Item 5. Other Events and Required FD Disclosure.

On February 2, 2004 DRS Technologies, Inc. (the "Company") filed amended and restated by-laws (the "Amended and Restated By-Laws") as Exhibit 3.5 to its registration statement on Form S-4 (the "Registration Statement"). Inadvertently, the form of Amended and Restated By-Laws that was filed with the Registration Statement omitted Sections 7 and 8 of Article II, the so-called Advance Notice Provisions, which were adopted by the Board on February 7, 1996. The Advance Notice Provisions have been summarized in each of the Company's annual meeting proxy statements since the Advance Notice Provisions were adopted.

The form of Amended and Restated By-Laws also inadvertently included, among other things, Article VIII, which addressed the vote required by stockholders to amend certain provisions of the Amended and Restated Bylaws, but which was repealed by the Board on February 7, 1996.

The corrected Amended and Restated By-Laws, which include the Advance Notice Provisions and do not include the above-described amendment provisions, are attached as Exhibit 3 to this current report on Form 8-K.

Under the Advance Notice Provisions, the date by which stockholders were required to give notice to the Company of any stockholder-proposed director nomination or any business to be introduced by a stockholder at the annual meeting was June 7, 2004. In light of the inadvertent omission of the Advance Notice Provisions in the form of Amended and Restated By-Laws that was filed as Exhibit 3.5 to the Registration Statement, for purposes of the 2004 Annual Meeting, the Company has determined to extend the deadline until July 6, 2004 by which stockholders are required to give advance notice to the Company of any stockholder-proposed director nomination or any business to be introduced by a stockholder at the 2004 Annual Meeting.
