E*TRADE ACQUIRES WEB STREET FOR $45 MILLION IN STOCK

Transaction Includes Web Street's Physical Locations, Which Will Be Converted into E*TRADE Centers in Four Cities

MENLO PARK, CA - May 21, 2001 - E*TRADE Group, Inc. (NYSE:ET) today announced that it will acquire Web Street, Inc. (Nasdaq: WEBS), parent company of Web Street Securities, an online brokerage firm. The purchase includes Web Street Securities' 34,000 active accounts, including 6,300 accounts held by German residents, and its physical locations in San Francisco, Boston, Beverly Hills and Denver, which will be converted into E*TRADE financial superstores, called E*TRADE Centers.

The transaction, valued at approximately $45 million in stock, is expected to add incremental annual revenues of approximately $25 million to E*TRADE's results. Of the $45 million purchase price, $25 million represents the acquisition of the brokerage business and accounts. The remaining $20 million applies to the acquisition of the four physical locations, cash on hand and net operating losses expected to result in future tax savings. The acquisition is expected to be accretive to both revenue and earnings immediately upon closing, which is subject to regulatory and other approvals.

"Today's acquisition of Web Street further demonstrates the strength of the E*TRADE brand and its agility to seize opportunities that make strategic sense for its shareowners, customers and Associates," said Christos M. Cotsakos, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, E*TRADE Group, Inc. "As we continue to expand our diverse revenue streams and increase our worldwide customer base, E*TRADE further strengthens its leadership position."

"We believe that Web Street's customers will realize tremendous benefit from this synergistic combination of two leading innovators in the online financial services business," said Joseph Fox, co-chairman & co-chief executive officer of Web Street. "Web Street and E*TRADE share a common vision of providing global brokerage services to our valued customers through face-to-face, as well as electronic channels. Web Street's brokerage customers will benefit from E*TRADE's impressive array of banking and investing products, while still receiving a high level of customer service that they have come to expect."
