PART III NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Form 10-K, 11-K, 20-F, 10-Q, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period. (Attach extra Sheets if Needed)

As previously detailed in its quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2004, the Registrant has identified material weaknesses in its internal control over financial reporting. As a result of these material weaknesses, significant internal work and analysis is required to complete the Registrant's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2004. Moreover, management's evaluation of its internal control over financial reporting as of year-end 2004 is still not complete and this ongoing evaluation places even further demands on internal resources. Management is continuing to provide its independent auditors with incremental documentation necessary to complete the 2004 audit of the Registrant's consolidated financial statements. As a consequence of the internal work and analysis necessary to compensate for the Registrant's material weaknesses in connection with the preparation of the Form 10-K, as well as management's ongoing evaluation of the Registrant's internal control over financial reporting, the Registrant is unable to complete the financial statements and other financial reporting disclosure in its Form 10-K within the prescribed period without unreasonable effort and expense.

PART IV OTHER INFORMATION

(1) Name and telephone number of person to contact in regard to this notification

Name: Walter Campbell, Chief Financial Officer

Telephone Number: (416) 960-9000

(2) Have all other periodic reports required under Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or Section 30 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 during the preceding 12 months or for such shorter period that the registrant was required to file such report(s) been filed? If the answer is no, identify report(s).

Yes ? No

(3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?

Yes ? No

If so: attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

As previously detailed in its quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2004, results of operations in the Registrant's business during the first three quarters of 2004 differed in certain respects from those in the corresponding period of 2003. As a result of the matters discussed in Part III above, the Registrant is not in a position at this time to provide a reasonable estimate of anticipated significant changes in the results of operations from the year or fourth quarter of 2003 to the year or fourth quarter of 2004.

Forward-Looking Statements

Such forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties which may cause the actual results or objectives to be materially different from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Such factors include, among other things, the company's financial performance; changes in the competitive environment; adverse changes in the economy; ability to maintain long-term relationships with customers; financing requirements; risks arising from material weaknesses in internal control over financial reporting; and other factors set forth in the company's Form 40-F for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2003 and subsequent SEC filings.
