Item 8.01 Other Events.

On December 20, 2010, AT&T announced an agreement to purchase spectrum licenses in the Lower 700 MHz frequency band from Qualcomm Incorporated. The spectrum covers more than 300 million people total nationwide, including 12 MHz of Lower 700 MHz D and E block spectrum covering more than 70 million people in five of the top 15 metropolitan areas and 6 MHz of Lower 700 MHz D block spectrum covering more than 230 million people across the rest of the U.S. AT&T plans to deploy this spectrum as supplemental downlink capacity, using carrier aggregation technology. This technology is expected to be enabled with the completion of 3GPP Release 10. AT&T expects to begin deploying this spectrum once compatible handsets and network equipment are developed. AT&T will pay approximately $1.925 billion in cash for these licenses. The transaction is subject to regulatory approvals and other customary closing conditions, and AT&T and Qualcomm anticipate closing the purchase in the second half of 2011.
