation of the Basel III regulatory capital reforms in pertinent part, and, at the same time, promulgated rules effecting certain changes required by the Dodd-Frank Act (which we refer to as the “Basel III Rule”). In contrast to capital requirements historically, which were in the form of guidelines, Basel III was released in the form of regulations by each of the regulatory agencies. The Basel III Rule is applicable to all banking organizations that are subject to minimum capital requirements, including federal and state banks and savings and loan associations, as well as to bank and savings and loan holding companies, other than “small bank holding companies” (generally bank holding companies with consolidated assets of less than $1 billion which are not publically traded companies).

The Basel III Rule not only increased most of the required minimum capital ratios effective January 1, 2015, but it introduced the concept of Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, which consists primarily of common stock, related surplus (net of treasury stock), retained earnings, and Common Equity Tier 1 minority interests subject to certain regulatory adjustments. The Basel III Rule also expanded the definition of capital by establishing more stringent criteria that instruments must meet to be considered Additional Tier 1 Capital (Tier 1 Capital in addition to Common Equity) and Tier 2 Capital. A number of instruments that qualified as Tier 1 Capital do not qualify, or their qualifications will change. For example, noncumulative perpetual preferred stock, which qualified as simple Tier 1 Capital, does not qualify as Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, but qualifies as Additional Tier 1 Capital. The Basel III Rule also constrained the inclusion of minority interests, mortgage-servicing assets, and deferred tax assets in capital and requires deductions from Common Equity Tier 1 Capital in the event that such assets exceed a certain percentage of a banking organization's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital.

The Basel III Rule requires minimum capital ratios beginning January 1, 2015, as follows:

- A new ratio of minimum Common Equity Tier 1 equal to 4.5% of risk-weighted assets;
 - An increase in the minimum required amount of Tier 1 Capital to 6% of risk-weighted assets;
 - A continuation of the current minimum required amount of Total Capital (Tier 1 plus Tier 2) at 8% of risk-weighted assets; and
 - A minimum leverage ratio of Tier 1 Capital to total adjusted quarterly average assets equal to 4% in all circumstances.
- Not only did the capital requirements change but the risk weightings (or their methodologies) for bank assets that are used to determine the capital ratios changed as well. For nearly every class of assets, the Basel III Rule requires a more complex, detailed and calibrated assessment of credit risk and calculation of risk weightings.

Banking organizations (except for large, internationally active banking organizations) became subject to the new rules on January 1, 2015. However, there are separate phase-in/phase-out periods for: (i) the capital conservation buffer; (ii) regulatory capital adjustments and deductions; (iii) nonqualifying capital instruments; and (iv) changes to the prompt corrective action rules. The phase-in periods commenced on January 1, 2016 and extend until 2019.

Well-Capitalized Requirements. The ratios described above are minimum standards in order for banking organizations to be considered "adequately capitalized" under the Prompt Corrective Action rules discussed below. Bank regulatory agencies uniformly encourage banking organizations to hold more capital and be "well-capitalized" and, to that end, federal law and regulations provide various incentives for such organizations to maintain regulatory capital at levels in excess of minimum regulatory requirements. For example, a banking organization that is well-capitalized may: (i) qualify for exemptions from prior notice or application requirements otherwise applicable to certain types of activities; (ii) qualify for expedited processing of other required notices or applications; and (iii) accept, roll-over or renew brokered deposits. Higher capital levels could also be required if warranted by the particular circumstances or risk profiles of individual banking organizations. Moreover, the Federal Reserve's capital guidelines contemplate that additional capital may be required to take adequate account of, among other things, interest rate risk, or the risks posed by concentrations of credit, nontraditional activities or securities trading activities. Further, any banking organization experiencing or anticipating significant growth would be expected to maintain capital ratios, including tangible capital positions (i.e., Tier 1 Capital less all intangible assets), well above the minimum levels.

Under the capital regulations of the OCC and Federal Reserve, in order to be well-capitalized, a banking organization must maintain:

- A new Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio to risk-weighted assets of 6.5% or more;
 - A minimum ratio of Tier 1 Capital to total risk-weighted assets of 8% (6% under Basel I);
- A minimum ratio of Total Capital to total risk-weighted assets of 10% (the same as Basel I); and
- A leverage ratio of Tier 1 Capital to total adjusted quarterly average assets of 5% or greater.

In addition, banking organizations that seek the freedom to make capital distributions (including for dividends and repurchases of stock) and pay discretionary bonuses to executive officers without restriction must also maintain 2.5% in Common Equity Tier 1 attributable to a capital conservation buffer to be phased in over three years beginning in 2016. The purpose of the conservation buffer is to ensure that banking organizations maintain a buffer of capital that can be used to absorb losses during periods of financial and economic stress. Factoring in the fully phased-in conservation buffer increases the minimum ratios depicted above to:

7% for Common Equity Tier 1 Capital,

8.5% for Tier 1 Capital and

10.5% for Total Capital.

It is possible under the Basel III Rule to be well-capitalized while remaining out of compliance with the capital conservation buffer.

As of March 31, 2016: (i) First Clover Leaf Bank was not subject to a directive from the OCC to increase its capital and (ii) First Clover Leaf Bank was well-capitalized, as defined by OCC regulations. As of March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf had regulatory capital in excess of the Federal Reserve's requirements and met the Basel III Rule requirements to be well-capitalized.

Prompt Corrective Action. An FDIC-insured institution's capital plays an important role in connection with regulatory enforcement as well. This regime applies to FDIC-insured institutions, not holding companies, and provides escalating powers to bank regulatory agencies as a bank's capital diminishes. Federal law provides the federal banking regulators with broad power to take prompt corrective action to resolve the problems of undercapitalized institutions. The extent of the regulators' powers depends on whether the institution in question is "adequately capitalized," "undercapitalized," "significantly undercapitalized" or "critically undercapitalized," in each case as defined by regulation. Depending upon the capital category to which an institution is assigned, the regulators' corrective powers include: (i) requiring the institution to submit a capital restoration plan; (ii) limiting the institution's asset growth and restricting its activities; (iii) requiring the institution to issue additional capital stock (including additional voting stock) or to sell itself; (iv) restricting transactions between the institution and its affiliates; (v) restricting the interest rate that the institution may pay on deposits; (vi) ordering a new election of directors of the institution; (vii) requiring dismissal of senior executive officers or directors; (viii) prohibiting the institution from accepting deposits from correspondent banks; (ix) requiring the institution to divest certain subsidiaries; (x) prohibiting the payment of principal or interest on subordinated debt; and (xi) ultimately, appointing a receiver for the institution.

Regulation and Supervision of First Clover Leaf

General. The Company, as the sole stockholder of First Clover Leaf Bank, is a bank holding company. As a bank holding company, First Clover Leaf is registered with, and subject to regulation by, the Federal Reserve under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended (the "BHCA"). The Company is legally obligated to act as a source of financial and managerial strength to First Clover Leaf Bank and to commit resources to support First Clover Leaf Bank in circumstances where it might not otherwise do so. The Company is subject to periodic examination by the Federal Reserve and is required to file with the Federal Reserve periodic reports of its operations and such additional information regarding its operations as the Federal Reserve may require.

Acquisitions, Activities and Change in Control. The primary purpose of a bank holding company is to control and manage banks. The BHCA generally requires the prior approval of the Federal Reserve for any merger involving a bank holding company or any acquisition by a bank holding company of another bank or bank holding company. Subject to certain conditions (including deposit concentration limits established by the BHCA), the Federal Reserve may allow a bank holding company to acquire banks located in any state of the United States. In approving interstate acquisitions, the Federal Reserve is required to give effect to applicable state law limitations on the aggregate amount of deposits that may be held by the acquiring bank holding company and its FDIC-insured institution affiliates in the state in which the target bank is located (provided that those limits do not discriminate against out-of-state institutions or their holding companies) and state laws that require that the target bank have been in existence for a minimum period of time (not to exceed five years) before being acquired by an out-of-state bank holding company. Furthermore, in accordance with the Dodd-Frank Act, bank holding companies must be well-capitalized and well-managed in order to effect interstate mergers or acquisitions. For a discussion of the capital requirements, see “Regulatory Emphasis on Capital” above.

The BHCA generally prohibits First Clover Leaf from acquiring direct or indirect ownership or control of more than 5% of the voting shares of any company that is not a bank and from engaging in any business other than that of banking, managing and controlling banks or furnishing services to banks and their subsidiaries. This general prohibition is subject to a number of exceptions. The principal exception allows bank holding companies to engage in, and to own shares of companies engaged in, certain businesses found by the Federal Reserve prior to November 11, 1999 to be “so closely related to banking ... as to be a proper incident thereto.” This authority would permit First Clover Leaf to engage in a variety of banking-related businesses, including the ownership and operation of a savings association, or any entity engaged in consumer finance, equipment leasing, the operation of a computer service bureau (including software development) and mortgage banking and brokerage services. The BHCA does not place territorial restrictions on the domestic activities of nonbank subsidiaries of bank holding companies.

Additionally, bank holding companies that meet certain eligibility requirements prescribed by the BHCA and elect to operate as financial holding companies may engage in, or own shares in companies engaged in, a wider range of nonbanking activities, including securities and insurance underwriting and sales, merchant banking and any other activity that the Federal Reserve, in consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury, determines by regulation or order is financial in nature or incidental to any such financial activity or that the Federal Reserve determines by order to be complementary to any such financial activity and does not pose a substantial risk to the safety or soundness of FDIC-insured institutions or the financial system generally. The Company has not elected to operate as a financial holding company.

Federal law also prohibits any person or company from acquiring “control” of an FDIC-insured depository institution or its holding company without prior notice to the appropriate federal bank regulator. “Control” is conclusively presumed to exist upon the acquisition of 25% or more of the outstanding voting securities of a bank or bank holding company, but may arise under certain circumstances between 10% and 24.99% ownership.

Capital Requirements. Bank holding companies are required to maintain capital in accordance with Federal Reserve capital adequacy requirements, as impacted by the Dodd-Frank Act and Basel III. For a discussion of capital requirements, see “-Regulatory Emphasis on Capital” above.

Dividend Payments. The Company’s ability to pay dividends to its stockholders may be affected by both general corporate law considerations and policies of the Federal Reserve applicable to bank holding companies. As a Maryland corporation, First Clover Leaf is subject to the limitations of Maryland corporate law, which permits First Clover Leaf to pay dividends from the net earnings of First Clover Leaf for the fiscal year in which the distribution is made; the net earnings of First Clover Leaf for the preceding fiscal year; or the sum of the net earnings of First Clover Leaf for the preceding eight fiscal quarters. No distribution may be made if, after giving effect to the distribution: (i) First Clover Leaf would not be able to pay its indebtedness as the indebtedness becomes due in the usual course of business; or (ii) First Clover Leaf’s total assets would be less than the sum of First Clover Leaf’s total liabilities plus the amount that would be needed, if First Clover Leaf were to be dissolved at the time of the distribution, to satisfy the preferential rights upon dissolution of stockholders whose preferential rights on dissolution are superior to those receiving the distribution.

As a general matter, the Federal Reserve has indicated that the board of directors of a bank holding company should eliminate, defer or significantly reduce dividends to stockholders if: (i) its net income available to stockholders for the past four quarters, net of dividends previously paid during that period, is not sufficient to fully fund the dividends; (ii) the prospective rate of earnings retention is inconsistent with its capital needs and overall current and prospective financial condition; or (iii) it will not meet, or is in danger of not meeting, its minimum regulatory capital adequacy ratios. The Federal Reserve also possesses enforcement powers over bank holding companies and their non-bank subsidiaries to prevent or remedy actions that represent unsafe or unsound practices or violations of applicable statutes and regulations. Among these powers is the ability to proscribe the payment of dividends by banks and bank holding companies. In addition, under the Basel III Rule, institutions that seek the freedom to pay dividends will have to maintain 2.5% in Common Equity Tier 1 attributable to the capital conservation buffer to be phased in over three years beginning in 2016. See “-Regulatory Emphasis on Capital” above.

Monetary Policy. The monetary policy of the Federal Reserve has a significant effect on the operating results of financial or bank holding companies and their subsidiaries. Among the tools available to the Federal Reserve to affect the money supply are open market transactions in U.S. government securities, changes in the discount rate on bank borrowings and changes in reserve requirements against bank deposits. These means are used in varying combinations to influence overall growth and distribution of bank loans, investments and deposits, and their use may affect interest rates charged on loans or paid on deposits.

Federal Securities Regulation. The Company’s common stock is registered with the SEC under the Exchange Act. Consequently, First Clover Leaf is subject to the information, proxy solicitation, insider trading and other restrictions and requirements of the SEC under the Exchange Act.

Corporate Governance. The Dodd-Frank Act addressed many investor protection, corporate governance and executive compensation matters that will affect most U.S. publicly traded companies. The Dodd-Frank Act increased stockholder influence over boards of directors by requiring companies to give stockholders a non-binding vote on executive compensation and so-called “golden parachute” payments, and authorizing the SEC to promulgate rules that would allow stockholders to nominate and solicit voters for their own candidates using a company’s proxy materials. The legislation also directed the Federal Reserve to promulgate rules prohibiting excessive compensation paid to executives of bank holding companies, regardless of whether such companies are publicly traded.

Regulation and Supervision of First Clover Leaf Bank

General. First Clover Leaf Bank is a national bank, chartered by the OCC under the National Bank Act. The deposit accounts of First Clover Leaf Bank are insured by the FDIC’s Deposit Insurance Fund (the “DIF”) to the maximum extent provided under federal law and FDIC regulations, and First Clover Leaf Bank is a member of the Federal Reserve System. As a national bank, First Clover Leaf Bank is subject to the examination, supervision, reporting and enforcement requirements of the OCC. The FDIC, as administrator of the DIF, also has regulatory authority over First Clover Leaf Bank.

Deposit Insurance. As an FDIC-insured institution, First Clover Leaf Bank is required to pay deposit insurance premium assessments to the FDIC. The FDIC has adopted a risk-based assessment system whereby FDIC-insured institutions pay insurance premiums at rates based on their risk classification. An institution’s risk classification is assigned based on its capital levels and the level of supervisory concern the institution poses to the regulators. For deposit insurance assessment purposes, an FDIC-insured institution is placed in one of four risk categories each quarter. An institution’s assessment is determined by multiplying its assessment rate by its assessment base. The total base assessment rates range from 2.5 basis points to 45 basis points. The assessment base is calculated using average consolidated total assets minus average tangible equity. At least semi-annually, the FDIC will update its loss and income projections for the DIF and, if needed, will increase or decrease the assessment rates, following notice and comment on proposed rulemaking.

Amendments to the Federal Deposit Insurance Act revised the assessment base against which an FDIC-insured institution’s deposit insurance premiums paid to the DIF are calculated to be its average consolidated total assets less its average tangible equity. This change shifted the burden of deposit insurance premiums toward those large depository institutions that rely on funding sources other than U.S. deposits. Additionally, the Dodd-Frank Act altered the minimum designated reserve ratio of the DIF, increasing the minimum from 1.15% to 1.35% of the estimated amount of total insured deposits and eliminating the requirement that the FDIC pay dividends to FDIC-insured institutions. In lieu of dividends, the FDIC has adopted progressively lower assessment rate schedules that will take effect when the reserve ratio exceeds 1.15%, 2%, and 2.5%. As a consequence, premiums will decrease once the 1.15% threshold is exceeded. The FDIC has until September 30, 2020 to meet the 1.35% reserve ratio target. Several of these provisions could increase First Clover Leaf Bank’s FDIC deposit insurance premiums.

The Dodd-Frank Act also permanently established the maximum amount of deposit insurance for banks, savings institutions and credit unions to $250,000 per insured depositor.

FICO Assessments. In addition to paying basic deposit insurance assessments, FDIC-insured institutions must pay Financing Corporation (“FICO”) assessments. FICO is a mixed-ownership governmental corporation chartered by the former Federal Home Loan Bank Board pursuant to the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987 to function as a financing vehicle for the recapitalization of the former Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. FICO issued 30-year noncallable bonds of approximately $8.1 billion that mature in 2017 through 2019. FICO’s authority to issue bonds ended on December 12, 1991. Since 1996, federal legislation has required that all FDIC-insured institutions pay assessments to cover interest payments on FICO’s outstanding obligations. The FICO assessment rate is adjusted quarterly and for the fourth quarter of 2015 was 0.58 basis points ($0.06 per $1,000 dollars of assessable deposits).

Supervisory Assessments. National banks are required to pay supervisory assessments to the OCC to fund the operations of the OCC. The amount of the assessment is calculated using a formula that takes into account the bank’s size and its supervisory condition. During the year ended December 31, 2015, First Clover Leaf Bank paid supervisory assessments to the OCC totaling $161,000.

Capital Requirements. Banks are generally required to maintain capital levels in excess of other businesses. For a discussion of capital requirements, see “-Regulatory Emphasis on Capital” above.

Liquidity Requirements. Liquidity is a measure of the ability and ease with which assets may be converted to cash. Liquid assets are those that can be converted to cash quickly if needed to meet financial obligations. To remain viable, FDIC-insured institutions must have enough liquid assets to meet their near-term obligations, such as withdrawals by depositors. Because the global financial crisis was in part a liquidity crisis, Basel III also includes a liquidity framework that requires FDIC-insured institutions to measure their liquidity against specific liquidity tests. One test, referred to as the Liquidity Coverage Ratio (“LCR”), is designed to ensure that the institution has an adequate stock of unencumbered high-quality liquid assets that can be converted easily and immediately in private markets into cash to meet liquidity needs for a 30-calendar day liquidity stress scenario. The other test, known as the Net Stable Funding Ratio, is designed to promote more medium- and long-term funding of the assets and activities of institutions over a one-year horizon. These tests provide an incentive for institutions to increase their holdings in Treasury securities and other sovereign debt as a component of assets, increase the use of long-term debt as a funding source and rely on stable funding like core deposits (in lieu of brokered deposits).

In addition to liquidity guidelines already in place, the U.S. bank regulatory agencies implemented the Basel III LCR in September 2014, which requires large financial firms to hold levels of liquid assets sufficient to protect against constraints on their funding during times of financial turmoil. While the LCR only applies to the largest banking organizations in the country, certain elements are expected to filter down to all FDIC-insured institutions.

Stress Testing. A stress test is an analysis or simulation designed to determine the ability of a given FDIC-insured institution to deal with an economic crisis. In October 2012, U.S. bank regulators unveiled new rules mandated by the Dodd-Frank Act that require the largest U.S. banks to undergo stress tests twice per year, once internally and once conducted by the regulators, and began recommending portfolio stress testing as a sound risk management practice for community banks. Although stress tests are not officially required for banks with less than $10 billion in assets, they have become part of annual regulatory exams even for banks small enough to be officially exempted from the process. The OCC now recommends stress testing as means to identify and quantify loan portfolio risk and First Clover Leaf Bank has begun the process.

Dividend Payments. The primary source of funds for First Clover Leaf is dividends from First Clover Leaf Bank. Under the National Bank Act, a national bank may pay dividends out of its undivided profits in such amounts and at such times as the bank’s board of directors deems prudent. Without prior OCC approval, however, a national bank may not pay dividends in any calendar year that, in the aggregate, exceed the bank’s year-to-date net income plus the bank’s retained net income for the two preceding years. In addition, under the Basel III Rule, institutions that seek the freedom to pay dividends will have to maintain 2.5% in Common Equity Tier 1 attributable to the capital conservation buffer to be phased in over three years beginning in 2016. See “Regulatory Emphasis on Capital” above.

Insider Transactions. First Clover Leaf Bank is subject to certain restrictions imposed by federal law on “covered transactions” between First Clover Leaf Bank and its “affiliates.” The Company is an affiliate of First Clover Leaf Bank for purposes of these restrictions, and covered transactions subject to the restrictions include extensions of credit to First Clover Leaf, investments in the stock or other securities of First Clover Leaf and the acceptance of the stock or other securities of First Clover Leaf as collateral for loans made by First Clover Leaf Bank. The Dodd-Frank Act enhanced the requirements for certain transactions with affiliates, including an expansion of the definition of “covered transactions” and an increase in the amount of time for which collateral requirements regarding covered transactions must be maintained.

Limitations and reporting requirements are also placed on extensions of credit by First Clover Leaf Bank to its directors and officers, to directors and officers of First Clover Leaf and its subsidiaries, to principal stockholders of First Clover Leaf and to “related interests” of such directors, officers and principal stockholders. In addition, federal law and regulations may affect the terms upon which any person who is a director or officer of First Clover Leaf or First Clover Leaf Bank, or a principal stockholder of First Clover Leaf, may obtain credit from banks with which First Clover Leaf Bank maintains a correspondent relationship.

Safety and Soundness Standards/Risk Management. The federal banking agencies have adopted guidelines that establish operational and managerial standards to promote the safety and soundness of FDIC-insured institutions. The guidelines set forth standards for internal controls, information systems, internal audit systems, loan documentation, credit underwriting, interest rate exposure, asset growth, compensation, fees and benefits, asset quality and earnings. In general, the safety and soundness guidelines prescribe the goals to be achieved in each area, and each institution is responsible for establishing its own procedures to achieve those goals. If an institution fails to comply with any of the standards set forth in the guidelines, the FDIC-insured institution’s primary federal regulator may require the institution to submit a plan for achieving and maintaining compliance. If an FDIC-insured institution fails to submit an acceptable compliance plan, or fails in any material respect to implement a compliance plan that has been accepted by its primary federal regulator, the regulator is required to issue an order directing the institution to cure the deficiency. Until the deficiency cited in the regulator’s order is cured, the regulator may restrict the FDIC-insured institution’s rate of growth, require the FDIC-insured institution to increase its capital, restrict the rates the institution pays on deposits or require the institution to take any action the regulator deems appropriate under the circumstances. Noncompliance with the standards established by the safety and soundness guidelines may also constitute grounds for other enforcement action by the federal bank regulatory agencies, including cease and desist orders and civil money penalty assessments.

During the past decade, the bank regulatory agencies have increasingly emphasized the importance of sound risk management processes and strong internal controls when evaluating the activities of the FDIC-insured institutions they supervise. Properly managing risks has been identified as critical to the conduct of safe and sound banking activities and has become even more important as new technologies, product innovation, and the size and speed of financial transactions have changed the nature of banking markets. The agencies have identified a spectrum of risks facing a banking institution including, but not limited to, credit, market, liquidity, operational, legal, and reputational risk. In particular, recent regulatory pronouncements have focused on operational risk, which arises from the potential that inadequate information systems, operational problems, breaches in internal controls, fraud, or unforeseen catastrophes will result in unexpected losses. New products and services, third-party risk management and cybersecurity are critical sources of operational risk that FDIC-insured institutions are expected to address in the current environment. First Clover Leaf Bank is expected to have active board and senior management oversight; adequate policies, procedures, and limits; adequate risk measurement, monitoring, and management information systems; and comprehensive internal controls.

Branching Authority. National banks headquartered in Illinois, such as First Clover Leaf Bank, have the same branching rights in Illinois as banks chartered under Illinois law, subject to OCC approval. Illinois law grants Illinois-chartered banks the authority to establish branches anywhere in the State of Illinois, subject to receipt of all required regulatory approvals.

Federal law permits state and national banks to merge with banks in other states subject to: (i) regulatory approval; (ii) federal and state deposit concentration limits; and (iii) state law limitations requiring the merging bank to have been in existence for a minimum period of time (not to exceed five years) prior to the merger. The establishment of new interstate branches or the acquisition of individual branches of a bank in another state (rather than the acquisition of an out-of-state bank in its entirety) has historically been permitted only in those states the laws of which expressly authorize such expansion. However, the Dodd-Frank Act permits well-capitalized and well-managed banks to establish new branches across state lines without these impediments.

Financial Subsidiaries. Under federal law and OCC regulations, national banks are authorized to engage, through “financial subsidiaries,” in any activity that is permissible for a financial holding company and any activity that the Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Federal Reserve, determines is financial in nature or incidental to any such financial activity, except (i) insurance underwriting, (ii) real estate development or real estate investment activities (unless otherwise permitted by law), (iii) insurance company portfolio investments and (iv) merchant banking. The authority of a national bank to invest in a financial subsidiary is subject to a number of conditions, including, among other things, requirements that the bank must be well-managed and well-capitalized (after deducting from capital the bank’s outstanding investments in financial subsidiaries). First Clover Leaf Bank has not applied for approval to establish any financial subsidiaries.

Federal Home Loan Bank System. First Clover Leaf Bank is a member of the FHLB, which serves as a central credit facility for its members. The FHLB is funded primarily from proceeds from the sale of obligations of the FHLB system. It makes loans to member banks in the form of FHLB advances. All advances from the FHLB are required to be fully collateralized as determined by the FHLB.

Transaction Account Reserves. Federal Reserve regulations require FDIC-insured institutions to maintain reserves against their transaction accounts (primarily NOW and regular checking accounts). For 2016: the first $15.2 million of otherwise reservable balances are exempt from reserves and have a zero percent reserve requirement; for transaction accounts aggregating more than $15.2 million to $110.2 million, the reserve requirement is 3% of total transaction accounts; and for net transaction accounts in excess of $110.2 million, the reserve requirement is 3% up to $110.2 million plus 10% of the aggregate amount of total transaction accounts in excess of $110.2 million. These reserve requirements are subject to annual adjustment by the Federal Reserve.

Community Reinvestment Act Requirements. The Community Reinvestment Act requires First Clover Leaf Bank to have a continuing and affirmative obligation in a safe and sound manner to help meet the credit needs of its entire community, including low- and moderate-income neighborhoods. Federal regulators regularly assess First Clover Leaf Bank’s record of meeting the credit needs of its communities. Applications for additional acquisitions would be affected by the evaluation of First Clover Leaf Bank’s effectiveness in meeting its Community Reinvestment Act requirements.

Anti-Money Laundering. The Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001 (the “USA Patriot Act”), along with anti-money laundering and bank secrecy laws (“AML-BSA”), are designed to deny terrorists and criminals the ability to obtain access to the U.S. financial system and has significant implications for FDIC-insured institutions, brokers, dealers and other businesses involved in the transfer of money. The laws mandate financial services companies to have policies and procedures with respect to measures designed to address any or all of the following matters: (i) customer identification and ongoing due diligence programs; (ii) money laundering; (iii) terrorist financing; (iv) identifying and reporting suspicious activities and currency transactions; (v) currency crimes; and (vi) cooperation among FDIC-insured institutions and law enforcement authorities.

Concentrations in Commercial Real Estate. Concentration risk exists when FDIC-insured institutions deploy too many assets to any one industry or segment. A concentration in commercial real estate is one example of regulatory concern. The interagency Concentrations in Commercial Real Estate Lending, Sound Risk Management Practices guidance (“CRE Guidance”) provides supervisory criteria, including the following numerical indicators, to assist bank examiners in identifying banks with potentially significant commercial real estate loan concentrations that may warrant greater supervisory scrutiny: (i) commercial real estate loans exceeding 300% of capital and increasing 50% or more in the preceding three years; or (ii) construction and land development loans exceeding 100% of capital. The CRE Guidance does not limit banks' levels of commercial real estate lending activities, but rather guides institutions in developing risk management practices and levels of capital that are commensurate with the level and nature of their commercial real estate concentrations. On December 18, 2015, the federal banking agencies issued a statement to reinforce prudent risk-management practices related to CRE lending, having observed substantial growth in many CRE asset and lending markets, increased competitive pressures, rising CRE concentrations in banks, and an easing of CRE underwriting standards. The federal bank agencies reminded FDIC-insured institutions to maintain underwriting discipline and exercise prudent risk-management practices to identify, measure, monitor, and manage the risks arising from CRE lending. In addition, FDIC-insured institutions must maintain capital commensurate with the level and nature of their CRE concentration risk.

Based on First Clover Leaf Bank's loan portfolio as of March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf Bank does not exceed these guidelines.

Consumer Financial Services. The historical structure of federal consumer protection regulation applicable to all providers of consumer financial products and services changed significantly on July 21, 2011, when the CFPB commenced operations to supervise and enforce consumer protection laws. The CFPB has broad rulemaking authority for a wide range of consumer protection laws that apply to all providers of consumer products and services, including First Clover Leaf Bank, as well as the authority to prohibit "unfair, deceptive or abusive" acts and practices. The CFPB has examination and enforcement authority over providers with more than $10 billion in assets. FDIC-insured institutions with $10 billion or less in assets, like First Clover Leaf Bank, continue to be examined by their applicable bank regulators.

Because abuses in connection with residential mortgages were a significant factor contributing to the global financial crisis, many new rules issued by the CFPB and required by the Dodd-Frank Act address mortgage and mortgage-related products, their underwriting, origination, servicing and sales. The Dodd-Frank Act significantly expanded underwriting requirements applicable to loans secured by 1-4 family residential real property and augmented federal law combating predatory lending practices. In addition to numerous disclosure requirements, the Dodd-Frank Act imposed new standards for mortgage loan originations on all lenders, including all FDIC-insured institutions, in an effort to strongly encourage lenders to verify a borrower's "ability to repay," while also establishing a presumption of compliance for certain "qualified mortgages." In addition, the Dodd-Frank Act generally required lenders or securitizers to retain an economic interest in the credit risk relating to loans that the lender sells, and other asset-backed securities that the securitizer issues, if the loans have not complied with the ability-to-repay standards. First Clover Leaf Bank does not currently expect the CFPB's rules to have a significant impact on First Clover Leaf's operations, except for higher compliance costs.

Properties

The following table presents the location and other important information pertaining to First Clover Leaf's corporate offices and branch offices as of [], 2016:

Legal Proceedings

As of July 8, 2016, First Clover Leaf, certain executive officers of First Clover Leaf, certain members of First Clover Leaf's board of directors, and First Mid are named as defendants in one purported class action lawsuit brought by an alleged individual First Clover Leaf stockholder challenging the merger. The Lawsuit is captioned Raul v. Highlander, et al, Case No. 16-L-703, and was filed on May 20, 2016, in the Circuit Court, Third Judicial District, Madison County, Illinois. The Lawsuit alleges breaches of fiduciary duty by the individual officers and directors of First Clover Leaf relating to the process leading to the proposed merger of First Clover Leaf and First Mid. The Lawsuit alleges that the merger consideration is inadequate and that the joint proxy statement/prospectus does not contain sufficient disclosure and detail. The Lawsuit also alleges that First Clover Leaf and First Mid aided and abetted the alleged breaches of fiduciary duty by the individual defendants. The relief sought includes class certification, declaratory relief, an injunction enjoining consummation of the merger, rescission of the merger should it be consummated, interest on any monetary judgment, costs, and attorneys' fees.

First Clover Leaf, First Mid and the individual defendants believe that the factual allegations in the Lawsuit are without merit and legally unfounded and they intend to vigorously defend against these allegations.

SECURITY OWNERSHIP OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS AND CERTAIN BENEFICIAL OWNERS OF FIRST CLOVER LEAF

The following table sets forth, as of April 4, 2016, the shares of common stock beneficially owned by First Clover Leaf's named executive officers and directors individually, by all executive officers and directors as a group, and by each person or group known by First Clover Leaf to beneficially own in excess of five percent of First Clover Leaf's common stock.

Name and Address of Beneficial Owners	Amount of Shares Owned and Nature of Beneficial Ownership ⁽¹⁾	Percent of Shares of Common Stock Outstanding

ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION
AND RESULTS OF OPERATION - AS OF MARCH 31, 2016

Unless the context requires otherwise, references in this section of the proxy statement/prospectus to the "Company," "we," "us," or "our" refer to First Clover Leaf, and its wholly owned subsidiary, First Clover Leaf Bank, on a consolidated basis.

Critical Accounting Policies

First Clover Leaf considers the allowance for loan losses to be a critical accounting estimate due to the higher degree of judgment and complexity than other significant accounting estimates.

Allowance for loan losses. The allowance for loan losses is a valuation account that reflects our evaluation of the probable incurred credit losses in our loan portfolio. We maintain the allowance through provisions for loan losses that we charge against income. Allocations of the allowance may be made for specific loans, but the entire allowance is available for any loan that, in management's judgment, should be charged off.

Our evaluation of risk in maintaining the allowance for loan losses includes the review of all loans on which the collectibility of principal may not be reasonably assured. We consider the following factors as part of this evaluation: our historical loan loss experience, adverse situations that may affect the borrower's ability to repay, and estimated value of any underlying collateral. Management also evaluates the total balance of the allowance for loan losses based on several factors that are not loan specific but are reflective of the probable incurred losses in the loan portfolio, including prevailing economic conditions such as housing trends, inflation rates and unemployment rates, and geographic concentrations of loans within First Clover Leaf Bank's immediate market area.

There may be other factors that may warrant our consideration in maintaining an allowance at a level sufficient to provide for probable incurred losses. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available or as future events change.

In addition, the OCC, as an integral part of its examination process, periodically reviews our loan portfolio and the related allowance for loan losses. The OCC may require us to increase the allowance for loan losses based on its judgments of information available to it at the time of its examination, thereby adversely affecting our results of operations.

Overview

First Clover Leaf is a bank holding company incorporated under the laws of Maryland. Located in Edwardsville Illinois, First Clover Leaf has a wholly-owned subsidiary, First Clover Leaf Bank, which is a community bank operating with six branch locations in Madison and St. Clair Counties in Illinois along with one branch location in Clayton, Missouri. First Clover Leaf Bank is the source of all of First Clover Leaf's revenue. First Clover Leaf common stock is listed on the NASDAQ Capital Market and is traded under the symbol "FCLF".

First Clover Leaf's results of operations depend primarily on net interest income. Net interest income is the difference between the interest earned on interest-earning assets, and the interest paid on interest-bearing liabilities. Our results of operations also are affected by our provision for loan losses, non-interest income and non-interest expense.

Moreover, the results of operations may be affected significantly by general and local economic and competitive conditions, changes in market interest rates, governmental policies and the actions of regulatory authorities.

As discussed in Note 10 to the Financial Statements as of and for the period ended March 31, 2016, on April 26, 2016, the First Clover Leaf entered into the merger agreement with First Mid, pursuant to which First Mid will acquire First Clover Leaf and the First Clover Leaf Bank. Until the consummation of the merger, we anticipate continuing to focus on our loan and deposit growth strategies. We expect to also incur higher non-interest expenses in the upcoming quarters as we work toward closing the transaction and will have increased professional fees as well as other costs necessary in connection with the transaction. In the first quarter, we have continued our emphasis on growth, specifically on earning assets, as our average loan volume grew $30.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to the same period in 2015. Our total loans at March 31, 2016 were $440.4 million compared to $420.5 million at December 31, 2015. Our Customer Acquisition and Growth program was successful in growing our core deposit base as well as expanding our existing customer relationships. The Customer Acquisition and Growth program is a marketing program that targets consumers in our market area. Excluding brokered deposits, our core deposits at March 31, 2016 were $486.2 million compared to $473.5 million at December 31, 2015. These additional deposit relationships have contributed to an increase in our service fees on deposit accounts and in our other service charges and fees.

First Clover Leaf had net income of $1.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to net income of $1.5 million for the same period in 2015. The decrease was primarily due to provision expense of $250,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to a provision credit of $500,000 for the comparable period in 2015. While our net income decreased for the three months ended March 31, 2016, our net interest income increased $100,000 primarily due to a $39.4 million increase in average interest-earning assets. Basic and diluted earnings per share were $0.14 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to $0.21 for the three months ended March 31, 2015.

The following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and asset quality provides a comparison of our results as of March 31, 2016 to December 31, 2015, while our Operating Results compare the three months ended March 31, 2016 to the three months ended March 31, 2015. This discussion should be read in conjunction with the Financial Statements as of and for the period ended March 31, 2016, and related Notes.

Financial Condition

Total Assets. Total assets decreased to $636.9 million at March 31, 2016 from $654.9 million at December 31, 2015. The decrease was primarily due to lower balances of cash and cash equivalents partially offset by an increase in loans and an increase in securities available for sale.

Cash and cash equivalents decreased $40.5 million to $38.7 million at March 31, 2016 from $79.2 million at December 31, 2015 primarily due to an increase in loans, and a reduction in brokered deposits partially offset by an increase in core deposits.

Loans, net, increased $19.9 million to $440.4 million at March 31, 2016 from $420.5 million at December 31, 2015. The loan categories with significant increases were commercial business, commercial real estate, and one-to-four family loans. Commercial business increased $10.0 million to $99.7 million at March 31, 2016 from $89.7 million at December 31, 2015. Commercial real estate increased $8.7 million to $162.3 million at March 31, 2016 from $153.6 million at December 31, 2015. One-to-four family loans increased $4.1 million to $114.9 million at March 31, 2016 from $110.8 million at December 31, 2015. These increases were partially offset by decreases in multi-family and construction and land categories. Multi-family loans decreased $1.1 million to $40.1 million at March 31, 2016 from $41.2 million at December 31, 2015. Construction and land loans decreased $1.0 million to $12.6 million at March 31, 2016 from $13.6 million at December 31, 2015.

Securities available for sale increased $3.1 million to $106.9 million at March 31, 2016 from $103.8 million at December 31, 2015. The increase was due primarily to purchases of $11.8 million partially offset by calls, maturities and principal repayments of $5.9 million and sales of $3.7 million. Overall, our U.S. government agency securities increased $1.9 million, mortgage backed securities increased $2.2 million, and state and municipal securities decreased $1.0 million.

Total Liabilities. Total liabilities decreased $19.2 million to $555.4 million at March 31, 2016 from $574.6 million at December 31, 2015. The decrease was primarily due to a decrease in deposits.

Deposits decreased $18.7 million to $514.5 million at March 31, 2016 from $533.2 million at December 31, 2015. The decrease in deposits was primarily due to a reduction of $31.4 million in brokered deposits partially offset by an increase in core deposits.

Stockholders' Equity. Stockholders' equity increased to $81.5 million at March 31, 2016 from $80.3 million at December 31, 2015 primarily due to net income of $1.0 million and an increase of $632,000 in accumulated other comprehensive income, partially offset by the payment of cash dividends to the holders of our common stock in the amount of $420,000.

Asset Quality

First Clover Leaf experienced an increase in non-performing assets as of March 31, 2016 compared to December 31, 2015. The following tables set forth information with respect to First Clover Leaf's non-performing and impaired loans and other non-performing assets at the dates indicated:

	March 31, 2016	December 31, 2015
Loans 90 days or more past due and still accruing ⁽¹⁾	$475	$—
Non-accrual loans ⁽²⁾	5,304,638	3,238,933
Other impaired loans	1,854,494	2,321,550
Total non-performing and impaired loans	7,159,607	5,560,483
Foreclosed assets	2,933,451	3,059,101
Total non-performing assets	$10,093,058	$8,619,584

(1) At March 31, 2016, the balance is not classified as impaired.

(2) The entire balance was also classified as impaired as of March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015.

	March 31, 2016	December 31, 2015
Non-performing assets to total assets	1.58 %	1.32 %
Non-performing and impaired loans to total loans	1.60	1.30
Allowance for loan losses to non-performing and impaired loans	85.71	105.86
Allowance for loan losses to total loans	1.37	1.38

Non-Performing and Impaired Loans and Other Non-Performing Assets. At March 31, 2016, our total non-performing and impaired loans and other non-performing assets increased $1.5 million to $10.1 million compared to $8.6 million at December 31, 2015. At March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf's non-accrual loans increased to $5.3 million from $3.2 million at December 31, 2015. This increase was primarily due to a $2.6 million loan that was newly classified as nonaccrual during the first quarter of 2016.

At March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf Bank had one relationship classified as non-accrual with a balance over $1.0 million. The relationship was a $2.6 million credit secured by real estate. This credit was placed on non-accrual status during March of 2016. Prior to being placed on non-accrual, the loan was and remains current in principal and interest payments. The property is a special use facility. First Clover Leaf Bank is currently negotiating with the borrower to enter into a forbearance agreement. First Clover Leaf Bank has recorded a $1.0 million allowance on the credit for what we estimate the shortfall in collateral may be.

At March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf Bank also had a relationship classified as non-accrual with an outstanding balance of approximately $973,000. The relationship was a $973,000 credit to a real estate investor. This credit was placed on non-accrual status in 2012. The investor has experienced cash flow difficulties due to higher vacancy rates and the need for property repairs. Since being placed on non-accrual, $1.3 million in pay-downs from the sale of collateral has been received on this relationship, and a charge-off of $483,000 was recorded in June 2013. A property manager is overseeing the daily operations, and all non-rented properties have been listed for sale. The borrower has signed a forbearance agreement with First Clover Leaf Bank to aid in selling some of the properties to further reduce the debt. At March 31, 2016, the collateral on this loan was sufficient to cover the majority of the outstanding balance and sufficient allowances have been set aside for the remaining outstanding balance.

In addition to the non-accrual loans discussed above, we have loans that were accruing interest that we categorize as impaired due to observed credit deterioration or restructured status, which allows us to more easily evaluate them individually for our allowance for loan losses. At March 31, 2016, there were five credits in this classification, with a total balance of $1.9 million. The largest loan in this classification at March 31, 2016 was a $716,000 credit for a special purpose facility. The borrower has been experiencing insufficient cash flow and the credit was restructured to allow the borrower time to improve cash flow. The loan was performing in accordance with the restructured terms at March 31, 2016. In comparison, there were six loans that met this classification at December 31, 2015 with a total balance of $2.3 million.

The following table presents a summary of our past due loans as of March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015:

	March 31, 2016	December 31, 2015
Loans 30-59 Days Past Due	$896,235	$389,604
Loans 60-89 Days Past Due	—	259,240
Loans 90 or more Days Past Due	525,314	322,206
Total Past Due Loans	$1,421,549	$971,050

Past due balances increased $451,000 to $1.4 million at March 31, 2016 from $971,000 at December 31, 2015. The category with the largest increase was the 30-59 day category which increased $507,000. This increase was due to one commercial real estate loan. The 60-89 day category decreased $259,000 primarily due to two loans classified in this category at December 31, 2015 that have now become more than 90 days past due. The 90 or more days past due category increased $203,000 from December 31, 2015. This was primarily due to two loans last quarter in the 60-89 day category that are now over 90 days past due and non-accrual.

The following table presents a summary of our credit quality indicators as of March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015:

	March 31, 2016	December 31, 2015
Pass	$425,969,377	$406,334,907
Special Mention	10,682,344	12,005,589
Substandard	9,616,805	7,688,775
Doubtful	94,910	91,773
Total Loans	$446,363,436	$426,121,044

At March 31, 2016, loans classified as Special Mention decreased $1.3 million from $12.0 million at December 31, 2015. The decrease was a result of two commercial business loans being upgraded to the pass category. Loans classified as Substandard increased $1.9 million to $9.6 million at March 31, 2016 compared to $7.7 million at December 31, 2015. The increase was due to one credit being reclassified from Pass to Substandard during the first quarter of 2016.

At March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf Bank had six properties classified as foreclosed assets valued at $2.9 million. The foreclosed asset balance declined $200,000 from December 31, 2015 due to three lot sales that occurred during the first quarter of 2016. The collateral on the remaining properties consists of farmland, two residential lot developments, a commercial development, and two single-family residences. All of these properties were transferred into foreclosed assets at the property's fair value, less estimated costs of disposal, at the date of foreclosure. Initial valuation adjustments, if any, are charged against the allowance for loan losses. The properties are evaluated on a non-recurring basis to verify that the recorded amount is supported by its current fair value.

Results of Operations

General. We recorded net income of $1.0 million and $1.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. The decrease in net income for the three months ended March 31, 2016 resulted primarily from a provision for loan losses partially offset by lower income taxes.

During the three months ended March 31, 2016, yields on loans decreased to 4.13% compared to 4.31% for the three months ended March 31, 2015. The decline in yield was primarily due to assets re-pricing at lower current rates as well as competitive market forces driving down rates. Our commercial loans are the most sensitive to changes in market interest rates because they often have shorter terms to maturity, and, therefore, are refinanced more frequently with the potential of interest rate adjustments.

We have experienced a slight increase in rate on time deposits re-pricing as they mature due to shorter term time deposits re-pricing into longer term time deposits. Our ability to lower rates paid on deposits is limited due to the already low deposit rates and the competitive environment in which we operate. First Clover Leaf's yield on earning assets and cost of funds are largely dependent on the interest rate environment. The competitive and market forces continue to pressure the yield on our earning assets.

Net interest income. Net interest income increased to $4.4 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016, from $4.3 million for the comparable period in 2015, primarily due to $30.0 million increase in average outstanding loans partially offset by higher interest expense from an increased rate on time deposits and a higher average balance of FHLB advances. Net average interest-earning assets were $98.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016, compared to $87.0 million for the same period in 2015. The ratio of average interest-earning assets to average interest-bearing liabilities increased to 120.10% for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from 118.82% for the same period in 2015. Our interest rate spread decreased to 2.95% for the three months ended March 31, 2016, compared to 3.13% for the comparable period in 2015. Our net interest margin decreased to 3.04% for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to 3.21% for the same period in 2015. The average rate earned on interest-earning assets decreased by 12 basis points for the three months ended March 31, 2016 to 3.51% from 3.63% for the same period in 2015, while the average rate paid on interest-bearing liabilities increased six basis points for the three months ended March 31, 2016 to 0.56% from 0.50% for the same period in 2015.

The following tables set forth the average balance sheets, average yields and cost of funds, and certain other information for the periods indicated. No tax-equivalent yield adjustments on loans or securities were made. All average balances are daily average balances. Non-accrual loans were included in the computation of average balances, but have been reflected in the table as loans carrying a zero yield. The yields set forth below include the effect of deferred loan fees, discounts and premiums that are amortized or accreted to interest income or expense. Yields and rates have been annualized.

(1) Yields on loans and securities have not been adjusted to a tax-equivalent basis. Net interest margin on a fully tax-equivalent basis would have been 3.24% and 3.40% for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. The tax equivalent basis was computed by calculating the deemed interest on tax-exempt loans and municipal bonds that would have been earned on a fully taxable basis to yield the same after-tax income using a combined federal and state marginal tax rate of 36%.

(2) Interest on loans includes loan fees collected in the amount of $9,599 and $19,417 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

(3) Net interest rate spread represents the difference between the yield on average interest-earning assets and the cost of average interest-bearing liabilities.

(4) Net interest-earning assets represent total interest-earning assets less total interest-bearing liabilities.

(5) Net interest margin represents net interest income divided by average total interest-earning assets.

Interest and dividend income. The relative components of interest income vary from time to time based on the availability and interest rates of loans, securities and other interest-earning assets. Interest and fee income on loans increased to $4.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from $4.3 million for the same period in 2015. This increase was primarily due to a $30.0 million increase in average outstanding loans partially offset by a decline in yield. The average balance of loans was $434.1 million and $404.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. The average yield on loans decreased to 4.13% for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from 4.31% for the comparable period in 2015.

Interest income on securities decreased slightly to $567,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from $573,000 for the same period in 2015. Interest income on securities decreased primarily due to a decline in yield partially offset by a higher average balance of securities. The average yield on securities decreased to 2.13% for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from 2.21% for the comparable period in 2015. The average balance of securities was $107.3 million and $104.9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

Interest on interest-earning deposits increased to $76,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from $26,000 for the same period in 2015. The increase in interest on interest-earning deposits was primarily due to an increase in yield along with a higher average balance. The average yield on interest-earning deposits was 0.68% and 0.28% for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

Interest expense. Interest expense on deposits increased to $582,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016, from $525,000 for the comparable period in 2015. The increase in interest expense was primarily due to an increase in yield along with a higher average balance of time deposits. The average yield on time deposits was 1.20% and 1.08% for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. The average balance of time deposits increased to $134.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from $126.9 million for the same period in 2015.

Interest expense on Federal Home Loan Bank advances increased to $66,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to $26,000 for the same period in 2015. The increase in interest expense was due to an increase in the average balance partially offset by and decline in the average rate paid. The average balance of Federal Home Loan Bank advances was $16.0 million and $2.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. The average rate on Federal Home Loan Bank advances decreased to 1.66% for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to 4.24% for the same period in 2015.

Provision for loan losses. For the three months ended March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf Bank recorded provision expense of $250,000 compared to a $500,000 credit provision for the three months ended March 31, 2015.

Non-performing and impaired loans totaled $7.2 million and $5.6 million at March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015, respectively. We received recoveries of $14,000 and $868,000 and recorded charge-offs of $13,000 and $51,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

The provision for loan losses is based upon management's consideration of current economic conditions; First Clover Leaf's loan portfolio composition and historical loss experience coupled with current market valuations on collateral; and management's estimate of probable losses in the portfolio as well as the level of non-performing and impaired loans. We continue to review and make adjustments to certain qualitative factors as appropriate due to our continued expansion into newer markets and continued segment concentration in real estate loans that are collateral dependent. In addition, recent economic reports indicate that in our market areas, the vacancy rates, occupancy rates, and absorption rates are not showing positive movement enough to overcome the economic declines experienced in 2010. Management also reviews individual loans for which full collectability may not be reasonably assured and considers, among other matters, the estimated fair value of the underlying collateral. This evaluation is ongoing and results in variations in First Clover Leaf's provision for loan losses. There may be other factors that may warrant our consideration in maintaining an allowance at a level sufficient to provide for probable incurred losses. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available or as future events change.

Non-interest income. Non-interest income increased to $613,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016, compared to $598,000 for the same period in 2015. For the three months ended March 31, 2016, non-interest income increased primarily due to an increase in service fees on deposit accounts and gain on the sale of securities partially offset by a reduction in gain on the sale of loans compared to the same period in 2015.

Service fees on deposit accounts increased to $128,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from $107,000 for the same period in 2015. This increase was due to higher non-sufficient fund income and treasury management fees during the three months ended March 31, 2016.

Gain on sale of securities was $29,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016. During the three months ended March 31, 2016, we sold $3.7 million of securities. There were no sales of securities during the same period in 2015.

Gain on sale of loans totaled $126,000 and $181,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. We sold loans totaling $4.9 million and $7.0 million during the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

Non-interest expense. Non-interest expense increased to $3.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from $3.4 million for the same period in 2015. This increase was primarily due to an increase in compensation and employee benefits expense partially offset by declines in occupancy expense and FDIC insurance premiums.

Compensation and employee benefits increased to $2.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2016 from $1.9 million for the same period in 2015. This increase was primarily due to increased commission expense on production-based earners, merit increases, and staffing for our Clayton, Missouri location which opened during the second quarter of 2015.

Occupancy expense decreased to $366,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to $391,000 for the same period in 2015. This decrease was primarily due to lower depreciation, less repairs and maintenance expenses, and software licensing fees partially offset by higher property tax expense and rent expense in the 2016 period. FDIC insurance premiums decreased to $90,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to $110,000 for the same period in 2015. This decrease was primarily due to declines in the assessment base and rates paid for the 2016 period.

Income taxes. Income tax expense decreased to $296,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to $618,000 for the same period in 2015 primarily as a result of lower pre-tax income for the three months ended March 31, 2016 along with a lower effective tax rate. The effective tax rate was 22.6% for the three months ended March 31, 2016 compared to 29.6% for the comparable period in 2015. The effective tax rate for the three months ended March 31, 2016 was lower primarily due to tax exempt income comprising a higher portion of total income.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We maintain liquid assets at levels considered adequate to meet liquidity needs. We adjust our liquidity levels to fund deposit outflows, repay our borrowings and fund loan commitments. We also adjust liquidity as appropriate to meet asset and liability management objectives.

Our primary sources of liquidity are deposits, amortization and prepayment of loans, maturities of investment securities and other short-term investments, and earnings and funds provided from operations. While scheduled principal repayments on loans are a relatively predictable source of funds, deposit flows and loan prepayments are greatly influenced by market interest rates, economic conditions, and rates offered by our competition. We set the interest rates on our deposits to maintain a desired level of total deposits. In addition, we invest excess funds in short-term interest-earning assets, which provide liquidity to meet lending requirements.

A portion of our liquidity consists of cash and cash equivalents, which are a product of our operating, investing and financing activities. At March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015, $38.7 million and $79.2 million, respectively, were invested in cash and cash equivalents. The primary sources of cash are principal repayments on loans, proceeds from the calls and maturities of investment securities, increases in deposit and securities sold under agreements to repurchase accounts, and advances from the FHLB.

Cash flows are derived from operating activities, investing activities and financing activities as reported in the Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows included with the Financial Statements as of and for the quarter ended March 31, 2016.

Our primary investing activities are the origination of loans and the purchase of investment securities. Loan originations exceeded principal collections on loans by $20.2 million and $469,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. Cash received from calls, maturities, and principal repayments of available-for-sale investment securities totaled $5.9 million for each of the three month periods ended March 31, 2016 and 2015. We purchased $11.8 million and $9.0 million of available-for-sale investment securities during the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

Deposit flows are generally affected by market interest rates, products offered by local competitors, and other factors. Net deposits decreased by $18.7 million and $9.0 million during the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. The decrease in deposits during the three months ended March 31, 2016 was primarily due to a reduction of $31.4 million in brokered deposits partially offset by an increase in core deposits.

Liquidity management is both a daily and long-term function of business management. If we require funds beyond our ability to generate them internally, borrowing agreements exist with the FHLB, which provide an additional source of funds. We had $16.0 million of advances from the FHLB at March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015. At March 31, 2016, we had additional available credit of approximately $75.5 million. Additionally, we have the ability to purchase funds through our affiliation with Promontory Interfinancial Network if we require additional liquidity. At March 31, 2016, the funds authorized for purchase through this program totaled $61.0 million.

First Clover Leaf Bank is required to maintain certain minimum capital requirements under OCC regulations. Failure by a national bank to meet minimum capital requirements can result in certain mandatory and possible discretionary actions by regulators, which, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on First Clover Leaf Bank's financial statements. Under the capital adequacy guidelines and regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, First Clover Leaf Bank must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of First Clover Leaf Bank's assets, liabilities, and certain off-balance sheet items as calculated under regulatory accounting practices. As of March 31, 2016, under regulatory standards, First Clover Leaf Bank had capital levels in excess of the minimums necessary to be considered "well capitalized," which is the highest regulatory designation.

First Clover Leaf Bank's actual capital amounts and ratios under Basel III as of March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015 are presented in the following tables.

In July 2013, the U.S. federal banking authorities approved the implementation of the Basel III regulatory capital reforms and issued rules effecting certain changes required by the Dodd-Frank Act (the "Basel III Rules"). The Basel III Rules are applicable to all U.S. banks that are subject to minimum capital requirements, as well as to bank and savings and loan holding companies other than "small bank holding companies" (generally non-public bank holding companies with consolidated assets of less than $1 billion). First Clover Leaf Bank, along with other community banking organizations, became subject to the Basel III Rules effective January 1, 2015.

The Basel III Rules not only increased most of the required minimum regulatory capital ratios, but they introduced a new common equity Tier 1 capital ratio and the concept of a Capital Conservation Buffer ("CCB"). The Basel III Rules also expanded the definition of capital as in effect currently by establishing criteria that instruments must meet to be considered additional Tier 1 capital (Tier 1 capital in addition to common equity) and Tier 2 capital. A number of instruments that qualified previously as Tier 1 capital no longer qualify, or their qualifications may change as the Basel III rules are fully implemented. The Basel III Rules also permit banking organizations with less than $15.0

billion in assets to retain, through a one-time election, the previous treatment for accumulated other comprehensive income. First Clover Leaf Bank elected this one-time opt-out to exclude accumulated other comprehensive income from regulatory capital with the filing of its regulatory reports for first quarter of 2015.

The Basel III Rules have maintained the general structure of the current prompt corrective action framework, while incorporating the increased requirements. The prompt corrective action guidelines were also revised to add the common equity Tier 1 capital ratio. In order to be a “well-capitalized” depository institution under the new regime, a bank and holding company must maintain a common equity Tier 1 capital ratio of 6.5% or more; a Tier 1 capital ratio of 8% or more; a total capital ratio of 10% or more; and a leverage ratio of 5% or more.

First Clover Leaf Bank and First Clover Leaf have each adopted Regulatory Capital Plans that require First Clover Leaf Bank to maintain a Tier 1 leverage ratio of at least 8% and a total risk-based capital ratio of at least 12% (excluding the CCB). The minimum capital ratios set forth in the Regulatory Capital Plans will be increased and other minimum capital requirements will be established if and as necessary. In accordance with the Regulatory Capital Plans, neither First Clover Leaf nor First Clover Leaf Bank will pursue any growth opportunity, declare any dividend or conduct any stock repurchase that would cause First Clover Leaf Bank's total risk-based capital ratio and/or its Tier 1 leverage ratio to fall below the established minimum capital levels, or capital levels required for capital adequacy plus the CCB. The minimum CCB in 2016 is 0.625% and will increase 0.625% annually through 2019 to 2.5%. As of March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf Bank and First Clover Leaf adopted all of the Basel III 2016 phase-in rules and were well-capitalized, with all capital ratios exceeding the well-capitalized requirement. At present, management concludes that its current capital structure and the execution of its capital plan will be sufficient to meet and exceed the revised regulatory capital ratios as required by the new Basel III Rules.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

In the ordinary course of business, First Clover Leaf is a party to credit-related financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk to meet the financing needs of our customers. These financial instruments include commitments to extend credit, as described further below. First Clover Leaf follows the same credit policies in making commitments as it does for on-balance sheet instruments.

Commitments to extend credit are agreements to lend to a customer as long as there is no violation of any condition established in such customer's contract. Commitments generally have fixed expiration dates or other termination clauses and may require payment of a fee. The commitments for equity lines of credit may expire without being drawn upon. Therefore, the total commitment amounts do not necessarily represent future cash requirements. The amount of collateral obtained, if it is deemed necessary by First Clover Leaf, is based on management's credit evaluation of the customer.

Unfunded commitments under construction lines of credit for residential and multi-family properties are commitments for possible future extensions of credit to existing customers. These lines of credit are uncollateralized and usually do not contain a specified maturity date and may not be drawn upon to the total extent to which First Clover Leaf is committed.

	Variable Rate Commitments	Fixed Rate Commitments	Total Commitments	Range of Rates on Fixed Rate Commitments
Commitments to extend credit	$43,151,879	$45,189,635	$88,341,514	2.50% - 18.00%
Standby letters of credit	1,226,114	49,000	1,275,114	4.00% - 6.00%

Loans sold to the FHLB under the Mortgage Partnership Finance (“MPF”) program are sold with recourse. First Clover Leaf Bank has an agreement to sell residential loans of up to $81.0 million to the FHLB, of which approximately $72.2 million had been sold as of March 31, 2016. As a part of the agreement, First Clover Leaf Bank had a maximum credit enhancement of $388,000 at March 31, 2016. First Clover Leaf intends to continue originating and selling mortgage loans while retaining the servicing of the loans. In addition to the MPF program, First Clover Leaf currently has a relationship to sell loans to Fannie Mae. These loans are also sold with recourse. First Clover Leaf has a recourse liability reserve established. Since First Clover Leaf has no loss experience at this time, we utilized the current Fannie Mae loss history rates in the calculation of our reserve.

ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION
AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS - AS OF DECEMBER 31, 2015

Unless the context requires otherwise, references in this section of the proxy statement/prospectus to the "Company," "we," "us," or "our" refer to First Clover Leaf, and its wholly owned subsidiary, First Clover Leaf Bank, on a consolidated basis.

Critical Accounting Policies

First Clover Leaf considers the allowance for loan losses and goodwill and other intangible assets to be its critical accounting estimates, due to the higher degree of judgment and complexity than its other significant accounting estimates.

Allowance for loan losses. The allowance for loan losses is a valuation account that reflects our evaluation of the probable incurred credit losses in our loan portfolio. We maintain the allowance through provisions for loan losses that we charge against income. We charge losses on loans against the allowance for loan losses when we believe the collection of loan principal is unlikely.

Our evaluation of risk in maintaining the allowance for loan losses includes the review of all loans on which the collectibility of principal may not be reasonably assured. We consider the following factors as part of this evaluation: our historical loan loss experience, the nature and volume of the loan portfolio, adverse situations that may affect the borrower's ability to repay, estimated value of any underlying collateral, and prevailing economic conditions. Management evaluates the total balance of the allowance for loan losses based on several factors that are not loan specific but are reflective of the probable incurred losses in the loan portfolio, including management's periodic review of loan collectibility in light of historical experience, the nature and volume of the loan portfolio, prevailing economic conditions such as housing trends, inflation rates and unemployment rates, and geographic concentrations of loans within First Clover Leaf Bank's immediate market area.

There may be other factors that may warrant our consideration in maintaining an allowance at a level sufficient to provide for probable incurred losses. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available or as future events change.

In addition, the OCC, as an integral part of its examination process, periodically reviews our loan portfolio and the related allowance for loan losses. The OCC may require us to increase the allowance for loan losses based on its judgments of information available to it at the time of its examination, thereby adversely affecting our results of operations.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. In the past, First Clover Leaf has been involved in acquisitions accounted for under the purchase method of accounting. Under the purchase method, First Clover Leaf was required to allocate the cost of an acquired company to the assets acquired, including identified intangible assets, and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values at the date of acquisition. The excess cost over the net assets acquired represents goodwill, which is not subject to periodic amortization.

Customer relationship intangibles are required to be amortized over their estimated useful lives. The method of amortization reflects the pattern in which the economic benefits of these intangible assets are estimated to be consumed or otherwise used up. Our customer relationship intangibles are being amortized over 9.7 years using the double declining balance method. Since First Clover Leaf's acquired customer relationships are subject to routine customer attrition, the relationships are more likely to produce greater benefits in the near-term than in the long-term, which typically supports the use of an accelerated method of amortization for the related intangible assets.

Management is required to evaluate the useful life of customer relationship intangibles to determine if events or circumstances warrant a change in the estimated life. Should management determine the estimated life of any intangible asset is shorter than originally estimated, First Clover Leaf would adjust the amortization of that asset, which could increase future amortization expense.

Goodwill arising from business combinations represents the value attributable to unidentifiable intangible elements in the business acquired. Goodwill recorded by First Clover Leaf in connection with its acquisitions relates to the inherent value in the businesses acquired and this value is dependent upon First Clover Leaf's ability to provide quality, cost effective services in a competitive market place. The continued value of recorded goodwill is impacted by the value of our stock and continued profitability of the organization. In the event that the stock price experiences significant declines or the operations of the company lack profitability an impairment of goodwill may need to be recognized. Any impairment recognized would adversely impact earnings in the period in which it is recognized. The goodwill impairment analysis allows the assessment of qualitative factors to determine if it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than the carrying value. If it is determined that we should proceed with impairment testing, we then estimate the fair value of our single reporting unit as of the measurement date utilizing two approaches including the comparable transactions approach, and the control premium approach which utilizes the company's stock price. We then compare the estimated fair value of the reporting unit to the current carrying value of the reporting unit to determine if goodwill impairment had occurred as of the measurement date. At our annual impairment assessment date of September 30, 2015, our analysis indicated that no additional impairment existed. Future events, such as adverse changes to First Clover Leaf's business or changes in the economic market, could cause management to conclude that impairment indicators exist and require management to re-evaluate goodwill. Should such re-evaluation determine goodwill is impaired; the resulting impairment loss recognized could have a material, adverse impact on First Clover Leaf's financial condition and results of operations. In accordance with current accounting guidance, management has determined that First Clover Leaf has only one reporting unit for purposes of evaluating goodwill.

Overview

First Clover Leaf is a financial holding company incorporated under the laws of Maryland. Located in Edwardsville Illinois, First Clover Leaf has a wholly-owned subsidiary, First Clover Leaf Bank, which is a community bank operating with six branch locations in Madison and St. Clair Counties in Illinois along with a loan production office in Clayton, Missouri. First Clover Leaf Bank is the source of all of First Clover Leaf's revenue. First Clover Leaf common stock is listed on the NASDAQ Capital Market and is traded under the symbol "FCLF".

First Clover Leaf's results of operations depend primarily on net interest income. Net interest income is the difference between the interest earned on interest-earning assets, and the interest paid on interest-bearing liabilities. Our results of operations also are affected by our provision for loan losses, non-interest income and non-interest expense. The results of operations also may be affected significantly by general and local economic and competitive conditions, changes in market interest rates, governmental policies and actions of regulatory authorities.

We continued our strategic emphasis on growth and increased profitability in 2015. Our Customer Acquisition and Growth program was successful in growing our core deposit base in 2015 as well as expanding our existing customer relationships. Our total deposits at December 31, 2015 were $533.2 million compared to $510.3 million at December 31, 2014. Our expansion into the St. Louis, Missouri market as well as our organic growth in our existing markets resulted in a 4.8% increase in loans. Our total loans at December 31, 2015 were $420.5 million compared to $400.9 million at December 31, 2014. We remained focused on continuing to improve our asset quality as our non-performing and impaired loans and other non-performing assets declined to $8.6 million at December 31, 2015, compared to $10.6 million at December 31, 2014. At December 31, 2015, First Clover Leaf's non-accrual loans decreased to $3.2 million compared to $4.7 million at December 31, 2014.

First Clover Leaf had net income of $4.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2015 compared to net income of $3.8 million for the same period in 2014. Despite being in a very competitive market, our loan and deposit growth allowed us to increase our net interest margin to 3.09% for the year ended December 31, 2015 compared to 2.93% for the same period in 2014. We also increased our non-interest income primarily through gain on sale of loans and service charges. We continue our strategic focus to maximize shareholder value. Basic and diluted earnings per share were $0.66 for the year ended December 31, 2015 compared to $0.55 for the year ended December 31, 2014.

The following discussion and analysis of our Financial Condition and Operating Results provides a comparison of our results as of and for the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014. This discussion should be read in conjunction with the Financial Statements as of and for the periods ended December 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, and related Notes.

Comparison of Financial Condition at December 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014

Total Assets. Total assets increased to $654.9 million at December 31, 2015 from $607.6 million at December 31, 2014. The increase was primarily due to higher balances of cash and cash equivalents, and loans.

Cash and cash equivalents increased to $79.2 million at December 31, 2015 from $49.1 million at December 31, 2014 primarily due to an increase of $25.5 million in federal funds sold. The increase in federal funds sold was primarily due to increases in deposits, Federal Home Loan Bank advances, and securities sold under agreements to repurchase, partially offset by an increase in loans.

Loans, net, increased to $420.5 million at December 31, 2015 from $400.9 million at December 31, 2014, as we experienced a solid level of originations with both new and existing customers. The categories with significant increases were commercial real estate and commercial business partially offset by declines in one-to-four family and construction and land. Commercial real estate loans increased $24.2 million to $153.6 million at December 31, 2015 from $129.4 million at December 31, 2014. Commercial business loans increased $15.7 million to $89.7 million at December 31, 2015 from $74.0 million at December 31, 2014. One-to-four family loans decreased to $110.8 million at December 31, 2015 from $117.6 million at December 31, 2014. Construction and land loans declined to $13.6 million at December 31, 2015 from $28.6 million at December 31, 2014, with approximately $6.5 million transferred into the commercial real estate category, and approximately $6.4 million of projects sold to outside investors.

Total Liabilities. Total liabilities increased to $574.6 million at December 31, 2015 from $530.5 million at December 31, 2014. Deposits increased to $533.2 million at December 31, 2015 from $510.3 million at December 31, 2014. The increase in deposits was primarily due to an increase of $15.3 million in our interest-bearing transaction accounts and an increase of $5.5 million in our time deposits. The significant increase in interest-bearing transaction accounts was due to an increase of $38.9 million from our Customer Acquisition and Growth program growing our core deposit base as well as fluctuations in certain customers' accounts, due to the transitional nature of these accounts, partially offset by a reduction of $23.6 million in brokered accounts.

Federal Home Loan Bank advances at December 31, 2015 were $16.0 million compared to $2.5 million at December 31, 2014. The increase was due to new short and long term advances as a result of fluctuations in our core deposit base.

Securities sold under agreements to repurchase increased $7.9 million to $19.7 million at December 31, 2015 from $11.8 million at December 31, 2014. This increase was due primarily to normal fluctuations in these business accounts.

Stockholders' Equity. Stockholders' equity increased to $80.3 million at December 31, 2015 from $77.1 million at December 31, 2014 primarily due to net income of $4.6 million, partially offset by the payment of cash dividends to the holders of our common stock in the amount of $1.7 million.

Comparison of Operating Results for the Years Ended December 31, 2015 and 2014.

General. We recorded net income of $4.6 million and $3.8 million for the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively. The increase in net income for the year ended December 31, 2015 resulted primarily from higher net interest income, an increase in credit provision for loan losses, and higher non-interest income partially offset by higher income taxes.

During 2015, yields on loans continued to decline primarily due to assets re-pricing in the current rate environment. Our commercial loans are the most sensitive to changes in market interest rates because they often have shorter terms to maturity, and, therefore, the interest rates adjust more frequently.

We have experienced a slight increase in rate on time deposits re-pricing as they mature due to shorter term time deposits re-pricing into longer term time deposits. Our ability to lower rates paid on deposits is limited due to the already low deposit rates and the competitive environment in which we operate. First Clover Leaf's yield on earning assets and cost of funds are largely dependent on the interest rate environment. The competitive and market forces continue to pressure the yield on our earning assets.

Net interest income. Net interest income increased to $17.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2015 from $16.8 million for the year ended December 31, 2014. Net average interest-earning assets were $91.6 million for 2015, compared to $79.0 million for 2014. The ratio of average interest-earning assets to average interest-bearing liabilities increased to 119.58% for 2015 from 115.97% for 2014. Our interest rate spread increased to 3.00% for 2015 from 2.86% for 2014, and our net interest margin increased to 3.09% in 2015 from 2.93% for 2014. The average rate earned on interest-earning assets increased by 15 basis points during 2015 to 3.52% from 3.37% during 2014, while the average rate paid on interest-bearing liabilities increased by 1 basis point during 2015 to 0.52% from 0.51% during 2014.

The following table sets forth average balance sheets, average yields and costs, and certain other information for the years indicated. No tax-equivalent yield adjustments were made, as the effect thereof was not material. All average balances are daily average balances. Non-accrual loans were included in the computation of average balances, but have been reflected in the table as loans carrying a zero yield. The yields set forth below include the effect of deferred loan fees, and discounts and premiums that are amortized or accreted to interest income or expense.

Yields on loans and securities have not been adjusted to a tax-equivalent basis. Net interest margin on a fully tax-equivalent basis would have been 3.27%, 3.10%, and 3.09% for 2015, 2014, and 2013, respectively. The tax ⁽¹⁾ equivalent basis was computed by calculating the deemed interest on tax-exempt loans and municipal bonds that would have been earned on a fully taxable basis to yield the same after-tax income using a combined federal and state marginal tax rate of 36%.

The following tables present the dollar amount of changes in interest income and interest expense for the major categories of our interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities. Information is provided for each category of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities with respect to (i) changes attributable to changes in volume (i.e., changes in average balances multiplied by the prior-period average rate) and (ii) changes attributable to rate (i.e., changes in average rate multiplied by prior-period average balances). For purposes of this table, changes attributable to both rate and volume, which cannot be segregated, have been allocated proportionately to the change due to volume and the change due to rate.

Interest and dividend income. Interest and fee income on loans increased to $17.2 million for 2015 from $16.7 million for 2014. This increase was primarily a result of a higher average balance of loans which was partially offset by a decline in yield, which primarily resulted due to competitive pressure. The average balance of loans was $407.2 million and $386.0 million during 2015 and 2014, respectively. The average yield on loans decreased to 4.23% for 2015 from 4.33% for 2014.

Interest income on securities decreased to $2.2 million for 2015 from $2.4 million for 2014. Interest income on securities decreased primarily due to a lower average balance of securities. The average balance of securities was $106.5 million and $112.4 million for 2015 and 2014, respectively. The average yield on securities decreased to 2.09% for 2015 from 2.11% for 2014.

Dividends on Federal Reserve Bank stock were $101,000 and $38,000 for 2015 and 2014, respectively. The average balance was $1.7 million for 2015 and $631,000 for 2014. First Clover Leaf was required to purchase the Federal Reserve Bank stock as a result of First Clover Leaf Bank's conversion from a thrift charter to a national bank charter in August 2014.

Interest on other interest-earning deposits decreased primarily due to a decrease in average balances. The average balance of other interest-earning deposits was $44.2 million and $74.8 million for 2015 and 2014, respectively. The average yield on other interest-earning deposits was 0.32% for 2015 and 0.26% for 2014.

Components of interest income vary from time to time based on the availability and interest rates of loans, securities and other interest-earning assets.

Interest expense. Interest expense on deposits decreased $12,000, but remained at $2.2 million for 2015 and 2014. While the average balance of interest-bearing deposits decreased to $436.1 million during 2015 from $461.3 million for 2014, the average rate on interest-bearing deposits increased to 0.50% for 2015 from 0.47% for 2014.

Interest on Federal Home Loan Bank advances decreased in 2015 due to a decrease in rate partially offset by a higher average balance. The average rate on Federal Home Loan Bank advances decreased to 1.43% for 2015 compared to 2.37% for 2014. The average balance of Federal Home Loan Bank advances was $12.0 million and $10.5 million for 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Interest on securities sold under agreements to repurchase decreased to $3,000 from $5,000 primarily due to a lower average balance. The average balance of securities sold under agreements to repurchase was $15.8 million and $19.0 million for 2015 and 2014, respectively. The average rate decreased to 0.02% for 2015 from 0.03% for 2014.

Interest expense on subordinated debentures increased to $90,000 for 2015 from $87,000 for 2014. The average rate increased to 2.25% for 2015 compared to 2.18% for 2014.

Provision for loan losses. Credit provisions of $500,000 and $250,000 were recorded in 2015 and 2014, respectively. Management determined that the credit provisions were appropriate due to improvements in credit quality trends and recoveries received on previously charged-off loans. Non-performing and impaired loans totaled $5.6 million and $6.7 million at December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively. The allowance for loan losses to non-performing and impaired loans increased to 105.86% at December 31, 2015, compared to 82.76% at December 31, 2014. We received net recoveries of $825,000 and $221,000 during 2015 and 2014, respectively. The provision for loan losses is based upon management's consideration of current economic conditions, First Clover Leaf's loan portfolio and historical loss experience coupled with current market valuations on collateral, and management's estimate of probable losses in the portfolio as well as the level of non-performing and impaired loans. Management also reviews individual loans for which full collectability may not be reasonably assured and considers, among other matters, the estimated fair value of the underlying collateral. This evaluation is ongoing and results in variations in First Clover Leaf's provision for loan losses. There may be other factors that may warrant our consideration in maintaining an allowance at a level sufficient to provide for probable incurred losses. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available or as future events change.

In addition, the OCC, as an integral part of its examination process, periodically reviews our loan portfolio and the related allowance for loan losses. The OCC may require us to increase the allowance for loan losses based on its judgments of information available to it at the time of its examination, thereby adversely affecting our results of operations.

Non-interest income. Non-interest income increased $446,000 to $2.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2015, compared to $2.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2014, primarily due to increases on service fees on deposit accounts, other service charges and fees, and gain on sale of loans, along with lower losses on the sale of assets and on the sale of foreclosed assets, partially offset by a reduction in gain on sale of securities.

Service fees on deposit accounts increased $46,000 to $501,000 for the year ended December 31, 2015 from $455,000 for the year ended December 31, 2014. The increase was due to higher non-sufficient funds income and treasury management fees in 2015.

Other service charges and fees increased $60,000 to $475,000 for the year ended December 31, 2015 from $415,000 for the year ended December 31, 2014. The increase was primarily due to higher visa fee income in 2015.

Gain on sale of loans totaled $893,000 for the year ended December 31, 2015 compared to $631,000 for the comparable period in 2014. The increase was due to a higher volume of loan sales despite a lower average yield in 2015 compared to 2014. The average loan portfolio yield in 2015 was 2.8% compared to 3.1% in 2014. In 2015, we sold loans totaling $32.1 million, compared to $20.6 million in 2014.

We experienced a loss of $81,000 on the sale of property and equipment during 2014 compared to no such loss in 2015. We incurred a loss on the sale of foreclosed assets of $15,000 during 2015 compared to a loss of $164,000 during 2014.

Gain on sale of securities totaled $11,000 for the year ended December 31, 2015 compared to $110,000 for the same period in 2014. We sold fewer securities in 2015 than we did in 2014, primarily due to the 2015 interest rate markets not being as favorable for security sales. In 2015 we sold securities of $1.6 million compared to $5.3 million in 2014.

Non-interest expense. Non-interest expense increased $50,000, but remained at $14.1 million for 2015 and 2014. The increase was primarily due to higher compensation and employee benefits, partially offset by a decrease in occupancy expense, FDIC insurance premiums, and foreclosed asset related expenses.

Compensation and employee benefits increased to $7.6 million for 2015 from $7.2 million for 2014. These increases were primarily due to the addition of a supplemental retirement plan effective July 1, 2014, and increased employee insurance expenses. Salary expense also increased due to increased commission expense on production-based earners. Occupancy expense decreased to $1.6 million for 2015 compared to $1.7 million for 2014 primarily due to less repair and maintenance expenses, and a reduction in rent expense.

FDIC insurance premiums decreased to $356,000 for 2015 from $459,000 for 2014. The decrease was due to lower assessment bases and rates throughout 2015 compared to 2014.

Foreclosed asset related expenses decreased to $441,000 for 2015 compared to $507,000 for 2014. The decrease was primarily due to fewer properties owned in 2015 and less property repairs, partially offset by an increase in write-downs on foreclosed assets.

Income taxes. Income tax expense increased to $1.7 million for 2015 from $1.4 million for 2014 primarily due to higher pre-tax income for 2015. The effective tax rate was 26.5% for 2015 compared to 26.2% for 2014. Beginning January 2015, the state tax rate was lowered to 7.75% from the previous rate of 9.5%.

Management of Market Risk

General

The majority of First Clover Leaf's assets and liabilities are monetary in nature. Consequently, the most significant form of market risk is interest rate risk. First Clover Leaf's assets, consisting primarily of loans, have longer maturities than its liabilities, consisting primarily of deposits. As a result, the principal part of First Clover Leaf's business strategy is to manage interest rate risk and reduce the exposure of our net interest income to changes in market interest rates. Accordingly, the board of directors has established an Asset/Liability Management Committee which is responsible for evaluating the interest rate risk inherent in assets and liabilities, for determining the level of risk that is appropriate given First Clover Leaf's business strategy, operating environment, capital, liquidity and performance objectives, and for managing this risk consistent with the guidelines approved by the board of directors. Senior management monitors the level of interest rate risk on a regular basis, and the Asset/Liability Management Committee meets at least quarterly to review the asset/liability policies and interest rate risk position.

During the relatively low interest rate environment that has existed in recent years, we have implemented the following strategies to manage interest rate risk: (i) maintaining a high equity-to-assets ratio; and (ii) offering a variety of adjustable rate loan products, including adjustable rate one-to-four family, multi-family and non-residential mortgage loans, short-term consumer loans, and a variety of adjustable-rate commercial loans. By maintaining a high equity-to-assets ratio and by investing in adjustable-rate and short-term assets, we are better positioned to react to increases in market interest rates. However, maintaining high equity balances reduces the return-on-equity ratio, and investments in shorter-term assets generally bear lower yields than longer-term investments.

Net Portfolio Value

The Office of the Comptroller of Currency requires First Clover Leaf to monitor and test interest rate risk under increasing and decreasing rate shocks. First Clover Leaf utilized an independent third party to analyze interest rate risk sensitivity as of December 31, 2015 and 2014. The model uses a discounted cash flow analysis and an option-based pricing approach to measure the interest rate sensitivity of net portfolio value ("NPV"). The model estimates the economic value of each type of asset, liability and off-balance-sheet contract under the assumption of instantaneous rate increases of up to 400 basis points or decreases of 100 points in 100 basis point increments. An increase in interest rates from 3% to 4% would mean, for example, a 100 basis point increase in the “Change In Rates” column.

The tables below set forth, as of December 31, 2015 and 2014, the estimated changes in the NPV that would result from the designated instantaneous changes in the U.S. Treasury yield curve. Computations of prospective effects of hypothetical interest rate changes are based on numerous assumptions including relative levels of market interest rates, loan prepayments and deposit decay, and should not be relied upon as indicative of actual results.

The 2015 table below indicates that at December 31, 2015, in the event of a 100 basis point decrease in interest rates, we would experience a 9% decrease in the net portfolio value. In the event of a 400 basis point increase in interest rates, we would experience a 19% decrease in net portfolio value.

-100	88,703	3,234	4		14.28		24

Certain shortcomings are inherent in the methodology used in the above interest rate risk measurement. Modeling changes in net portfolio value require making certain assumptions that may or may not reflect the manner in which actual yields and costs respond to changes in market interest rates. In this regard, the net portfolio value table presented assumes that the composition of the interest-sensitive assets and liabilities existing at the beginning of a period remains constant over the period being measured and assumes that a particular change in interest rates is reflected uniformly across the yield curve regardless of the duration or repricing of specific assets and liabilities. Accordingly, although the net portfolio value table provides an indication of the interest rate risk exposure at a particular point in time, such measurements are not intended to and do not provide a precise forecast of the effect of changes in market interest rates on its net interest income and will differ from actual results.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

First Clover Leaf maintains liquid assets at levels considered adequate to meet liquidity needs. We adjust our liquidity levels to fund deposit outflows, repay our borrowings and fund loan commitments. We also adjust liquidity as appropriate to meet asset and liability management objectives.

Our primary sources of liquidity are deposits, amortization and prepayment of loans, maturities of investment securities and other short-term investments, and earnings and funds provided from operations. While scheduled principal repayments on loans are a relatively predictable source of funds, deposit flows and loan prepayments are greatly influenced by market interest rates, economic conditions, and rates offered by our competition. We set the interest rates on our deposits to maintain a desired level of total deposits. In addition, we invest excess funds in short-term interest-earning assets, which provide liquidity to meet lending requirements.

A portion of our liquidity consists of cash and cash equivalents, which are a product of our operating, investing and financing activities. At December 31, 2015 and 2014, $79.2 million and $49.1 million, respectively, were invested in cash and cash equivalents. The increase in our cash and cash equivalents was due to increases in deposits, Federal Home Loan Bank advances, and securities sold under agreements to repurchase, partially offset by an increase in loans. The primary sources of cash are principal repayments on loans, proceeds from the calls and maturities of investment securities, increases in deposit accounts and related securities sold under agreements to repurchase, and advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago.

Cash flows are derived from operating activities, investing activities and financing activities as reported in the Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows included with the Financial Statements for the periods ended December 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014.

Our primary investing activities are the origination of loans and the purchase of investment securities. During the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, loan originations exceeded principal collections by $18.7 million and $27.9 million, respectively. We received proceeds from sales of loans of $32.1 million and $20.6 million of one-to-four family real estate loans in 2015 and 2014, respectively. Cash received from calls, maturities and principal repayments of available-for-sale investment securities totaled $41.7 million and $37.0 million for 2015 and 2014, respectively. During 2015 and 2014, we also received proceeds of $1.6 million and $5.3 million, respectively, from sales of available-for-sale investment securities. We purchased $43.3 million and $26.7 million in available-for-sale investment securities during 2015 and 2014, respectively. During 2014, First Clover Leaf also purchased $6.0 million of bank-owned life insurance for investment purposes and to offset some of the expenses of our existing employee benefit plans, as permitted by federal regulation. There were no purchases of bank-owned life insurance during 2015. Deposit flows are generally affected by market interest rates, the products offered by local competitors, and other factors. The net increase in total deposits was $22.9 million and $7.8 million for 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Liquidity management is both a daily and long-term function of business management. If we require funds beyond our ability to generate them internally, borrowing agreements exist with the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago, which provides an additional source of funds. At December 31, 2015, we had $16.0 million in advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago and an additional available borrowing limit of approximately $76.2 million.

Additionally, we will sell investment securities under agreements to repurchase (commonly referred to as “repurchase agreements”) if we require additional liquidity. At December 31, 2015, our repurchase agreements totaled $19.7 million.

First Clover Leaf Bank is required to maintain certain minimum capital requirements under OCC regulations. Failure by a banking organization to meet minimum capital requirements can result in certain mandatory and possible discretionary actions by regulators, which, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on First Clover Leaf Bank’s financial statements. First Clover Leaf Bank was considered “well-capitalized” at December 31, 2015. See Note 14 to the Financial Statements as of and for the years ended December 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, included elsewhere in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and “Business of First Clover Leaf - Regulation and Supervision” beginning on page 102.

At December 31, 2015, certificates of deposit scheduled to mature within one year totaled $60.8 million. Based on prior experience, management believes that a significant portion of such deposits will remain with First Clover Leaf Bank, although there can be no assurance that this will be the case. In the event a significant portion of our deposits are not retained, First Clover Leaf Bank will have to utilize other funding sources, such as Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago advances, in order to maintain our level of assets. Alternatively, First Clover Leaf Bank would reduce the level of liquid assets, such as cash and cash equivalents. In addition, the cost of such deposits may be significantly higher if market interest rates are higher at the time of renewal.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

In the ordinary course of business, First Clover Leaf Bank is a party to credit-related financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk to meet the financing needs of our customers. These financial instruments include commitments to extend credit. First Clover Leaf Bank follows the same credit policies in making commitments as it does for on-balance sheet instruments.

Commitments to extend credit are agreements to lend to a customer as long as there is no violation of any condition established in the contract. Commitments generally have fixed expiration dates or other termination clauses and may require payment of a fee. The commitments for equity lines of credit may expire without being drawn upon.

Therefore, the total commitment amounts do not necessarily represent future cash requirements. The amount of collateral obtained, if it is deemed necessary by First Clover Leaf Bank, is based on management's credit evaluation of the customer.

Unfunded commitments under construction lines of credit for residential and multi-family properties are commitments for possible future extensions of credit to existing customers. These lines of credit are uncollateralized and usually do not contain a specified maturity date and may not be drawn upon to the total extent to which First Clover Leaf Bank is committed.

At December 31, 2015 and 2014, First Clover Leaf Bank had $80.3 million and $58.8 million, respectively, of commitments to extend credit, and $1.8 million and $1.7 million, respectively, of standby letters of credit.

Contractual Obligations. In the ordinary course of our operations, we enter into certain contractual obligations. Such obligations include agreements with respect to borrowed funds and deposit liabilities, agreements with respect to investments, and agreements with respect to securities sold under agreements to repurchase.

The following table summarizes our significant fixed and determinable contractual obligations and other funding needs by payment date at December 31, 2015. The payment amounts represent those amounts due to the recipient and do not include any unamortized premiums or discounts or other similar carrying amount adjustments.

Impact of Inflation and Changing Prices

The consolidated Financial Statements as of and for the periods ended December 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, and related Notes of First Clover Leaf have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). GAAP generally requires the measurement of financial position and operating results in terms of historical dollars without consideration for changes in the relative purchasing power of money over time due to inflation. The impact of inflation is reflected in the increased cost of our operations. Unlike industrial companies, our assets and liabilities are primarily monetary in nature. As a result, changes in market interest rates have a greater impact on performance than the effects of inflation.

MARKET FOR FIRST CLOVER LEAF'S COMMON EQUITY AND RELATED STOCKHOLDER MATTERS

First Clover Leaf voting common stock is traded on the NASDAQ Capital Market under the symbol "FCLF." As of March 31, 2016, First Clover Leaf had 7,005,883 outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf voting common stock held by approximately 590 registered stockholders and no outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf preferred stock.

The following table shows the high and low sale prices of First Clover Leaf voting common stock for each quarter of 2016 (through the latest practicable date), 2015 and 2014. The cash dividend payment for each quarter is also presented.

Second quarter	12.34	9.24	0.06
First quarter	9.78	8.88	0.06

As of April 25, 2016, the date immediately preceding the public announcement of the merger, the closing price of the First Clover Leaf voting common stock was $9.60.

First Clover Leaf expects that, subject to regulatory requirements and its financial condition and results of operations, quarterly dividends will continue to be paid in the future. For more information regarding First Clover Leaf's ability to pay dividends and restrictions thereon, see "Business of First Clover Leaf - Regulation and Supervision of First Clover Leaf - Dividend Payments" beginning on page 106. In addition, the Company is subject to state law limitations on the payment of dividends. Maryland law generally limits dividends if (1) the corporation would not be able to pay its debts in the usual course of business after giving effect to the dividend, or (2) if the corporation's total assets would be less than the corporation's total liabilities plus the amount needed to satisfy the preferential rights upon dissolution of stockholders whose preferential rights on dissolution are superior to those receiving the distribution.

SELECTED UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED
COMBINED FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The following tables show unaudited pro forma financial information about the financial condition and results of operations of First Mid, including per share data, after giving effect to the merger with First Clover Leaf and other pro forma adjustments. The unaudited pro forma financial information assumes that the merger is accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting for business combinations in accordance with GAAP, and that the assets and liabilities of First Clover Leaf will be recorded by First Mid at their respective fair values as of the date the merger is completed. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined balance sheet gives effect to the merger as if the merger had occurred on March 31, 2016. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined income statements for the three months ended March 31, 2016, and the year ended December 31, 2015, give effect to the merger as if the merger had become effective at January 1, 2015. The unaudited selected pro forma combined financial information has been derived from and should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and related notes of First Mid, which are incorporated in this joint proxy statement/prospectus by reference, and the consolidated financial statements and related notes of First Clover Leaf, which are included elsewhere in this joint proxy/prospectus by reference. See “Incorporation of Certain First Mid Documents by Reference”, “Where You Can Find More Information”, and “First Clover Leaf Financial Statements” beginning on pages 154, 153 and 155, respectively.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information is presented for illustrative purposes only and does not indicate the financial results of the combined company had the companies actually been combined at the beginning of each period presented. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information also does not consider any expense efficiencies, increased revenue or other potential financial benefits of the merger. In addition, as explained in more detail in the accompanying notes, the preliminary allocation of the pro forma purchase price reflected in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information is subject to adjustment and may vary significantly from the actual purchase price allocation that will be recorded upon completion of the merger.

Notes to Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Balance Sheet and Statement of Income

Note 1-Basis of Presentation

First Mid has agreed to acquire First Clover Leaf for $12.87 in cash or .495 shares of First Mid common stock and cash in lieu of fractional shares, for each share of First Clover Leaf common stock. Pursuant to the merger agreement, the total number of outstanding shares of First Clover Leaf common stock to be entitled to receive the cash consideration may not exceed 25%.

The acquisition will be accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting and, accordingly, the assets and liabilities of First Clover Leaf have been marked to estimated fair value upon conditions as of March 31, 2016 and as if the transaction had been effective on January 1, 2015 for statement of income data. Since these are pro forma statements, we cannot assure that the amounts reflected in these financial statements would have been representative of the actual amounts earned had the companies been combined at that time.

Note 2-Preliminary Purchase Price Allocation

The pro forma adjustments include the estimated purchase accounting entries to record the merger transaction. Under the acquisition method of accounting, the total purchase price is allocated to the acquired tangible and intangible assets and assumed liabilities of First Clover Leaf based on their estimated fair value as of the closing of the transaction. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed is allocated to goodwill. The preliminary purchase price allocation is as follows (dollars in thousands):

Pro forma purchase price	$90,166
Allocated to:
Net historical book value of First Clover Leaf assets and liabilities	81,498
Adjustments to record assets and liabilities at fair value:
Loans	(11,491)
Other real estate owned	(1,087)
Premises and equipment	(1,200)
Time deposits	(857)
FHLB borrowings	(399)
Core deposit intangible	6,175
Deferred taxes	3,101
Adjustments to eliminate First Clover Leaf existing assets:
Existing allowance for loan losses	6,137
Existing goodwill	(11,385)
Existing intangible assets	(124)
Existing deferred tax assets	(1,642)
Preliminary pro forma goodwill	$21,440

Note3-Pro Forma Adjustments

The following pro forma adjustments have been reflected in the pro forma condensed combined financial information. All taxable adjustments were calculated using a 35.0% tax rate to arrive at deferred tax asset or liability adjustments. All adjustments are based on current assumptions and valuations, which are subject to change.

A. Adjustment to cash and cash equivalents to reflect estimated cash of $22.5 million used to purchase First Clover Leaf.

Adjustment to loans to reflect estimated fair value adjustment, which includes credit loss expectations and a B. discount for interest rates. Of this amount, $8.6 million is expected to be accreted over the remaining life of the respective non-impaired loans.

C. Elimination of First Clover Leaf's existing allowance for loan losses. (Purchased loans in a business combination are recorded at estimated fair value on the purchase date and the carryover of the related allowance for loan losses is prohibited.)

D. Adjustment to acquired premises to reflect estimated fair value adjustment of $1.2 million.

E. Adjustments to eliminate First Clover Leaf's goodwill of $11.4 million and record estimated goodwill associated with transaction of $21.2 million.

F. Adjustment to eliminate First Clover Leaf's other intangible assets of $124,000 and record estimated core deposit intangible asset of $6.2 million, which will be amortized over an estimated 10 year useful life.

G. Adjustments to: other real estate owned to reflect estimated fair value adjustment of $1.1 million; eliminate net deferred tax assets of First Clover Leaf of $1.6 million; and reflect the effects on deferred tax assets of the acquisition accounting adjustments of $3.3 million.

H. Adjustment to time deposits to reflect estimated fair value adjustment of $857,000.

I. Adjustment to short-term debt to reflect draw on line of credit in connection with the transaction.

J. Adjustment to FHLB borrowings to reflect estimated fair value adjustment of $399,000.

K. Adjustments to accrued expenses and other liabilities to reflect the effects of one-time transaction costs of $7.6 million, net of associated taxes of $2.7 million. Significant costs include $3.1 million of employee related costs, $1.7 million of vendor termination costs, and $2.2 million of other professional fees.

L. Adjustments to: eliminate First Clover Leaf's common stockholders' equity of $81.5 million; record the issuance of 2.6 million shares of FMIB common stock at $26 per share totaling $67.6 million; and to reflect the effects of one-time transaction costs, net of tax.

M. Adjustments to eliminate 7,005,883 shares of First Clover Leaf's common stock outstanding and record 2,600,934 shares of First Mid's common stock issued in the transaction.

N. Adjustment to interest income to record estimated accretion of discounts on acquired loans.

O. Adjustment to interest expense to record estimated amortization of premium on acquired time deposits.

P. Adjustment to interest expense to reflect incremental interest expense related to $14 million long-term debt at interest rate of 2.5% (rate subject to change depending on date of close), in connection with the acquisition transaction.

Q. Adjustments to other expense to eliminate First Clover Leaf's amortization expense on eliminated intangible assets and record estimated amortization expense on acquired core deposit intangible asset.

R. Adjustment to other expense to reflect reduction of depreciation expense due to mark down of premises to fair value.

S. Adjustment to income tax expense to record the income tax effects of the pro forma adjustments at the estimated combined statutory federal and state tax rate of 35%.

Adjustment to weighted average shares of First Mid's common stock outstanding to eliminate First Clover Leaf's T. weighted average shares of common stock outstanding and record shares of First Mid's common stock issued in the transaction.

of directors constituting the entire board of directors shall be determined by resolution of the board of directors or by First Mid's stockholders at an annual meeting and shall be not less than one nor more than twenty-one.

First Mid's board of directors is divided into three classes. Directors are elected for three-year terms, with one class of directors up for election at each annual meeting of stockholders.

Each First Mid stockholder is entitled to one vote for each share of capital stock having voting power held by such stockholder.

Election of Directors;
Vacancies:

First Mid's amended and restated articles of incorporation and bylaws do not provide for cumulative voting.

First Mid's amended and restated articles of incorporation provide that any vacancy on the board of directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, or by a sole remaining director.

Removal of Directors:

First Mid's amended and restated articles of incorporation provide that any director, whether elected by the stockholders, or appointed by the directors, may be removed from office only for cause and by the affirmative vote or written consent of the holders of shares having at least 66.66% of the voting power of all outstanding capital stock of the corporation entitled to vote thereon.

Call of Special Meeting of Directors:

First Mid's amended and restated bylaws provide that a special meeting of the board of directors may be called by the president on two days' notice to each director, or called by the president or corporate secretary on the written request of two directors.

Limitation on Director Liability:

First Mid's amended and restated articles of incorporation provide that no director shall be personally liable to First Mid or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty by such director as a board of directors, but in no event shall be less than the minimum number of directors required by the MGCL. No decrease in the number of directors will have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent director.

First Clover Leaf Stockholder Rights

First Clover Leaf's board of directors is divided into three classes, as nearly equal in number as reasonably possible. Directors are elected for three-year terms, with one class of directors up for election at each annual meeting of stockholders.

Each First Clover Leaf stockholder is entitled to one vote for each share of voting stock held by such stockholder.

First Clover Leaf's articles of incorporation provide that stockholders may not be permitted to cumulate their votes in election of directors.

First Clover Leaf's bylaws provide that any vacancy on the board of directors may be filled by an affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors then in office.

Subject to the rights of the holders of any series of First Clover Leaf preferred stock then outstanding, First Clover Leaf's articles of incorporation provide that any director or the entire board may be removed, only for cause, by the affirmative vote of 80% of the outstanding shares entitled to vote.

First Clover Leaf's bylaws provide that a special meeting of the board of directors may be called by the president or by one-third of the directors.

First Clover Leaf's articles of incorporation provides that a director of First Clover Leaf shall not be liable to First Clover Leaf or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except:

director; provided, however, that liability is not eliminated or limited with respect to: (i) any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to First Mid or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) under section 174 of the DGCL, or (iv) for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit.

First Clover Leaf Stockholder Rights

(i) to the extent that the director received an improper benefit or profit in money, property or services for the amount of the benefit actually received, (ii) to the extent that a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the person is entered in a proceeding based on a finding in the proceeding that the person's action, or failure to act, was the result of active and deliberate dishonesty and was material to the cause of action adjudicated in the proceeding, or (iii) to the extent otherwise provided in the MGCL.

First Clover Leaf's articles of incorporation provides that First Clover Leaf will indemnify any person who is or was a director or executive officer of First Clover Leaf or any other entity at First Clover Leaf's request, to the fullest extent required or permitted by law.

First Clover Leaf may also indemnify other employees and agents to the extent authorized by First Clover Leaf's board of directors and permitted by law. First Clover Leaf limits its indemnification of any indemnitee to proceedings initiated by such indemnitee that is authorized by the First Clover Leaf board of directors, except for proceedings to enforce the indemnitee's right to indemnification.

First Clover Leaf's bylaws provide that a special meeting of the stockholders may be called by (i) the president, (ii) the board of directors pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the whole board, and (iii) the corporate secretary by written request of stockholders entitled to cast at least a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast at the meeting. Such a request must state the purpose or purposes of the meeting and the matters proposed to be acted upon at the meeting, and shall be delivered at the principal office of First Clover Leaf addressed to the president or the corporate secretary.

Indemnification:

First Mid's amended and restated articles of incorporation provide that First Mid shall indemnify all persons whom it may indemnify to the fullest extent permitted by Section 145 of the DGCL.

Call of Special Meetings of Stockholders:

First Mid's amended and restated bylaws provide that a special meeting of the stockholders may be called by the president and shall be called by the president or secretary at the request in writing of a majority of the board of directors, or at the request in writing of stockholders owning a majority in an amount of the entire capital stock of First Mid issued and outstanding and entitled to vote. Such request must state the purpose or purposes of the proposed meeting.

Advance Notice
Regarding Stockholders
Nomination of Candidates for Election to the Board of Directors:

First Mid's amended and restated articles of incorporation provide that nominations, other than those made by or on behalf of the existing First Mid board of directors shall be made pursuant to timely notice in proper written form to the First Mid's corporate secretary.

To be timely, a stockholder's nomination shall be delivered or mailed by first class United States mail, postage prepaid, to the corporate secretary of First Mid not fewer than 14 days nor more than 60 days prior to any meeting of the stockholders called for the election of directors.

Each written nomination shall set forth (1) the name, age, business address and, if known, residence address of each nominee proposed in such written nomination, (2) the principal occupation or employment of each such nominee for the past five years and (3) the number of shares of stock of the Corporation beneficially owned by each such nominee and by the nominating stockholder.

First Clover Leaf's bylaws provide that all director nominations by stockholders shall be made pursuant to timely notice in proper written form to First Clover Leaf's corporate secretary.

To be timely, a stockholder's notice shall be delivered or mailed to and received by the corporate secretary at First Clover Leaf's principal executive office not later than the close of business on the 90th day nor earlier than the close of business on the 120th day prior to the anniversary date of the date of the proxy statement relating to the preceding year's annual meeting.

A stockholder's notice must be in writing and set forth (a) as to each person whom the stockholder proposes to nominate for election as a director, all information relating to such person that is required to be disclosed in connection with solicitations of proxies for election of directors, or is otherwise required, in each case pursuant to Regulation 14A under the Exchange Act, or any successor rule or regulation; and (b) as to the stockholder giving the notice: (i) the name and address of such stockholder as they appear on the Corporation's books and of the beneficial owner, if any, on whose behalf the nomination is made; (ii) the class or series and number of shares of capital stock of First Clover Leaf which are owned beneficially or of record by such stockholder and such beneficial owner; (iii) a description of all arrangements or understandings between such stockholder and each proposed nominee and any other person or persons (including their names) pursuant to which the nomination(s) are to be made by such stockholder; (iv) a representation that such stockholder intends to appear in person or by proxy at the meeting to nominate the persons named in its notice; and (v) any other information relating to such stockholder that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made in connection with solicitations of proxies for election of directors pursuant to Regulation 14A under the Exchange Act or any successor rule or regulation. Such notice must be accompanied by a written consent of each proposed nominee to be named as a nominee and to serve as a director if elected.

First Mid's amended and restated bylaws provide that any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of First Mid stockholders, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of First Mid stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted. Prompt notice of the taking of the corporate action without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to First Mid stockholders who have not consented in writing.

First Clover Leaf's bylaws provide that any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the stockholders may be taken without a meeting if a unanimous consent which sets forth the action is given in writing or by electronic transmission by each stockholder entitled to vote on the matter and is filed in paper or electronic format with the records of stockholder meetings.

Appointment
of Officers:

First Mid's amended and restated bylaws provide that each officer shall be chosen by the board of directors and shall hold their office for such terms as determined from time to time by the board of directors and until his or her successor is chosen and qualified.

Any officer may be removed by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board of directors.

Amendment to Charter and Bylaws:

Under its amended and restated articles of incorporation, First Mid reserves the right to amend, alter, change or repeal any provision contained in its articles of incorporation.

Pursuant to First Mid's amended and restated bylaws and articles of incorporation, the bylaws may be altered, amended or repealed or new bylaws may be adopted by the stockholders or by the board of directors at any regular meeting of the board of directors or of the stockholders or at any special meeting of the board of directors or of the stockholders, if notice of such alteration, amendment, repeal or adoption of new by-laws be contained in the notice of such special meeting of the stockholders.

First Clover Leaf Stockholder Rights

First Clover Leaf's bylaws provide that the officers shall be appointed by the board of directors and shall hold the office until the next annual election and until their respective successors are chosen.

Any officer may be removed by the affirmative vote of a majority of the authorized number of directors then constituting the board of directors.

Under its articles of incorporation, First Clover Leaf reserves the right to amend or repeal any provision contained in its articles of incorporation, and amendments to the articles of incorporation shall be made in the manner prescribed by the MGCL.

Pursuant to First Clover Leaf's bylaws and articles of incorporation, the bylaws may be amended or repealed.

STOCKHOLDER PROPOSALS

First Mid. First Mid's 2016 annual meeting of stockholders was held on April 27, 2016. First Mid generally holds its annual meeting of the stockholders in April of each year and it is anticipated that its 2017 annual meeting of stockholders will be held in April of 2017. In order to be eligible for inclusion in First Mid's proxy materials for the 2017 annual meeting of stockholders, any stockholder proposal to take action at such meeting must be received at First Mid's main office at 1421 Charleston Avenue, P.O. Box 499, Mattoon, Illinois 61938, no later than November 15, 2016. Any such proposal shall be subject to the requirements of the proxy rules adopted under the Securities Exchange Act. Any stockholder wishing to nominate an individual for election as a director at the 2017 annual meeting must comply with certain provisions in First Mid's Certificate of Incorporation. First Mid's Certificate of Incorporation establishes an advance notice procedure with regard to the nomination, other than by or at the direction of First Mid's board of directors, of candidates for election as directors. If the notice is not timely and in proper form, the proposed nomination will not be considered at the annual meeting. Generally, such notice must be delivered to or mailed to and received by the corporate secretary of First Mid not fewer than 14 days nor more than 60 days before a meeting at which directors are to be elected. To be in proper form, each written nomination must set forth: (1) the name, age business address and, if known, the residence address of the nominee, (2) the principal occupation or employment of the nominee for the past five years, and (3) the number of shares of stock of First Mid beneficially owned by the nominee and by the nominating stockholder. The stockholder must also comply with certain other provisions set forth in First Mid's Certificate of Incorporation relating to the nomination of an individual for election as a director. In addition, if First Mid does not receive notice of a stockholder proposal for the 2017 annual meeting of stockholders at least 45 days before the one-year anniversary of the date that First Mid's proxy statement was released to the stockholders for its previous year's annual meeting, proxies solicited by the management of First Mid will confer discretionary authority upon the management of First Mid to vote upon any such proposal.

First Clover Leaf. If the merger occurs, there will be no First Clover Leaf annual meeting of stockholders for 2016. In that case, holders of First Clover Leaf common stock who become holders of First Mid common stock must submit any stockholder proposals to First Mid in accordance with the procedures described above. First Clover Leaf will hold its 2016 annual meeting of stockholders only if the merger is not completed. First Clover Leaf's bylaws provide that in order for a stockholder to make nominations for the election of directors or proposals for business to be brought before the annual meeting, a stockholder must give written notice to First Clover Leaf's corporate secretary not more than 120 days and not less than 90 days prior to the anniversary date of its proxy materials for the preceding year's annual meeting; provided, however, that if the date of the annual meeting is advanced more than 20 days, or delayed by more than 60 days, from the anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting, notice by the stockholder, to be timely, must be received not earlier than the close of business on the 120th day prior to the date of such annual meeting and not later than the close of business on the later of (A) the 90th day prior to the date of such annual meeting or (B) the tenth day following the first to occur of (i) the day on which notice of the date of the annual meeting was mailed or otherwise transmitted or (ii) the day on which we first make public announcement of the date of the annual meeting. The notice must include the stockholder's name, record address, and number of shares owned, describe briefly the proposed business, the reasons for bringing the business before the annual meeting, any arrangements between such stockholder and any other person in connection with the proposal of such business, any material interest of the stockholder in the proposed business, and a representation that such stockholder intends to appear in person or by proxy at the annual meeting to bring such proposal before the meeting. In the case of nominations to the First Clover Leaf board of directors, certain information regarding the nominee must be provided. In order for a stockholder proposal to be included in the proxy materials for the annual meeting of the stockholders, a stockholder must submit it to First Clover Leaf's corporate secretary not less than 120 days prior to the anniversary date of its proxy materials for the preceding year's annual meeting; provided however that if the date of the annual meeting is delayed by more than 30 days from the anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting, then the deadline is a reasonable time before First Clover Leaf begins to print and send its proxy materials. Nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to require First Clover Leaf to include in the proxy statement and proxy relating to an annual meeting any stockholder proposal that does not meet all of the requirements for inclusion established by the SEC in effect at the time such proposal is received.

LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the First Mid common stock to be issued in connection with the merger will be passed upon for First Mid by Schiff Hardin LLP. Certain U.S. federal income tax consequences relating to the merger will be passed upon for First Mid by Schiff Hardin LLP and for First Clover Leaf by Barack Ferrazzano Kirschbaum & Nagelberg LLP.

INCORPORATION OF CERTAIN FIRST MID DOCUMENTS BY REFERENCE

The SEC allows First Mid to “incorporate by reference” the information that it files with the SEC, which means that First Mid can disclose important information to you by referring to its filings with the SEC. The information incorporated by reference is considered a part of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and certain information that First Mid files later with the SEC will automatically update and supersede the information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

First Mid incorporates by reference the following documents First Mid has filed with the SEC pursuant to Sections 13(a), 13(c), 14 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, other than information in these documents that is not deemed to be filed with the SEC:

• First Mid’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015, filed with the SEC on March 4, 2016;

• First Mid’s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the period ended March 31, 2016, filed with the SEC on May 6, 2016;
• Proxy Statement on Schedule 14A and Definitive Additional Materials for the 2016 annual meeting of stockholders, each filed on March 18, 2016;

• The description of First Mid’s common stock contained in First Mid’s registration statement on 8-A, filed on April 30, 2014, and any amendment or report filed for the purpose of updating such description; and

• First Mid’s Current Reports on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on March 25, 2016, April 26, 2016, April 28, 2016, May 17, 2016, June 28, 2016 and July 1, 2016.

In addition, First Mid is incorporating by reference any documents it may file under Section 13(a), 13(c), 14 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act after the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and prior to the date of the special meetings of the First Mid stockholders, provided, however, that First Mid not incorporating by reference any information furnished (but not filed), except as otherwise specified herein.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The information contained in the accompanying consolidated financial statements is unaudited. In the opinion of management, the consolidated financial statements contain all adjustments necessary for a fair statement of the results of operations for the interim periods. All such adjustments are of a normal recurring nature. Any differences appearing between the numbers presented in the financial statements and management's discussion and analysis are due to rounding. The results of operations for the interim periods are not necessarily indicative of the results which may be expected for the entire year or for any other period. These consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements of First Clover Leaf Financial Corp. (the "Company" or "First Clover Leaf") for the year ended December 31, 2015 contained in the 2015 Annual Report to Stockholders that is filed as Exhibit 13 to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K. Accordingly, footnote disclosures which would substantially duplicate the disclosures in the audited consolidated financial statements have been omitted.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reported periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The Company is a single-bank holding company, whose wholly-owned bank subsidiary, First Clover Leaf Bank (the "Bank"), which is a community bank operating with six branch locations in Madison and St. Clair Counties in Illinois along with one branch location in Clayton, Missouri. The Bank is subject to competition from other financial institutions and nonfinancial institutions providing financial products and services. Additionally, the Company and the Bank are subject to the regulations of certain regulatory agencies and undergo periodic examinations by those regulatory agencies. In August 2014, the Bank converted from a federal savings and loan association to a nationally chartered bank. First Clover Leaf's common stock is traded on the NASDAQ Capital Market under the symbol "FCLF". Recent Accounting Pronouncements: The following accounting standards were recently issued relating to the financial services industry:

In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standard Board (the "FASB") issued an update creating FASB Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The guidance in this update affects any entity that either enters into contracts with customers to transfer goods or services or enters into contracts for the transfer of nonfinancial assets unless those contracts are within the scope of other standards (for example, insurance contracts or lease contracts). The core principle of the guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The guidance provides steps to follow to achieve the core principle. An entity should disclose sufficient information to enable users of financial statements to understand the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from contracts with customers. Qualitative and quantitative information is required about contracts with customers, significant judgments and changes in judgments, and assets recognized from the costs to obtain or fulfill a contract. The amendments in this update become effective for annual periods and interim periods within those annual periods beginning after December 15, 2017. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting the new guidance on the consolidated financial statements.

In January 2016, the FASB issued an update (ASU No. 2016-01, Financial Instruments - Recognition and Measurement of Financial Assets and Liabilities). The new guidance is intended to improve the recognition and measurement of financial instruments by requiring: equity investments (other than equity method or consolidation) to be measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in net income; public business entities to use the exit price notion when measuring the fair value of financial instruments for disclosure purposes; separate presentation of financial assets and financial liabilities by measurement category and form of financial assets (i.e. securities or loans and receivables) on the balance sheet or the accompanying notes to the financial statements; eliminating the requirement to disclose the fair value of financial instruments measured at amortized cost for organizations that are not public business entities; eliminating the requirement for non-public business entities to disclose the method(s) and significant assumptions used to estimate the fair value that is to be required to be disclosed for financial instruments measured at amortized cost on the balance sheet; and requiring a reporting organization to present separately in other comprehensive income the portion of the total change in fair value of a liability resulting from the change in the instrument-specific credit risk (also referred to as “own credit”) when the organization has elected to measure the liability at fair value in accordance with the fair value option for financial instruments. The new guidance is effective for public business entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2017. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting the new guidance on the consolidated financial statements. In February 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-02, "Leases (Topic 842)" ("ASU 2016-02"). The standard requires a lessee to recognize assets and liabilities on the balance sheet for leases with lease terms greater than 12 months. ASU 2016-02 is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2018, and early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the impact that the standard will have on our consolidated financial statements.

Reclassifications: Certain reclassifications have been made to conform to the current year presentation. These reclassifications had no impact on the Company's net income or total stockholders' equity.

Management evaluates the investment portfolio on at least a quarterly basis to determine if investments have suffered an other-than-temporary decline in value. In addition, management monitors market trends, investment grades, bond defaults and other circumstances to identify trends and circumstances that might impact the carrying value of equity securities.

At March 31, 2016, the Company had 18 securities in an unrealized loss position which included: seven state and municipal securities and 11 mortgage-backed securities. This was a decrease from 67 securities at December 31, 2015. The unrealized losses resulted from changes in market interest rates and liquidity, as opposed to changes in the probability of contractual cash flows. The Company does not intend to sell the securities, and it is not more-likely-than-not that the Company will be required to sell the securities prior to recovery of the amortized cost. Full collection of the amounts due according to the contractual terms of the securities was expected as of March 31, 2016; therefore, the Company did not consider these investments to be other-than-temporarily impaired at March 31, 2016.

NOTE 2 - SECURITIES AVAILABLE FOR SALE (Continued)

The amortized cost and fair value of the Company's securities at March 31, 2016 by contractual maturity, are shown below. Maturities may differ from contractual maturities in mortgage-backed securities because the mortgages underlying the securities may be called or repaid without any penalties. Additionally, an item in our "other securities" category has no stated maturity. Therefore, stated maturities are not disclosed for these items.

	Amortized Cost	Fair Value
Due after one year through five years	24,628,793	24,964,795
Due after five years through ten years	31,929,138	32,857,989

Mortgage-backed: residential	31,162,379	31,244,640
	$105,163,944	$106,851,846

Securities with a carrying amount of approximately $84,723,000 and $66,882,000 were pledged to secure deposits, as required or permitted by law, at March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015, respectively.

At March 31, 2016 there were no holdings of securities of any one issuer, other than the U.S. Government and its agencies, in an amount greater than 10% of stockholders' equity. The Company received proceeds of $3,686,240 from the sale of securities during the three months ended March 31, 2016, resulting in gross realized gains of $29,489 and gross realized losses of $308. For the same time period last year, there were no sales of securities.

The Company has certain lending policies and procedures in place that are designed to maximize loan income within an acceptable level of risk. Management reviews and presents these policies to the board of directors at least annually. A reporting system supplements the review process by providing management with reports related to loan production, loan quality, loan delinquencies and non-performing and potential problem loans.

Additional information regarding our accounting policies for the individual loan categories is contained in our 2015 Annual Report to Stockholders that is filed as Exhibit 13 to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K.

On occasion, the Company originates loans secured by single-family dwellings with initial loan to value ratios exceeding 90%. As of March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015, these loans represented 1.88% and 2.07%, respectively, of our combined one-to-four family and home equity portfolios. The Company did not consider the level of such loans to be a significant concentration of credit as of March 31, 2016 or December 31, 2015.

The recorded investment in loans does not include accrued interest and loan origination fees due to immateriality. The allowance for loan losses does not include a component for undisbursed loan commitments; rather this amount is included in other liabilities.

All loans are reviewed on a regular basis and are placed on non-accrual status when, in the opinion of management, there is reasonable probability of loss of principal or collection of additional interest is deemed insufficient to warrant further accrual. Generally, we place all loans 90 days or more past due on non-accrual status. However, exceptions may occur when a loan is in process of renewal, but it has not yet been completed. In addition, we may place any loan on non-accrual status if any part of it is classified as loss or if any part has been charged-off. When a loan is placed on non-accrual status, total interest accrued and unpaid to date is reversed. Subsequent payments are applied to the outstanding principal balance.
