News Release

BROOKFIELD PURCHASES US$1 BILLION SENIOR LOAN FACILITY TO THE MILLS CORPORATION

Also Provides $500 Million Credit Facility to Advance Business Initiatives

TORONTO, Ontario, January 30, 2007 - Brookfield Asset Management (NYSE and TSX:BAM) today announced the completion of the previously announced purchase of an existing senior credit facility of US$1,053 million from Goldman Sachs Mortgage Company, as Administrative Agent, to The Mills Corporation (NYSE:MLS) of Chevy Chase, Maryland. The existing loan was concurrently amended to, among other things, provide for an additional $500 million revolving loan facility to The Mills Corporation, to remove the requirement for the Company to file its financial statements for 2005 and 2006 by specified dates, establish a liquidation plan and extend the maturity. The proceeds from the revolving credit facility will be used to fund operating requirements, working capital and advance other business initiatives.

The loan, which was originally made by Goldman Sachs on May 19, 2006, was extended and amended numerous times and has a current maturity of March 31, 2007. Following the purchase by Brookfield and related amendment, the credit facility now has a maturity of January 31, 2008 and may be extended to April 30, 2008 if the termination date of the merger agreement between Brookfield and The Mills Corporation is similarly extended. The loan purchase was part of the January 17, 2007 announcement of the planned acquisition of The Mills Corporation by Brookfield and will provide needed financial flexibility between now and the closing of the acquisition.

"The acquisition of the Goldman Sachs loan facility represents an integral part of our plan to acquire The Mills Corporation, solidify its financial position and establish a platform for growth of its regional and concept shopping mall business," said Steve Douglas, Managing Partner at Brookfield. "While there are still key steps that The Mills Corporation must complete to allow the transaction to proceed, including the finalization of its financial statements, we believe that our commitment as a long-term, patient investor capable of dealing with complex, multiparty restructurings, together with our financial support will help to provide stability to The Mills Corporation."
