Lazard Global Total
Return & Income
Fund, Inc.

First Quarter
Report

MARCH 31, 2007

Lazard Global Total Return & Income Fund, Inc.

Investment Overview

Dear Shareholder,

We are pleased to present the First Quarter Report for Lazard Global Total Return & Income Fund, Inc. (LGI or the Fund), for the period ended March 31, 2007. The Fund is a diversified, closed-end management investment company that began trading on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) on April 28, 2004. Its ticker symbol is LGI.

The Fund has been in operation for almost three years, and we are pleased with LGI's performance since its inception. We believe that the Fund has provided investors with an attractive yield and diversification, backed by the extensive experience, commitment, and professional management of Lazard Asset Management LLC (the Investment Manager or Lazard).

Portfolio Update (as of March 31, 2007)

For the first quarter of 2007, the Fund's Net Asset Value (NAV) performance increased 0.3%, underperforming the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI®) World® Index (the Index) return of 2.5%. For the twelve months ended March 31, 2007, the Fund's NAV return of 15.4% was in line with the Index's return of 15.4%. In addition, the Fund's since-inception annualized NAV return of 15.2% compares favorably with the Index return of 14.8%. Shares of LGI ended the first quarter of 2007 with a market price of $22.19, representing a 5.6% discount to the Fund's NAV of $23.51. The Fund's net assets were $225.8 million as of March 31, 2007, with total leveraged assets of $305.5 million, representing 26.1% leverage.

We believe that LGI's investment thesis remains sound, as demonstrated by the Fund's favorable NAV performance since inception. However, the Fund's first quarter performance within the equity portfolio did lag, as it was affected by a lack of exposure to mining companies and by stock selection within the health care sector. On the other hand, returns for the smaller, short-duration<sup>1</sup> emerging market currency and debt portion of the Fund were moderately negative in January but strong for the rest of the first quarter and have been a meaningful positive contributor to performance for the year-to-date and since inception.

As of March 31, 2007, 66.0% of the Fund's total leveraged assets consisted of global equities and 33.2% consisted of emerging markets currency and debt instruments, while the remaining 0.8% consisted of cash and other assets.

Declaration of Dividends

Pursuant to LGI's managed distribution policy, the Fund's Board of Directors has declared a monthly dividend distribution of $0.1042 per share on the Fund's outstanding stock each month since inception. The Fund continues to maintain this distribution level. In addition, in September and December of 2006, the Fund also made additional, required distributions of accumulated income and net realized capital gains. The cumulative distributions for the last 12 months ended March 31, 2007 totaled $2.339 per share. There was no return of capital in 2006 and the Fund has not returned capital to investors since its inception. The $2.339 distribution represents a market yield of 10.5% (including capital gains), based on the share price of $22.19 at the close of NYSE trading on March 31, 2007.

Additional Information

Message from the Portfolio Managers

Global Equity Portfolio

(66.0% of total leveraged assets)

The Fund's global equity portfolio is invested primarily in equity securities of large, well-known global companies with strong financial productivity at attractive valuations. Examples include GlaxoSmithKline, a global research-based pharmaceutical company based in the United Kingdom; Bank of America, a holding company that provides banking and non-banking financial services and products in the United States and internationally; Nokia Corp., the Finnish manufacturer of mobile telephones; and Total SA, the French-based energy supplier that explores for, produces, refines, transports, and markets oil and natural gas.

Companies held in the global equity portfolio are all based in developed-market regions around the world. As of March 31, 2007, 45.2% of these stocks were based in North America, 24.2% were based in Continental Europe (not including the U.K.), 19.2% were from the United Kingdom, and 11.4% were from Japan. The global equity portfolio is similarly well diversified across a number of industry sectors. The top two sectors, by weight, at March 31, 2007, were financials (30.3%), which includes banks, insurance companies, and financial services companies, and information technology (18.9%), a sector that encompasses industries involved in the design, development, installation, and implementation of information systems and applications, including hardware, software, IT services, and media-related companies. Other sectors in the portfolio include consumer discretionary, consumer staples, energy, health care, industrials, and telecommunications services. The average dividend yield on the global equity portfolio was approximately 2.3% as of March 31, 2007.

Global Equity Market Review

The multiyear bull market that began in 2003 continued through the first quarter of 2007. In February, stocks rose modestly, fueled by the combination of moderating economic growth, solid corporate profits, and strong mergers and acquisitions activity. Then, a sharp selloff began two days before the end of February, driving indices to modest losses. While there was no obvious trigger for the selloff, some analysts pointed to a sharp decline in Chinese shares. Others blamed the recent rally in the Japanese yen, which implied that speculators were reversing the "carry trade," following the recent decision by the Bank of Japan to raise interest rates. The weakening U.S. housing market and rising subprime loan defaults may have also weighed on the market. However, the market recovered much of these losses, as comments from the U.S. Federal Reserve led investors to believe that the next move in interest rates could be lower. From a sector perspective, many of the sectors that did well last year, such as materials and industrials, continued to do well in the first quarter, dramatically outperforming the broader market. The consumer staples sector continued to be supported by potential merger activity and pressure from activist shareholders. Conversely, sectors that underperformed last year, such as technology, continued to lag during the first quarter. Energy stocks were also weak, falling sharply early in the quarter along with crude oil prices and never fully recovering, even as oil prices rose late in the quarter due to rising geopolitical risks involving Iran.

Regionally, European and Japanese markets performed roughly in line with the global index. In the United States, concerns about U.S. housing weakness weighed on stocks, particularly financials.

What Helped and What Hurt LGI

Performance benefited from solid stock selection in consumer staples, as the portfolio was positively impacted by private equity interest in the strong cash generation of certain holdings, most notably Cadbury. Companies that were taking steps to improve profitability and enhance shareholder value, often under pressure from restive shareholders, were particularly good performers. A lack of exposure to mining companies detracted from performance, as these stocks continued to perform well amid firm commodity prices. However, we feel that valuations in this group are unattractive, as they discount an extended period of margins that are well above historical norms. Stock selection in health care also hurt returns, as the portfolio's holdings, including Sanofi-Aventis, experienced setbacks related to regulatory approval for new products as well as patent litigation on existing products, notably Johnson & Johnson. However, we believe that valuations are currently attractive for these very financially productive, diversified businesses, the earnings of which should prove resilient if global economies weaken.

Emerging Market Currency and Debt Portfolio
(33.2% of total leveraged assets)

The Fund also seeks enhanced income through investing in high-yielding, short-duration (typically, under one year) emerging market forward currency contracts and local currency debt instruments. As of March 31, 2007, this portfolio consisted primarily of forward currency contracts (77.3%), and a smaller allocation to sovereign debt obligations (16.5%) and structured notes (6.2%) . The average duration of the emerging market currency and debt portfolio was approximately 5.9 months, as of March 31, 2007, with an average yield of 7.7%2.

As of March 31, 2007, the Fund's emerging market currency and debt holdings were highly diversified across 27 countries within Asia (22.0%), Latin America (21.1%), Africa (20.3%), the Commonwealth of Independent States and Baltic countries (12.9%), Eastern Europe (10.2%), and the Middle East (11.5%) .

Emerging Market Currency and Debt Market Review

Across all regions, the Fund's exposure to emerging market currency and local debt markets materially outperformed London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR). January's flat performance was followed by strength in February and March, despite the mid-quarter global market jitters. Emerging money market yields have eased slightly during the first quarter. However, emerging market central banks are increasing their tolerance for local currency appreciation, as balance of payments flows dictate a strengthening emerging market currency bias, or in the face of upward inflationary pressure in lieu of (or in complement to) interest rate hikes. In aggregate, the Fund's positions are earning an attractive risk premium while benefiting additionally from emerging market currency gains.

The outlook for emerging local markets continues to be constructive. We expect positive attribution for the coming year from both interest rate carry (currently over 7.5% annualized) and currency appreciation in certain regions. Most of these economies benefit from strong balance of payments, economic growth and continued pursuit of orthodox monetary and fiscal policy. With a healthy yield cushion, we are optimistic on the return outlook for the Fund's currency and local debt investments.

What Helped and Hurt LGI

Across all regions, the portfolio's positions materially outperformed, with nearly all countries owned in the portfolio contributing to performance, and only five markets detracting. January performance was flat, while February and March posted solid gains despite the mid-quarter global market jitters precipitated by the Chinese equity market's sharp fall. Security selection added value, as all local debt holdings generated excess returns, over and above the short-term money market results in each country. Once again, LGI's large exposure to Brazilian currency and local debt, a top-performing local market, added significant value. The Fund's ongoing avoidance of Chinese, Taiwanese, and Hong Kong local markets also served it well, as they all underperformed LIBOR during the quarter.

The Fund's Emerging Market Currency and Debt Market portfolio ended the quarter invested in the currency and local debt markets of 27 emerging countries. LGI's overall duration edged higher, to six months by quarter-end, due to accumulation of local bonds in Turkey, Mexico, and Hungary. Over 85% of all holdings mature within 12 months with the duration of the remaining positions falling within the one to six year range.

Notes to Investment Overview:

- <sup>1</sup> A measure of the average cash weighted term-to-maturity of the investment holdings. Duration is a measure of the price sensitivity of a bond to interest rate movements. Duration for a forward currency contract is equal to its term-to-maturity.
- <sup>2</sup> The quoted yield does not account for the implicit cost of borrowing on the forward currency contracts, which would reduce the yield shown.

Dividend Reinvestment Plan

(unaudited)

Unless you elect to receive distributions in cash (i.e., opt-out), all dividends, including any capital gain distributions, on your Common Stock will be automatically reinvested by Computershare, Inc., as dividend disbursing agent (the "Plan Agent"), in additional Common Stock under the Fund's Dividend Reinvestment Plan (the "Plan"). You may elect not to participate in the Plan by contacting the Plan Agent. If you do not participate, you will receive all distributions in cash, paid by check mailed directly to you by the Plan Agent.

Under the Plan, the number of shares of Common Stock you will receive will be determined on the dividend or distribution payment date, as follows:

- (1) If the Common Stock is trading at or above net asset value at the time of valuation, the Fund will issue new shares at a price equal to the greater of (i) net asset value per Common Share on that date or (ii) 95% of the Common Stock's market price on that date.
- (2) If the Common Stock is trading below net asset value at the time of valuation, the Plan Agent will receive the dividend or distribution in cash and will purchase Common Stock in the open market, on the NYSE or elsewhere, for the participants' accounts. It is possible that the market price for the Common Stock may increase before the Plan Agent has completed its purchases. Therefore, the average purchase price per share paid by the Plan Agent may exceed the market price at the time of valuation, resulting in the purchase of fewer shares than if the dividend or distribution had been paid in Common Stock issued by the Fund. The Plan Agent will use all dividends and distributions received in cash to purchase Common Stock in the open market within 30 days of the valuation date. Interest will not be paid on any uninvested cash payments.

You may withdraw from the Plan at any time by giving written notice to the Plan Agent. If you withdraw or the Plan is terminated, you will receive whole shares in your account under the Plan and you will receive a cash payment for any fraction of a share in your account. If you wish, the Plan Agent will sell your shares and send you the proceeds, minus an initial $15 service fee plus $0.12 per share being liquidated (for processing and brokerage expenses).

The Plan Agent maintains all stockholders' accounts in the Plan and gives written confirmation of all transactions in the accounts, including information you may need for tax records. Shares of Common Stock in your account will be held by the Plan Agent in non-certificated form. Any proxy you receive will include all Common Stock you have received under the Plan.

There is no brokerage charge for reinvestment of your dividends or distributions in newly-issued shares of Common Stock. However, all participants will pay a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred by the Plan Agent when it makes open market purchases.

Automatically reinvesting dividends and distributions does not mean that you do not have to pay income taxes due upon receiving dividends and distributions.

If you hold your Common Stock with a brokerage firm that does not participate in the Plan, you will not be able to participate in the Plan and any dividend reinvestment may be effected on different terms than those described above. Consult your financial advisor for more information.

The Fund reserves the right to amend or terminate the Plan if, in the judgment of the Board of Directors, the change is warranted. There is no direct service charge to participants in the Plan (other than the service charge when you direct the Plan Agent to sell your Common Stock held in a dividend reinvestment account); however, the Fund reserves the right to amend the Plan to include a service charge payable by the participants. Additional information about the Plan may be obtained from the Plan Agent at P.O. Box 43010, Providence, Rhode Island 02940-3010.
