ANNEX III

(Pursuant to Annex 15 of CVM Instruction 481/09)

Issuance of Subscription Warrants

1. In case of issuance of subscription warrants:

a. Inform the number of warrants to be issued.

If the Merger of Shares is approved by the shareholders of the Company, 14 subscription warrants shall be issued as of such date, seven (7) of which of Subscription Warrants – Working Capital and seven (7) of which of Subscription Warrants – Indemnification, as defined below, in the book-entry nominative form (“Subscription Warrants”).

b. Explain, in details, the reasons for the issuance and the consequences thereof.

The issuance of Subscription Warrants is justified under the context of the negotiation between Ultrapar and Extrafarma and their shareholders, as part of the price offered, to be retained for at least six years as a guarantee by Extrafarma’s shareholders to the Company to cover (i) the potential adjustment due to the variation of working capital and net debt of Extrafarma existing on the date of approval of the Merger of Shares at the Extraordinary Shareholders’ Meetings of the Companies (“Subscription Warrants – Working Capital”) and (ii) the payment related to Loss(es) subject to indemnification by Extrafarma shareholders to Ultrapar, as detailed below (“Subscription Warrants – Indemnification”).

The Subscription Warrants shall be issued by the Company by virtue of the Merger of Shares and shall be delivered to Extrafarma shareholders, pursuant to the Protocol and Justification. Each of the Subscription Warrants – Working Capital shall have the subscription right of up to one hundred and fourteen thousand, four hundred and eighty seven (114,487) common, nominative book-entry shares with no par value issued by Ultrapar, subject to potential adjustment due to the variation of working capital and the net debt of Extrafarma existing on the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMS, in relation to the working capital and the net debt of Extrafarma as of December 31, 2012. Each of the Subscription Warrants - Indemnification shall have the subscription right of up to four hundred and fifty seven thousand, nine hundred and forty six (457,946) common, nominative book-entry shares with no par value issued by Ultrapar, subject to a potential adjustment due to verification of Loss(es) subject to indemnification by Extrafarma shareholders to Ultrapar, resulting from (a) fraud, omission, errors, inaccuracies, misstatements or breach of the representation and warranties given by Extrafarma, Extrafarma shareholders to Ultrapar; (b) facts, acts and/or omission of Extrafarma or by Extrafarma shareholders prior to the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs; or (c) breach of the obligations assumed by Extrafarma shareholders and/or by Extrafarma in the Association Agreement. It will be understood that the term "Losses" means all and any intentions and/or liabilities, losses, penalties, damages, fines, judgments, notices, injury, liens (including attachment, seizure or any type of impounding), costs and expenses (including attorneys' fees) after the final and unappealable judicial or arbitration decisions, as well as undisputed administrative or judicial decision or the notice of Loss sent by one party to the other which was not disputed.

c. Inform the issuance price and the exercise price of the warrant.

Considering that it is a merger of shares and that Subscription Warrants are included in the exchange ratio of shares issued by Extrafarma for shares issued by Ultrapar, a specific issuance price was not ascribed to the Subscription Warrants (pursuant to the Article 77 of the Law No. 6,404/76). The exercise price of the Subscription Warrants shall correspond to the market value of the shares issued by Ultrapar at the time of the exercise of the Subscription Warrants and there will be no additional payment by the holders of the Subscription Warrants since, upon the approval of the Merger of Shares, the holders of the Subscription Warrants will contribute all of the shares of Extrafarma to Ultrapar's equity.

d. Inform the criterion for establishment of the issuance price and exercise price and justify, in details, the economic aspects on which such criterion was chosen.

Please, see item (c) above.

e. Provide the managers' opinion on the effects of the capital increase, especially with respect to the dilution caused by such increase.

The issuance of Subscription Warrants will be favorable to the Company and its shareholders within the context of the guarantees provided by Extrafarma's shareholders. It must also be considered that the shares the Subscription Warrants will potentially be granted are part of the exchange ratio of the shares issued by Extrafarma for the shares issued by Ultrapar in the Merger of Shares. The maximum dilution to which Ultrapar shareholders shall be subject upon the full exercise of the Subscription Warrants is of 0,7% (calculated by the maximum amount of shares to be potentially issued upon the total amount of shares issued by the Company after the approval of the Merger of Shares, excluding the shares currently held in treasury).

f. Provide a copy of all reports and studies on which the establishment of the issuance price was based.

g. Inform the terms and conditions which the exercise of the warrant is subject to.

The exercise of the Subscription Warrants – Working Capital is subject to the verification of potential adjustment due to the variation of working capital and the net debt of Extrafarma as of the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs, in relation to the working capital and the net debt of Extrafarma as of December 31, 2012. The Subscription Warrant – Working Capital may be exercised by its holders within five (5) business days after the “Calculation Date,” which is the date corresponding to ten (10) business days after (i) the preparation of Extrafarma’s balance sheet as of the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs; and (ii) the verification of net debt and working capital of Extrafarma existing on the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs, proportionally to the remaining shares after the adjustment aforementioned. The shares issued due to the exercise of the Subscription Warrants – Working Capital shall be subject to trading restrictions up to the sixth (6th) anniversary of the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs.

The exercise of the Subscription Warrants – Indemnification, is subject to potential adjustment due to verification of Loss(es) subject to indemnification by Extrafarma shareholders to Ultrapar, resulting from (a) fraud, omission, errors, inaccuracies, misstatements or breach of the representation and warranties given by Extrafarma, Extrafarma’s shareholders to Ultrapar; (b) facts, acts and/or omission of Extrafarma or by Extrafarma’s shareholders prior to the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs; or (c) breach of the obligations assumed by Extrafarma’s shareholders and/or by Extrafarma in the Association Agreement. It will be understood that the term “Losses” means all and any intentions and/or liabilities, losses, penalties, damages, fines, judgments, notices, injury, liens (including attachment, seizure or any type of impounding), costs and expenses (including attorneys’ fees) after the final and unappealable judicial or arbitration decisions, as well as undisputed administrative or judicial decision or the notice of Loss sent by one party to the other which was not disputed. The Subscription Warrant – Indemnification may be exercised, in whole or in part, by its holders (i) within five (5) business days after the 6th anniversary of date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs (“Confirmation Date”), proportionally to the remaining shares after adjustments for potential Losses to be indemnified by Extrafarma’s shareholders to Ultrapar that has been accrued until such date; and (ii) after the Confirmation Date, whenever occurs the termination of all and any potential Loss that, before the Confirmation Date, has been identified by the Companies and by Extrafarma’s shareholders as a result of notice or filing of administrative or judicial proceeding or extrajudicial notice, but that has not been effectively accrued prior to such date.

The Subscription Warrants may not be traded or transferred by its holders or otherwise be subject to liens or promise of trading, transfer or liens, except under the succession plan of Extrafarma’s shareholders.

h. Inform if shareholders will be entitled to preemptive rights to subscribe for new warrants and provide the details of the terms and conditions which such right is subject to.

Considering that the Subscription Warrants will be issued under the exchange ratio of the shares issued by Extrafarma for the shares issued by Ultrapar in the Merger of Shares, the shareholders of the Company will not be entitled to preemptive rights in the subscription of Subscription Warrants.

i. Inform if the subscription will be public or private.

Private.

j. Inform the matters which may be established by the Board of Directors.

The issuance of Subscription Warrants shall be approved at the Shareholders' Meeting of the Company, and the capital increase resulting from the future exercise of Subscription Warrants may be approved by the Board of Directors of the Company, within the limits of the authorized capital set forth in the Company's Bylaws.

k. Inform the secondary market in which warrants will be traded, as the case may be.

Not applicable.

l. Described the rights, advantages and restrictions of shares resulting from the exercise of subscription warrants.

The Subscription Warrants are securities other than the shares issued by the Company, and they solely entitle their holders to, under the conditions approved at the Shareholders' Meeting of the Company, the right to subscribe shares issued by Company, upon compliance with the conditions set forth in the certificates of the Subscription Warrants.

The ownership of Subscription Warrants, by itself, does not assure any right to dividends, interests attributable to shareholders' equity and other shareholders' rights; that is, only after the exercise of the Subscription Warrants, that will result in the issuance of shares of the Company, the holders thereof will be entitled to enjoy the shareholders' rights.

The shares of the Company, when issued, shall have the same rights attributed to the outstanding shares issued by Company in the respective date, and the holders thereof shall be entitled to all benefits, including dividends and capital compensations that may be declared by the Company after issued thereof.

m. Provide the percentage of potential dilution resulting from the issuance.

If the Subscription Warrants are fully subscribed and converted into shares, the potential dilution resulting from the issuance (calculated by the maximum number of shares to be potentially issued on the total number of shares issued by the Company after the approval of the Merger of Shares, excluding the shares currently held in treasury) is of 0.7%.

The Merger of Shares shall also enable the acceleration of Extrafarma’s expansion plan, through (i) increased investment capacity, (ii) access for drugstore openings in Ipiranga’s service stations and Ultragas’s resellers, (iii) the strengthening of Extrafarma’s experienced retail pharmacy management team, by implementing Ultrapar’s recognized mechanisms of corporate governance, incentives, and alignment of interests. These mechanisms are also expected to contribute to an efficient integration of the operations and to the development of business models increasingly attractive Extrafarma’s, Ipiranga’s and Ultragas’s consumers, thus increasing these businesses’ differentiation potential.

The managements of the Companies believe that the combination of their assets, talents and competences will bring economic benefits to the Companies, their shareholders and consumers.

2. Corporate and Negotiation Acts Performed.

On September 30, 2013, the Companies and the shareholders holding all shares of Extrafarma's capital stock entered into an association agreement and other covenants ("Association Agreement"), by means of which they agreed to integrate the Companies' activities, after certain conditions precedent are complied with, through the Merger of Shares.

Economic Analysis

The key information regarding the international and the Brazilian macroeconomic environment are presented below. The analysis below refers to the reference-date of this report, and has been prepared based on information from the Central Bank of Brazil (BACEN), Focus Report, Getulio Vargas Foundation (FGV), Global Insight and JP Morgan.

Brazilian Economy(5)

Economic Activity

In the first quarter of 2013, the economic activity showed a 0.6% growth, resulting from a robust growth of the agricultural sector, increased absorption of capital goods and continuous growth of families' consumption. For 2013, the financial indicators suggest that the expansion trend will continue, so that the market expectations for GDP growth are 2.4% in 2013 and 3.0% in 2014.

Inflation

The official inflation index, IPCA (Consumer Price Index) closed 2012 at 5.8% and the last twelve months ended June 2013 closed at 6.7% . According to market expectations, IPCA is projected at 5.9% in 2013 and 5.8% in 2014, within the range of two percentage points above the 4.5% target set by the Brazilian Committee of Monetary Policy (COPOM). The Brazilian General Price Index -- Market (IGP-M), calculated by FGV ended 2012 at 7.8% . The analysts' expectations for this index are 4.9% in 2013 and 5.3% in 2014.

Monetary Policy

In the May 28 and 29 meeting, COPOM took into account the macroeconomic situation and the Brazilian inflation perspectives, and decided to raise the Selic rate to 8.0% per year, 0.5 percentage points above the previous level. COPOM considered the high level of prices that had shown resistance in previous months, and therefore, deemed necessary to implement initiatives aimed to change the scenario.

Country Specific Risk (6)

The index explains the difference in daily performance of the U.S and emerging countries debt securities and it is an indicator of the financial health of the relevant country. The index ended the June at 237 basis points, which indicates a difference of 2.4% between the performance of Brazilian bonds and the U.S. securities. The monthly average was 229 basis points.

The pharmacy sector presented a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.7% between 2007 and 2011. The Americas and Europe represent 2012 3.2% the largest markets, with 42.1% and 30.5% of the global market respectively.

4. Market Analysis

[GRAPHIC OMITTED]

In 2012, when analyzing the pharmaceutical market, the generics segment contributed to 19% of drug sales in Brazil. OTC accounted for 28%, and branded drugs represented 53% considering reference and other branded drugs.

For 2013, the major chains continued the consolidation trend in the market through the strategy of opening new stores, and the three main companies in the market are expected to open 320 new stores.

Reference / Branded drugs

Despite the growing demand for generic drugs, there is still potential for sales expansion of reference / branded drugs. One reason is the high level of investments in reasearch by multinational industries in Brazil, and greater consumer confidence on well-known brands.

The expiration of patents in the forthcoming years can cause the demand for patented drugs to switch to generic equivalents.

However, the lack of advanced technology to produce generics of complex drugs tends to maintain a moderate growth in sales of branded / reference medicines.

(9) Branded medicines have the same active ingredient of the Reference medicines, which, in turn, are still patented.

4. Market Analysis

The forecast is that the market for branded drugs will present a nominal CAGR of 10.9% (10) in Brazil until 2018.

Generic drugs

The global market for generic drugs grows at approximately 10.8% (11) per year and accounts for more than US$ 150 billion turnover. Worldwide, the United States stand out with sales of generic drugs of US$ 56 billion per year.

According to IMS Health, in Brazil, generic drugs account for 19% in terms of sales without discount (list price).

In countries like France, Germany and the United Kingdom, where the generic market is more mature, the participation of these drugs is 42%, 66%, and 60% by volume, respectively. In the United States, such participation is approximately 80%.

Generic drugs in Brazil are, officially, at least 35% cheaper than branded drugs. Actually, they are on average 50% cheaper to the final consumer. The price of generics allows and increased number of consumers to obtain access to medicines.

Such fact, coupled with the Brazilian government programs, such as "Aqui tem Farm[.]cia Popular" (which aims to give the population access to medicines for common diseases), and the expiration of patents for reference drugs, all contribute to a favorable scenario to the generics market in Brazil.

The forecast is that the generic drugs market presents a nominal CAGR of 18.3% (12) in the country until 2018.

Over the counter / Prescription free medicines (OTC)

OTC are medicines that can be bought without prescription. They are produced and distributed with the intention of being used by the population on its own initiative, for treatment of symptoms and easily identifiable diseases.

In 2012, "ANVISA" published the "RDC" or DRC (Board Resolution) 41, which allows OTC drugs to be exposed on the shelves of pharmacies and changed the regulation of 2009, which determined that these drugs should be accommodated behind the counter, as a way to avoid the irrational self-medication. The new resolution favored the OTC market, which should continue to grow in the coming years, following the growth in the overall pharmaceutical market.

(11) Source: <http://www.progenericos.org.br/index.php/mercado>, 2012

(12) Source: IMS Health

4. Market Analysis

The OTC drugs currently represent approximately 28% of the total pharmaceutical market, according to IMS Health. The expectation is a nominal CAGR of 13.3% (13) until 2018. Healthcare Products ("HPC") The personal care and cosmetics represent a considerable share of total sales of pharmacies. This market presented an average growth of 12.1% (14) between 2007 and 2011. In comparison, the American and Canadian markets presented a CAGR of 1.1% and 2.9% respectively in the same period.

The expectation is that the Brazilian market continues to grow, through an increase in income and change in the distribution of these products from supermarkets to pharmacies channel. The expectation is for continued growth, as seen in the recent years.

5.3 Projected Financial Information

[GRAPHIC OMITTED]

Extrafarma's Gross Sales (GS) derive from sales through the channels (1) Retail and (2)

Wholesale: Between 1 and 2 Sales Wholesale Gross Sales years

1. Retail: represents approximately 85.0% of Extrafarmas's total sale on the reference date, composed of the sale of 13% branded, generics and OTC drugs, HPC and convenience products (water, light beverage, cookies, mobile recharge services, Between 2 and 3 among others).

The projection of the retail's sales, considered the sales years from the existing stores on the reference date, as well as Extrafarma's expansion plan, which considers the opening of new stores until 2017, according to the assumptions described below: more than 3 years

[] Existing stores: as of the reference date, Extrafarma (Mature) had 178 stores, of which 59 were classified as under maturation (less than 4 years of operation), and 119 as mature. They were projected under the following assumptions:

[] Under maturation stores: were projected to reach maturity in year 4 of the respective operations, following the maturity curve shown in the side table.

The maturity curve followed the current characteristics of Extrafarma's stores and it is in accordance to the maturity profile of the market analyzed (19). Based on this, after reaching maturity, the average annual sales of the stores were projected on BRL 5.5 million (20).

(18) The analysis of sales' evolution measured by same store sales (SSS) is commonly used on retail segment. It shows the sales growth through comparable stores, with operations during two complete consecutive periods. When the operation of a store is interrupted, or if a store begins its operation in the middle of the year, it is not considered in the calculation of SSS.

(19) The benchmark was based on public information available about peer companies, which operate in the same sector of Extrafarma in Brazil.

(20) Reference value in 2013. This value was yearly adjusted by 0.5p. p. (long-term population growth) above inflation (IPCA) projected by the Central Bank of Brazil during the projected years.

5. Company Overview

[GRAPHIC OMITTED]

It is expected growth in all categories of products in the retail channel, with emphasis on generic 41.2% drugs, due to the expiring 41.4% patents scheduled for 41.5% the coming years(22) and 4 the 1 increased access for the end consumer. Based on this, the trend is that the generic category increases its share in the retail's sales mix, as shown in the graph beside.

2. Wholesale 2014 : represents approximately 2015 15.0% of the sales on2016 the reference date and refers to drugs distribution to small chains, independent stores, hospitals and clinics.

The sales growth assumption Branded for the wholesale segment wasGenerics based on the evolution of GDP plus the projected inflation by the Central Bank of Brazil. Throughout the projected period, after the maturation of this market, it is believed that the growth should converge to 0.5 p.p. of real growth above the inflation rate, in accordance to the retail segment.

(21) This expansion was based on the stand-alone operation at the reference date, without considering the potential growth plan with Ultrapar.

(22) As market expectations released in the report Pharmaceutical Market for Latin America and Brazil published by IMS Health on July 2, 2013.

It is important to note that the fixed portions of the operating expenses for the retail channel were projected per store, according to the expansion plan previously presented, reflecting the increase in the structure to support the organic growth projected for Extrafarma for the next years, as shown in the table beside.

(23) The real growth varied from 2.0 p.p. in 2013, based on the labor market conditions observed at the reference date of the Valuation, which varied according to the normalization curve during the explicit forecasted period, reaching 0.5 pp in 2022.

5. Company Overview

Brazil, and the (ii) real growth⁽²⁴⁾, in order to reflect the conditions in the regional labor market;

[] General and Administrative Expenses: refer to utilities and services, maintenance, outsourced services and other expenses. Considered 100.0% and adjusted by the expected inflation ("IPCA") for the period forecasted by the Central Bank of Brazil;

[] Occupational Expenses: represented by the cost of rent, condominium, property tax, and funds for advertisement, considered 100.0% fixed and adjusted for the expected inflation ("IGP-M") for the period forecasted by the Central Bank of Brazil.

3. Corporate Expenses: mainly composed of indirect expenses of Extrafarma's operation, projected based on their respective share of fixed and variable expenses observed in the historical period, considering the expansion of the Company's corporate structure to support the projected growth of the business. Based on this, the Corporate Expenses are composed by:

[] Personnel Expenses: considered 75.0% fixed, this portion was adjusted by inflation ("IPCA") and real growth⁽²⁵⁾ and 25.0% variable; following the evolution of the total sales of the business;

[] General and Administrative Expenses: considered 75.0% fixed, adjusted by inflation ("IPCA") and 25% variable;

[] Occupational Expenses: represented by the cost of rent, condominium, property tax and funds for advertisement. Considered 100.0% fixed and adjusted by inflation ("IGP-M").

It is important to mention that the increase in corporate expenses reflects the expected increase on Extrafarma's structure in order to support the business growth in the next years, emphasizing the following aspects:

[] A new operations structure will be created to support the business growth;

[] As a result of the expansion plan, which includes the increase of 232 new stores in the next years, it was considered the opening of two⁽²⁶⁾ new distribution centers in the Northeast region of Brazil, with impacts on growth of corporate personnel expenses, utilities and maintenance.

(24) As previously described, projected personnel expenses considered variation of 2.0 p.p. above inflation in 2013, which was normalized to 0.5 p.p. above inflation in 2022.

(25) As previously described earlier, projected personnel expenses considered variation of 2.0 p.p. above inflation in 2013, which was normalized to 0.5 p.p. above inflation in 2022.

(26) Based on the operational characteristics of Extrafarma and as a result of the expansion plan projected, it was considered a new distribution center for every 100 new stores.

6. Extrafarma Valuation

6.1 Valuation Methodology Overview	36
6.2 Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Implementation	37

6. Extrafarma Valuation

6.1 Valuation Methodology Overview

For this economic-financial valuation, the Income Approach⁽³²⁾ was adopted, through the Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) method. According to the DCF method, the value of a business is equal to the present value of the expected cash flows available to the owners of the capital or debt of the business. In the valuation of a company, the value drivers are developed by discounting free cash flows available for distribution to their present value at the rate that represents the return required by the market and the risks inherent to a specific investment.

The DCF approach is considered the most relevant for assessing businesses or companies, as it contemplates the ability of a company to generate cash inflows and outflows, and providing financing and investment conditions to their operations. More specifically, cash inflows include profits, increase of debt, sale of assets and decrease in net working capital. Cash outflows include payment of the principal of its debt, investment in assets and working capital.

The DCF analysis here presented refers to operating cash flow, also known as free cash flow for the company. Therefore, for the DCF calculation the debt was excluded (ie, payment of interest was excluded of the estimated future expenses, and payment of debt was excluded from the calculation of cash flows). The proposal to exclude interest payments and debt from the calculation of cash flows is to provide an indication of the operational value (EV) of the business, which includes the value of debt and equity.

Thus, the sum of the present values of the free cash flows of the company and the perpetuity⁽³³⁾ value indicates the value of operations, which are still added or reduced by non-operating assets and liabilities and net debt in order to obtain the total capital value of the company.

32 Appendix B for details on the main approaches for valuation..

33 For main parameters for the calculation of perpetuity see, 6.2. Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Implementation".

6. Extrafarma Valuation

6.2 Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Implementation

Main parameters

Discounted free cash flow(34)

Extrafarma's cash flow was calculated according to the assumptions that were adopted in the projections of income statement, working capital and CAPEX previously presented in this report, as well as other parameters presented below.

Discount Rate(35)

The projected free cash flows were discounted by the weighted average cost of capital (WACC) in Reais (BRL), in nominal terms, i.e., considering the effect of inflation.

The WACC was calculated based on information from selected(36) market players, and was estimated at 12.0% p.a.(37).

Long-term growth rate and calculation of perpetuity value

For the calculation of the perpetuity value, it was considered a percentage of growth (g) of 5.7% p.a. equivalent to the long-term vegetative population growth estimated by IBGE (0.5% p.a.) plus the expected long-term inflation (5.2% p.a.) forecasted by the Central Bank of Brazil. The percentage of 5.7% p.a. (g) was subtracted from the discount rate of 12.0% (k), to obtain the capitalization rate of 6.3% . This capitalization rate was used to estimate the perpetuity value, based on the constant growth model, as shown below:

7. Conclusion

7. Conclusion

[GRAPHIC OMITTED]

The results obtained by the DCF method are relevant in the following context of the planned transaction:

[] The profitability and value assumptions are in line with the historical data and the market where the Company operates and are consistent with the financial indicators⁽³⁹⁾ of the peer companies;

[] The valuation drivers are consistent with the Company's size and expected long-term growth, on a stand-alone basis;

[] The DCF methodology is the one that best reflects the value of an investment based on future profitability (the Income Approach).

This estimated value does not consider possible contingencies, insufficient or unexpected assets or liabilities that are not registered on the Company's balance sheet. As such, the presented results do not consider their effects, if any.

10 Our valuation is based on elements that are reasonably expected, therefore, does not take into account possible extraordinary and unforeseeable events (new regulation for the businesses, changes in tax laws, natural disasters, political and social events, nationalizations, etc.) ;

11 Our valuation was based on the best available information and estimates. However, as any projection encompasses risk and uncertainties, real results may show a difference when compared to projections;

12 Our analyses treat Extrafarma and Ultrapar operations as independent (stand-alone) and therefore do not include operating or fiscal benefits or losses, incremental value and/or costs, if any, that Extrafarma and Ultrafarma may have from the completion of the transaction, if consummated, or any other operation. The valuation also does not take into account any operating and financial gains or losses that may occur after the completion of the transaction.

B. Main Valuation Approaches

Overview

Business enterprises, tangible and intangible assets should be valued based on the appropriate application of the Market, Cost and Income Approaches. Although all three approaches should be considered in a valuation analysis, the fact pattern surrounding the acquisition, the nature of the business or assets, and the availability of data will dictate which approach -- or approaches -- is/are ultimately utilized to calculate value. The following discussion provides an overview of the three approaches to value as well as the most common or relevant valuation methodologies within each approach.

Market Approach

The Market Approach measures value based on what other purchasers in the market have paid for assets or business interests that can be considered reasonably similar to those being valued. When the Market Approach is utilized, data are collected on the prices paid for reasonably comparable assets or interests. Adjustments are made to the prices paid to compensate for differences between those assets or interests and the asset or interest being valued. The application of the Market Approach results in an estimate of the price reasonably expected to be realized from the sale of the asset or business interest.

In practice, sales prices, especially for intangible assets and specialized tangible assets, are rarely available since these are typically transferred as part of the sale of a business, not in piecemeal transactions. Furthermore, because many assets are often unique to a particular enterprise, a comparison between enterprises is difficult.

For these reasons, it is often problematic to apply the Market Approach for the valuation of many intangible assets and many specialized tangible assets. It is however typically used for assets that are commonly traded in the market such as certain real property assets, general plant and equipment, motor vehicles, etc. Some intangible assets, however, are traded on an individual basis, in which case a Market Approach may be an appropriate approach to value.

Income Approach

The Income Approach focuses on the income-producing capability of the identified asset or business. The underlying premise of this approach is that the value of an asset or business can be measured by the present worth of the net economic benefit (cash receipts less cash outlays) to be received over its life. The steps followed in applying this approach include estimating the expected after-tax cash flows attributable to the asset or business over its life and converting these after-tax cash flows to present value through 'discounting'. The discounting process uses a rate of return that accounts for both the time value of money and investment risk factors. Finally, the present value of the after-tax cash flows over the life of the asset is totalled to arrive at an indication of value.

Discounted cash flow and capitalization methods are commonly used to estimate the value of businesses, intangible assets, and income producing real property assets such as commercial office buildings.

The income capitalization method is defined in (The Appraisal of Real Estate, Thirteenth Edition), Appraisal Institute as: "The process of analyzing a property's capacity to generate future benefits and capitalizes the income into an indication of present value. The principle of anticipation is fundamental to the approach. Techniques and procedures from this approach are used to analyze comparable sales data and to measure obsolescence in the cost approach." The Income Approach is generally not considered to be appropriate to estimate values for plant and equipment assets because it is not usually feasible to attribute income to an individual property unit or the units of equipment that constitute an operating entity, since the assets contribute to earnings only in concert with all other economic factors of the business.

Cost Approach

The Cost Approach is based on the premise that a prudent investor would pay no more for an asset than its replacement or reproduction cost. The cost to replace the asset would include the cost of constructing a similar asset of equivalent utility at prices applicable at the time of the valuation analyses. This estimate may then be adjusted by losses in value attributable to obsolescence (physical, functional and/ or economic).

The Cost Approach is used to determine values in circumstances where it is not possible to determine values using a Market Approach or an Income Approach.

In valuing tangible assets, the Cost Approach relies on the principle of substitution and recognizes that a prudent investor will pay no more for an asset than the cost to replace it new with an identical or similar unit of equivalent utility. Under this approach, the Fair Market Value of an asset is determined by reference to the reproduction or replacement cost new of modern equivalent assets, optimized for over-design, over-capacity and redundant assets, and adjusted to reflect losses in value attributable to physical depreciation and obsolescence.

8. Appendix

C. Discount Rate Derivation

The application of Discounted Cash-Flow Methods requires the determination of an appropriate discount rate. Discounted Cash-Flow Methods are applied under conditions of uncertainty. In common usage, the word risk refers to any exposure to uncertainty in which the exposure has potential negative consequences. It is assumed that marketplace participants are said to be risk adverse. A risk-averse market participant prefers situations with a narrower range of uncertainty over situations with a greater range of uncertainty relative to an expected outcome. Marketplace participants seek compensation, referred to as a risk premium, for accepting uncertainty.

Therefore the determination of the discount rate implies the comparison of the cash-flows generated by the asset with the cash-flows generated with the most favorable alternative investment. In this respect, it must be carefully observed that the cash flows from the asset being valued and the alternative investment are equivalent in terms of risk and maturity.

The determination of the discount rate is based on WACC. The following formula is applied to calculate WACC: $WACC = WE * KE + WD * KD$

Where:

WE = value of equity / value of total capital
KE = market value of equity
WD = value of interest bearing debt / value of total capital
KD = after tax costs of interest bearing debt

Since the WACC reflects the specific risk of an enterprise, adjustments have to be considered based on the asset-specific risk profile.

Cost of equity

To estimate the cost of equity, the Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM) is used. The CAPM postulates that the opportunity cost of equity is equal to the return on risk-free securities plus an individual risk premium. The risk premium is the company's systematic risk (beta) multiplied by the market risk (market risk premium), adding the country risk.

8. Appendix

The calculation for the cost of equity, as follows:

KE = $RF + B * MRP + aBR + SP$, where
KE = Expected market return
RF = Risk-free rate of return
B = Systematic risk of a single stock
MRP = Equity risk premium -- general market
aBR = Country-specific risk premium
SP = Specific risk

Starting point for the estimate of cost of equity is the risk-free rate of return. In practice, the interest rate of long-term risk-free financial investments, e.g. fixed-interest public sector securities, is used as a guideline for determining the prevailing interest rate.

The market risk premium (the price of risk) is the difference between the expected rate of return on the market portfolio and the risk-free rate. Historical capital market investigations have shown that investments in shares generate between 4.0% and 7.0% higher returns than investments in low-risk debt securities.

The average market risk premium must be modified to reflect the specific risk structure. The CAPM accounts for the company-specific risk within the beta factor. Beta factors represent a weighting figure for the sensitivity of the company's returns compared to the trend of the entire market. They are thus a measure of volatility for the systematic risk. Beta factors of more than one reflect a higher volatility; beta factors of less than one reflect a lower volatility than the market average. Beta factors are ideally determined with reference to the entire equity market, since the concept of systematic and specific risk requires that individual shares are measured in relation to the market portfolio.

When activities in different countries are taken into consideration, it might be appropriate to use country specific risk premiums.

Capital structure

The capital structure is derived from the average capital structure of a group of comparable companies (peer group).

Decisions:

The members of the Board of Directors discussed the proposal of merger, by the Company, of shares issued by Imifarma Produtos Farmacêuticos e Cosméticos S.A., a closely-held corporation headquartered in the City of Belém, State of Pará, at Travessa Quintino Bocaiúva, 381, CEP 66053-240, enrolled with the Brazilian Corporate Taxpayers' Registry of the Ministry of Finance ("CNPJ/MF") under Nr. 04.899.316/0001-18 ("Extrafarma"), with the consequent conversion of Extrafarma into a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company ("Merger of Shares"), pursuant to the Association Agreement entered into by and among the Company, Extrafarma and its shareholders on September 30, 2013, and pursuant to Article 252 of Law Nr. 6,404/76, for which a favorable report was provided by the Fiscal Council of the Company.

(Minutes of Board of Directors' Meeting of Ultrapar Participações S.A, of December 11th, 2013)

The members of the Board of Directors acknowledged that the Merger of Shares is in the interest of the Company and of its shareholders, in order to enable the strengthening of both companies and of their growth perspectives, through (a) the Company's entry into the significant, growing Brazilian pharmaceutical retail sector, creating new opportunities for value generation to the Company; and (b) the enhanced scale for the expansion of Extrafarma, to be boosted by increased investment capacity, by the widespread presence of Ipiranga's service stations and Ultragaz's resellers, and by the implementation of Ultrapar's corporate governance and incentive systems. The members of the Board of Directors analyzed (i) the draft Protocol and Justification of Merger of Shares issued by Extrafarma by the Company, to be entered into by and among the Officers of the Company and Extrafarma ("Protocol and Justification"); (ii) the economic-financial valuation report of shares issued by Extrafarma, for purposes of Articles 8 and 226 of Law Nr. 6,404/76 ("Appraisal Report"), prepared by the Appraisal Firm, a specialized company appointed by the management of the Company for such appraisal, ad referendum of the Shareholders' Meeting; (iii) the financial statements of Extrafarma and the financial statements of the Company, both audited and with base-date of June 30th, 2013; and (iv) the fairness opinion on the price of Extrafarma for the Merger of Shares prepared by Banco Morgan Stanley S.A. ("Fairness Opinion"), as well as received all additional clarification requested to the Board of Officers, the representatives of the Appraisal Firm and Morgan Stanley. Subsequently, the members of the Board of Directors inquired the Appraisal Firm's and Morgan Stanley's representatives, as experts on the subject, if they have considered in the preparation of their relevant evaluations all the applicable technical and legal provisions, and the Appraisal Firm's and Morgan Stanley's representatives, individually, have confirmed the full compliance of their relevant documents with applicable technical and legal rules.

Based on the analysis and discussions, the members of the Board of Directors have concluded that, under their best knowledge, such evaluations were prepared in accordance with the concepts and assumptions such experts freely and independently adopted in the exercise of their duty. Thus, in exercising its fiduciary duty in the fulfillment of its responsibilities, pursuant to Articles 153, 154 and 155 of Law Nr. 6,404/76, and upon verification that all of the foregoing documents and the Merger of Shares are in compliance with the applicable legal and statutory provisions, the members of the Board of Directors decided to recommend and submit to the approval of shareholders of the Company the proposed Merger of Shares, under the terms and conditions of the Protocol and Justification, and authorized the call of an Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting of the Company, pursuant to Article 28, items "h" and "m" of the Company's Bylaws, to deliberate upon the proposal of the Merger of Shares, including the agenda: (i) the Protocol and Justification; (ii) the ratification of the appointment and engagement of the Appraisal Firm as the specialized firm responsible for the preparation of the Appraisal Report, for purposes of the provisions of Articles 226 and 8 of Law Nr. 6,404/76; (iii) the

The members of the Board of Directors also authorized, under the scope of the Merger of Shares, the issuance of the financial statements of the Company with a base-date of June 30, 2013.

The members of the Board of Directors approved, pursuant to Article 28, item "b" of the Bylaws, the election of Mr. Paulo Correa Lazera, Brazilian citizen, married, businessman, holder of identity card RG Nr. 975.948 (SSP/PA) and enrolled with the Brazilian Individuals Taxpayers' Registry of the Ministry of Finance ("CPF/MF") under Nr. 056.161.582-91, with business address in the City of Belém, State of Pará, at Travessa Quintino Bocaiúva, Nr. 381, CEP 66053-240, to serve as Officer with no specific designation of the Company, subject to the approval of the Merger of Shares by the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting of the Company to be called according to the foregoing terms. The term of office of Mr. Paulo Correa Lazera shall coincide with the terms of office of the current members of the Board of Executive Officers, until the Annual Shareholders' Meeting of 2015, which will analyze the documents referred to in Article 133 of Law Nr. 6,404/76, related to fiscal year ended as of December 31, 2014. Management's responsibility for the special purpose interim financial statements

The Company's Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the special purpose individual interim financial statements in accordance with the accounting practices adopted in Brazil and the special purpose consolidated interim financial statements in accordance with the IFRS, issued by IASB, and the accounting practices adopted in Brazil and for the presentation for the special purpose of complying with the requirements of the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission (CVM) Instruction 319/99, for the merger of shares of Imifarma Produtos Farmacêuticos e Cosméticos S.A. by the Company, as well as for such internal control as Management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of these special purpose interim financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special purpose interim financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Brazilian and international standards on auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special purpose interim financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the special purpose interim financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of risks of material misstatement of the special purpose interim financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the special purpose interim financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by Management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the special purpose interim financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion on the special purpose individual interim financial statements

In our opinion, the special purpose individual interim financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Ultrapar Participações S.A. as of June 30, 2013 and its financial performance for the six-month period then ended in accordance with the accounting practices adopted in Brazil.

Emphasis of matter

Measurement of investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures

We draw attention to note 2 to the special purpose interim financial statements, which states that the special purpose individual financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting practices adopted in Brazil. In the case of Ultrapar Participações S.A., these accounting practices differ from the IFRS, applicable to separate financial statements, only with respect to the measurement of investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures by the equity method of accounting, which, for purposes of IFRS, would be measured at cost or fair value. Our opinion is not qualified in respect of this matter.

Basis for preparation and presentation of the special purpose interim financial statements and restriction of use and distribution

Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to note 2 to the special purpose interim financial statements, which describes that these special purpose interim financial statements were prepared only with a special purpose to be used as a basis for the merger of shares of Imifarma Produtos Farmacêuticos e Cosméticos S.A. by the Company, as required by CVM Instruction 319/99. As such, the special purpose interim financial statements include only the individual and consolidated balance sheets as of June 30, 2013 and the individual and consolidated statements of income for the six-month period then ended and do not represent a complete set of general purpose financial statements prepared in accordance with the IFRS and accounting practices adopted in Brazil and thus may not be used for any other purposes.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

1. Operations

Ultrapar Participações S.A. (“Ultrapar” or “Company”), is a publicly-traded company headquartered at the Brigadeiro Luis Antônio Avenue, 1343 in the city of São Paulo – SP, Brazil.

The Company engages in the investment of its own capital in services, commercial and industrial activities, by the subscription or acquisition of shares of other companies. Through its subsidiaries, it operates in the segments of liquefied petroleum gas - LPG distribution (“Ultragaz”), fuel distribution and related businesses (“Ipiranga”), production and marketing of chemicals (“Oxitenó”), and storage services for liquid bulk (“Ultracargo”). The Company also operates in oil refining through its joint-venture in Refinaria de Petróleo Riograndense S.A. (“RPR”).

On September 30, 2013, in order to operate in the retail and wholesale of the pharmacy segment, Ultrapar signed an association agreement with Imifarma Produtos Farmacêuticos e Cosméticos S.A. (“Imifarma”), which operates a drugstore chain in Brazil through the brand Extrafarma. The closing of the transaction is expected to take place in the first quarter of 2014. For further details see Material Notice released on September 30, 2013.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

These individual and consolidated interim financial statements as of June 30, 2013 have been prepared only for the special purpose of complying with the requirements of Instruction No. 319/99 of the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission - CVM for the merger of shares of Imifarma into Ultrapar. These interim financial statements include only the individual and consolidated balance sheets as of June 30, 2013 and the individual and consolidated income statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013, according to the terms of item 29.12 of CVM Ofício-Circular/CVM/SNC/SEP nº 01/2007. Therefore these interim financial statements do not represent a complete set of financial statements and may not be used for other purposes.

The special purpose consolidated interim financial statements (“consolidated interim financial statements”) have been prepared in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) and the accounting practices adopted in Brazil (“BR GAAP”) and were presented considering the special purpose described above.

The special purpose individual interim financial statements (“individual interim financial statements”) have been prepared in accordance with BR GAAP and were presented considering the special purpose described above. The investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures are measured by the equity method of accounting, which, for purposes of IFRS, would be measured at cost or fair value.

The individual interim financial statements and consolidated interim financial statements together are “interim financial statements”.

The accounting practices adopted in Brazil comprise the Brazilian Corporate Law and the Pronouncements, Guidelines and Interpretations issued by the Accounting Pronouncements Committee - CPC and approved by the Federal Accounting Council - CFC and the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission - CVM.

The presentation currency of the Company's individual and consolidated interim financial statements is the Brazilian Real ("R$"), which is the Company's functional currency.

The accounting policies described below were applied by the Company and its subsidiaries in a consistent manner in these interim financial statements.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

a. Recognition of income

Revenue and cost of sales are recognized when all risks and benefits associated with the products are transferred to the purchaser. Revenue from services provided and their costs are recognized when the services are provided. Costs of products and services sold provided include goods (mainly fuels/lubricants and LPG), raw materials (chemicals and petrochemicals) and production, distribution, storage and filling costs.

b. Cash and cash equivalents

Include cash, banks deposits and short-term highly-liquid investments that are readily convertible into a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value. See Note 4 for further details on cash and cash equivalents of the Company and its subsidiaries.

c. Financial instruments

In accordance with International Accounting Standards (“IAS”) 32, IAS 39 and IFRS 7 (CPC 38, 39 and 40 (R1)), the financial instruments of the Company and its subsidiaries are classified in accordance with the following categories:

- Measured at fair value through profit or loss: financial assets and liabilities held for trading, that is, acquired or incurred principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing in the near term, and derivatives. The balances are stated at fair value. The interest earned, the exchange variation and changes in fair value are recognized in profit or loss.
- Held to maturity: non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments, and fixed maturities for which the entity has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity. The interest earned and the foreign currency exchange variation are recognized in profit or loss, and balances are stated at acquisition cost plus the interest earned, using the effective interest rate method.
- Available for sale: non-derivative financial assets that are designated as available for sale or that are not classified into other categories at initial recognition. The balances are stated at fair value and the interest earned and the foreign currency exchange variation are recognized in profit or loss. Differences between fair value and acquisition cost plus the interest earned are recognized in a specific account in the shareholders’ equity. Accumulated gains and losses recognized in the shareholders’ equity are reclassified to profit or loss in case of prepayment.
- Loans and receivables: non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments or receipts, not quoted in an active market, except: (i) those which the entity intends to sell immediately or in the near term and which the entity classified as measured at fair value through profit or loss; (ii) those classified as available for sale; or (iii) those for which the Company may not recover substantially all of its initial investment for reasons other than credit deterioration. The interest earned and the foreign currency exchange variation are recognized in profit or loss. The balances are stated at acquisition cost plus the interests, using the effective interest rate method. Loans and receivables include cash and banks, trade receivables, dividends receivable and other trade receivables.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

The Company and its subsidiaries use derivative financial instruments for hedging purposes, applying the concepts described below:

- Fair value hedge: derivative financial instrument used to hedge exposure to changes in the fair value of an item, attributable to a particular risk, which can affect the entity's profit or loss.
- Hedge accounting: In the initial designation of the fair value hedge, the relationship between the hedging instrument and the hedged item is documented, including the objectives of risk management, the strategy in conducting the transaction and the methods to be used to evaluate its effectiveness. Once the fair value hedge has been qualified as effective, the hedge item is also measured at fair value. Gains and losses from hedge instruments and hedge items are recognized in profit or loss. The hedge accounting must be discontinued when the hedge becomes ineffective.

For further detail on financial instruments of the Company and its subsidiaries, see Notes 4, 14, and 22.

d. Trade receivables

Trade receivables are recognized at the amount invoiced, adjusted to present value if applicable, including all direct taxes attributable to the Company and its subsidiaries. An allowance for doubtful accounts is recorded based on estimated losses and is set at an amount deemed by management to be sufficient to cover any probable loss on realization of trade receivables (see Note 22 - Customer credit risk).

e. Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of acquisition cost or net realizable value. The cost value of inventory is measured using the weighted average cost and includes the costs of acquisition and processing directly related to the units produced based on the normal capacity of production. Estimates of net realizable value are based on the average selling prices at the end of the reporting period, net of applicable direct selling expenses. Subsequent events related to the fluctuation of prices and costs are also considered, if relevant. If net realizable values are below inventory costs, a provision corresponding to this difference is recognized. Provisions are also made for obsolescence of products, materials or supplies that (i) do not meet the Company and its subsidiaries' specifications, (ii) have exceeded their expiration date or (iii) are considered slow-moving inventory. This classification is made by management with the support of its industrial team.

f. Investments

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for under the equity method of accounting in the individual interim financial statements.

Investments in associates in which management has a significant influence or in which it holds 20% or more of the voting stock, or that are under shared control are also accounted for under the equity method of accounting in the interim financial statements (see Note 11).

Other investments are stated at acquisition cost less provision for losses, unless the loss is considered temporary.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

g. Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is recognized at acquisition or construction cost, including financial charges incurred on property, plant and equipment under construction, as well as maintenance costs resulting from scheduled plant outages and estimated costs to remove, to decommission or to restore assets (see Note 18).

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method, for the periods mentioned in Note 12, taking into account the useful life of the assets, which are reviewed annually.

Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of the lease contract term and useful life of the property.

h. Leases

- Finance leases

Certain lease contracts transfer substantially all the risks and benefits associated with the ownership of an asset to the Company and its subsidiaries. These contracts are characterized as finance leases, and assets thereunder are capitalized at lease commencement at their fair value or, if lower, present value of the minimum lease payments under the contracts. The items recognized as assets are depreciated and amortized using the straight-line method based on the useful lives applicable to each group of assets as mentioned in Notes 12 and 13. Financial charges under the finance lease contracts are allocated to profit or loss over the lease contract term, based on the amortized cost and the effective interest rate method of the related lease obligation (see Note 14.i).

- Operating leases

There are lease transactions where the risks and benefits associated with the ownership of the asset are not transferred and where there is no purchase option or the purchase option at the end of the contract is equivalent to the market value of the leased asset. Payments made under an operating lease contract are recognized as cost or expenses in the income statement on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease contract (see Note 23.g).

i. Intangible assets

Intangible assets include assets acquired by the Company and its subsidiaries from third parties, according to the criteria below (see Note 13):

- Goodwill is carried net of accumulated amortization as of December 31, 2008, when it ceased to be amortized. Goodwill generated since January 1, 2009 is shown as intangible asset corresponding to the positive difference between the amount paid or payable to the seller and the fair value of the identified assets and liabilities assumed of the acquired entity, and is tested annually for impairment. Goodwill is allocated to the respective cash generating units (“CGU”) for impairment testing purposes.
- Bonus disbursements as provided in Ipiranga’s agreements with reseller service stations and major consumers are recognized as distribution rights when paid and amortized using the straight-line method according to the term of the agreement.

- Other intangible assets acquired from third parties, such as software, technology and commercial property rights, are measured at the total acquisition cost and amortized using straight-line method, for the periods mentioned in Note 13, taking into account their useful life, which is reviewed annually.

The Company and its subsidiaries have not recognized intangible assets that were created internally. The Company and its subsidiaries have not recognized intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life, except for goodwill and the “am/pm” brand.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

j. Other assets

Other assets are stated at the lower of cost and realizable value, including, if applicable, interest earned, monetary changes and changes in exchange rates incurred or less a provision for loss and, if applicable, adjustment to present value (see Note 2.u).

k. Financial liabilities

The Company and its subsidiaries' financial liabilities include trade payables and other payables, loans, debentures and hedging instruments. Financial liabilities are classified as "financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss" or "financial liabilities at amortised cost". The financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss refer to derivative financial instruments and financial liabilities designated as hedged items in a fair value hedge relationship upon initial recognition (see Note 2.c – fair value hedge). The financial liabilities at amortised cost are stated at the initial transaction amount plus related charges and transaction costs, net of amortization. The charges are recognized in profit or loss using the effective interest rate method (see Note 14.j).

Transaction costs incurred and directly attributable to the activities necessary for contracting loans or for issuing bonds, as well as premiums and discounts upon issuance of debentures and other debt or equity instruments, are allocated to the instrument and amortized to profit or loss over its term, using the effective interest rate method.

l. Income and social contribution taxes on income

Current and deferred income tax ("IRPJ") and social contribution on net income tax ("CSLL") are calculated based on their current rates, considering the value of tax incentives. Taxes are recognized based on the rates of IRPJ and CSLL provided for by the laws enacted on the last day of the interim financial statements. For further details about recognition and realization of IRPJ and CSLL, see Note 9.

m. Provision for assets retirement obligation – fuel tanks

The Company and its subsidiaries have the legal obligation to remove Ipiranga's underground fuel tanks located at Ipiranga-branded service stations after a certain period. The estimated cost of the obligation to remove these fuel tanks is recognized as a liability when tanks are installed. The estimated cost is recognized in property, plant and equipment and depreciated over the respective useful life of the tanks. The amounts recognized as a liability are monetarily restated until the respective tank is removed (see Note 18). An increase in the estimated cost of the obligation to remove the tanks could result in negative impact in future results. The estimated removal cost is reviewed and updated annually or when there is significant change in its amount.

n. Provisions for tax, civil and labor risks

A provision for tax, civil and labor risks is recognized for quantifiable risks, when the chance of loss is more-likely-than-not in the opinion of management and internal and external legal counsel, and the amounts are recognized based on evaluation of the outcomes of the legal proceedings (see Note 23 items a,b,c,d).

o. Post-employment benefits

Post-employment benefits granted and to be granted to employees, retirees, and pensioners are based on an actuarial calculation prepared by an independent actuary, using the projected unit credit method (see Note 24.b). The actuarial gains and losses are recognized in other comprehensive income and presented in the shareholder's equity. Past service cost is recognized through the income statement.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

p. Other liabilities

Other liabilities are stated at known or measurable amounts plus, if applicable, related charges, monetary restatement and changes in exchange rates incurred. When applicable, other liabilities are recognized at present value based on interest rates that reflect the term, currency and risk of each transaction.

q. Foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions carried out by the Company or its subsidiaries are remeasured into their functional currency at the exchange rate prevailing at the date of each transaction. Outstanding monetary assets and liabilities of the Company and its subsidiaries are translated using the exchange rate at the end of the reporting period. The effect of the difference between those exchange rates is recognized in profit or loss until the conclusion of each transaction.

r. Basis for translation of interim financial statements of foreign subsidiaries

Assets and liabilities of the foreign subsidiaries, denominated in currencies other than that of the Company (functional currency: Brazilian Real), which have administrative autonomy, are translated using the exchange rate at the end of the reporting period. Revenues and expenses are translated using the average exchange rate of each period and shareholders' equity are translated at the historic exchange rate of each transaction affecting shareholders' equity. Gains and losses resulting from changes in these foreign investments are directly recognized in the shareholders' equity as cumulative translation adjustments and will be recognized in profit or loss if these investments are disposed of. The recognized balance in other comprehensive income and presented in the shareholders' equity as cumulative translation adjustments as of June 30, 2013 was a gain of R$ 8,714.

The foreign subsidiaries with functional currency different from the Company and which have administrative autonomy, are listed below:

Oxiteno USA LLC	U.S. Dollar	United States
Oxiteno Andina, C.A.	Bolivar	Venezuela
Oxiteno Uruguay S.A.	U.S. Dollar	Uruguay

According to IAS 29, Venezuela is classified as a hyperinflationary economy. As a result, the interim financial statements of Oxiteno Andina, C.A. ("Oxiteno Andina") were adjusted by the Venezuelan Consumer Price Index.

The subsidiary Oxiteno Uruguay S.A. ("Oxiteno Uruguay") determined its functional currency as the U.S. dollar, as its sales and purchases of goods, and financing activities are performed substantially in this currency.

Assets and liabilities of the other foreign subsidiaries, which do not have administrative autonomy, are considered as an extension of the activities of their parent company and are translated using the exchange rate at the end of the reporting period. Gains and losses resulting from changes in these foreign investments are directly recognized as financial income or loss. The gain recognized in income as of June 30, 2013 amounted to R$ 2,667.

s. Use of estimates, assumptions and judgments

The preparation of the interim financial statements requires the use of estimates, assumptions and judgments for the accounting of certain assets, liabilities and income. Therefore, Company and subsidiaries' management use the best information available at the time of preparation of the interim financial statements, as well as the experience of past and current events, also considering assumptions regarding future events. The interim financial statements therefore include estimates, assumptions and judgments related mainly to determining the fair value of financial instruments (Notes 4, 14 and 22), the determination of the allowance for doubtful accounts (Note 5), the determination of provisions for income taxes (Note 9), the useful life of property, plant and equipment (Note 12), the useful life of intangible assets and the determination of the recoverable amount of goodwill (Note 13), provisions for assets retirement obligations (Note 18), tax, civil and labor provisions (Note 23 items a,b,c,d) and estimates for the preparation of actuarial reports (Note 24.b). The actual result of the transactions and information may differ from their estimates.

t. Impairment of assets

The Company and its subsidiaries review, at least annually, the existence of indication that an asset may be impaired. If there is an indication, the Company and its subsidiaries estimate the recoverable amount of the asset. Assets that cannot be evaluated individually are grouped in the smallest group of assets that generate cash flow from continuous use and that are largely independent of cash flows of other assets (CGU). The recoverable amount of assets or CGUs corresponds to the greater of their fair value net of applicable direct selling costs and their value in use.

To assess the value in use, the Company and its subsidiaries consider the projections of future cash flows, trends and outlooks, as well as the effects of obsolescence, demand, competition and other economic factors. Such cash flows are discounted to their present values using the discount rate before tax that reflects market conditions for the period of impairment testing and the specific risks of the asset or CGU being evaluated. In cases where the expected discounted future cash flows are less than their carrying amount, the impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the carrying value exceeds the fair value of these assets. Losses for impairment of assets are recognized in profit or loss. In case goodwill has been allocated to a CGU, the recognized losses are first allocated to reduce the corresponding goodwill. If the goodwill is not enough to absorb such losses, the surplus is allocated to the assets on a pro-rata basis. An impairment of goodwill cannot be reversed. For other assets, impairment losses may be reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortization, if the impairment had not been recognized.

No impairment was recognized in the period presented.

u. Adjustment to present value

Some of the Company's subsidiaries recognized a present value adjustment to Tax on Goods and Services ("ICMS", the Brazilian VAT) credit balances related to property, plant and equipment (CIAP – see Note 7). Because recovery of these credits occurs over a 48 months period, the present value adjustment reflects, in the interim financial statements, the time value of the ICMS credits to be recovered.

The Company and its subsidiaries reviewed all items classified as non-current and, when relevant, current assets and liabilities and did not identify the need to recognize other present value adjustments.

v. Adoption of the pronouncements issued by CPC and IFRS

The following standards issued by IASB were effective on January 1st, 2013, but CPC has not yet issued pronouncements equivalent to these IAS/IFRS. The adoption of these pronouncements is subject to approval by the CVM and we expect no significant impacts on the interim financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries:

- Amendments to IAS 1 – Presentation of financial statements: other comprehensive income
- Amendments to IFRS 7 – Financial instruments: offsetting financial assets and liabilities

Certain standards, amendments and interpretations to IFRS issued by IASB that have been issued but are not yet effective were not applied as of June 30, 2013, as follows:

	Effective date
• Amendments to IAS 32 – Financial instruments: presentation	2014
• IFRS 9 – Financial instruments' classification and measurement	2015

CPC has not yet issued pronouncements equivalent to these IAS/IFRS, but is expected to do so before the date they become effective. The adoption of IFRS pronouncements is subject to prior approval by the CVM.

w. Authorization for issuance of the interim financial statements

These interim financial statements were authorized for issue by the Board of Directors on December 11, 2013.
