(Unaudited)

NOTE 1 – BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The condensed consolidated financial information of Pall Corporation and its subsidiaries (hereinafter collectively called the “Company”) included herein is unaudited. Such information reflects all adjustments of a normal recurring nature, which are, in the opinion of Company management, necessary to present fairly the Company’s consolidated financial position, results of operations and cash flows as of the dates and for the periods presented herein. These condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes set forth in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended July 31, 2014 (“2014 Form 10-K”).

NOTE 2 – BALANCE SHEET DETAILS

Other	3,647	2,580	1,067
	$352,104	$109,681	$242,423

Amortization expense for intangible assets for the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013 was $6,217 and $4,724, respectively. Amortization expense is estimated to be approximately $17,189 for the remainder of fiscal year 2015, $22,087 in fiscal year 2016, $21,799 in fiscal year 2017, $21,660 in fiscal year 2018, $19,443 in fiscal year 2019, and $18,116 in fiscal year 2020.

NOTE 4 – TREASURY STOCK

The following table highlights the share repurchase authorizations in effect during fiscal year 2015:

	Date of Authorization
	Jan 17, 2013	Jul 17, 2014	Oct 9, 2014	Total
Amount available for repurchases as of July 31, 2014	$81,873	$600,000	$—	$681,873
New authorizations	—	—	200,000	200,000
Utilized	(81,873)	(218,127)	—	(300,000)
Amount available for repurchases as of October 31, 2014	$—	$381,873	$200,000	$581,873

The Company's shares may be purchased over time as market and business conditions warrant. There is no time restriction on these authorizations. In August 2014, the Company entered into an Accelerated Share Repurchase ("ASR") agreement with a third-party financial institution to repurchase $300,000 of the Company's common stock. Under the agreement, the Company paid $300,000 to the financial institution and received an initial delivery of approximately 3,056 shares at an aggregate cost of $255,000, with an average price per share of $83.43. These shares were included in treasury stock in the accompanying condensed balance sheet as of October 31, 2014. The remaining $45,000 was included in additional paid in capital in the accompanying condensed balance sheet as of October 31, 2014. The transaction was completed in the second quarter of fiscal year 2015, with the Company receiving approximately 405 additional shares, at which time the $45,000 initially included in additional paid in capital was reclassified to treasury stock. The final number of shares delivered upon settlement of the transaction was determined with reference to the average price of the Company's common stock over the term of the ASR agreement. During the three months ended October 31, 2014, 132 shares were issued under the Company's stock-based compensation plans. At October 31, 2014, the Company held 21,035 treasury shares.

NOTE 5 – CONTINGENCIES AND COMMITMENTS

With respect to the matters described in Note 14, Contingencies and Commitments, to the Company's consolidated financial statements included in the Company's 2014 Form 10-K and below, the Company has assessed the ultimate resolution of these matters and has reflected appropriate contingent liabilities in the condensed consolidated financial statements as of October 31, 2014 and July 31, 2014.

The Company and its subsidiaries are subject to certain other legal actions that arise in the normal course of business. Other than those legal proceedings and claims discussed in the 2014 Form 10-K and this Note, the Company is not facing any other legal proceedings and claims that would individually or in the aggregate have a reasonably possible material adverse effect on its financial condition or operating results. As such, any reasonably possible loss or range of loss, other than those legal proceedings discussed in the 2014 Form 10-K and this Note, is immaterial. However, the results of legal proceedings cannot be predicted with certainty. If the Company failed to prevail in several of these legal matters in the same reporting period, the operating results of a particular reporting period could be materially adversely affected.

Environmental Matters

The Company's condensed consolidated balance sheet at October 31, 2014 includes liabilities for environmental matters of $18,896 which relate primarily to the environmental proceedings discussed in the 2014 Form 10-K and as updated in this Note. In the opinion of management, the Company is in substantial compliance with applicable environmental laws and its current accruals for environmental remediation are adequate. However, as regulatory standards under environmental laws are becoming increasingly stringent, there can be no assurance that future developments, additional information and experience gained will not cause the Company to incur material environmental liabilities or costs beyond those accrued in its condensed consolidated financial statements.

NOTE 6 – RESTRUCTURING AND OTHER CHARGES, NET

(1) Restructuring:

In fiscal year 2012, the Company announced a multi-year strategic cost reduction initiative (“structural cost improvement initiative”). This initiative impacts both segments as well as the Corporate Services Group. The goal of this initiative is to properly position the Company’s cost structure globally to perform in the current economic environment without adversely impacting its growth or innovation potential.

Key components of the structural cost improvement initiative include:

- the strategic alignment of manufacturing, sales and R&D facilities to cost-effectively deliver high-quality products and superior service to the Company’s customers worldwide,
- creation of regional and global shared financial services centers for the handling of accounting transaction processing and other accounting functions,
- reorganization of sales functions, to more cost-efficiently deliver superior service to the Company’s customers globally, and
- reductions in headcount across all functional areas, enabled by efficiencies gained through the Company’s ERP systems, as well as in order to align to economic conditions.

Restructuring charges recorded in the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013 primarily reflect the expenses incurred in connection with the Company’s structural cost improvement initiative as discussed above.

(2) Other Charges/(Gains):

Severance benefits and other employment contract obligations: In the three months ended October 31, 2013, the Company recorded charges related to certain employment contract obligations.

Environmental matters: In the three months ended October 31, 2013, the Company increased its previously established environmental reserve related to a matter in Pinellas Park, Florida.

The following table summarizes the activity related to restructuring liabilities recorded for the Company’s structural cost improvement initiative which began in fiscal year 2012:

NOTE 7 – INCOME TAXES

The Company's effective tax rates for the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013 were 25.2% and 22.6%, respectively. For the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013, the effective tax rate varied from the U.S. federal statutory rate primarily due to the benefits of foreign operations.

At October 31, 2014 and July 31, 2014, the Company had gross unrecognized income tax benefits of $197,611 and $202,564, respectively. During the three months ended October 31, 2014, the amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits decreased by $4,953, primarily due to the recognition of a tax position taken in a prior year and the impact of foreign currency translation partially offset by tax positions taken during the current period. As of October 31, 2014, the amount of net unrecognized income tax benefits that, if recognized, would impact the effective tax rate was $160,421.

At October 31, 2014 and July 31, 2014, the Company had liabilities of $15,546 and $14,556, respectively, for potential payment of interest and penalties.

Due to the potential resolution of tax examinations and the expiration of various statutes of limitation, the Company believes that it is reasonably possible that the gross amount of unrecognized tax benefits may decrease within the next twelve months by a range of zero to $44,850.

NOTE 8 – COMPONENTS OF NET PERIODIC PENSION COST

Net periodic pension benefit cost for the Company's defined benefit pension plans includes the following components:

	Three Months Ended
	U.S. Plans		Foreign Plans		Total
	Oct 31, 2014	Oct 31, 2013	Oct 31, 2014	Oct 31, 2013	Oct 31, 2014	Oct 31, 2013

Amortization of actuarial loss	1,019	1,344	1,374	1,386	2,393	2,730
Net periodic benefit cost	$4,386	$4,612	$2,474	$3,137	$6,860	$7,749

NOTE 9 – STOCK-BASED PAYMENT

The Company currently has three stock-based employee and director compensation plans — the Pall Corporation 2012 Stock Compensation Plan, under which the Company may grant stock options, restricted shares, restricted units, performance shares, and performance units; the Management Stock Purchase Plan ("MSPP"); and the Employee Stock Purchase Plan ("ESPP"). These three plans are more fully described in Note 15, Common Stock, to the consolidated financial statements included in the 2014 Form 10-K.

The detailed components of stock-based compensation expense recorded in the condensed consolidated statements of earnings for the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013 are reflected in the table below:

	Three Months Ended

NOTE 10 – EARNINGS PER SHARE

The condensed consolidated statements of earnings present basic and diluted earnings per share. Basic earnings per share is determined by dividing income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted earnings per share considers the potential effect of dilution on basic earnings per share assuming potentially dilutive shares that meet certain criteria, such as those issuable upon exercise of stock options, were outstanding. The treasury stock method reduces the dilutive effect of potentially dilutive securities as it assumes that any cash proceeds (from the issuance of potentially dilutive securities) are used to buy back shares at the average share price during the period. Equity awards aggregating, 482 and 529 were not included in the computation of diluted shares for the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013, respectively, because their effect would have been antidilutive. The following is a reconciliation between basic shares outstanding and diluted shares outstanding:

	Three Months Ended
	Oct 31, 2014	Oct 31, 2013
Basic shares outstanding	108,081	111,870
Effect of stock plans	1,138	1,265
Diluted shares outstanding	109,219	113,135

NOTE 11 – FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The Company records certain of its financial assets and liabilities at fair value, which is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The current authoritative guidance discusses valuation techniques, such as the market approach (comparable market prices), the income approach (present value of future income or cash flow), and the cost approach (cost to replace the service capacity of an asset or replacement cost). Authoritative guidance utilizes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels. The following is a brief description of those three levels:

Level 1: Use of observable inputs such as quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Use of inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1, which are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data.

Level 3: Use of inputs that are unobservable.

The Company's money market funds and equity securities are valued using quoted market prices and, as such, are classified within Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

The fair value of the Company's investments in debt securities are valued utilizing third party pricing services and verified by management. The pricing services use inputs to determine fair value which are derived from observable market sources including reportable trades, benchmark curves, credit spreads, broker/dealer quotes, bids, offers, and other industry and economic events. These investments are included in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

The fair values of the Company's foreign currency forward contracts are valued using pricing models, with all significant inputs derived from or corroborated by observable market data such as yield curves, currency spot and forward rates, and currency volatilities. These investments are included in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

NOTE 13 – DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS AND HEDGING ACTIVITIES

The Company manages certain financial exposures through a risk management program that includes the use of foreign exchange derivative financial instruments. Derivatives are executed with counterparties with a minimum credit rating of “A” by Standard & Poors and “A2” by Moody’s Investor Services, in accordance with the Company’s policies. The Company does not utilize derivative instruments for trading or speculative purposes. As of October 31, 2014, the Company had foreign currency forward contracts outstanding with notional amounts aggregating $406,297, whose fair values were a net asset of $3,084.

Foreign Exchange Related

a. Derivatives Not Designated as Hedging Instruments

The risk management objective of holding foreign exchange derivatives is to mitigate volatility to earnings and cash flows due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company and its subsidiaries conduct transactions in currencies other than their functional currencies. These transactions include non-functional intercompany and external sales as well as intercompany and external purchases. The Company uses foreign exchange forward contracts, matching the notional amounts and durations of the receivables and payables resulting from the aforementioned underlying foreign currency transactions, to mitigate the exposure to earnings and cash flows caused by the changes in fair value of these receivables and payables from fluctuating foreign exchange rates. The notional amount of foreign currency forward contracts not designated as hedging instruments entered into during the three months ended October 31, 2014 was $821,771. The notional amount of foreign currency forward contracts outstanding that were not designated as hedging instruments as of October 31, 2014 was $315,289.

b. Cash Flow Hedges

The Company uses foreign exchange forward contracts for cash flow hedging on its future transactional exposure to the Euro due to changes in market rates to exchange Euros for British Pounds. The hedges cover a British subsidiary (British Pound functional) with Euro revenues and a Swiss subsidiary (Euro functional) with British Pound expenses. The probability of the occurrence of these transactions is high and the Company’s assessment is based on observable facts including the frequency and amounts of similar past transactions. The objective of the cash flow hedges is to lock a portion of the British Pound equivalent amount of Euro sales for the British subsidiary and a portion of the Euro equivalent amount of British Pound expenses for the Swiss subsidiary at the agreed upon exchange rates in the foreign exchange forward contracts. The notional amount of foreign currency forward contracts designated as hedging instruments entered into during the three months ended October 31, 2014 was $20,429. The notional amount of foreign currency forward contracts outstanding designated as hedging instruments as of October 31, 2014 was $91,008 and covers certain monthly transactional exposures through November 2015.

c. Net Investment Hedges

The risk management objective of designating the Company’s foreign currency loan as a hedge of a portion of its net investment in a wholly owned Japanese subsidiary is to mitigate the change in the fair value of the Company’s net investment due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company uses a JPY loan outstanding to hedge its equity of the same amount in the Japanese wholly owned subsidiary. The hedge of net investment consists of a JPY 9 billion loan.

NOTE 16 – ACQUISITIONS

2014 Acquisitions

During fiscal year 2014, the Company completed four acquisitions – in the first quarter, Medistad Holding BV (“Medistad”), a European manufacturing entity; in the second quarter, SoloHill Engineering, Inc. (“SoloHill”), a U.S. technology company; in the third quarter, the Life Sciences business of ATMI, Inc. (“ATMI LifeSciences”), a technology leader in the field of single-use bioprocess equipment and consumables for the biopharmaceutical and biotechnology industries; and in the fourth quarter, Filter Specialists, Inc. (“FSI”), a U.S. based worldwide supplier of filtration products and solutions.

The above transactions (the “2014 acquisitions”) were funded with available cash and borrowings under the Company's commercial paper program. Tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed were recognized based upon their estimated fair values at the respective closing dates. The Company is currently in the process of finalizing the valuations of acquired tangible and intangible assets and liabilities for the SoloHill, ATMI LifeSciences, and FSI acquisitions, and will make appropriate adjustments to the purchase price allocation prior to completion of the measurement period, as required.

The results of operations for the 2014 acquisitions since their respective acquisition dates are included in the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements. The results of operations for FSI are reported in the Industrial Segment, and the results of operations for ATMI LifeSciences, Medistad, and SoloHill are reported in the Life Sciences segment. The impact of the 2014 acquisitions was not material, individually or in the aggregate, to the company's condensed consolidated financial position or results from operations. Additionally, assuming these transactions had occurred at the beginning of the respective fiscal years, the consolidated pro forma results would not be materially different from reported results for the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

The following discussion should be read together with the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements and notes thereto and other financial information in this Form 10-Q and in the Pall Corporation and its subsidiaries (hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Company", "we" and "our") Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended July 31, 2014 ("2014 Form 10-K"). Certain information is presented below excluding the impact of foreign exchange translation ("translational FX") (i.e., had exchange rates not changed year over year). We consider year over year change excluding translational FX to be an important measure because by excluding the impact of volatility of exchange rates, underlying impact of volume and rate changes are evident. United States ("U.S.") Dollar amounts discussed below are in thousands, unless otherwise indicated, except per share dollar amounts. In addition, per share dollar amounts are discussed on a diluted basis. Our gross margin is impacted by the fluctuation of the costs of products that are sourced in a currency different from the currency they are sold in ("transactional FX") and our discussion of gross margin below may include references to this. We utilize certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported financial information as well as to quantify the impact of various significant factors that contribute to the changes in our periodic results included in the discussion below.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS AND RISK FACTORS

The matters discussed in this Quarterly Report contain "forward-looking statements" as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements are those that address activities, events or developments that we intend, expect, project, believe or anticipate will or may occur in the future. All statements regarding future performance, earnings projections, earnings guidance, management's expectations about our future cash needs and effective tax rate, and other future events or developments are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are those that use terms such as "may," "will," "expect," "believe," "intend," "should," "could," "anticipate," "estimate," "forecast," "project," "plan," "predict," "potential," and similar expressions. Forward-looking statements contained in this and other written and oral reports are based on management's assumptions and assessments in light of past experience and trends, current conditions, expected future developments and other relevant factors.

Our forward-looking statements are subject to risks and uncertainties and are not guarantees of future performance, and actual results, developments and business decisions may differ materially from those envisaged by our forward-looking statements. Such risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, those discussed in Part I-Item 1A.-Risk Factors in the 2014 Form 10-K, and other reports we file with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including: the impact of disruptions in the supply of raw materials and key components for our products from suppliers, including limited or single source suppliers; the impact of terrorist acts, conflicts and wars or natural disasters; the extent to which special U.S. and foreign government laws and regulations, such as the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the U.K. Bribery Act, and regulations and procurement policies and practices, including regulations on import-export control, may expose us to liability or impair our ability to compete in international markets; the impact of a significant disruption in, or breach in security of, our information technology systems or we fail to implement, manage or integrate new systems, software and technologies successfully; the impact of economic, political, social and regulatory instability in emerging markets, and other risks characteristic of doing business in emerging markets; fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates; our ability to successfully complete or integrate acquisitions; product defects and unanticipated use or inadequate disclosure with respect to our products; our ability to develop innovative and competitive new products; the impact of global and regional economic conditions and legislative and political developments; our ability to comply with a broad array of regulatory requirements; the loss of one or more members of our senior management team and our ability to recruit and retain qualified management personnel; changes in the demand for our products and business relationships with key customers and suppliers; changes in product mix and product pricing, particularly with systems products and associated hardware and devices for our consumable filtration products; our ability to deliver our backlog on time; increases in manufacturing and operating costs and/or our ability to achieve the savings anticipated from our structural cost improvement initiative; the impact of environmental, health and safety laws and regulations, and violations; our ability to enforce patents or protect proprietary products and manufacturing techniques; costs and outcomes of pending or future litigation and the availability of insurance or indemnification rights; changes in our effective tax rate; the impact of certain risks associated with potential labor disruptions; our ability to compete effectively in domestic and global markets; and the effect of the restrictive covenants in our debt facilities. Factors or events that could cause our actual results to differ may emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for us to predict all of them. We make these statements as of the date of this disclosure and undertake no obligation to update them, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise.

OVERVIEW

We are a leading supplier of filtration, separation and purification technologies. Our products are used to remove solid, liquid and gaseous contaminants from a variety of liquids and gases, and are principally made by us, using our engineering capability, fluid management expertise, proprietary filter media and manufacturing expertise. Our products primarily consist of consumable filtration products and filtration systems.

We serve customers through two businesses globally: Life Sciences and Industrial. The Life Sciences business group serves customers in the BioPharmaceutical, Food & Beverage and Medical markets. The Industrial business group serves customers in the Process Technologies, Aerospace and Microelectronics markets. We operate globally in three geographic regions: the Americas; Europe (in which we include the Middle East and Africa); and Asia.

Our reporting currency is the U.S. Dollar. Because we operate through subsidiaries or branches that transact in over thirty foreign currencies around the world, our earnings are exposed to translation risk when the financial statements of the subsidiaries or branches, as stated in their functional currencies, are translated into the U.S. Dollar. We estimate that translational FX decreased sales by approximately $18,000 and earnings per share by approximately 5 cents in the three months ended October 31, 2014 when compared to the three months ended October 31, 2013.

During fiscal year 2014, we completed four acquisitions – in the first quarter, Medistad Holding BV (“Medistad”), a European manufacturing entity; in the second quarter, SoloHill Engineering, Inc. (“SoloHill”), a U.S. technology company; in the third quarter, the Life Sciences business of ATMI, Inc. (“ATMI LifeSciences”), a technology leader in the field of single-use bioprocess equipment and consumables for the biopharmaceutical and biotechnology industries; and in the fourth quarter, Filter Specialists, Inc. (“FSI”), a U.S. based worldwide supplier of filtration products and solutions.

These acquisitions did not have a material impact on our results from operations or financial position. See Note 16, Acquisitions, to the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements for further detail.

In the U.S., some of our workforce at our Cortland, New York facility are represented by the United Auto Workers (“UAW”). The employees covered under this collective bargaining agreement represent approximately 7% of our global consumables production capacity. Our contract with the UAW expired in April 2014 and we continue to operate during our negotiations. On November 19, 2014, we declared an impasse in negotiations and have implemented our last, best and final offer to the UAW. Depending on the course of implementation of our last, best and final offer, we could incur additional costs and/or experience work stoppages which could adversely affect our business operations through a loss of revenue and strained relationships with customers.

Total Sales	$696,492	$629,779

The percentage change in sales for the three months ended October 31, 2014 compared to the three months ended October 31, 2013 by segment, with and without the impact of translational FX, are presented below:

By Segment	Three Months % Change
	Excluding Translational FX	Translational FX %	Total % Change
Life Sciences	13.6	(3.1)) 10.5
Industrial	13.3	(2.6)) 10.7
Total	13.4	(2.8)) 10.6

The percentage change in sales for the three months ended October 31, 2014 compared to the three months ended October 31, 2013 by product, with and without the impact of translational FX, are presented below:

By Product	Three Months % Change
	Excluding Translational FX	Translational FX %	Total % Change
Consumables	12.6	(2.7)	9.9
Systems	19.4	(3.9)	15.5
Total	13.4	(2.8)	10.6

Total sales increased approximately 13% (excluding translational FX) reflecting growth in the BioPharmaceuticals and Food & Beverage markets in the Life Sciences segment and in all markets in the Industrial segment, partly offset by a decline in the Medical market in the Life Sciences segment. Acquisitions contributed approximately 470 basis points to total sales growth compared to last year. More details regarding sales by segment can be found in the discussions under the section “Segment Review.”

The approximate 13% increase in consumables sales (excluding translational FX) reflects the same trend as total sales discussed above. Increased pricing contributed approximately $2,900, or about 50 basis points, to consumables sales growth, reflecting increases in both segments.

The 19% increase in system sales (excluding translational FX) reflects timing of capital projects in both the Life Sciences and Industrial segments.

Gross Margin

(dollars in thousands)	Three Months Ended
	Oct 31, 2014	Oct 31, 2013
Gross Profit	$361,408	$325,714
% of sales	51.9	51.7
% change	11.0

The increase in overall gross margin of 20 basis points primarily reflects the impact of the following factors:

- improved fixed cost leverage in our manufacturing facilities, and
- improved pricing.

These factors were partly offset by the impact of lower gross margin rates from acquisitions and unfavorable transactional FX (particularly the Pound/Euro relationship).

More details regarding gross margin can be found in the discussions under the section “Segment Review.”

Selling, General and Administrative

Selling, general and administrative	$202,656	$194,884
% of sales	29.1	30.9
% change	4.0

The decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses (“SG&A”) as a percent of sales of 180 basis points reflects savings generated by our structural cost improvement initiative and better fixed cost leverage, partly offset by inflationary increases in payroll and other costs.

Research & Development

Research and development	$24,777	$23,267

The increase in research and development expenses (“R&D”), was primarily driven by spend related to our recent acquisitions.

Restructuring and Other Charges, Net

(dollars in thousands)	Three Months Ended
	Oct 31, 2014	Oct 31, 2013
Restructuring and other charges, net	$9,240	$9,198

In fiscal year 2012, we announced a multi-year strategic cost reduction initiative (“structural cost improvement initiative”). This initiative impacts both segments as well as the Corporate Services Group. Our goal is to properly position our cost structure globally to perform in the current economic environment without adversely impacting our growth or innovation potential.

Key components of the structural cost improvement initiative include:

- the strategic alignment of our manufacturing, sales and R&D facilities to cost-effectively deliver high-quality products and superior service to our customers worldwide,
- creation of regional and global shared financial services centers for the handling of accounting transaction processing and other accounting functions,
- reorganization of sales functions, to more cost- efficiently deliver superior service to our customers globally, and
- reductions in headcount across all functional areas, enabled by efficiencies gained through our ERP systems, as well as in order to align to economic conditions.

The structural cost improvement initiative is now expected to generate $125,000 in annualized cost savings (“targeted savings”) over a four year period, which will allow us to invest in resources where needed. Previously, the savings target was $100,000 in annualized cost savings over a three year period. We achieved over 40% of the targeted savings by the end of fiscal year 2013 and about 30% in fiscal year 2014. We expect to achieve more than 20% of the targeted savings in fiscal year 2015 and the balance in fiscal year 2016. We expect to fund these restructuring activities with cash flows generated from operating activities.

Restructuring and other charges (“ROTC”) in the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013 primarily reflect the expenses incurred in connection with our structural cost improvement initiative, as discussed above, including severance costs of $8,750 and $3,115 in the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013, respectively. In addition, the three months ended October 31, 2013 includes an increase of $4,440 to our previously established environmental reserves related to a matter in Pinellas Park, Florida.

The details of ROTC, as well as the activity related to restructuring liabilities that were recorded related to our structural cost improvement initiative, can be found in Note 6, Restructuring and Other Charges, Net, to the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements.

Interest Expense, Net

	Three Months Ended
(dollars in thousands)	Oct 31, 2014	Oct 31, 2013
Interest expense, net	$6,702	$5,977

The increase in net interest expense of $725 was primarily driven by an increase in income tax related interest expense.

Income Taxes

	Three Months Ended
(dollars in thousands)	Oct 31, 2014	Oct 31, 2013
Income taxes	$29,760	$20,875
Effective tax rate (%)	25.2	22.6

Excluding the impact of ROTC discussed above, the effective tax rate for the three months ended October 31, 2014 and October 31, 2013 would have been 23.8% and 22.2%, respectively. The effective tax rate for the three months ended October 31, 2014 was impacted by the expiration of certain tax extenders and unfavorable jurisdictional mix. We expect our effective tax rate for the full fiscal year 2015 to be approximately 23.0%, exclusive of the impact of ROTC and discrete items. The actual effective tax rate for the full fiscal year 2015 may differ materially based on several factors, including the geographical mix of earnings in tax jurisdictions, enacted tax laws, the resolution of tax audits, the timing and amount of foreign dividends, state and local taxes, the ratio of permanent items to pretax book income, and the implementation of various global tax strategies as well as other factors.

Net Earnings

	Three Months Ended
(dollars in thousands, except per share data)	Oct 31, 2014	Oct 31, 2013
Net Earnings	$88,273	$71,513
Diluted earnings per share	$0.81	$0.63

We estimate that translational FX decreased earnings per share by approximately 5 cents in the three months ended October 31, 2014 when compared to the three months ended October 31, 2013. The decrease in share count increased diluted earnings per share by approximately 3 cents.

Total Life Sciences sales	13.6	(3.1)	10.5

The acquisitions of ATMI LifeSciences and SoloHill contributed approximately 440 basis points to Life Sciences consumables sales growth compared to last year.

BioPharmaceuticals consumables sales growth (excluding translational FX) reflects overall market strength, growth in single use systems, the benefit of acquisitions and to some extent the timing of shipments.

Food & Beverage consumables sales growth (excluding translational FX) reflects strength in Latin America and Asia, partly offset by market softness in Europe.

Medical consumables sales decline (excluding translational FX) reflects lower blood media sales as well as the impact of a large OEM shipment in the first quarter of fiscal year 2014 that did not repeat in the current quarter.

Life Sciences systems sales growth reflects timing of capital spending by BioPharmaceuticals and Food & Beverage customers.

Life Sciences segment profit grew 18%, with translational FX negatively impacting segment profit growth by approximately 600 basis points. Excluding translational FX, segment profit grew 24%. Segment profit margin increased 160 basis points reflecting a decline in SG&A of approximately 190 basis points and a decline in R&D of 50 basis points, partly offset by a 80 basis point decline in gross margin.

The decline in SG&A is primarily attributable to our structural cost improvement initiative and the benefit from increased leverage of fixed cost SG&A on a higher sales base. The 80 basis point decline in gross margin is primarily due to:

• lower gross margin rates from acquisitions, and

• unfavorable transactional FX (particularly the Pound/Euro relationship).

These factors were partly offset by improved fixed cost leverage in our manufacturing facilities and improved pricing.

The acquisition of FSI contributed approximately 670 basis points to Industrial consumables sales growth compared to last year.

Process Technologies consumables sales increased 19% (excluding translational FX). The sales results excluding translational FX by key submarkets are discussed below:

Consumables sales in the Machinery & Equipment submarket, which represented a little over 20% of total Industrial consumables sales in the quarter, increased 18% primarily due to the impact of an acquisition, augmented by strength in Mobile OEM in the Americas. These factors were partly offset by weak market conditions in Europe and Asia.

Consumables sales in the Fuels & Chemicals submarket, which represented about 20% of total Industrial consumables sales in the quarter, increased about 29% driven by the impact of an acquisition, strong growth in Europe related to a large spares shipment and strong opening backlog as well as strength in Latin America.

Consumables sales in the Power Generation submarket, which represented less than 10% of total Industrial consumables sales in the quarter, were down slightly related to a decline in sales in the nuclear sector in Europe and the wind sector in Asia. These factors were largely offset by an increase in the Americas, where nuclear investment is driving growth.

Aerospace consumables sales increased on strength in Military OEM and helicopter program sales.

Microelectronics consumables sales growth reflects strength in Asia, particularly in E materials.

The increase in Industrial systems sales primarily reflects timing of capital spending in the Fuels & Chemicals submarket.

Industrial segment profit increased 27%, with translational FX negatively impacting segment profit growth by approximately 500 basis points. Excluding translational FX, segment profit grew 32%. Segment profit margin increased 250 basis points driven by a decline in SG&A of approximately 150 basis points and an increase in gross margin of 110 basis points, partly offset by an increase in R&D of 20 basis points.

The decline in SG&A is primarily attributable to our structural cost improvement initiative and the benefit from increased leverage of fixed cost SG&A on a higher sales base. The 110 basis point increase in gross margin reflects: improved fixed cost leverage in our manufacturing facilities, favorable end-market and customer mix, particularly Microelectronics and Fuels & Chemicals, and improved pricing.

These factors were partly offset by lower gross margin rates from the FSI acquisition, and unfavorable transactional FX (particularly the Pound/Euro relationship).

The increase in Corporate Services Group expenses primarily reflects an increase in compensation related costs.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

We utilize cash flow generated from operations and our commercial paper program to meet our short-term liquidity needs. We consider our cash balances, lines of credit and access to the commercial paper and other credit markets, along with the cash typically generated from operations, to be sufficient to meet our anticipated liquidity needs.

Net debt, was approximately $181,600 at October 31, 2014, compared to a net cash position of approximately $75,400 at July 31, 2014, a change of $257,000. The components of the change in net cash/(debt) are presented below:

(dollars in thousands)	As of Jul 31, 2014	Increase/Decrease	Translational FX	As of Oct 31, 2014
Cash	$964,110	$69,572	$(32,201)	$1,001,481
Debt	888,724	299,666	(5,277)	1,183,113
Net cash/(debt)	$75,386	$(230,094)	$(26,924)	$(181,632)

As of October 31, 2014, substantially all of our cash and cash equivalents was held by foreign subsidiaries.

Repatriation of cash held outside the U.S. could be subject to restrictions in the host countries as well as both local and U.S. taxes. However, we do not expect these to have a material effect on our overall liquidity.

On April 11, 2013, we entered into a five-year $1,200,000 unsecured senior revolving credit facility (the "2013 Facility") with a syndicate of banks, which was to mature on April 11, 2018. Borrowings under the 2013 Facility bore interest at either a variable rate based upon the London InterBank Offered Rate (U.S. Dollar, British Pound, Euro, Swiss Franc and Japanese Yen borrowings) or the European Union Banking Federation Rate (Euro borrowings) or at the prime rate of the Facility Agent (U.S. Dollar borrowing only). During the three months ended October 31, 2014, we amended and extended the 2013 Facility to a five-year $1,500,000 unsecured senior revolving credit facility with a syndicate of banks, which matures on August 11, 2019 (the "2015 Facility"). In connection with the 2015 Facility, we incurred deferred financing costs of $1,535 which, in addition to the unamortized costs from the 2013 Facility, will be amortized to interest expense over the term of the 2015 Facility. The covenants for the 2015 Facility are the same as in the 2013 Facility.

The 2015 Facility does not permit us to exceed a maximum consolidated leverage ratio of 3.5:1, based upon the trailing four quarters' results. In addition, the 2015 Facility includes other covenants that under certain circumstances may restrict our ability to incur additional indebtedness, make investments and other restricted payments, enter into sale and leaseback transactions, create liens and sell assets. As of October 31, 2014, we did not have any outstanding borrowings under the 2015 Facility. As of October 31, 2014, we were in compliance with all related financial and other restrictive covenants, including limitations on indebtedness.

As of October 31, 2014, we had approximately $725,000 of outstanding commercial paper, which is recorded as notes payable in the current liability section of our accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheet. Commercial paper outstanding at October 31, 2014 carry interest rates ranging between 0.31% and 0.41% and maturities between 21 and 96 days. Commercial paper outstanding at any one time during the quarter had balances ranging from $425,000 to $1,185,000, carried interest rates ranging between 0.28% and 0.41% and original maturities between 13 and 96 days.

Cash Flow - Operating Activities

(dollars in thousands)	Three Months Ended

Free cash flow	$ 104,129	$ 66,982

Three Months ended October 31, 2014

The major items impacting net cash provided by operating activities include:

net earnings of $88,273;

non-cash reconciling items in net earnings, such as depreciation and amortization of long-lived assets of $30,598 and

non-cash stock compensation of $11,516;

payments related to our Structural Cost Improvement initiative of $8,674, and annual performance based compensation payments.

Improved working capital management, particularly improvement in days sales outstanding and days in inventory, benefited net cash provided by operating activities in the quarter.

Three Months ended October 31, 2013

The major items impacting net cash provided by operating activities include:

net earnings of $71,513;

non-cash reconciling items in net earnings, such as depreciation and amortization of long-lived assets of $27,348 and

non-cash stock compensation of $6,131;

payments related to our Structural Cost Improvement initiative of $9,473; and annual performance based compensation payments.

Improved working capital management also benefited net cash provided by operating activities in the quarter.

Free Cash Flow

We utilize free cash flow as one way to measure our current and future financial performance. Free cash flow is a non-GAAP financial measure and is not intended as an alternative measure of cash flow from operations as determined in accordance with GAAP. In addition, our calculation of free cash flow is not necessarily comparable to similar measures as calculated by other companies that do not use the same definition or implementation guidelines.

The table above reconciles net cash provided by operating activities to free cash flow.

The increase in free cash flow in the three months ended October 31, 2014 compared to the three months ended October 31, 2013 reflects the increase in net cash provided by operating activities and a decrease in capital expenditures.

Non-Cash Working Capital

Non-cash working capital, which is defined as working capital excluding cash and cash equivalents, notes receivable, notes payable and the current portion of long-term debt, was approximately $588,100 at October 31, 2014 as compared with $588,400 at July 31, 2014. Excluding the impact of translational FX (discussed below), non-cash working capital increased approximately $21,900 compared to July 31, 2014.

Our balance sheet is affected by spot exchange rates used to translate local currency amounts into U.S. Dollars. In comparing spot exchange rates at October 31, 2014 to those at July 31, 2014, the Euro, the British Pound and the Japanese Yen have weakened against the U.S. Dollar. The impact of translational FX, decreased net inventory, net accounts receivable and other current assets by approximately $13,600, $19,500 and $4,300, respectively, as compared to July 31, 2014. Additionally, the impact of translational FX decreased accounts payable, accrued liabilities and income tax payable collectively by $15,200. The combination of these translational FX impacts decreased non-cash working capital by approximately $22,200.

Derivatives

We manage certain financial exposures through a risk management program that includes the use of foreign exchange derivative financial instruments. Derivatives are executed with counterparties with a minimum credit rating of “A” by Standard and Poor’s and “A2” by Moody’s Investor Services, in accordance with our policies. We do not utilize derivative instruments for trading or speculative purposes.

We conduct transactions in currencies other than their functional currency. These transactions include non-functional currency intercompany and external sales as well as intercompany and external purchases. We use foreign exchange forward contracts, matching the notional amounts and durations of the receivables and payables resulting from the aforementioned underlying foreign currency transactions, to mitigate the exposure to earnings and cash flows caused by changing foreign exchange rates. The risk management objective of holding foreign exchange derivatives is to mitigate volatility to earnings and cash flows due to changes in foreign exchange rates.

The notional amount of foreign currency forward contracts entered into during the three months ended October 31, 2014 was $842,200. The notional amount of foreign currency forward contracts outstanding as of October 31, 2014 was $406,297 of which $91,008 are for cash flow hedges that cover monthly transactional exposures through November 2015. Our foreign currency balance sheet exposures resulted in the recognition of a gain within SG&A of approximately $5,427 in the three months ended October 31, 2014, before the impact of the measures described above. Including the impact of our foreign exchange derivative instruments, the net recognition within SG&A was a gain of approximately $917 in the three months ended October 31, 2014.

RECENTLY ISSUED ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In April 2014, the FASB issued authoritative guidance which changes the criteria for disposal of a component or a group of components of an entity to qualify as a discontinued operation. This revised guidance defines a discontinued operation as (i) a component of an entity or group of components that has been disposed of or is classified as held for sale that represents a strategic shift that has or will have a major effect on an entity’s operations and financial results or (ii) an acquired business or nonprofit activity that is classified as held for sale on the date of acquisition. The guidance also requires expanded disclosures related to discontinued operations and added disclosure requirements for individually material disposal transactions that do not meet the discontinued operations criteria. This guidance becomes effective prospectively for our fiscal 2016 first quarter, with early adoption permitted, but only for disposals (or classifications as held for sale) that have not been reported in financial statements previously issued or available to be issued. We will apply this new guidance when it becomes effective. The adoption of this guidance is not expected to have a significant impact on our consolidated financial statements.

In May 2014, the FASB issued new accounting guidance which supersedes the revenue recognition requirements in ASC 605, “Revenue Recognition.” The new guidance outlines a single comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from contracts with customers and supersedes most current revenue recognition guidance, including industry-specific guidance. The revised guidance requires an entity to recognize revenue depicting the transfer of goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The guidance will also result in enhanced revenue related disclosures. The guidance is effective for fiscal years, and interim reporting periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2016. We have not yet determined the impact this guidance will have on our consolidated financial results.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK.

There is no material change in the market risk information disclosed in Item 7A of the 2014 Form 10-K.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

There were no changes in the Company’s internal control over financial reporting during the Company’s first quarter of fiscal year 2015, that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company’s internal control over financial reporting.

As of the end of the period covered by this report, the Company carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company’s management, including the Company’s chief executive officer and chief financial officer, of the effectiveness of the Company’s disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Rule 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Based on this evaluation, the chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that the Company’s disclosure controls and procedures are effective.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

(In thousands)

As previously disclosed in the 2014 Form 10-K, the Company is subject to various regulatory proceedings and litigation, including with respect to various environmental matters. Reference is also made to Note 5, Contingencies and Commitments, to the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements.

Environmental Matters

The Company's condensed consolidated balance sheet at October 31, 2014 includes liabilities for environmental matters of $18,896, which relate primarily to the environmental proceedings discussed in the 2014 Form 10-K and Note 5, Contingencies and Commitments, to the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements of this Form 10-Q. In the opinion of management, the Company is in substantial compliance with applicable environmental laws and its current accruals for environmental remediation are adequate. However, as regulatory standards under environmental laws are becoming increasingly stringent, there can be no assurance that future developments, additional information and experience gained will not cause the Company to incur material environmental liabilities or costs beyond those accrued in its condensed consolidated financial statements.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS.

There is no material change in the risk factors reported in Item 1A of the 2014 Form 10-K. This report contains certain forward-looking statements that reflect management's expectations regarding future events and operating performance and speak only as of the date hereof. These statements are subject to risks and uncertainties, which could cause actual results to differ materially. For a description of these risks see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Forward-Looking Statements and Risk Factors."

ITEM 2. UNREGISTERED SALES OF EQUITY SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS.

(a) During the period covered by this report, the Company did not sell any of its equity securities that were not registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

(b) Not applicable.

(c) The following table provides information with respect to purchases made by or on behalf of the Company or any "affiliated purchaser" of shares of the Company's common stock.

(In thousands, except per share data)

Period	Total Number of Shares Purchased	Average Price Paid Per Share	Total Number of Shares Purchased as Part of Publicly Announced Plans or Programs (1)	Approximate Dollar Value of Shares that May Yet Be Purchased Under the Plans or Programs (1)
August 1, 2014 to August 31, 2014	3,056	$83.43	3,056	$381,873
September 1, 2014 to September 30, 2014	—	—	—	381,873
October 1, 2014 to October 31, 2014	—	—	—	581,873
Total	3,056	$83.43	3,056

(1) As noted in Note 4, Treasury Stock, to the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements, the board of directors authorized amounts to be used to purchase shares of common stock over time, as market and business conditions warrant. There is no time restriction on these authorizations. In August 2014, the Company entered into an Accelerated Share Repurchase ("ASR") agreement with a third-party financial institution to repurchase $300,000 of the Company's common stock. Under the agreement, the Company paid $300,000 to the financial institution and received an initial delivery of approximately 3,056 shares at an aggregate cost of $255,000, with an average price per share of $83.43. These shares were included in treasury stock in the accompanying condensed balance sheet as of October 31, 2014. The remaining $45,000 was included in additional paid in capital in the accompanying condensed balance sheet as of October 31, 2014. The transaction was completed in the second quarter of fiscal year 2015, with the Company receiving approximately 405 additional shares, at which time the $45,000 initially included in additional paid in capital was reclassified to treasury stock. The final number of shares delivered upon settlement of the transaction was determined with reference to the average price of the Company's common stock over the term of the ASR agreement.
