Fitch Affirms PLDT's Ratings

Fitch Ratings-Singapore - 7 October 2008: Fitch Ratings has today affirmed Philippine Long Distance Telephone Company's (PLDT) Long-term foreign and local currency Issuer Default Ratings (IDR) at BB+ and BBB respectively, and its National Long-term rating at AAA(phil). The rating Outlook is Stable. Also, PLDT's global bonds and senior notes have been affirmed at BB+.

PLDT's ratings reflect its position as the Philippines' incumbent operator, with diversified and integrated operations across fixed-line services, cellular services, wired and wireless broadband services, and internet services, as well as a growing presence in the call-centre and business process outsourcing space. The group's consolidated profile is heavily influenced by its cellular segment, which accounted for 61% of revenue and 67% of EBITDA in H108. Subsidiaries Smart Communications Inc. and Pilipino Telephone Corporation reported an aggregate 33.2 million subscribers at end-June 2008, representing a subscriber market share of 54% and a revenue market share of around 58.5%. With penetration of Subscriber Identity Modules (SIMs) having reached about 68% at H108 (multiple SIM ownership counted), the cellular market is approaching maturity in terms of the addressable market, and future growth is expected to remain modest. Nonetheless, the market remains intensely competitive, with third operator Digitel having recently become more aggressive in terms of network expansion and promotional activity.

As the incumbent, PLDT also enjoys a leading share of local exchange subscribers (around 60%) and dominant share (over 70%) of the nascent broadband market. Fixed-line is expected to remain an important contributor to group earnings and cash-flow over the medium term, with strong demand for enterprise and consumer data services helping to mitigate mobile and VoIP substitution pressures on traditional fixed-voice.

PLDT is well-positioned to capitalise on growth opportunities in consumer broadband and business process outsourcing (BPO), which could help offset slowing growth in its core segments. So far, the company has managed to capture the major share of broadband growth, owing to its ubiquitous network presence. The focus is increasingly on wireless broadband rather than DSL, given comparatively lower rollout costs and ease of deployment. On the BPO front, near-term prospects for ePLDT appear challenging in view of weak macro-economic conditions in the United States and pressure on manpower costs owing to increased competition for BPO talent; however longer-term prospects appear promising. The company remains focused on solidifying its existing BPO verticals, whilst continuing to evaluate further acquisition opportunities.

PLDT's estimated capex requirements for FY08 are moderate at PHP28.5bn. Capital intensity is expected to remain moderate over the next two to three years as well, with incremental spends mainly towards wireless broadband and next-generation network expansion. The group's highly cash-generative operations and moderate capital intensity have facilitated increased shareholder returns in recent years, thus far without impairment to its financial profile.

Exhibit 1

In November 2007, PLDT obtained consent from its bondholders to amend certain applicable limitations on dividends, shareholder distributions and restricted payments, which has afforded the company higher capacity for dividend payments and capital management initiatives. Subsequently, in January 2008, PLDT's board approved a share buy-back program for up to 2 million common shares, and in August 2008 approved a follow-on program for another 2 million. By end-September 2008, the group had acquired 1,773,580 million shares for a total cost of PHP 4.5 billion. The group remains committed to a dividend policy to pay out 70% of recurring earnings and continues to follow a look-back approach, to distribute additional shareholder returns in the event that excess cash is not utilised for business acquisitions.

During FY07, the group reduced bank and capital market debt by around USD184m, leading net adjusted leverage (defined as total adjusted debt net of cash by Operating EBITDAR) to improve to 0.5x from 0.9x the previous year. Total indebtedness rose slightly in H108, with PLDT's drawdown of a USD100mn five-year term loan and Smart's drawdown of a USD50mn five-year term loan, both from Nordeutsche Landesbank. Nonetheless, net adjusted leverage remained stable at 0.5x in H108, as the rise in indebtedness was offset by growth in EBITDAR.

The Stable Outlook reflects the expectation that PLDT will sustain its leading market positions in the telecoms space, and maintain its sound financial profile despite increasing shareholder distributions. Future rating action would likely result from various factors, including PLDT's policies regarding shareholder returns and the extent of debt-funded acquisitions/investments. In terms of its foreign currency IDR, PLDT remains constrained by the country ceiling of the Republic of the Philippines, which is currently BB+. The National rating of AAA(phl) incorporates all the above factors and is indicative of PLDT's relative credit strength among all Philippine companies.
