Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements
(Dollars and shares in thousands, except per share amounts)
(Unaudited)

Note 1 Basis of Presentation

These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of ProQuest Company and its subsidiaries, including Information & Learning (I&L) and ProQuest Business Solutions (PBS), and are unaudited.

As permitted under the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) requirements for interim reporting, certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America have been omitted. Certain reclassifications to the 2001 consolidated financial statements have been made to conform to the 2002 presentation. We believe that these financial statements include all necessary and recurring adjustments for the fair presentation of the interim period results. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements and related notes included in our annual report for the fiscal year ended December 29, 2001.

In the first quarter of fiscal 2000, we adopted a plan to divest the Mail and Messaging Technologies and Imaging businesses and our financing subsidiary. During 2001, we completed these divestitures. In 2001, the operating results and net assets of these businesses have been segregated from our continuing operations.

Note 2 Significant Accounting Policies

Accounts Receivable. Accounts receivable are stated net of the allowance for doubtful accounts which was $1,165 and $1,353 at June 29, 2002 and December 29, 2001, respectively.

Inventory. Inventory costs include material, labor and overhead. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost (determined using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method) or market.

Table of Contents

The components of inventory are shown in the table below as of the dates indicated:

	June 29, 2002	December 29, 2001
Finished products	$ 1,599	$ 1,821
Products in process and materials	2,808	2,620
Total inventory	$ 4,407	$ 4,441

Property, Plant, Equipment, and Product Masters. Property, plant, equipment, and product masters are recorded at cost. The straight-line method of depreciation is primarily used, except for I&L product masters (which represent the cost to create electronic and microform master document copies that are subsequently used in the production process to fulfill customers' information requirements), which are depreciated on the double declining balance method. Estimated lives range from 10 to 40 years for buildings and building improvements, 3 to 15 years for machinery and equipment and 10 years for product masters. The carrying value of the product masters is $120,677 (net of $215,967 of depreciation) and $104,701 (net of $202,514 of depreciation), at June 29, 2002 and December 29, 2001, respectively.

Derivative Financial Instruments and Hedging Activities. All derivative instruments are recognized as assets or liabilities in the balance sheet and measured at fair value.

For the first half of fiscal 2002, there were no net gains or losses reclassified into earnings as a result of the discontinuance of cash flow hedges. Approximately $6,201 of net derivative losses included in other comprehensive income at June 29, 2002 will be reclassified into earnings within twelve months from that date.

Net Earnings per Common Share. Basic net earnings per common share is computed by dividing net earnings by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net earnings per common share is computed by dividing net earnings by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period, and assumes the issuance of additional common shares for all dilutive stock options outstanding during the period. A reconciliation of the weighted average number of common shares and equivalents outstanding in the calculation of basic and diluted

I&L	$ 65.0	$ 59.5
PBS	44.0	41.2
Total	$ 109.0	$ 100.7

Our net sales increased $8.3 million, or 8.2%, to $109.0 million in the second quarter of 2002 primarily due to the continuing growth in the sales of electronic products.

Net sales at I&L increased $5.5 million, or 9.2%, to $65.0 million primarily as a result of a 14.1% increase in sales of electronic products. Net sales of traditional products (microfilm and paper product) increased 2.9% compared to the second quarter of 2001. A metric that we use to gauge growth in electronic products is the annualized online subscription contract value . Annualized online subscription contract value is the projected 12-month revenue from all outstanding online subscription contracts. The total annualized online subscription value was $92.7 million and $82.0 million at second quarter end 2002 and 2001, respectively, an increase of 13.0%.

Net sales of PBS increased $2.8 million, or 6.8%, to $44.0 million in the second quarter of 2002. This increase is primarily due to continuing strong sales of automotive electronic parts catalogs, which grew 8.9%, an 11.3% increase in sales of our Alison products and a 7.0% increase in sales of our Powersports products. These increases were partially offset by a $1.2 million decrease in sales at Media Solutions.

Selling and administrative expense decreased from the adjusted 2001 results by $0.5 million, or 1.7%. The decrease at PBS is primarily associated with the decrease in sales at Media Solutions and decreased administrative expenses associated with MotorcycleWorld.com, Inc., which ceased operations during 2001.

Net interest expense increased $0.6 million, or 9.5%, to $6.9 million in the second quarter of 2002. Interest income increased due to interest on long term receivables and tax refunds. Interest expense related to debt remained flat as a result of lower interest rates offset by a higher debt level in 2002 versus the debt allocated to continuing operations in 2001. Interest on our fixed rate swaps increased due to a reduction in interest rates. Interest related to the PBS monetized contracts decreased due to the reduced level of monetized contracts at PBS.

Income Tax Expense.

Income tax expense increased in the second quarter of 2002 as a result of the higher level of pretax profit. Partially offsetting this increase is the change in the effective tax rate from 40% in 2001 to 38% in 2002.

Other	0.8	0.8
Total	$ 14.1	$ 12.4

Net interest expense increased $1.7 million, or 13.7%, to $14.1 million in the first half of 2002. Interest income increased due to interest on long term receivables and tax refunds. Interest expense related to debt decreased as a result of lower interest rates partially offset by a higher debt level for 2002 versus the debt allocated to continuing operations in 2001. Interest on our fixed rate swaps increased due to a reduction in interest rates. Interest related to PBS monetized contracts decreased due to the reduced level of monetized contracts at PBS.

Income Tax Expense.

Income tax expense increased in the first half of 2002 as a result of the higher level of pretax profit, partially offset by a decrease in the effective tax rate from 40% in 2001 to 38% in 2002.

Accounts Receivable.

	As of
	June 29, 2002	December 29, 2001
I&L	$ 38.5	$ 47.0
PBS	28.0	28.4
Corporate	6.7	14.3
Total	$ 73.2	$ 89.7

Accounts receivable decreased by $16.5 million during the first half ended June 29, 2002. The decrease at I&L is principally the result of our business cycle. Annual subscription invoicing in the fourth quarter resulted in a high level of receivables at year end 2001 which has been reduced as these receivables were collected during the early part of this year. The decrease at Corporate is due to the collection of amounts owed under contractual obligations to provide transition services to certain buyers of our discontinued operations.

	As of
	June 29, 2002	December 29, 2001
I&L	$ 75.9	$ 109.4
PBS	3.9	5.3
Total	$ 79.8	$ 114.7

Deferred income decreased by $34.9 million during the first half ended June 29, 2002 as a result of the seasonal nature of I&L's deferred revenue. At year end, deferred revenue is at a high level due to the year end billings. During the subscription term associated with the first half of 2002, this deferred revenue has been recognized as net sales.

Financial Condition and Liquidity

Debt (net of cash and cash equivalents) decreased by $61.9 million to $191.2 million in the first half of 2002 as a result of the proceeds from the equity offering of $123.3 million, partially offset by cash used by operations and capital expenditures.

In the first half of 2002, we utilized cash for operations of $33.4 million resulting from seasonal working capital requirements, a $7.0 reduction in monetized PBS contracts as well as $12.0 million in payments related to our discontinued operations for liabilities accrued in 2001. Cash from operations is seasonal with net cash utilized in the first half of the year and cash generated during the second half of the year. Cash is utilized in the first half of the year for the following reasons: royalties, license fees and insurance. Additionally, payments of incentive compensation for prior year performance are made in the first half of the year. Cash is generated in the second half of the year since our billing cycle at I&L is such that we bill and collect a significant portion of our annual microfilm subscription fees during this period.

We used $32.4 million of cash in our investing activities for the first half of 2002. Capital expenditures increased $5.3 million or 21.6% due to increased expenditures on Historical Newspapers and other digital vault products. Additionally, $2.6 million was used in the acquisition of Micromedia.

Table of Contents

We believe that current cash balances, cash generated from operations, and availability under our line of credit will be adequate to fund the growth in working capital and capital expenditures necessary to support planned increases in sales for the foreseeable future.

Interest Rate Risk Management

We use variable-rate long-term debt to finance our operations. These debt obligations expose us to variability in interest payments due to changes in interest rates. If interest rates increase, interest expense increases. Conversely, if interest rates decrease, interest expense also decreases.

Management believes it is prudent to limit the variability of most of our interest payments. To meet this objective, we enter into interest rate swaps to manage fluctuations in cash flows resulting from interest rate risk. We assess interest rate cash flow risk by continually identifying and monitoring changes in interest rate exposures that may adversely impact expected future cash flows.

The interest rate swaps change the variable-rate cash flow exposure on the long-term debt obligations to fixed-rate cash flows by entering into receive-variable, pay-fixed interest rate agreements, thereby synthetically creating fixed-rate long-term debt.

Debt Refinancing

As a result of our equity offering, we are evaluating alternatives to replace our existing credit facility by the end of the third quarter of 2002 in order to reduce our overall borrowing costs. We anticipate that this will result in a one-time charge of approximately $5 million, net of tax. This charge relates to the payment of deferred financing fees and the expense related to the elimination of our interest rate hedges that were put in place five years ago when our company was highly leveraged.

Item 3.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Interest Rate Risk

As a result of our financing activities, we are exposed to changes in interest rates which may adversely affect our results of operations and financial position. In seeking to minimize such risks, we use derivative financial instruments. Specifically, we have entered into interest rate swaps having notional amounts totaling $200 million at June 29, 2002. The potential impact on our earnings from a 50 basis point increase or decrease in quoted interest rates would be approximately $118 thousand expense or benefit for the second quarter of 2002. The interest rate swaps have expiration dates through December 2003. At June 29, 2002, the notional amounts outstanding were $200 million and the approximate weighted-average swap rate versus 3-month LIBOR was 6.14%. As part of replacing our current credit facility by the end of the third quarter of 2002, we terminated all of our existing swaps at the beginning of July 2002.

Foreign Currency Risk

As a result of our global operations, we are exposed to changes in foreign currencies. Our practice is to hedge our significant operating balance sheet exposures to foreign currency rate fluctuations via use of foreign currency forward or option contracts. We do not utilize financial derivatives for trading or other speculative purposes. We have entered into various contracts to buy or sell foreign currencies. The contracts have maturity dates extending through August 2002, and are for an aggregate notional amount of $57.7 million at June 29, 2002. We are exposed to market risk in the event of nonperformance by our counterparties (major international banks) to these contracts; however, such nonperformance is not anticipated. The potential impact on our earnings from a 10% adverse change in quoted foreign currency rates would be insignificant.
