Report of the Trustees on Executive Compensation

Compensation of the Company's executive officers is determined on an annual basis by either the Trustees as a whole or the Compensation Committee in consultation with management. For 2001, compensation of executive officers was determined by the Trustees as a whole. The Company's goal is to compensate the Company's executive officers in a manner which is consistent with the Company's strategic plan and which rewards executive officers in a fair manner for performance which forwards the strategic plan. To this end, the Company's basic compensation philosophy is to maintain annual base salaries for executive officers at relatively low amounts and to award bonuses and long-term incentives in the form of stock options based on annual performance of the Company and of the executive. The financial results from operating the Company's businesses are the major factor in determining levels of executive compensation.

The Company adopted an Employee Incentive Plan ("EIP") in 1994 in which the Company's executive officers and other employees may participate. Under the EIP, 5% of the Company's Net Income for each fiscal year is set aside as a bonus pool. During the course of the fiscal year, the Trustees may grant interests in the bonus pool to employees, officers and trustees of the Company and its subsidiaries. Bonuses are to be paid within 120 days of the end of the fiscal year.

In evaluating the performance of the Company's executive officers in awarding grants under the EIP, the Trustees considered factors such as the growth in earnings of the Company, the effectiveness of cost reduction and productivity-enhancement measures in the operating subsidiaries, the growth in assets, and the performance of the Company's Common Stock. The Trustees also considered the contribution of the Company's executive officers toward the accomplishment of those goals.

In determining the compensation of the Company's Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Lee, for 2001, the Trustees evaluated Mr. Lee based on the criteria set forth above. In determining Mr. Lee's salary and his bonus award under the EIP, the Trustees considered the operating performance of the Company in a difficult economic environment for pulp and paper companies and the progress made by the Company in transitioning its pulp production from sulphite pulp to kraft pulp.
