Additional factors that could cause SunTrust's results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements can be found in SunTrust's reports (such as Annual Reports on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and Current Reports on Form 8-K) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and available at the SEC's Internet site (<http://www.sec.gov>). THE FOLLOWING IS A LETTER DELIVERED TODAY TO CERTAIN INSTITUTIONAL SHAREHOLDERS OF WACHOVIA CORPORATION AND TO CERTAIN CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ORGANIZATIONS

[SunTrust Banks, Inc. letterhead]

July 20, 2001

Dear Institutional Investor:

We are writing to let you know there has been a major development in the North Carolina litigation that opens the way for SunTrust to move quickly to complete a merger with Wachovia if the First Union merger proposal is defeated.

Earlier today, the North Carolina Business Court invalidated what it called a "coercive" provision of the Wachovia-First Union merger agreement that would have prevented Wachovia from entering into a merger agreement with SunTrust before mid-January 2002.

This is what the Court's decision means:

- o Wachovia and SunTrust can begin negotiating a merger agreement the day Wachovia shareholders reject the proposed First Union merger.
- o There could be a final, executed Wachovia-SunTrust merger agreement within 10 days.
- o Since our due diligence review of Wachovia was substantially completed last December, our updated confirmatory due diligence review could easily be completed within the same 10-day window.
- o SunTrust is far along in the regulatory approval process for a combination with Wachovia, and all approvals should be obtained well in advance of the shareholder vote on the transaction.
- o A Wachovia-SunTrust merger could be voted on and completed by the end of November 2001.

Edgar Filing: WACHOVIA CORP/ NC - Form DFAN14A

We also thought you would be interested in knowing what the Court had to say about the actions of the Wachovia Board in agreeing to the judicially invalidated non-termination provision:

- o The invalidated provision was "coercive" and "an impermissible abrogation of the duties of the Wachovia directors...impeding the free exercise of the Wachovia shareholders' right to vote on the merger."
- o The Wachovia Board "limited their ability to perform their fiduciary duties."
- o The Wachovia Board "impermissibly tied its hands and cannot do the very thing the Delaware Supreme Court found to be of fundamental importance to the shareholders -- 'negotiating a possible sale of the corporation.'"

The Court also noted, quite correctly, that in the absence of the judicially invalidated non-termination provision, "[Wachovia] directors are not prevented from fulfilling their fiduciary duty if another offer is made after a negative vote" on the proposed First Union merger.

We always have believed that the SunTrust proposal is a better alternative for Wachovia shareholders. Now we also know that with your support and your vote "AGAINST" the First Union merger proposal, a Wachovia-SunTrust merger can happen on a fast-track basis.

Once again, we thank you for your consideration and support.

Sincerely,

/s/ L. Phillip Humann
